POWER IN FIRST RANK AS FACTOR IN DEVELOPMENT

Low-priced Motive Power Will Make Dominion One of the Cheapest Producers in World —Is Essential to Successful Growth National Welfare.

Canada will be one of the first countries to feel the impulse of rejuvenation in trade, following the most drastic readjustment in the general order of things in business and finance experienced in modern times. The strategical position of the country marks it out conspiciously for this developement. It possesse all the requisites in the way of natural resources and oportunities for the exploitation of undeveloped wealth. Its people have earned the confidence and respect of people who count throughout the world. The war after effects put the country back a bit, but at the same time it put it on the map in bigger letters than before.

More extensive cultivation of the soil will go hand in hand with expansion of the manufacturing possibilities of the Dominion, more particularly in connection with those industries which derive their advantages from the plentiful supply of native raw material of mine and forest.

To make Canada one of the cheapest producers in the world another requirement is the provision of ample low-priced motive power. This it is possible to do by the harnessing of the forces now going to waste in the many waterways scattered throughout the country in such profusion. This is what is going to make the next big forward step for Canada the power age.

Need of Power

It is so obviously an essential to the successful developement of our national welfare that the manufacturing and domestic purposes must anticipate the demand, not follow it. Great progress has been made in that way, but still greater is to come.

One thing that will help and encourage the men who have vision and are making ready to meet them is that the public confidence in the securities of such corporations as a medium for the investment of funds.

Throughout all the turmoil and stress of the past few years no securities stood the test so well as those of the power producers. The uses to which electricity are put have grown to such an extent that when one class of consumption diminishes temporarily there is another new use to take its place. Earnings have grown despite the industrial depression, clearly indicating that the public is creating fresh demands for power, not likely to be relinquished. Thus, when the industrial demand rises to anything like its former production the chances are that danger of a shortage will arise.

This must be averted by the developement of entirely new sources of supply, and it is a fortunate thing that the public has reason to have such faith in the industry as an investment. That the millions which will be necessary to carry out the work will be readily forthcoming is regarded as a certainity. Strong combinations of capitalists and users of powers are essential to success and this is why large traction companies are frequently interested in new developement work. This is of great assistance to plans for financing, as it will be employed to produce and distribute power at the lowest possible cost, thus stimulating its employment and at the same time establishing a potential market for a considerable proportion of the horse power produced before entering upon developement.

PATAGONIANS RAID BRITISH.

Outlaws Kidnap Seven Settlers, Pillage and Burn Sheep Farms.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 13.—The situation in Patagonia, where outlaws have been on the rampage for several weeks, threatens to bring about international complications as a result of the kidnapping of seven British settlers near Rio Callegos and raids on several British sheep farms.

The present trouble is a renewal of the revolutionary strikes and anarchy which began last March and which was thought to have been suppressed. The outlaws have been inducing discontented laborers to strike and join in the raiding of the big estates. Each raid has been an orgy of pillage, arson and assaults on women.

The Argentine authorities have sent a warship with cavalry on board to quell the disturbances and a law was rushed through Congress and signed by the President providing for the organization of ten regiments of gendarmes in the southern territories.

The British Legation here has made strong representations to the Foreign Ministry for the protection of British citizens.

SHOULD SPEND $500,000 PROBING LAKES RE SCHEME

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 15. Canadian Press. — That half a million dollars should be spent on investigation of the physical difficulties of the St. Lawrence deep waterway and power system before any scheme of construction was decided upon, was urged here yesterday by Colonel Hugh L. Cooper, engineer of New York City, before the International Joint Commission. With the aid of stereopticon views, Col. Cooper outlined an alternative scheme for navigation and power, covering the 120 miles down the river from Montreal, and laid particular emphasis on the necessity for providing against interference of the power plants by ice.

Beware of Tender Gums

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound, keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Discovering Christopher Columbus

Columbus Giving an Account of His American Voyage to the Spanish Court.

This Portrait of Columbus Is Held by Many to Exhibit Semitic Facial Characteristics.

Now a Commission of Spanish Educators Will Settle Whether the Explorer Was an Italian or a Galician--a Jew or Gentile

MADRID, ——.

WITH singular appropriateness, almost on the very eve of Columbus Day, the Spanish Government has announced the activities of a royal commission to investigate Christopher Columbus.

And among other very personal questions to be placed before the investigating body and for which, it is expected, satisfactory answers may be found, are the following:

Who was Christopher Columbus? Where was he born and what was his nationality? Was he Spaniard or Italian, Jew or Gentile, Genoese navigator or Greek pirate?

The world has never really known. School children in Spain are taught that Columbus was a Spaniard. School teachers in other countries contend that he was an Italian. One scholar even advances the claim that Columbus was an Irishman.

What is the actual truth?

The answers may be announced within the next few weeks. A distinguished body of students and savants, dedicated to the task of unrolling the veil of four centuries and establishing the facts of Christopher Columbus' birth and family tree, is already holding its preliminary sessions in this ancient city of Castile.

The Christopher Columbus investigating commission is composed of members of the Royal Geographic Society, representatives of the Archivo de las Indias, historians, archeologists and even psychologists. Before them they have a great mass of documents. Their search will be exhaustive. Before it is over they hope to make certain for all time the truth about the man who discovered America in 1492.

Among the claims the commission will consider are these: The old story, long credited, but of late proclaimed false, that Columbus was born in Genoa; newly discovered documents indicating he was born in the Province of Galicia, Spain; the claim of fifteen Italian towns that each was the explorer's birthplace; evidence that he was a Spaniard; evidence that he was an Italian; evidence that he was a Jew; Molloy's theory that he was Irish; Goodrich's assertion that he was a Greek pirate, and much other interesting evidence.

The commission has unearthed already many interesting sidelights on the ancestry and life of this remarkable man.

The origin of Columbus has always been one of history's great mysteries. Early historians disagreed about it. His own contemporaries did not know whence he came. His very sons, his brothers and his other relatives professed their ignorance.

"My father wanted throughout his life to keep his origin and native land unknown and uncertain," wrote the navigator's second son, Fernando.

"I have heard people say that Columbus is a Genoese, but I do not know what his native land is," declared Pedro Arana, brother of Dona Beatrice Enriquez, who was an affinity of the great discoverer, himself a man who accompanied Columbus on several voyages, lent him money and was his intimate for years.

Since even his closest friends and kin did not know the birth and antecedents of Columbus, is it any wonder that modern authorities are hard put to it to answer the query: "Where was he born?"

Genoa generally was given as the city, but the only evidence to support Genoa's claim was the reference by Columbus in a heraldic declaration to "Genoa, which I left and where I was born." That document was the will and testament of Columbus, and in another paragraph he all but refutes his own statement. For he provided that, in case his nearest of kin were dead, his property should go to his family line, the "de Colon." In all Genoa history there was no family of that name; this fact, in the opinion of historians, practically destroys Genoa's claim as the birthplace of the navigator.

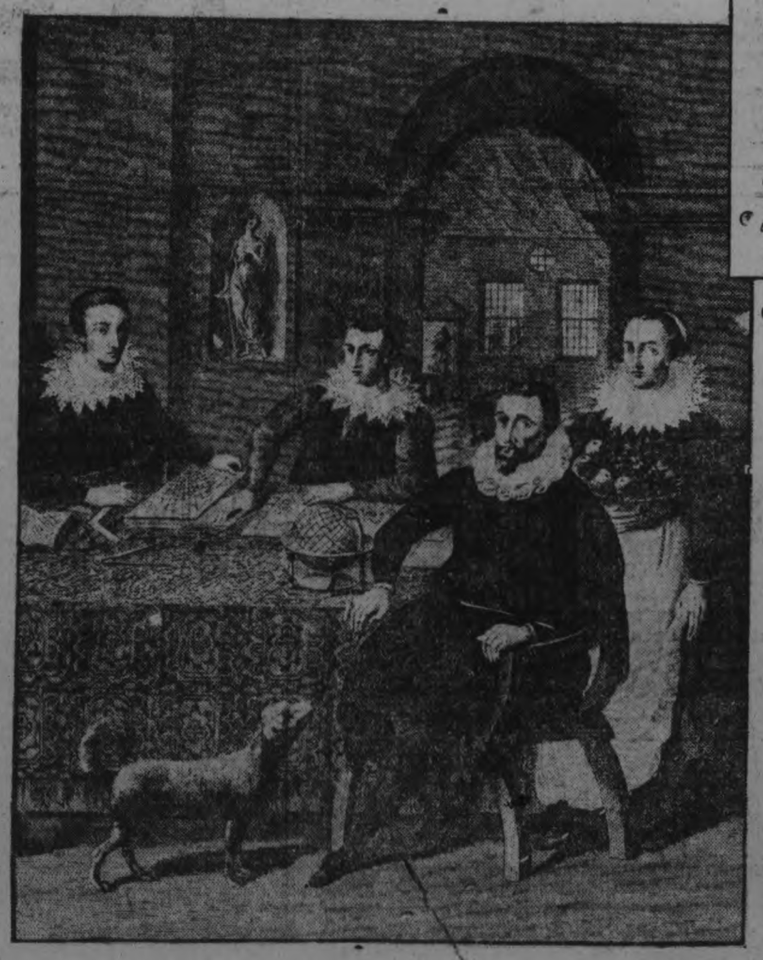
Other Italian cities claiming the nativity of Columbus—Savona, Cogoletto, Oneglia, Albizola, Bogiasco, Pradello, Timate, Cossassia, Terrarosa, Calvi, in Corsica, Finale, Quinto, Chiavari, Palestrella, Piasenza and Nervi—advance evidence more flimsy than Genoa's.

But in the search for the De Colon family, students of history have finally found it—in the city of Pontrevedra, Province of Galicia, country of Spain. At the same time other documents have been unearthed which seem to give Pontrevedra a better right than that of any other city to boast Columbus as its own son. It is this newly presented evidence which the Spanish Government's commission is particularly desirous of probing.

According to this evidence, Columbus was born in Pontrevedra in 1436; his father was Domingo de Colon, a wool stapler; his mother was Susanna Fonterosa, who belonged to a Jewish family converted to Christianity. The boy studied Latin in a convent, went to sea when he was fourteen and later emigrated to Genoa with his family.

The Pontrevedra documents were collected by Dr. Celso Garcia de la Reiga, a scholar famous for his research in Galician history. Among them are contracts dated at Pontrevedra in which Columbus' father, Columbus' sister and the family of Columbus's mother figure. The name "de Colon" frequently appears in these documents, as does the name of "Fonterosa," which was the family name of the mother of Columbus. One document is a lease of a piece of land bordering "the estate of Cristobal de Colon." There the investigator is brought face to face with the name—in Spanish—of Columbus himself.

The Discoverer and His Sons, Diego and Ferdinand, from a Painting.



Columbus' Coat of Arms, Regarded as Evidencing Spanish Rather Than Italian Origin

Dr. Reiga, with this and collateral evidence, assumes that Columbus got his first sea training around the coasts of Galicia and the neighboring shores of Portugal.

In one of these upheavals, according to Dr. Reiga, the father of Columbus, Domingo de Colon "el Mozo" (the young), set fire to the homes of several rich men and was forced to flee. He sought Genoa and later settled at the nearby town of Saono, where he traded in wools.

Dr. Reiga brings to the Spanish Government's commission other evidence supporting his claim. The great astronomer, Toscanelli, gave Columbus the famous map he took on his first voyage in search of a shorter route to India. Toscanelli, the records show, believed Columbus to be a Portuguese, as one of his letters to the navigator shows. It was evident Columbus had not begun at that time to claim Genoa as his birthplace.

Why did he later lead people to believe that Genoa was the city of his nativity? The answer to that question involves still another issue—the possible Jewish parentage of Columbus on his mother's side.

Not until he presented himself before the Catholic kings of Castilla and Aragon, seeking financial aid for his explorations, did Columbus declare himself a Genoese. Proponents of the Galician theory assign several reasons for this alleged deception.

It was easy for a Galician to pass himself off as a Genoese, since the language and customs of the two were almost identical

It was wisdom to hide his Galician extraction because, if it were known that he was part Jew, the Catholic monarchs would never have helped him.

Again, this was wise, because Galicia was a region especially hated by the Catholic rulers, Isabella in particular.

Fourth, the very name of Genoa added to a mariner's prestige, since the city was noted as a seaport and famous for its sailors.

Last, because his family had lived in Genoa for a time, it was not hard for Columbus to "bluff."

Advocates of the thory that Columbus was not a Genoese, but in truth a Galician Spaniard and a half Jew, are calling the psychologists to their assistance. These are struck by the sentence on which the Genoese base their claim for Columbus—"Genoa, which I left and where I was born." They ask—"why should Columbus say first that he left the place (which was true) and then that he was born in it? Would it not be more natural to say, first, that he was born in Genoa and then that he left it?" They claim the second phrase came as an afterthought and came with reluctance because Columbus hesitated to write down a lie.

On the other hand, the Genoese advocates contest this view on the ground that Columbus, by speaking as he did, merely sought to emphasize the fact that he left not merely Genoa, but the city of his birthplace.

He never, in fact, wrote in Italian or the Genoese dialect. All his books, all his letters—even a letter written to the city council of Genoa—and all his intimate notes and marginal remarks on his books were either in Castillian or in Latin.

So much for the contention that Columbus was a Galician. Now, as to the dispute over his Gentile or Jewish origin.

The Galician historians contend that the mother of Columbus was called Susanna, that her father was called Jacob, that her paternal grandfather was Jacob and other relatives were Abraham, Eleazer and other ancient Hebrew names. No Gentile family adopted such names at a time when the Jews were being persecuted and exiled by the thousands.

Again, the writings of Columbus are pointed out as showing a marked influence of Bible study in a period when the Bible was read scarcely at all in Spain, save by priests and a very few intellectuals, although every Jew knew the Old Testament from cover to cover. The letters and books of travel written by Columbus abound in Biblical phraseology, cropped syntax such as used in the Bible, short and flowery sentences, fantastic descriptions of nature, extravagant meaaphors, invocations to the heavens and Biblical names, such as Israel, David, Jerusalem, Judah and the King of Israel. Columbus even wrote a "Book of Prophecies," all of which, declare historians of this school, indicate a semitic orgin.

Personal characteristics of Columbus are cited by supporters of the Jewish theory to strengthen their case. His most intimate friend, the Father of Las Casas, who defended him when everyone had abandoned him, said he had an eagle nose, prominent cheek bones and lively eyes. He was avaricious and querulous, stubbornly bartering in matters of money and privileges. He thought himself the "messenger of Jehovah." To the Spanish kings he proposed to reconquer Palestine from the Turks with riches he would bring from the Indies.

Numerous other points lend credence to the theory of Columbus's Galician and Jewish extraction. The fact that Columbus took so many Jews on his ships, just when he was going to convert the American Indians to Christianity, has puzzled many people. The interpreter of Columbus, a Hebrew named Luis de Torres, is said to have been the first white man to set foot on American soil, when Columbus landed at the island he called Guanahani, one of the Bahamas.

All of this evidence, together with the mass of counter-evidence collected by those who do not accept the Galician-Jewish theory are being sifted by the personages composing the Spanish Government commission. When they finally make known their findings to the world the result will be the most authorative commentary on Columbus—his parentage, birth and life—that the world has ever known.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

J. A. SEXSMITH AT WARSAW

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE FOR EAST PETERBORO' ADDRESSES ELECTORATE — MRS. HAGERMAN TALKS PROTECTION.

MANY LADIES PRESENT

WARSAW, November 14. — A fair-sized crowd greeted J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., in the Town Hall on Thursday evening. About half those present had also been at Mr. Dewart's meeting.

Mr. John Rose, as chairman, was glad to see so many ladies present, and reminded them that Mr. Sexsmith represented the Government who gave them their vote.

Mrs. Hagerman, of Toronto, gave a short address, saying, in part, that we must have a tariff. The United States has protection, and their factories are doing well. In fact, they have factories all over the world, and the country to the south of us has been built up by protection. Canada has a vast area, but we have not the population.

Free-trade Britain has an income tax, but Mrs. Hagerman contended that there is no better way known for raising a needed revenue than to tax the articles from outside, which are made or produced in our own country.

Mr. Crerar wants the tariff revised downward, but thinking people must see that a tariff is necessary for Canada. The United States has many unemployed because of her over-production prior to entering the war, and a removal of Canada's tariff would mean the dumping of that over-production on our markets at prices against which Canadians could not compete.

As to a Commercial Union with the United States advocated by Mackenzie King, Mrs. Hagerman emphasised the fact that Great Britain, after her years of experience with Free-trade to build up her merchant marine, had in 1918 adopted a measure of protection, and entirely prohibited the importation of certain specific goods from abroad. Then, neither Free-trade nor a tariff will drive people to the and. On the contrary, she exclaimed, people can be driven from off the land by Free-trade. Since the war, the speaker declared, over 50 countries are increasing their tariffs; and is it reasonable to assume, she asked, that all the statesmen of these tariff nations are wrong, and only Messrs. Crerar and King correct in their revenue policies?

In conclusion, Mrs. Hagerman contended that the Free-trade West has a 60 per cent. population of foreigners, of whom 31 per cent. can neither read nor write, and those Provinces are swayed by American ideas. Free-trade would flood the country with foreign goods and with cheap labour, to the injury of both farmers and industries while a tariff would protect Canada's industrial and Agrarian interests, and produce a revenue commensurate with this Dominion's needs.

The Candidate.

Mr. John A. Sexsmith, the Conservative candidate, declared that since first appearing before the electorate here as a politician 21 years ago, he had never canvassed a vote on the strength of friendship, but had always urged the electors to exercise their franchise conscientiously.

He then briefly reviewed the history and origin of Free-trade in Britain, the only great country to trade without a tariff wall, and he gave illuminating instances where protection had resulted in great national benefits. Mr. Sexsmith charged American-Canadians with attempting to Americanise the West where, he said, the tariff fight is really an outcome of German and United States influence, both of which nations would be directly benefited by Free-trade in Canada, especially when all other nations are raising their tariff walls.

The speaker here contended that Germany could lay down motors in Canada cheaper than Canadians could get the raw material, unless one had a restrictive tariff wall, and he arraigned Mr. Crerar for criticising some conditions which existed during his own ministraton. Extolling the late Sir John A.'s national policy, he advocated its continuance in the interests of increased farm production, and cited how Australia's taxing of agricultural machinery had redounded to the interests of that country and resulted in Massey-Harris, of Torono, erecting a Canadian factory in Australia.

After discussing briefly the Canadian railroads situation, Mr. Sexsmith concluded by asserting his pride at being a follower of Premier Meighen, and invited his hearers to reflect on the national benefits accruing from Mr. Meighen's administration.

FAVOR ST. LAWRENCE SHIP CANAL PROJECT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.— (Canadian Press)—Argument in favor of the proposed St. Lawrence ship canal and power project was advanced at a meeting of United States' engineering societies yesterday by Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas; former Governor W. L. Harding, of Iowa; Dr. R. S. MacElwee, of Georgetown University, and H. L. Harriman, of Boston.

Governor Allen took exception of statements made by Governor Nathan L. Miller, of New York, in an address against the project in Buffalo, declaring the New York Governor had been misinformed regarding details and costs. Contrary to Governor Miller, he said, the project was practicable and scientifically possible; that it would be of sufficient channel depth to float a great amount of commerce and that it would be of infinite benefit to midwestern peoples in the way of reducing prices of all imported articles, and of cost of export from the Middle West.

ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON

(BY F. H. DOBBIN)

The rotary meeting and luncheon on Monday 14th was one of the very finest. Over fifty sat down, partook, and remained to hear what was to be offered in the way of information and entertainment. This word entertainment covers a wide scope. Things not meant to amuse but to instruct and edify. To inform and make men think. To appeal to their sense of brotherhood and helpfulness in the community. Sensibly, if even by insensible ways, the effect of Rotary is being felt. The weekly gathering makes a weekly road signal along the line of personal duty to others.

The gathering was indebted to Rotarians Chris Graham, Fred Roy and Claude Rogers for the opportunity to partake of a haunch of roast venison. "Haunch" is right. It is the word, as every boy and youth that has read "Ivanhoe" knows, is descriptive of the best and biggest thing on the table at which Friar Tuck presided in the Baron's hall. And the eating might have been prefaced by the memorable grace—before-meat as uttered by this Friar Tuck, "for What we are About to Receive, may the Baron Have to Pay." The venison was delicious, and fell in the woods to the rifles of the hunters as stated. The usual vote of thanks now adorns the lapels of the coats of the triumverate.

Local visitors to the Club were, A. W. Cressman, J. W. Fraser, Sidney Rush and Thomas Barrie. All these are being innoculated, and may presently be taken into membership, should the classification allow. You can't keep a good man down. Rotarian C. A. Bond, of the Toronto Club was also a sitter-in at lunch and glad of it. In addition the club had brief addresses from from Mr. Tom Best, of Hamilton and elsewhere, and William Ward of the British Brotherhood Movement, both of which were informative and enthusing. Mr. G. A. Roper, of the local Y.M.C.A. also sat in at the luncheon and was most heartily welcomed. Mr. Best is the Religious Secretary of the National Y.M.C.A. work in Canada.

Mr. Best was brief, but pungent. He defined for the meeting the pessimist, one who knocks and drudges, the optimist as one who ran ahead of facts and even responsibilities and while hopeful put no discretion on his urgings. A third personality had come into prominence which he defined as a "Peptomist" one who put some spirit and hopefulness into practical work. Who makes his service to the community count. Rotary was in many respects in line with peptosim, but he knew of Rotary Clubs that did not rotetate, did little but attend the luncheons. Rotary in his city had got behind the boy's work idea, but more was needed, to get under the boy's work and give it a lift. If real sacrifice were made in effort, and at times in money, much could be accomplished that would brighten life for those not well placed. The boys of the present would be the men afterwards. We know now, in Canada, that the way to keep down all this radical unrest was to educate, so that men could appreciate and understand the problems of life and environment. A telling story of the personal effort made by a boy to cheer up and serve the ex-soldiers in the Hamilton hospital was appreciated had effect on the Rotarians.

Mr. Ward recalled the visit of Sir Richard Wilfrey, some time ago to Peterboro, and he had been commissioned by Sir Richard to convey to Peterboro men and people the warmest appreciation of the welcome he had received and the good time made for him while he was here. He wished to say that there was a movement on foot in old Peterboro to link up with new and sentimental way, creating a bond of mutual regard. More of this would develope in the future.

He represented the Great Brotherhood Movement in the British Empire. Rotarians had for an inspirations largely the ethics of Brotherhood and Fellowship. This was well indeed, and led him to say that when he had gotten back to England two years ago, after travelling from one end of Canada to the other and had met hundreds of leading men his most vivid impression was that if Canada and Canadians maintained the calibre of the men at the head of affairs for the next fifty years that Canada would be a world power, if not The World Power in making for the national Christian life and durable progress. He referred to the part played by Canada during the war, and said that after standing where the Canadian soldiers stopped the German rush for sea ports and saved the day for England and the Empire, that England had not forgotten and would never forget what was owing to Canadian pluck and endurance. In addition he gave generous tribute to the work of Canadian woman, who under the most imminent dangers and privations, faced the duties of the Red Cross and kindred organizations, in the field and in hospital. All this showed that if the Soul of England was all right the Soul of Canada was right alongside the Mother Land.

Brief announcement was made of the arrangements for next Rotary Night. The club members and ladies will meet at the Empress at seven o'clock, for supper, and then adjourn to the Grand Opera House, where an evening will be put on by the house, assisted by Rotarians who will participate in the program. Further announcement in the advertising columns.

CHURCH SERVICES AT MARK STREET

The congregations both morning and evening were good and the music above the ordinary. Mrs. Mabee of West City sang both mornng and evening and was much appreciated.

Building a New World

was the subpject of the morning sermon and was a development of 1 Kings VI 7. "There was neither hammer nor axe nor any tool of iron heard in the house, while it was in building." The following is an outline of the subject.

Four hundred and eighty years after the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt, the great temple of Solomon began silently to rise on the summit of Mount Moriah. David proposed this house for God, but Solomon built the edifice. David was a man of blood and war, and would be quite out of place at church building. Nevertheless, you will notice that David collected materials and made arrangements for the great work. For seven years it quietly rose, while one hundred and fifty thousand men took part in the work. That mighty temple was completed 1005 years before Christ's birth an was the joy of the whole earth Yes, it cost a mint of money. Hundreds and thousands of men were engaged in the work and never went on strike. You see they were building a church, and that made all the difference in the world. If you want to be the happiest people out of heaven, begin building up the kingdom of God. That temple stoo 600 feet square on the hill-top. It was built of the most costly material. Well, what of that? Let me say, that not an atom went into that magnificent building that did not belong to God. It all came out of quarrey, or forest, or mine. That temple would be the pride of millions of youthful Hebrews all over the world. No, there is nothing too good for God's house. What an everlasting stigma upon us when we, as Christians, watch the new theatre, or pool-room, or gymnasium, or skating rink, or other centres of world'w attraction, rise in beauty and attractiveness, and we shut up like a clam when we hear of a new temple for God. Remember, it was not so with King Hiram of Gure; he was all enthusiasm to help Solomon to build the house of God. If we are going to keep our splendid young people in the church we must make it clean, and sweet, and wholesome, and attractive.

God Is Building the Temple of a New World.

The old world was selfish and unjust, and brutal. The Romans knew law, but love was dead. Mercy was unknown in the old days. God is silently building a new physical, mental, moral, social and spiritual order; and He is building with materials gathered from the far away past. You remember that mid the crash of the falling cedar of Lebanon and the turmoil of rending rocks in the quarrey; mid the hum of ten thousand human voices, and the clang and rattle of machinery; the materials for the great temple on Mount Moriah were gathered and prepared for their place in the hallowed structure. Now, God is doing that very thing today. Out of the convulsions, and cataclysms, and wars, and revolutions and great moral and social upheavals, the Mighty Artist Jehovah is silently building the great temple of a new world.

The Materials Gathered From the Past.

How wonderfully God is gathering out of the past and bringing into the present materials for the new and glorious temple. Man is no longer a chattel, but a human being, made in God's image, capable of infinite development, and walking with brow toward the stars. The old galley slave is transferred to the new prison farm. The old trial of "Ordeal" of red-hot iron bar or boiling liquid has changed to trial by judge or jury. Every science, worthy of the name, is in the interest of humanity in all its labor of investigation. Organized charity, social service, moral reform, systematic beneficience, religious education, child welfare, peace conferences and a hundred other great movements are all in the interests of mankind and have crystalized into building material for the new temple. Yes, past history sends forward her emancipation bills, bills of rights, charters of liberties, magna chartas and the products of our great treaties, and God is silently building them into the great new world structure. And the finishing beauty points of this magnificent building shall be formed from the crystalized work of good women.

The Cost of the New Structure.

How great has been the cost; none shall ever know. The consecrated blood of yesterday is our capital of today. Nature says that the life of the higher must rest upon the death of the lower. The sun ripens our harvests by burning itself out. The soil of the valley grows rich as deep, but it cost the life and beauty of the mountain. The coral islands rise above the waves because of myriads of living creatures that died vicariously. No one is richer until somebody becomes poorer. To gain a vision of the hills of paradise, Milton becomes blind to earth's beauty. All social treasure is the result of vicarious service and suffering. To achieve the two principles called liberty of thought and liberty of speech cost four thousand battles have been fought. And what of our soldiers? How proud they made our hearts, standing forth all clothed with beauty, health and splendid promise. What a waste of love, what a robbery of power seemed their early death. But not a drop of sacrificial blood is lost. Like the sacrifice of Calvary, God is quietly building all into the temple.

Answers to Correspondents:

MARY MARY—Red hands, especially if they are inclined to chap, are very distressing. The best preventative I can recommend to you is CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM. Rub it thoroughly into your hands every night and morning and particularly after each washing of your hands, because it is the continuous washing incident to housework that makes them chapped and get red. CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM will prevent both chapping and redness, and you will do well to use it. You will also be well advised to massage your face with it night and morning. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist. 40c a large bottle. MARGARET.

ELECTION NEWS

KING ASSAILS MEIGHEN'S CAMPAIGN.

EDMONTON, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press).—Dealing with the tariff at a meeting here last night Hon. Mr. King declared that the protection planik was a rotten one. It was ten years since Canadians had voted on domestic affairs, he said, and a new electorate had grown up since that time. Young women and men were entitled to hear a full discussion of the pressing problems of the day. Mr. Meighen, he said, dare not place his record before the people of Canada to-day. His rule had been "Toryism" in its very worst form. He had usurped the rights of the people, and during his regime he "had filled the Senate and bench with his own appointees."

MITCHELL REPLIES TO MEIGHEN'S CRITICISMS

MONTREAL, Q., Nov. 14.—(Canadian Press.) — Addressing a meeting of his electors in the St. Antoine division here Saturday night, Hon. Walter Mitchell, Provincial Treasurer, replied to criticisms of him uttered by Premier Meighen in Farnham and Sherbrooke last Wednesday. He said that the Premier was stooping to personalities and cheap witticism instead of arguing the point. Right. Hon. Mr. Meighen had, he said, refused to discuss the Ross Rifle, the annual railway deficits of one hundred millions and other questions of more national importance than personal attacks "Mr. Meighen objects to my getting experts from Canada, the United States or Great Britain to advise on the railway situation." Hon. Mr. Mitchell declared, "but he appointed Sir Joseph Flavelle of bacon fame. . . . the sixty two millions collected on income tax is going into the deficits of railways and marine—don't you think it is time the brakes were put on?"

Drastic and immediate changes in the financial administration of the country ewre absolutely vital unless Canada were to become utterly bankrupt, he concluded.

AMERICAN CHAIRMEN URGE HIGHER TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, November 15. — Canadian Press. — The permanent tariff bill which has been passed by the House, and is now under consideration by the Senate Finance Committee, met a further delay last night when the hearings on the measure were suspended upon completion of testimony on the dairy paragraph of the agricultural schedule and the committee adjourned with the plan, it was said, of holding no further meetings before next Monday.

Representatives of the dairy industry appeared before the committee, with requests for tariff rates on their products higher than those carried in the House Bill. They asked for a basic duty of 10c a pound on butter, with corresponding rates on other dairy products, the average being slightly higher than the House rates.

Musicale at the Conservatory

Under the leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon, the Conservatory Orchestra, with over twenty pieces, arranged and gave a musical programme for the Queen Mary Home and School Association last night, in the Conservatory Hall, that was thoroughly enjoyed by the members. The orchestra was particularly strong last night ,and a very creditable organization is being built up. Its numbers were favorably commented on by music lovers in the hall.

Principal H. M. Clark of Queen Mary School, was chairman. Vocal solos were given in a very acceptable manner by Miss Florence Scott, and Miss Ina Allin. In two violin selections for which Agnes Logan played the accompaniment. Miss Edwina Palmer demonstrated her ability as a brilliant violinist, and Miss Agnes Logan's piano numbers were very much appreciated. The musical diversity of the J. M. Greene family was shown by Mr. Gerald Greene in a capable 'cello number, and Mr. Kenneth Greene in a flute solo. Miss Greene playing the accompaniments. Two Hawaian numbers, the first of a quartette by Misses J. Gerrard, Elizabeth McDonald and J. Glover and Mr. Grant Smith and a guitar solo by Mrs. Smith, were enjoyable numbers. Readings were given by Miss Skarrow, teacher of elocution at the Conservatory.

The programme was very complete and on behalf of the Home and School Association, a hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Gliddon and the orchestra for their cooperation.

"BULL-DOG DRUMMOND"

BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

"Will nothing move you, James?" remarked his master plaintively. "This man murders people and does things like that, you know."

"Personally, sir, I prefer a picture-palace. But I suppose there ain't no accounting for 'obbies. May I clear away, sir?"

"No, James, not at present. Keep quite still while I go on, or I shall get it wrong. Three months ago there arrived at The Elms the most dangerous man in England—the IT of ITS. This gentleman goes by the name of Peterson, and he owns a daughter. From what Miss Benton said, I have doubts about that daughter, James.' He rose and strolled over to the window. "Grave doubts. However, to return to the point, it appears that some unpleasing conspiracy is being hatched by IT, the IT of ITS, and the doubtful daughter, into which Papa Benton has been unwillingly drawn. As far as I can make out, the suggestion is that I should unravel the tangled skein of crime and extricate papa."

In a spasm of uncontrollable excitement James sucked at his teeth. "Lumme, it wouldn't 'alf go on the movies, would it?" he remarked. "Better than the Red Indians and things."

"I fear, James, that you are not in the habit of spending your spare time at the British Museum, as I hoped," said Drummond. "And your brain doesn't work very quickly. The point is not whether this hideous affair is better than Red Indians and things—but whether it's genuine. Am I to battle with murderers, or shall I find a house-party roaring with laughter on the lawn?"

"As long as you laughs like 'ell yourself, sir, I don't see 'ow it makes much odds," answered James philosophically.

"The first sensible remark you've made this morning," said his master hopefully. "I will go prepared to laugh."

He picked up a pipe from the mantelpiece, and proceeded to fill it, while James Denny still waited in silence.

"A lady may ring up to-day," Drummond continued. "Miss Benton, to be exact. Don't say where I've gone if she does; but take down any message, and wire it to me at Godalming Post Office. If by any chance you don't hear from me for three days, get in touch with Scotland Yard, and tell 'em where I've gone. That covers everything if it's genuine. If on the other hand, it's a hoax, and the house-party is a good one, I shall probably want you to come down with my evening clothes and some more kit."

"Very good, sir. I will clean your small Colt revolver at once."

Hugh Drummond paused in the act of lighting his pipe, and a grin spread slowly over his face. "Excellent," he said. "And see if you can find that water-squirt pistol I used to have—a Son of a Gun they called it. That ought to raise a laugh, when I arrest the murderer with it."

II

The 30 h.p. two-seater made short work of the run to Godalming. Under the dickey seat behind lay a small bag, containing the bare necessaries for the night; and as Drummond thought of the two guns rolled up carefully in his pyjamas—the harmless toy and the wicked little automatic—he grinned gently to himself. The girl had not rung him up during the morning, and, after a comfortable lunch at his club, he had started about three o'clock. The hedges, fresh with the glory of spring, flashed past; the smell of the country came sweet and fragrant on the air. There was a gentle warmth, a balminess in the day that made it good to be alive, and once or twice he sang under his breath through sheer lightheartedness of spirit. Surrounded by the peaceful beauty of the fields, with an occasional village half hidden by great trees from under which the tiny houses peeped out, it seemed impossible that crime could exist—laughable. Of course the thing was a hoax, an elaborate leg-pull, but, being not guilty of any mental subterfuge, Hugh Drummond admitted to himself quite truly that he didn't care a damn if it was. Phyllis Benton was at liberty to continue the jest, wherever and whenever she liked. Phyllis Benton was a very nice girl, and very nice girls are permitted a lot of latitude.

A persistent honking behind aroused him from his reverie, and he pulled into the side of the road. Under normal circumstances he would have let his own car out, and as she could touch ninety with ease, he very rarely found himself passed. But this afternoon he felt disinclined to race; he wanted to go quietly and think. Blue eyes and that glorious colouring were a dangerous combination—distinctly dangerous. Most engrossing to a healthy bachelor's thoughts.

An open cream-coloured Rolls-Royce drew level, with five people on board, and he looked up as it passed. There were three people in the back—two men and a woman, and for a moment his eyes met those of the man nearest him. Then they drew ahead, and Drummond pulled up to avoid the thick cloud of dust.

Millions Who Are Sick Will Soon Be Well

Will Be a Revelation to Suffering Humanity—Cleans Liver in a Few Minutes—Symptoms of Liver Trouble Are: Sallow Complexion, Bad Taste in Mouth on Rising, Tired, Out of Sorts, Etc.

This new drug is called Tanated Calomel. It acts only on the Liver, which immediately relieves many troubles such as Rheumatism, Constipation, Boils, Kidney Pains, etc. No salts, Seidlitz, are necessary after taking, because it is self eliminating. It does not have a nauseating, sickening feeling the next day, like so many similar drugs. You no doubt have been taking all sorts of laxatives, salts, castor oil, etc., with only temporary results. The reason is that some of these draw liquid from the blood and the tissues, causing a great flush. What you need is something like Tanated Calomel, which causes the bile to be excreted from the liver into the bowel, causing a natural elimination of the waste. You know waste allowed to remain in the system causes a multitude of troubles. I can venture to say that 90 per cent. of all sickness is due directly to this very thing. What is generally the first thing your doctor does when you are sick? He gets your bowels operating so as to eliminate wastes in your bowels, which are poisoning your system. Now, in order to be happy, healthy, vigorous, vivacious, bright, alert, keen to observe and understand, you must first keep your Liver clean, or you are coaxing all sorts of trouble upon yourself. Doctors recommend that you take a tablet before eating and one at bedtime. Just get some of these, and I feel assured that you will feel as if you had a new lease of life.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—In reply to Mr. Gordon's letter of Friday, let me say

1—That Mr. Gordon's answer to my question is perfectly satisfactory to me. He declares himself unequivocally an Independent, and not even an Independent Liberal. That is what I wanted to know. If the convention nominate him, then the Liberal party in Peterborough must follow Mr. Gordon's banner and not Mr. King's. That is, I think, clear. At any rate, Mr. Gordon definitely declares that he cannot be counted upon by Mr. King, or anybody else, as what is known as "a supporter."

2—If Canada loses one dollar unnecessarily by the Riordons, then, of course, the Government would be to blame, and very much so, but in both agricultural and industrial concerns, which are for the time being labouring under stress of weather, it is customary in all countries to help to tide them over if possible, but the whole Riordon property, amounting to many millions, remains a perfectly secure security for the debt. No Government should be needlessly severe.

3—I heartily agree with Mr. Gordon in his very sympathetic reference to the humble toiler.

4—The question at issue in this campaign is as follows: "Which party or leader has expressed the best opinion and the best policy for Canada?" My answer is, "Mr. Meighen who supports Protection." Mr. Gordon's answer is that he has not made up his mind on the subject of whom to support, but that he will let his constituents know after they have elected him. I do not think that this stand is a possible one. How can people vote for a man who says that on these great questions he has as yet no definite opinion, and does not know who is right and who is wrong or where he himself stands. From the whole tone and meaning of his letter we must understand that he is not prepared to support any leader or any leader's policy as yet made public. We may have much confidence in him as an "independent" thinker, but is it really possible that he has no policy at a general election for the good of Canada? I am well aware that he is a very busy lawyer, but dear Mr. Gordon, where is this country going to land if its M.P.'s have no time to form a definite opinion as to what should be done. Is this the way you propose to look after public affairs? No wonder the country is going to the "bow-wows," if this is all candidates can do for us or care to do. On questions suddenly arising upon which Mr. Gordon could not now know anything, of course he would not now be prepared to give his opinion. But that he has no idea of Canada's best trade or other policy, and does not know anybody who has, is beyond me.

J. H. BURNHAM.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir: By your kind permission I would like to write a few thoughts relating to a sermon preached in Knox Church yesterday by Rev. Robert Pogue on the Model Church. I feel sure that any really spirtually-minded person enjoyed that sermon. There are some of us who long with longings unthinkable for a Model Church. We are like sheep wandering on every mountain and no true Shepherd seeks us to bring us into the True Fold, hungry and desolate we wander dimly conscious of the fact that there is plenty in our Father's world. That there would be warmth and love within the fold but no shepherd cares, he does not miss us, nor seek us, nor care if we die of hunger or lonliness, or cold, while in the co-called folds of the church and those who are content with such conditions as exist there are sheltered, clothed and fed but some of us are not content with the food nor with the warmth, we think for ourselves and we act and live and suffer alone. We cannot conscientiously think as they think nor do as they do we have higher aims and ambitions than to lend ourselves or give ourselves to the so-called work of the church of raising money for the church and all the dead paraphernalia of a dead church. We long for the fellowship of souls who are other-worldly, citizens of another country, and who in mind live there, but there are few of them today, therefore an earnest Christian is a lonely person in spirit lacking a spiritual place to call Home, yet finding other while a soul he can minister and find fellowship with. What's wrong with the Church? Well, as Mr. Pogue said, the church is handicaped, crippled by unregenerate members, Yes! The ministers know this; but are they doing their best to alter these conditions. No! I fear not, they must not be too particular who they get, it is members they want and must have, so they think, to keep the thing going, they are something like Insurance agents, out to get new members and they must get them because their living is in it. Then too, as Mr. Pogue said we have ministers who are cowards, they fear to declare all the council of God. If such is the case I would say to these men get out, for God does not need you, he needs fearless men and women who love Him enough to dare things for Him. And who love the souls of men enough to be fearless on their behalf. If we had regenerate members in the Church the money would come in without the arduous and ignoble ways of raising it, one other thing is necessary a holy man at the helm, a tender man who knows how to reach the hearts and pockets of the people. Much more could be said but I fear dear Sir to trespass on your space and time and patience, but may God help us to aim high to love nobly and live to be good and do good.

Yours very sincerely

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

WHY DO PEOPLE DEMAND THE WHITEST OF BREAD?

DO THEY BUY THE "STAFF OF LIFE" FOR ITS COLOUR OR FOR ITS CONTENT OF NUTRIMENT?—DO THEY WANT THE FULLEST FOOD VALUES OF WHEAT OR MOSTLY WHITENESS?

Why do people eat white bread?

Sounds like another foolish question doesn't it!

You might just as well ask why is bread white. Most persons would probably tell you that bread is white because a joint of beef is red and good coffee brown; that the color of these food commodities is of their essence and not a mere accidental property or characteristic.

As a matter of fact how many housewives, for upon them devolves the duty and the responsibility of selecting the family's food, have ever turned their curiosity upon bread except when concerned about its freshness, its sweetness, its whiteness or its price? With the great majority of them white bread has been and is above suspicion. Its whiteness is popularly regarded as a guarantee of its purity and the whiter the better.

Such is public opinion, and the public dearly cherishes and holds fast to its opinions.

But a casual enquiry into the origin or the basis of the opinion that white bread is good bread, or conversely that good bread must be white suggests the probability that this opinion is based on custom.

The present generation, contemporary with the ultra refined processes of milling flour, has known only white bread, except during a short period of the war. The public has not forgotten the war bread, which was regarded as an inferior production because it was noticeably less white than the bread to which consumers were accustomed. But it was almost as dark as Dutch loaf, and consequently housewives endured it as one of the horrors of war, and the rest of the family endured it in the spirit of patriotic sacrifice. When the government revoked its restrictions and permitted the mills to grind out white flour again the public began to pick up its appetite, and congratulated itself that the sacrifice had been worth while. The baker's boy was received once more with as cordial a smile as the persisting high price would permit.

Evidently, therefore, the public's chief demand in the quality of bread is whiteness. Whiteness is the first consideration, assuming of course freshness and palatableness. And when the people are satisfied, and in fact are not disposed to accept anything else, why try to shake their conviction or change their taste!

The bakers would have a fine battle on thir hands if they set out to sell a Graham bread or whole wheat bread. Custom and habit have become established and the easiest way is to keep on peddling white bread. Bakers of course would tell you that there is no demand for any but bread, so why should they attempt to bring about a change in the trade.

And the miller makes the whitest flour he can produce, because the baker will buy only the whitest. So it all comes back to the consumer, and if the consumer exercises any discrimination in buying bread his preference or criterion is its color, as if it were a tastable or nutritious property.

Notice how carefully the women examine poultry on the market. How exacting they are in the selection of meat and butter. But in the matter of the prime staple food which enters into every meal, in most families there is never a question about the food value or content of the familiar loaves.

Why shouldn't the housewife consider the question as to whether the familiar white bread is as nutritious as she apparently believes it to be? Perhaps she imagines that the baker assumes that responsibility.

Well, here's what the manager of a local flour mill told the Examiner on that point.

"The bakers want the whitest flour we can turn out. They "slick out" the samples to examine their whiteness any they buy the whitest."

According to that miller the baker is concerned chiefly about the color of the flour, doubtless because the consuming public insist on having the whitest bread.

There's no thought about comparative food values in that transaction.

"The war bread was the best bread the people of this country have had in my time," said the miller. "Our white bread is mostly starch. The protein and other valuable elements have been very largely removed in the milling. This is due to the fact that we are trying to produce flour as white as possible. A generation or two ago when the old stone mills knew nothing of our refining methods only the bran and shorts were taken out, and the protein was conserved in the flour."

He stated that vitamines, so frequently mentioned in modern dietetics, protein and other health-giving elements represented the principal nutriment in wheat, but that too great a part of these contents were now relegated to "feed flour" which was fed to hogs and cattle. In other words the people in their insistence upon bread of the sheerest whiteness were depriving themselves of the best, the most nutritious part of the wheat.

The manager of the largest flour mill in this district, outside or Peterborough, discussing with the Examiner a short time ago the question of whole wheat flour said: "One of the most important needs of this country to-day is a campaign to educate the people in regard to flour and bread values. We have carried the refining of flour too far. Too murh of the richest parts of the wheat are taken out of the floor because the public want the whitest bread they can get. Whole wheat bread might be a little too rough for some people, but at any rate refining should not be carried to its present extremes."

Both these millers declared that they would welcome a demand for a "coarser" flour. It would mean simpler operations and a more nutritious product. And presumably they reflect the attitude of the milling industry.

From these expressions, apart from the results of the experiments made by dieticians, the "white" staff of life is an anaemic staff, and that the public's preference for white bread entails a sacrifice in food values that is either not fully realized or is not worth the price for the sake of whiteness.

HEART WOULD BEAT LIKE A TRIP HAMMER

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it is going to burst.

You have weak and dizzy spells, sinking sensations, are nervous irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk up stairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

We know of no remedy that will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as will

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. Chadwick, Delhi, Ont., writes, "I had palpitation of the heart, and the least exercise such as going upstairs or up a hill, my heart would beat like a trip hammer and at times I was dizzy-headed and had a sinking sensation as if my time were near.

A friend suggested I try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills so I procured three boxes and by the time the first one was used I began to improve. In all I took six boxes, and now, although in my 66th year I feel like a young girl; no dizziness or heart-thumping and can walk miles without fatigue. At time of sickness I weighed 120 pounds, now I weigh 150."

CANADA STEAMSHIP LINES FROM SMALL BEGINNINGS NOW ONE OF WORLD'S LARGEST TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS

Growth of Company's Services Tell the Story of the Growth of Water Transportation For the Waterways of the Dominion—Complete Unit of Transportation Under One Central Management.

Water-borne traffic is of such vital importance to the industrial life of the Dominion of Canada that it becomes a national duty to see that the various waterways are maintained in the most efficient manner and that the various classes of ships which utilize them are of an up-to-date and more efficient character. Furthermore, it is equally as important that the service be effectively financed in order to give the country in conjunction with railways that service which is so essential to the maintenance of a healthy condition of trade, both of a domestic and export and import character.

Canada Steamships Lines, Limited, having fallen heir to the important task of national provider of waterway transportation facilities, it can be stated without fear of contradiction, has risen to the occasion by providing the trade converging on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence with a class of steamers befitting the importance of the business it is called upon to handle. It is a task of national importance and it has been met in the spirit in which it was imposed.

Like the majority of great corporations this service has grown from small beginnings, the strsucture built by early interests being enlarged in later years on broader lines and augmented by the addition of scattered units operating in a comparatively small way until Canada Steamships, as it has been known for the past few years, has become the most important individual service of its kind on the North American continent.

Pioneer on Water Route

The history of the company dates back to 1845, when a small boat, the Richelieu, of 125 tons, was put on the route between Montreal and Chambly, on the Richelieu River, which gave the company part of its title some years later enlarged to the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company with the inclusion of boats running to Toronto and Hamilton in 1875.

Three years after the venture with the Richelieu which had proved a success the Jaques Cartier was built to serve between Montreal and Berthier. In 1855 the company added two greatly improved boats, the Victoria and Napoleon, 350 tons each, to ply between Montreal and Quebec.

As a result of the keen competition thus produced the Torrance Company, which had, prior to this, controlled the entire traffic of the route, in 1858, sold their boat, the Quebec, for $30,000 to the Richelieu Company which by this time had a capital of upwards of $125,000. During 1860-61 two additional boats were added and the capital of the company considerably increased.

Early Consolidation.

During 1862 the company was enlarged by the fusion of the Terrebonne and L'Assomption and Lake St. Louis Lines with the Richelieu Company. In 1861 the original steamer Montreal was placed on the line, in 1863 the Francois Yamaska was added, and in 1864 the Quebec was constructed at a cost of $172,000.

In 1875 the company was further enlarged by the taking over of the line of boats running from Montreal to Toronto and Hamilton. This amalgamation took the name of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, and had a capital of $1,500,000 and eight steamboats. Four more were added a few years later. Such noted figures as Sir Hugh Allan, L. A. Senecal and L. J. (afterward Senator) Forget, acted as presidents, and in later years Sir Rodolphe Forget headed the company.

In 1898 the company launched the handomest steel steamer it owned up to that time. This was the Toronto, which cost the company $250,000.

In 1912, which was the last year of the company's operations under that title, it reported the following subsidiary lines as part of the system: The Northern Navigation Company, Limited; Inland Lines, Limited; Niagara Navigation Company, Limited; Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company of United States; St. Lawrence River Steamboat Company, Limited; Thousand Island Steamboat Company. The paid-up capital having virtually reached the amount authorized, $10,000,000, it was announced that application had been made to Parliament for authority to increase the amount to $15,000,000. There was at that time a debenture indebtedness of $2,000,000 authorized of which $1,376,780 was outstanding.

Tremendous Growth Enjoyed

Some idea of the growth of the organization under the present regime may be obtained from the fact that the capital stock now amounts to $24,500,000, of which 125,000 shares are 7 per cent. preferred and 120,000 shares common stock. The funded debt consists of $5,516,877 five per cent. consolidated first mortage debenture bonds and $6,000,000 seven per cent. ten-year serial first mortgage collateral bonds, representing a new issue, which are secured by pledge of $8,400,000 five per cent consolidated first mortgage bonds. Sufficient funds have been deposited with joint trustees to redeem all outstanding underlying bonds amounting to $931,000.

The company's steamships, which now form a long list of passenger and freight boats, are now valued at $27,208,969, while the value of real estate, buildings, docks, wharves, etc., adds another $5,543,855, or a total of $35,468,716. The Canadian Appraisal Company gives the whole property a value of $41,870,848, which gives some idea of the growth of the company since the time of merger.

ESKIMO'S WINTER HUNT FOR SEAL.

The following account of the Eskimo's winter hunt for seal is given in the Beaver, a house organ of the Hudsons's Bay Co.:

"The Eskimo leaves his snow house (igloo) with a husky dog. The dog smells out the seal and indicates to his master of the location of the seal's breathing place. It happens when the ice is forming that a seal will nose a hole in the forming ice so that he can breathe when it is frozen over. The churning of the water, together with the heat of the seal's body during the thickening of the ice, keeps a hole in the ice large enough for a home for the seal so that he may rest and breathe. An air vent through the roof of his dome-like house permits the escape of his carbonic exhalations; but the snow, beating like ice particles on the top, covers over the chimney as it were, making it necessary to hunt the seal's home with a dog.

"The Eskimo, having located the ice-house of the seal, enlarges the chimney hole in the ice about the size of his wrist and drops through this an apparatus, or "seal indicator," which when the seal comes up will rise. The indicator thus shows the Eskimo that the seal is at home. Then he simply makes a thrust with his short spear which is anchored with a stout piece of sealskin thong. The seal immediately dives, and, being anchored by the sealskin rope, drowns himself. Then the Eskimo draws him in, enlarges the opening in the ice and pulls out his seal.

ADD TWELVE NAMES TO VOTERS' LIST TO-DAY.

Judge E. C. S. Huycke opened his revision court for adding names to the voters' list this morning at 10.30, and in the morning session about twelve names were taken. This afternoon court was resumed again at 3 p.m., and will continue all week, with an evening session Saturday and Monday for the benefit of those who cannot leave their work during the day. Considering that the lists are fairly complete, it is not expected there will be anything approximating the numbers of names added as for the by-election in February. The remembrance of their names not being on the list last winter is, however, stimulating a great number of voters to efforts to get properly registered, so that in this way the revision officers will have a busy week.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross feverish, full of cold, or has colic give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup' handy. They know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

CHURCHMEN IN HAVELOCK ORGANISE.

HAVELOCK, November 15. — Archdeacon J. C. Davidson addressed an intensely enthusiastic congregational meeting of the Anglican Church here last evening, when he urged for an advance in the life and work of the Church, especially by the young men.

And one result of the Archdeacon's visit is the organisation of a men's association, comprising the whole manhood of this congregation, the first meeting of which is to be held at an early date in the home of Mr. Sawyer, formerly a member of St. Luke's congregation, Peterborough.

Both the congregation and their rector, Rev. Mr. Stanley, expressed warm appreciation of the Archdeacon's visit.

HOW PORTLAND CEMENT IS MANUFACURED

Portland cement is considered by far the most important of the stone cements. It is an artificial product, named from its resemblance to Portland stone. This stone is a free stone quarried in the Isle of Portland (a peninsula supposed to have been formerly an island), in the County of Dorset, England. The stone hardens upon exposure to the air.

In the manufacture of Portland cement by the wet process, three parts of white chalk are mixed with on part of clay. The two substances along with the water, are placed in a "wash mill" in which cutters reduce the whole to a creamy "slurry". The slurry then passes into reservoirs. There it is allowed to settle for some weeks when the superfluous water is removed by decantation. The mixture is next dried on heated iron plates, and then burned in kilns. Finally it is ground to a fine powder. Portland cement is manufactured by the dry process from hard limestones. These limestones are crushed small mixed in the proper proportions with clay, then roughly burned and ground to powder. Since Portland cement is hardly ever employed pure, its strength is perhaps best tested when it is mixed with an equal weight of sand.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Is quite common, gradually becoming more severe, and if prompt action is not taken, serious results will follow. The symptoms are headache and pain in the back, sleeplessness, ashen complexion, white coated tongue and frequent urination. If a puffy swelling is noted in the feet or ankles the disease is well established and you must give the kidneys all the help possible by stirring the liver and bowels into action. Take Henderson's Herb Tablets every night according to directions, watch the digestion carefully, drink plenty of cold water between meals.

Mrs. T. Bevington, 303 Wilton ave., Toronto, Ont., says:

"I wish to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have received through Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment. I suffered for a number of years with kidney and liver trouble and at times could scarcely do my work with the pain in my back, and cramps in my muscles. I am now 67 years of age and after using one box of Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment I feel like a new person.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment can be purchased at Warne's Drug Store. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

EDMONTON ESKIMOS WESTERN CHAMPIONS

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 15.—(By Canadian Press.)— The Edmonton Eskimos won the championship of the Western Canada Rugby Union when they defeated the Winnipeg Victorias here yesterday 16 to 6 in the final.

The contest was played on a snow-covered field which made the footing treacherous and handling of the ball difficult, but despite these handicaps the teams played in sensational style and one of the hardest struggles of the season developed.

The visitors deserved their victory but were hardly worth the margin of 10 points.

They scored two trys, one of them fluky, and kicked a goal from the field. They played a splendid defensive game, particularly in the second and third periods, when they were outplayed, but held the locals to single points. The Eskimos had a big margin in the open session when they tore holes through the Victorias line for great gains. The locals stopped them in the next two periods and seemed to have them on the run in the fourth period, when the Eskimos fought back and finally took the aggressive and cinched the game with a try on a fumble behind the local line.

LINDSAY WILL USE SAME OLD PILL-BOX.

LINDSAY, Nov. 15. — The new rink proposition has apparently fallen through for this year, and the teams will have to play in the same "gigantic pill-box" as in former years. A propositsion by which the old Lindsay street building had been practically purchased for $6,000 has fallen through because renovations wanted another $6,000 to put the premises in shape for hockey purposes.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

One of the most spectacular and interesting pictures offered by the management of the popular Capitol is the production of "The Girl From God's Country". It is made more attractive by the wonderful backgrounds filmed in our own Canadian wilds, the Hudson Bay land which is the 'God's Country' of the title. A picture that offers some real, exceptional thrills, a strong love interest, and an atmosphere of human emotion raised to the heights, with a versatile heroine who plays with lion cubs kills her enemy in a breath taking struggle, and finally loves and marries the blind 'eagle' of war-time fame. Nell Shipman has a wonderful dual role in this picture, as the wild girl of the back country and the simple, refined daughter of the New York financier. There is a thrilling air-race, an under-water struggle which ends in victory for the girl, and a hangar fire which ruins two wonderful air-planes. A thread of underhand treachery and evil machination runs through the story, givng the upper hand now to the old inventor, who is being mulcted of his lifelong work by unscrupulous men, and then to the strong villian of the piece, ending in a final spectacular episode. No one should miss this picture. It is something different and provides a treat for jaded theatre-goers, sated with too much artificiality and the hothouse amosphere which pervades so many of the modern pictures.

An interesting episode of the "Yellow Arm", and a comedy which runs the gamut of fun in "Bungalow Troubles", complete a extra-special programme.

The Capitol Theatre has been specially decorated for this occasion the front presenting the appearance of a log-cabin to suit the atmosphere of the feature picture.

AT THE ALLEN.

IT COULDN'T HAPPEN NOW; THAT'S WHY IT'S SO FUNNY

He cites as an evidence of this Mermaid Comedies, latest of which, "Holy Smoke!" featuring Jimmie Adams, will play at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow, is one who challenges the statement that people do no want the improbable in comedies. He contends that this is one of the basic secrets of real successes, and that burlesque, if cleanly done, is probably the most delightful element that enters into pictures.

that a considerable portion of Holy that a considerable portoin of Holy Smoke is a travesty on the old time melodrama and that the greater portion of the laughs come from the ridiculous elevator that is moved by weights, the old time fire department that always gets there too late. There is not a thing in the picture that is likely to happen in real life to-day ,and on that the fun making is based.

THE ALLEN THEATRE.

To-day's show at the Allen Theatre is "par excellence," the finest and brightest offering ever presented to a Peterborough audience. Last night those present at this favorite place of amusement saw what not is only the most wonderful picture ever screened, but one that never can be excelled, a "Virgin Paradise," as told by its title, was taken regardless of cost, for the greater part in that pearl of ocean islands, lovely Bermuda.

It might be noted incidentally that whilst the scenes in Bermuda were being "shot," a former resident of this city, but now living in Bermuda, Mr. Darrell Wainwright, sustained a genuine shock while travelling along a palm fringed coral roadway to have a huge lion spring across the path in front of him. This proved to be Nero, the leader of the large herd of lions appearing in a Virgin Paradise.

A skeleton synopsis of the plot is as follows: John Latham, a missionary killed by superstitious natives, leaves a child, Gracia (played by Pearl White.) The savages, frightened from the island by earthquake and wild beasts, leave Gracia alone with the denizens of the forest, Peter Latham, Gracia's uncle in the States, dies without a will. An effort is made to locate John Latham, whose death is unknown in the U. S. A ship is chartered and Bob Allen, hero in the play, signs on the search party for the excitement. He discovers Gracia surrounded by her lions and other animals. He brings her back to New York. Gracia arrives in the States with a mind as innocent of civilization and its conventionalities as would be natural from her early environment. Gracia adopts the modern garb of girls, a little less scanty than she wore in her Virgin Paradise.

Amongst the other films is "Reformed Saloons." This shows some well known former saloons where men learned all about "the morning after the night before." The changed conditions under prohibition show the same next morning but a happier one.

JACK.

AT THE REGENT.

One thing that pleases most about Louise Lovely, who is appearing at the Regent Theatre in "While the Devil Laughs," is the charming little star's ability to act natural under the most trying circumstances. Although she is an emotional actress of exceptional power, she is not yet given to cyclonic outbursts. Yet it canot be denied that she "gets over" her big moments with a force that brings out all there is in them.

In her latest Fox picture, which was seen at the Regent last night, Miss Lovely gives a demonstration of suppressed emotion that would do credit to one of more mature years and for wider experience. In fact, she gave such a portrayal of a rather difficult role, that of a thief, that, although she was a criminal, she had the sympathy of the audience from the start.

"While the Devil Laughs," is built around underworld characters and has a popular theme—the reformation of two crooks through love and suffering. There are several exciting scenes in the drama, notably the tenement fire in which Miss Lovely and her leading man, William Scott, leap from a window of a burning tenement into a fire net. It is full of heart interest, as well as dramatic suspense.

AT THE GRAND.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN WANTS

The Rex Stock Company each week continues to provide fresh proof of the versitility and ability of the members of the organization, as the list of successes scored grows longer. his week the Rex players offer a sparkling comedy, "What every Woman Wants," a play that is always amusing and yet one that contains plenty of food for thought, and the large audience at the Grand last night pronounced the presentation as one of the most meritorious yet given by Mr. Snelgrove and his company. Al the members of the cast contribute to the success of the performance, with Rex and Miss Vaughn in the principal roles, offering particularly effective performances. Mr. Snelgrove scores heavily as Wolff Kingsearl, a Petruchio sort of a role, in which he uses treat-'em-rough methods to arouse the real womanhood in the interfering Miss Hobbs, who is suffering from a twisted conception of the sterner sex. Miss Vaughn does capital work as Miss Hobbs, and the rest of the company are fully equal to the demands made upon the talent. The comedy is adequately staged and Rex fans should find "What Every Woman Wants," one of the most enjoyable bills their favorite company has presented. Next week "A Pair of Sixes" will be the offering with Monday night in charge of the Rotary Club.

BRINGING UP FATHER

An event calculated to arouse the spirit of youth, joy and happiness is scheduled to take place at Grand theatre where George McManus's "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street' is underlined as the next sensational attraction, on Nov. 17th. This brisk, novel, original and typically side-splitting comedy divided into two acts and five scenes, introduces the famous McManus characters in a new environment where they are surrounded by a young throng of old favorites whose doings should arouse and tickle the risibilities of millions of their loyal and faithful admirers. Mr. Hill has engaged a large and capable company, supplied a predonderance of pretty and talented women; merry and tuneful melodies; novelties and other essential and original features Surely Jiggs Mahoney and the irrespressible Maggie come into their own again in this hilarious and unusual concoction of laughter screams and gay endeavor. The play comes direct from the Manhattan Opera House, New York and the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia.

WINNIPEG KIDDIES

It is seldom that a road show sets a ban on encores. On the contrary, encores are often sought in productions of a lyrical or vaudeville tinge. But The Winnipeg Kiddies in their new and elaborate offering, coming to the Grand on Friday and Saturday, November 18 and 19 will not respond to encores unless insistently demanded. Why? Because the new show is so crammed with material —comedy, novelties and surprises— that to respond to every encore demanded would prolong the show till midnight. It a new and novel policy, but, so far, it is working out satisfactorily. There are occasions when the audience "stops the show" and succeeds in winning an encore, but the public generally appreciates the new idea of giving an audience its money's worth without "encore-padding."

"CARP" COMING IN FEBRUARY

At Least Capt. Mallet, His Friend, Cays Georges Has So Promised.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. — Those words that carry tales over the waters have it consistently lately that Georges Carpentier had shown his Greek godlike shape in America for the last time.

"That's not so!" Capt. Therry Mallet, personal friend and American adviser of the Frenchman, said here.

"I have just received a letter from Georges," he went on, "and I can say emphatically that he will be back in February to fulfill his contract to meet Tom Gibbons.

"Carpentier has started training at Laguerche to meet some Australian heavyweight named Cook. Of course we know he isn't much but the English wanted to see Georges in action again and there was no one else in sight.

"The training for the bout which is to be staged in London on Dec. 8 and the fight itself will get Carpentier into the best of condition after his long rest. His hand is better now and, according to his letter, he will be able to put all his strength behind it."

Stoneham yesterday was re-elected president of the New York National League Baseball Club, the corporate title of which is the National Exhibition Company, at the annual meeting of stockholders in Jersey City. The Board of Directors for the coming year will consist of Mr. Stoneham, John McGraw, F. X. McQuade, R. F. Robertson, Florence A. Stoneham, L. J. Bondy and H. A. Ferguson.

INSPECTING CAMPS.

HALIBURTON, Nov. 15.—For the deer season here, more outside sportsmen are on the job than in many years, and few of the many scores of camps roundabout are vacant. Mr. Windsor, assisted by Mr. Ira Toole, of Lindsay, has been making the rounds of these camps in the interests of the Game Department and the sale of licenses has freshened considerably.

BOXERS, TOWEL-SWINGERS AND SECONDS FORM UNION FOR UPLIFT OF BOXING

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent).

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Poor, downtrodden boxers who can make only from $5,000 to $25,000 an hour when they are working, and poor, abused managers who can only make about half that when their boys are at it, have resolved to organize somethink like a union to protect their interests.

The Boxers' Protective Association which is to include fighters, managers, seconds, rubbers, towel-swingers and their friends, will be built off a pattern to be fashioned by a committee consisting of Jack Curley, Dan McKetrick, Dan Morgan, Eddie Mead, Jim Buckley, Charley Harvey, Joe Woodman, Harry Lenney, Jack Britton, Benny Leonard, Willie Lewis, Billy Wellam, Billy Gibson, George Engel, and Frank Bagley.

The outline of the proposed union is to form a governing body to uplift boxing and place it on a spotless plane through a supervising association like the United States Lawn Tennis Association, or the A.A.U.

Tex Rickard may chuckle over the new union, especially if the "closed shop" is incorporated in the by-laws. The State Boxing Commission also may get a kick out of the layman effort to clean up boxing, one of the duties imposed upon the Commission by the State.

The Commission really started the proposed new ruling body when it ruled that managers could not have contracts calling for more than one-third of their boys' earnings. The Commission also insinuated that managers were not an asset to boxers.

Rickard has been expecting the "union," as he claims that Morgan, Gibson and several others with big stables have practically boycotted Madison Square Garden because the matchmaker of the big club insisted upon making the matches and picking opponents of the star glove performers.

The managers come back with the charge that the garden is practically a monopoly for the Leo Flynn stable of fighters, which at the last count numbered about fifty.

RUTH SPOILED BY SUCCESS DISCIPLINE MIGHT HELP HIM

Severe punishment for Babe Ruth by Judge Landis not only might prove quite beneficial for the bursting buster, but for baseball as a whole thinks Frank G. Menke, who writes on baseball topics. The bulky slugger connected with the idea some time ago that he's the great "I am" of the athletic world. The glory and praise showered upon him has affected his mental equilibrium to such an extent that he has come to believe he is bigger than the national game itself. And so he has conducted himself, writes Menke.

Ruth has not been amenable to full discipline as a Yankee. He has done things largely to suit himself. He has not followed the dictates of his manager, as other ball players do. He has hurdled training rules, club rules, league rules and organized baseball rules with reckless abandon and with more morale wrecking result.

It's time that he was halted. Otherwise his trick of running amuck in baseball is certain to destroy discipline for the other players will reason it out that if Ruth does not need to observe rules and regulations, there is no reason why they should not do likewise.

In the recent world's series Ruth executed one which showed how he regards his portly self. He was on the coaching lines. Peckinpaugh was at bat. If Peck arrived at first safely it meant Ruth up next. Did Ruth rush to the dugout, get his bat and make ready to go to the plate Nix. He remained on the coaching line until Peck reached first. Then while the game was delayed, waiting for him, he strutted almost across the field to the Yankee dugout, got two bats and waved them appraisingly.

Ruth loves praises—but froths around the jowels under the lash of criticism. One of his outbursts of rage over a story printed in New York, caused him to enter the press box during the world's series and threaten Joe Vila, a New York sport writer, with bodily harm. He volleyed and thundered a lot of words in bully fashion—but went no further despite his fearful sounding threats.

It all came about over a story written by Vila which the situation seemed to justfy.

Prior to the playing of the final series of the year with the Athletics, Ruth didn't go to the Quaker City. He was indisposed—from some cause or other. It was reported he was suffering from the flu; that the chances of his playing in the world's series were slight. Great stress was laid on the seriousness of his condition.

Vila's paper blazoned forth the story— and the next day the "very sick" Ruth played the game—making Vila's paper, like all the others, look like misinformation sheets.

After the third game of the world's series were played, Ruth told one of Vila's reporters that his arm was in such shape that "I positively cannot play in the series again." Vila, taking Ruth at his word—printed the story—made a first page sensation out of it, as the statement of Ruth deserved. And Ruth played in the very next game—once again making the newspapers which printed the "out of the series" story look foolish.

Vila, disgusted, wrote a squib, in which he pointed out that Ruth's statements about being crippled and unable to play, etc., were to be taken with a grain of salt. And Ruth got angry, very tempermental about it. When he read the squib he rushed to the press box in grandstand fashion, sought out Vila, demanded an apology and a retraction.

Vila, in substance, told Ruth to chase his fat self up and down a few boulevards. Ruth threatened to do some busting up. Vila pointed out to Ruth that nothing seemed to be halting him.

It was up to Ruth to do something. He did—with words.

"I'll give you until to-morrow to retract. If you don't I'll come right around here to the press box and getcha," bellowed Ruth.

Vila, instead of retracting, printed a few remarks about Ruth the next day of what might be termed "unkind nature." But Ruth never showed up. Somebody probably got hold of him meanwhile and sprayed a lot of ice water upon his fevered and swollen dome.

Ruth at heart is not a bad kid. But all the plaudits and the laurels heaped upon him have distorted his own view of himself. He's come to believe that he is a baseball god—forgets that he's just human.

And he forgets that in baseball it ever has been and will be!

"A hero to-day—a bum to-morrow.

GENERAL SPORTS IN TABLOID FORM

Michigan-Ontario baseball league is taking up the salary question for 1922 and proposes a cut in salaries of ball players of $1,000 for the season, bringing the scale to $2,300. Last season the roster of the Michigan-Ontario League showed that the players enrolled by the eight clubs all were Americans with the exception of two Canadians, and the two Canadians were playing on Michigan teams of the league.

Young Bob Fitzsimmons, the son of Old Ruby made his debut in the professional prize ring a few nights ago, but he was not the son of dad in his ability as shown in the ring. He is said to be painfully lacking in hitting power. Old Bob's great asset, and to be without any knowledge of ring generalship. He has no force behind his fist, and his exhibition was more one of shadow boxing than dangerous punching. Bob used to hit with every ounce of body weigh behind the punch. Young Ruby also appeared, so 'tis said, to be rather afraid of the return blow.

There is a general opinion in California that the Coast winter ball league can be set down as a failure. It is the first time it was tried in the sunny state and Cobb, Sisler, Hellmann and Hornsby were sent for to give it a boost. Outside of this quartette there were no celebrities and none of them performed up to major league standing. The crowds were disappointed and after the novelty of seeing the stars had worn off, the fans did not go back to the ball parks again. The football came along and drew the greater attendances, so winter ball is not over successful.

Judge Landis, while deliberating on what kind of a smacking to give the Babe, is holding $3,263.26 cents which is Ruth's share of the world's series money. Landis is also holding a like sum against both Bill Piercey and Meusel, two other barnstorming sinners. Eventually they will get the money, no doubt, and meanwhile the publicity Ruth received over the barnstorming tour has brought him $3,000 per week for becoming a vaudevillian.

The contemplated trip of Jack McAuliffe to Ireland to find a man who will whip Dempsey reminds one of the story they used to tell about the father of John L. Sullivan.

The day after John defeated Paddy Ryan and became the world's champion an old friend met Sullivan Sr., on the street in Boston and began congratulating him.

"Just think, Mr. Sullivan," he said, "your son, John, is the champion. He can whip any man in the world."

John's father shook his head. "No," he said, "there are lots of men in Ireland who can whip him."

HEADS THAT ACHE AND PAIN

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but no matter which organ is to blame the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, which has been on the market for the past forty five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

Miss Clara Murphy, Centre Dummer, Ont., writes: "My system was greatly run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another bottle and it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to some of my friends who were in a similar condition and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

OBITUARY

LAID AT REST.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Bruce Telford took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family residence, 78 McDonnel street, to the Little Lake cemetery, Rev. W. H. Young, of George street Methodist church, officiating both at the house and at the grave. The pall-bearers were deceased's two brothers, Messrs. Herbt and Harold Delahey, Messrs. A. Armstrong, T. Gillespie, W. Telford and C. Armstrong.
The late Mrs. Telford was of an affectionate, kind and cheerful disposition, and held a warm spot in the hearts of all who knew her. The sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances is extended to the sorrowing family, bereaved by death's sudden call to a loving mother, wife and daughter at her home on Sunday night.

TERM STATEMENT BY MISS M'CALLUM "ROT"

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press).—Strong indignation is felt here over the statement attributed to Miss Mary MacCallum, of the Council of Agriculture, that thousands of farmers in Southern Alberta will starve during the winter. The statement is declared to be absolutely misleading and characterized as "rot."
While there is unemployment, it is said, there is nothing to warrant the gruesome picture she is reported to have painted.

YOUNG MAN CAN GET BRIDE FOR NOTHING BUT UPKEEP IS HIGH

Original Cost of No Consequence; Man's Appetite Something With Which to Conjure.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 15.— A referendum taken among the girls of the senior class at Goucher College to test the recent charge by eugenists that college girls are matrimonial slackers, tends to show that it is not the original cost of a bride, but her upkeep that might worry the eligible young men of to-day. It was recently announced that the vote on the minimum salary, for economic safety for a married couple in the city, was an average of $48 a week. Statistics completed to-day show that the girls would need $13.13 a week to run the kitchen and $8.75 a week for their clothes. These figures represent the average of 102 answers submitted by the girls.
The answers show that college girls have a wholesome respect for a man's appetite. If single, and rooming with another girl, one said the grocery bill would be about $10. But if she were married and had to feed a hungry man, the estimate would be $15. Others noted differences running from $9 to $20, all on account of the male appetite.

CHILD WELFARE WORK GREATEST SOCIAL EFFORT

REV. PETER BRYCE, PROMINENT SOCIAL SERVICE WORKER, EULOGIZES PROGRESS OF CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

SOCIETY HERE HAS ITS MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The Children's Aid Society has concluded the most successful year in its history, and Rev. Peter Bryce of Toronto, Chairman of the Mother's Allowance Commission and a director of Child Welfare in the Province, who addressed the annual meeting of the society in the Public Library last night, spoke optimistically of child welfare work progress in all parts of the world. Rev. Bryce emphasized that it was the duty of the Province of Ontario to see that every child born in this Province received the birth right it was entitled to, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually.

"No greater work is being done right now of a social or philanthropic character than the work of the Children's Aid Society," said Rev. F. E. Malott, President of the society, in reviewing the success of the year.

In his report John Edgar, Secretary of the society, said that to his mind no greater work could be undertaken than that of child welfare. There were now 235 wards, he said. During the year there had been on an average 19 at the shelter. Eleven meetings of the society were held with an average attendance of 14. He commented favorably on their financial position as indicated by ordinary credit balance in October, 1921, of $2,828.10, compared with $1,607.38 in 1920, and the increase in capital account from $9,114.36 to $10,000.

Finances Good.

The report of C. S. Cummer, Treasurer, was very satisfactory, showing that total receipts for the year were $6,541.21 and a balance was on hand of $2,828.10.

Mrs. W. H. Gibbs reported that 10 sewing meetings had been held during the year.

In his review of the year G. W. Powell, Agent of the society, made particular reference to the fact that four and a half years ago the wards had hardly saved a cent and now they had in trust for them in Government securities and in cash in the bank $5,087.39.

Officers Elected.

The new officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Hon. Presidents—Mayor of the city and Warden of the county.

Hon. Vice-Presidents—J. H. Burnham, T. Tooms, M.L.A., Mrs. Birdsalls, J. E. L. Goodwill, E. A. Peck and Joseph Wearing.

President—Rev. F. E. Malott.

1st Vice-President—Mrs. W. A. Sanderson.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. W. H. Gibbs.

Secretary—John Edgar.

Treasurer—C. S. Cummer.

Solicitor—Joseph Wearing.

Executive—Dr. D. C. King, R. H. Parsons, F. H. Dobbin, H. B. Cowan, Adjt. Wallace Bunton, Rev. R. B. Grobb, Rev. Dr. Blagrave, William Sangster, Mrs. William Knox, Mrs. Walter Stocker, Mrs. W. J. Hopwood, Mrs. Kimberley, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Fanning, Mrs. Brayley, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. William Hill. A member from the G.W.V.A. and Kiwanis Club is yet to be appointed.

Since the society, according to the officers, can't afford to have any inactive members on its executive, a resolution was adopted that if members fail to attend three consecutive meetings the board has power to install others in their places.

Ex-President Rev. Fr. C. J. Phelan of Campbellford sent his regrets to the board of his inability to attend the annual meeting. "Though absent in body, I will be there in spirit. I look back with pleasure to the years spent on the board of your society." He expressed the hope that the work would flourish.

PERSHING KISSES BRITISH MOTHER

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press.)— Upon being introduced to Mrs. Emma McCudden, British war mother, at a banquet here last night to Marshal Foch, General Pershing complimented her on her visit to the United States and leaned forward and kissed her.

Another incident which delighted the guests was the meeting of Foch and Pershing. "Bonjour, Bonjour", exclaimed General warmly, gripping the hand of the famous Frenchman. "Well, well", replied the Marshal.

Before leaving the City Marshal Foch called on Cardinal Dougherty.

VISUAL EDUCATION ON CANADIAN LIFE

FREE LECTURE BY DR. JACKES IN NORMAL SCHOOL TONIGHT

Dr. Lyman B. Jackes, an expert on visual education, is making a visit to the city to-day for the purposes of continuing his work with the Provincial Department of Education. Early in the year he came and demonstrated some of the phases of Canadian life which could be visualized. This trip to the Normal schools is for the purpose of showing what Great Britain has been doing in Africa during the past century. Since his former visit to Peterborough, Dr. Jackes has pictured the Empire to over two hundred thousand school children in the schools of this province.

Speaking to the Examiner, he expressed the opinion that children in the smaller centres and rural districts were better informed on general knowledge than children in the larger cities. He is inclined to think that any advance that is made in education will be in an effort to get the children to work out their own education, under supervision, rather than expect them to absorb so much of a given curriculum in a specified time. In his lectures he has had many amusing answers given to general questions on Canada. He has been informed by many pupils that Edison built the great Hydro-Electric plant of the Ontario government at Niagara. That General Brock came out to Canada for the express purpose of being killed at Queenston and that the inside of a lead pencil is made of lead.

Dr. Jackes' lecture to-night in the Normal school is free and open to any friends of the school who care to come. He will picture the building of the great Cape to Cairo railway.

A COMING EVENT OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Home From Bolivia, Mrs. Haddow Will Talk on Missions.

All interested in foreign mission work should not fail to hear Mrs. Haddow of Bolivia, South America, in an address at Murray street Baptist church, Friday night, on "Girl Life in Bolivia." This event will undoubtedly be intensely interesting and illuminative of Bolivian habits, customs, conditions and religious needs, and the interest will be emphasized by Mrs. Haddow exhibiting many curios from that South American States. Theer has also been prepared for this occasion a good musical programme, to which Mrs. Haddow's two little children proteges, dressed in Bolivian costume, will contribute vocal numbers in Spanish.

Mrs. Haddow is a Peterborough woman who has devoted seven years to Baptist mission work in Bolivia, and her address should be largely patronized. There will be a silver collection.

Hindu babies are named when they are 12 days old, usually by the mother.

AT LEAST ONE COMMITTEE TO SHOW SURPLUS

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE HAS SPENT $29,891 OF ITS $38,000 APPROPRIATION SO FAR THIS YEAR.

SURPLUS OF ABOUT $1500 IS INDICATED AT PRESENT

According to present indications, the City Council's Fire Water and light Committee are going to show a fair-sized surplus at the end of the year. With an expenditure of $3,429.65 for October, making the committee's total payments from Jnuary 1st to October 31, $29,891.11, and allowing $6,500 (including two months' wages) with which to carry on until the end of the year Chairman Ald. Morrison may look forward to a balance of at least $1500 out of his committee's appropriation of $38,000. But had the proposition for a new light motor car for the Department not have been turned down by the council a month or so ago, the year's expense account for this committee would have been considerably augmented, although, perhaps not sufficiently so to exceed their appropriation. The $6500 allowed for expenditure from now till the end of the year is a rough estimate, allowing more or less latitude.

These figures were gleaned from the committee's file last night, while Aldermen R. Morrison, R. N. Jones, and Joseph Crowe patiently waited for one or two more of their colleagues to show up to constitute a quorum for the meeting called. No others putting in an appearance at 8:20 the chairman postponed business indefinitely. The main object of the meeting was to award the contract for the firemen's winter uniforms. Tenders for these from local tailors were to hand about three weeks ago, but none of the Aldermen being a judge of the samples of cloth accompanying the bids, the chairman and Chief Grange says the contract for them cannot be placed too soon.

Chlorine Deleterious.

Another interesting document on this committee's file is one which seems to emphasize the deleterious effect of chlorine on metal and rubber. When Inspector Walker, for the Canadian Underwrtiers' Association tested the fire hall's steam engine on November, he found that it would not lift water from the Little Lake. Examination disclosed that all valve springs and rubbers were eaten away to such an extent that all life and buoyancy in the pumps had been eliminated. This was reported as probably due to the action of chlorine in the city's water, which must be maintained in the engine's boiler at all times ready for a call. New springs and rubbers have now been placed in the pumps and the engine is again ready for use, the Chief reports.

EXCELLENT WEATHER FOR ROLLER SKATING

EXCELLENT CROWDS ATTENDING THE RINK EVERY DAY—LAST NIGHT'S CONTEST.

Last night was the first of the series of elimination contests, and the six best skaters in the different classes were chosen. To-morrow night the second elimination will be held, when the best six lady skaters skating in pairs and lady skating alone will be selected. On Saturday night the finals will take place and there will be an admission charge of 10c. for spectators.

There was a large number of excellent skaters on the floor last evening and Thursday's contest and Saturday's final will be most entertaining.

Band to-night. Excellent weather. Every attention and courtesy to this year's skaters to-night.—Advt.

INDIAN BISHOP DISCOUNTS THE REVOLT RUMORS

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press).—The belief that their is no foundation for the rumors of an impending revolution in India, was expressed by Bishop Lester Smith of India, one of the speakers at today's session of the National Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Lack of friendship between Mohammedans and Hindus would tend to prevent such a movement, he said. "No man or women who is sincerely trying to find God should refer to another's religion as false" declared Prof. Edmund Sopher of Northwestern University, speaking on "Christianity as a World Religion."

A Musicale at the Y. W. C. A.

The musical evening held last night at the Y.W.C.A. was very well attended, and was an enjoyable programme throughout, reflecting much credit on Mrs. Widdiss and Mrs. N. D. Buchanan who were responsible for the pleasant evening.

Dr. Jessie Birnie gave a talk on Mendelssohn which was an intellectual treat, and included a beautiful description of "The Midsummer Night's Dream". A piano solo, the Rondo Capriccioso, by Mrs. F. Hills and a flute selection by Kenneth Greene, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song", accompanied by Miss Mildred Greene, rounded out this part of the programme, which was followed by Dr. Bernie's description of the oratorio, "Elijah", interspersed with selections from the composer's work, as folows: "If wish all they Heart", and "Then shall the Righteous Shine Forth", by Mr. Harol Lees, "It is enough", and "Then shall the Mountains Depart" by Mr. F. Hartshorn; and 'O Rest in the Lord", by Mrs. Ford Turner Mrs.. Maurice Park's solo, "Hear my Prayer", concluded a lovely evening. Miss Ida Sanderson acted as accompanist for the several selections.

The next evening in the series, a literary affair, will be held on the last Tuesday in November, when Mr. R. J. Soden will speak on the works of Dr. Drummond.

DELEGATES FROM ALL DOMINION HERE FOR A.Y.P.A. CONVENTION; VISITORS THUS FAR NUMBER 100

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME BY ALD. G. N. GORDON, EX-M.P., AND REV. DR. BLAGRAVE—REPORTS PRESENTED INDICATE FAVORABLE PROGRESS DURING PAST YEAR—INSPIRING ADDRESSES DELIVERED AT THIS MORNING'S SESSION

Under the patronage of the General Synod, the Dominion Conference of the Anglican Young People's Association opened last evening in St. John's Church Parish Hall.

All the delegates have not yet arrived, but over 100 came in yesterday from Toronto, London, Kingston, St. Catharines, Brantford, Wallaceburg, Dundas, Penetanguishene, from Lachine, Quebec, and a goodly number from the surrounding district, Lakefield, Millbrook, Norwood and Havelock. A visiting member of the A.Y.P.A. from far-away Florida is also attending the conference.

The evening session, which was mainly a social gathering, was opened by an address of welcome from Ald. G. N. Gordon, ex-M.P., representing the Mayor, Mr. Gordon, in a brief, eloquent address, extended the heartiest of welcomes to the visitors from our "Electric City," which he described in glowing terms as one of the most outstanding of the younger cities of the Dominion. He said: "Not only have you the welcome of the city of Peterborough, but, in addition, you are most cordially welcomed by all the people of the city. They are proud that you are with us because your efforts are for a higher standard of citizenship, and if ever a higher standard was needed, it is now."

Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave, in an inspiring speech, welcomed the delegates in the name of his own church and of the Anglican churches of the city. His address, delivered in a dryly humorous fashion, which is very effective, was listened to with deep appreciation, and contained a great deal of thoughtful consideration of the aims and objects of the Young People's Association. The speaker alluded to the social value of the organization, its power of strengthening the sense of usefulness in its members, and of directing the stores of energy in the young, which, if used properly, may do so much for the good of any community. The A.Y.P.A. makes for co-operation also, and Dr. Blagrave suggested as an ambition for the society the turning out in every five years of a missionary, doctor or nurse to carry on the work of the Saviour.

A. Callaway, of Hamilton, president of the Dominion Association, referred to the kind welcome and the warm hospitality extended by the citizens of Peterborough to the delegates, and the latter's appreciation. He outlined briefly the objects of the A.Y.P.A.: (1) It stands for worship. (2) It stands for work. (3) It stands for fellowship and edification, and every member pledges himself or herself to the carrying out of these aims.

The balance of the evening was given up to an enjoyable musical programme, and the service of dainty refreshments by the ladies of St. John's Church. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Florence Harrison, Cyril Flowers and Sam. Whitehouse, with several numbers by the orchestra, and a reading by Miss Dorothy Thompson - Curry. Archdeacon Davidson made a pleasant little speech of welcome to the delegates.

Business Sessions Open.

This morning an excentionally well-attended corporate celebration of Holy Communion took place at St. John's Church, Rev. R. C. Blagrave, D.D., acting as celebrant, assisted by Rev. R. B. Grobb, B.A.

At ten o'clock, the general conference opened at St. John's Parish Hall, with the president, A. Callaway, in the chair. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Canon Macnab, of Toronto, who also extended to the conference a message of encouragement and good wishes from His Grace the Bishop of Toronto. Rev. Canon Macnab also spoke a few words regarding the important issues before the conference, saying: "So long as we are interested in the progress of the Church and willing to put ourselves into the front line, we will be able to accomplish great things for the glory of God and for the furtherance of His kingdom upon the earth."

President's Report.

The President's report, brief and pithy, followed. Mr. Callaway rejoiced in the progress made in the work during the year, noted the increase in the number of new branches, also in the revenues of the society, an expansion and progress which far exceeded expectations. He referred to the new system for handling supplies, and recommended the importance of co-ordination in all branches. Toronto local council was heartily congratulated for its magnificent progress during the year, which exemplified to a great degree the manifestation of the spirit of service. "The need of Canada today is youth and service," said the speaker, and the A.Y.P.A. with its four-fold aims, should undertake the task of enlisting the aid of young men and women. Peterborough council was a splendid example of the achievements resulting from combined effort. Another recommendation was that of loyal support of officers elected by the society, and the speaker expressed his appreciation of the loyalty afforded him during his term of office, bespeaking the same for his successor.

Secretary's Report.

The Dominion secretary, T. H. Hollingsworth, of Toronto, reported great progress during the period since the last conference. Fifty-six charters had been issued, the largest number since the year 1913; making the number of chartered branches now 263 in 19 divisions. Toronto division led with seventy branches, 18 of which had been formed in the year. Increased activity was noticeable in Algoma, Montreal and Nova Scotia dioceses, and demand for A.Y.P.A. literature was growing, one day recently seeing requests from Nova Scotia, from British Columbia and from Spokane, Washington, for literature. The treasurer being absent until this afternoon, the session proceeded with the discussion of "Responsibility in the A.Y.P.A., which had been divided into three sections; for officers, for committees, and for members. GRANDMOTHER GIVES LIFE TO SAVE [illegible] OF CHILD

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Inspired by love and the spirit of sacrifice, Mary Vyskocil, 80 years old, picked up and bodily hurled her granddaughter, Mildred Holum, 4 years old, out of the path of an auto truck bearing down upon them at 72nd street and Lexington avenue. As the child fell sprawling in safety the truck struck the aged woman, ran over her and killed her instantly. Witnesses say the driver, Arthur Kaufman, made no attempt to turn out when he saw the two ahead of his vehicle. Evidently feeling it would be useless to try to escape the onrushing screeching truck, the old grandmother thought only of saving the life of the little one. Kaufman was arrested and charged with homicide.

LEGION CELEBRANT WEDS WHILE "DAZED"

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16.—Olm R. Carlson, Duluth, Minn., former Army captain, is held at police headquarters here, considerably bewildered.

Carlson told the police that when he was called home from the American Legion convention, he suddenly remembered that while "dazed" on corn liquor he had "married someone." He hurried back, he said, investigated, and found his bride, nee Miss Amie Jones, and was greeted with considerable chill and bigamy charges. He said that court records at La Mars, Iowa, would prove him divorced. He is also held in connection with a check given to a lawyer who entertained him during the convention, which was returned.

MARINE GOES 6,000 MILES TO SEE DYING MOTHER

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 16.—Private George Bonnett, of the Marines, stationed in the Island of Guam, is on the last lap of a 6,000-mile journey to reach his mother's bedside.

Bonnett joined the Army against his parents' wishes a year ago. His mother, suffering from a brain tumor, told him when he left he would never see her alive again.

When Mrs. Bonnett's condition became critical, the boy appealed to Gov. Kendall to get him furlough so he could return. He was expected to arrive in San Francisco Tuesday and, according to doctors, will just about be able to keep his promise.

TO-DAY'S NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

APSLEY NEWS

APSLEY, Nov. 16. — Armistice Day was commemorated by a very solemn and impressive memorial service in St. George's Church in the afternoon which was largely attended, the congregation being almost entirely composed of women Towards the close of an address by the Rev. C. A. G. Spence the congregation stood whilst he read out the names of the men inscribed on the War Memorial which are as follows: Frederick Tanner, Ernest Peters, Warren Post, Nicholas Scott, Gordon McCauley, Frank Simpson, Ernest Bentley, George Winters, Milford W. Woodbeck, J. J. Lang Thompson, Thomas Coones, Roy L. Coones, Hugh B. Jones, William I. Jones, Frank Bolton, Lionel R. White, Wilbert A. Lean, George McColl, John Gifford, Roy McCauley.

Memorial Service

On Sunday evening a memorial service was also held in the Methodist Church illustrated by appropriate lantern slides, a large congregation being present, when the same names were read out by Rev. W. Hall as a tribute of respect to their honoured memory.

The Deer Hunt.

The scarcity of deer reported last week was too premature or the sportsmen were suffering from "buck fever" the first day or two, as since then reports have come in that most hunting parties have secured their allotted bag and they are now turning their attention to the hunting of wolves, one and two having already been secured.

George Rosebush, A. Stokes and John Robson of Owenbrook, on Wednesday last had the good fortune to shoot four bears, a dam and her three cubs.

A New Business

Mr. Mitchell, a war veteran, is starting business in the village as a shoemaker and harnessmaker with every prospect of a thriving trade ahead of him. Mr. Mitchell comes from Lakefield, and his wife and child arrived on Monday and for the present are living with Mrs. Jones there being no vacant house in the village. Mr. Mitchell wil use part of Mr. Brown's store for a workshop.

Opens New Store

Mr. Duncan Brown moved into his completed house and store on Wednesday last. He desires to extend the sincere and grateful thanks of himself and family to all those who assisted in the rebuilding of his store, and to others who helped in various ways.

Winter Mail Service

After to-day the winter mail service begins and residents will have to be content with receiving their mail three times a week instead of daily.

DR. GREER, M.O.H. FOR N. MONAGHAN, WANTS HIS SALARY INCREASED TO $50

TOLD COUNCIL HIS DUTIES HAD BEEN LARGELY INCREASED—M. CARTON ASKS FOR DRAINAGE OF NEW CHAMBERLEN STREET DISTRICT.

Dr. T. N. Greer, M.O.H. for North Monaghan, gave an interesting and instructive address at the township Council meeting on Monday afternoon on the question of modern methods of health promotion and the prevention of disease. He said he had examined the children of May's school and had found that seventy-five per cent. of the children needed medical and dental attention. In some cases the children were found to be carriers of infectious diseases, others needed their eyes corrected and teeth removed or filled. Seventeen of the children were carriers of diphtheria, and they were quarantined in their homes after Dr. Greer had explained to their parents the necessity of isolating these children until their throats were clear.

Requests Salary Increase.

Dr. Greer said that the new methods took up so much of his time that he had to demand an increased salary. He considered $500 a year a very reasonable remuneration for the work involved. His present salary is $180. Dr. Greer told the Council he did not wish to make any threat, but if they were not disposed to pay a reasonable salary he would invoke the legislation passed in 1912 and would appeal to the County Judge to apply the law which sets out that a municipality must pay a Medical Officer of Health a reasonable salary.

Mr. Rye's Petition.

H. B. Rye complained that the grading of Grandview avenue on which a sidewalk had been recently built now resulted in the water accumulating on the south end of the avenue and draining on to the Chamberlen estate and around the house and other buildings on the property.

The Council decided to meet on the ground next Saturday in an effort to devise a satisfactory means of draining the street.

Mr. Fred Panter made a similar request about the drainage on Frank street near the Monaghan road, and the Council will meet there on Saturday.

Pays Too Much Taxes.

A. J. Lashbrook, Cameron street, said he had paid too much taxes. Upon investigation of the assessment roll it was found that Mr. Lashbrook's assessment was higher than some of his neighbour' whose property was worth twice the value of his. Reeve McIntosh said that the matter could not be adjusted until next year because the roll had been confirmed.

R. J. Wolstenholme asked to be paid for 21 coal bags which he said he had laoned to the township several years ago. He also asked to be compensated for a load of wood delivered on a charity account. Action was deferred.

Drainage Required.

Mr. M. Carton presented a petition under the Ditches and Water Courses Act, requesting that a drain be dug to carry off the water from the district in the vicinity of New Chamberlen street, west of High street.

The Clerk was instructed to confer with the township solicitor, E. A. Peck, in regard to this petition, and that J. W. Fitzgerald, township engineer, be instructed to take up the matter and report as soon as possible.

The Council was of the unanimous opinion that no drainage scheme for that particular locality that would be of any permanent value could be carried out without commencing at the C.P.R. crossing on Monaghan road, and opening the natural water course through all the property up to New Chamberlen street and Ford avenue.

Accounts Passed.

The following accounts were passed: Wm. Scott, blacksmith repairs, $4.50; George Shields, 190 yards of gravel, $28.50; Ed. Sanderson, 170 yards of gravel, $25.50; Bruce Johnston, judge's voters' lists courts, $6.00; Geo. Moncrief, culvert Lockie's road, $13; Geo. Moncrief, repairing T.A.S. Park road, $25; Geo. Moncrief, railing for bridge bought from Geo. Lockie, $5; Geo. Moncrief, 20 pieces of timbes on Lockie's road, $15; John McIntosh, expenses re meeting in Toronto, $5.50; Peterborough Hardware Company, general supplies for sidewalks, $32.96; Peterborough Hardware, general township repairs, $19.74; Taylor and Hall, culvert tile for sidewalks, $35.93; Taylor and Hall, culvert tile for road and bridge, $89.79.

The meeting adjourned until the next and last of the year on December 15th at the Court House, Peterborough.

C. W. KERR WILL BE NOMINATED

WILL BE LIBERAL CANDIDATE IN NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY

WARKWORTH, November 16.—It was learned here to-day from Toronto that C. W. Kerr, Toronto barrister and resident of Cobourg, would be the Liberal standard-bearer in Northumberland County.

It was decided only to-day that the Liberals would enter a candidate to contest the riding, and at the urgent invitation of many members of the party, Mr. Kerr consented to allow his name to be placed on the nomination list next Tuesday.

There have been three Liberal conventions in the county. At the first Sam Clarke, M.P.P., was offered the nomination, and was given a week to arrive at a decision. In the following week he declined to run, and at the third convention in Colborne the straight Liberals were thwarted by a numerous group of U.F.O. sympathisers, whose dominant voice committed the party to inaction.

Mr. Kerr, if he carries out his promise, will represent those Liberals who are convinced that the future of their party depends upon their assertion of its principles and their opposition to any class movement, whether it represent farmers, manufacturers, or any other section and not the Canadian people as a whole.

"We are out to win and to show the U.F.O. that they cannot keep us out of the fight by the means their sympathisers have adopted," said a prominent Liberal of the riding in Toronto yesterday.

When anthracite coal was first offered for sale by a man in Philadelphia in 1812 he was treated as an imposter and threatened with arrest far attempting to sell what was declared to be merely "black stones."

Railroads consume aproximately 27 per cent. of al lthe bituminous coal produced in the United States each year, or a volume of coal sufficients to pave a roadway from New York City to San Francisco, one foot in thickness and one half mile wide.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT — MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION MEET.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 16. — The late Mrs. William Kinyoun, whose funeral took place on Saturday, November 12th from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Harkness, Cavan, to St. John's cemetery, Ida, was born in County Down, Ireland, seventy-seven years ago, and came to Canada with her parents when only seven years of age, being one of a family of nine children. For seventy years Mrs. Kinyoun had lived in Cavan township.

Her mother, Mrs. Nesbitt, taught school at Oak Hill for seven years after coming to Canada, teachers not being plentiful, nor all of them qualified, in those early days; consequently Mrs. Nesbitt's services were the more sought after and appreciated.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Sarah Margaret Nesbitt, was married to Mr. William Kinyoun in January, 1863 ,and together they settled south-east of the village on the property usually spoken of as "the farm with the Octogan House," living there for fifty-seven years, until they moved to Millbrook last spring, advancing years making it too difficult a task for them to continue any longer the heavy labor of the farm.

Seven daughters, two of whom predeceased their mother, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Kinyoun, and besides the five remaining daughters there are now living of her descendants forty-five grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren. One grandson, Charlie Dean, whose mother died when he was only seven years old, had made his home with his grandmother ever since.

The late Mrs. Kinyoun was a lifelong member of St. Thomas' church, and the funeral services were conducted by the rector, Rev. Canon Allen, assisted by Rev. C. R. Spencer, and Rev. G. S. Gervan, of Grace Presbyterian church, the latter having been well acquainted during his pastoral term in Saskatchewan, with one daughter, Mrs. Hilliard Sutton, who resides at Swift Current.

The pall-bearers were her six grandsons, Messrs. Walter and Alex. Harkness, William Howden, Gordon Marshall, Palmer Howden and Charlie Dean.

Besides her husband, the five daughters who are left to mourn a mother whose faithful discharge of her duties and spirit of kind helpfulness and cheerfulness made her well liked by a large circle of friends, are: Mrs. C. Marshall, Toronto, Mrs. Thomas Harkness, Cavan, Mrs. Robert Howden and Mrs. George Howden, Cavan and Mrs. Hilliard Sutton, Swift Current, Sask. The two daughters who pre-deceased their mother were: Mrs. John Dean of Brockport, N.Y., and Mrs. George Fletcher, Cavan.

Mr. Kinyoun has now closed his home in Millbrook, purposing, at present, to reside with his children during his remaining years.

Epworth League.

The Socialand Literary committee had charge of the Epworth League meeting in the Methodist church on Monday evening, November 14th, when, after the devotional exercises, a report of the recent district convention at Lakefield was given by four of the officers who, with several other members, attended the sessions. Those who gave an outline of some of the splendid addresses heard on Friday were: The president, Miss Stella Hetherington, the secretary, Miss Alice Stewart, the fifth vice-president, Miss Pearl Burnham and the first vice-president, Mr. Frank Alcorn.

At the conclusion of these reports Miss Gertrude Richards, who is the third vice-president, read Tennyson's "Ulysses," as Dr. Pierce, one of the convention speakers had quoted largely from it in his evening address on, "The Challenge of the Ideal," an address that was so inspiring in its idealism that it will not soon be forgotten by those who were privileged to hear it.

The local League has the honor of having two of the newly elected officers of the Peterborough district on its membership roll, the president being Miss Pearl Burnham, and the fourth vice-president Mr. Frank Alcorn.

The meeting closed by all standing and repeating the League benediction. The programme for next Monday evening will be under the direction of the missionary vice-president, Mrs. G. W. Sayles, and, as usual, there will be an opportunity given for the payment of Forward Movement dues.

DEMENTED MAN SHOOTS DOCTOR AND THEN SELF

TAILOR'S SON, SUBJECT TO VIOLENT HALLUCINATIONS, WOUNDS SIR ANDREW M'PHIAL, M'GILL PROFESSOR.

PROFESSOR PARTLY DODGED THE SHOT

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press.)—Suffering from monomania in the form of violent hallucinations and described by his brother as having been "queer" for some time and to have been obsessed with the idea that some "terrible monster" was following him, Louis Ogulnik, 38, son of S. M. Ogulnik, prominent tailor of this city, shot Sir Andrew MacPhail, professor of Medicine at McGill University, through the right shoulder at the latter's office at 216 Peel street, yesterday afternoon.

Immediately after the shooting Ogulnik turned his revolver on himself, pulling the trigger twice. One bullet lodged in his chest, the other in his brain. Death was almost instantaneous.

Four shots were fired. Of these, the first went wide. Professor MacPhail had time to partly dodge the second, and as he rushed through a door and was closing it behind him, the second shot rang out and struck him in the shoulder just above the armpit. He was not seriously injured, being able to telephone for an ambulance himself. A few minutes later he was on his way to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where the bullet was extracted.

The dead man had known Sir Andrew fairly well, but whether he had ever consulted him medically the family could not say.

MINE BOSS SAYS HE WAS HELPLESS

ARIZONA MAN WAS SIMPLY DOWN AND OUT AND COULDN'T EVEN MOVE HIMSELF—FEELS FINE NOW.

Harry E. Scott, a well-known mine boss, whose address is Box 683, Tombstone, Arizona, writes:

"I was down and out nearly all the time with rheumatism and finally got where I couldn't move, even to feed myself. My wife thought I would never get well again, and she knew my condition better than anyone else.

'I was absolutely helpless when my wife started giving me Tanlac and in four days I ate a hearty meal for the first time in many months. Tanlac put me on my feet and I'm back on the job working hard and feeling just fine. I have gained eighteen pounds in weight, too."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by the Warne Drug Co., Limited, and other leading druggists everywhere.

CAMPAIGN FUND IS BROUGHT UP

HECKLER AT MEIGHEN MEETING ASKS WHERE THEY WERE RAISED--PREMIER TURNS QUESTION BACK.

ASKS ABOUT FARMER FUND

WINNIPEG, Nov. 15.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—Somewhat unexpectedly, the subject of party fund contributions to political campaigns was interjected into Premier Meighen's speech at his meeting in the village of Headingly, some 12 miles from this city, yesterday afternoon. The Prime Minister aroused the opposition of a man named William Kelly, who deals in agricultural implements at Headingly, by some of his remarks in regard to the United Grain Growers, and Mr. Kelly interrupted to ask where the party funds of the Premier were being raised.

"They don't come from the Wheat Export Company," replied Mr. Meighen, referring to a previous statement which he has made to the effect that the profits of the Wheat Export Company had been used to finance the Grain Growers' Guide and further the political ambitions of Mr. Crerar and H. W. Wood.

"Where do they come from?" insisted Mr. Kelly.

"Those who subscribe to them can tell if they so desire," the Premier answered, and Col. Harry Mullins, a prominent farmer of Portage la Prairie district, remarked that he had contributed to them.

"I contributed to them, too," said the Prime Minister.

"What is Mr. Crerar's grain policy?" he asked.

"Never mind the policy. Get on with something else," replied Mr. Kelly.

"There you have Mr. Crerar's grain policy," replied Mr. Meighen, amid some laughter.

Mr. Kelly interrupted, at another point ,when the Prime Minister was telling the purposes for which the United Grain Growers had been formed, and insisting that this company had not fulfilled those purposes.

"Has that company remedied the abuses which it was organized to remedy?" asked Mr. Meighen.

"Yes," replied Mr. Kelly firmly.

The Premier declared that the United Grain Growers had gone on the grain exchange and committed all the sins of other grain companies. "They put $100,000 of their pro-

EAST PROBLEMS COMING BEFORE PARLEY TO-DAY

THE U. S. NAVAL REDUCTION PROPOSALS ACCEPTED BY ALL IN PRINCIPLE BUT MANY DETAILS ARE TO BE ARRANGED

JAPAN OBJECTS TO SIZE OF FLEET ALLOTTED HER

WASHINGTON, November 16. — Canadian Press. — Formally accepting "in principle and spirit," the United States' proposals for reducing and limiting naval armaments. Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan yesterday pledged their adherence and began discussions of details.

Japan wants more than the sixty per cent. as compared to the United States and Great Britain, which the original proposal would allow her.

France and Italy want to be taken into consideration at the outset, and not wait for disposal of the question as it affects the Big Three. Moreover, both France and Italy feel that they should be permitted to increase rather than decrease their sea forces to bring them up to a figure comparable with what is being allowed the others.

Great Britain, as previously outlined, wants the replacement programme spread over a period of years, rather than taken up at the end of a ten-year holiday, and she wants further reductios and definite limitations on submarines.

After a conference of a little more than an hour, the conference after hearing addresses of general acceptance by Arthur J. Balfour, for the British; Baron Admiral Kato, for Japan; Senato Schanzer, for Italy, and Premier Briand for France, adjourned to meet again on the call of Secretary Hughes, and the newly appointed committee on naval armament, went into secret session.

LAWYERS AND GOVERNMENT.

The United Farmers of Ontario, who before the last Provincial election made the necessity for economy in the transaction of public business one of the chief planks in their platform, have discovered that their anxiety to get rid of all the politician lawyers has made it difficult to carry out their policy of saving. Mr. George Wilkie in his address here the other day declared that it was much cheaper to elect lawyers to assist in public matters than it was to hire them, and the Farmers' Government has found that Mr. Wilkie is right. Their legal advice and the services of the lawyers they have had to call upon in connection with various commissions and investigations have cost the Province a surprisingly large sum, and the absence of lawyers from their side of the House has not proved the wonderful success they evidently counted upon when they assumed office. Too many members of the legal fraternity in a Government may be a matter for complaint, but Ontario's experience seems to show that too few lawyers is still a more serious affair.

TWO TIMELY TOPICS.

Along about this time of the year it has been customary for newspapers to devote considerable space to two seasonable topics—the desirability of early Christmas shopping and the necessity of greater interest in municipal elections. It cannot be said that either effort has been a shining success, for Christmas Eve has found the same old rush of last-minute gift purchasers and election day revealed the same old indifference and apathy on the part of the ratepayers. Educational campaigns have failed to bring about a reformation, and The Examiner, for one, in spite of a conviction that both these topics should be kept prominently before the people, has doubts as to whether or not it is worth while trying to arouse them. This paragraph will, at least, have the effect of reminding the people that both Christmas and municipal elections are just around the corner, and perhaps later on we may try once again to contribute a little propaganda on both these subjects.

THE NAVY IS BRITAIN'S.

Experts are arguing over the question of which nation would be making the greatest sacrifice if the programme outlined at the Disarmament Conference were to be accepted precisely as proposed by Secretary Hughes. From a British standpoint, there seems no occasion for a difference of opinion. To none of the three nations is an adequate navy so necessary as to Britain; to none does a navy mean so much. The navy is not Great Britain's; it is Great Britain. The history of the British people is interwoven with the finest traditions of the ocean; their path has always been on the seas, and their fighting ships have protected the furthest outposts of the Empire, kept the sea channels open so that the motherland could be fed, carried the British flag everywhere on the seven seas, and even have stood as symbols of the great brotherhood of Dominions that form the British Empire. To those whose allegiance lies outside of that Empire it is a difficult matter to appreciate what the navy means to the British people and how great the sacrifice will be if the wholesale scrapping of ships is carried out.

Just when it looked like "bottom" had been touched somebody went to work and overturned the Portugese Government, and now we don't whats up.

RELIEF WORK.

The statement that there are five hundred people out of work in Peterborough is a challenge to the whole community to prepare to meet a serious situation. The trouble is intensified by the fact that not only are there half a thousand unemployed here at present, but the majority of these men, in many cases the heads of families, have been without steady work for months. Some of them have been able to secure employment for short periods during the summer months, but it is safe to say that nine out of every ten finds himself at the present time not merely out of a job, but with no reserve fund to tide him over a portion, at least, of the winter. Relief work will be absolutely necessary and a definite policy of dealing with the cases of distress that are inevitable must be decided upon without delay. There are many organizations who do much good work in assisting people who are experiencing the seamy side of life. It would seem to be good business for the Mayor to call a meeting of representatives of all such societies and organizations so that the whole situation could be discussed and a co-operative centralized effort to cope with the crisis planned. Otherwise much of the effect of the work will be lost through over-lapping and confusion. Some families will get more assistance than they need; others in destitute circumstances are likely to be entirely overlooked. A system by which all cases could be handled through Relief Officer Miller would avert mistakes and result in every deserving case receiving proper care and attention.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS.

Although the judicial committee of the Imeprial Privy Council has been popularly credited with an inclination to favor Dominion at the expense of provincial jurisdiction, the notion is certainly not supported by its recent decision on the validity of the Board of Commerce and Fair Prices Acts. Its judgment on Friday last held these acts to be outside the powers of the Dominion Parliament and to constitute an encroachment en the rights conferred on the provincial legislatures by the British North American Act. Lord Haldane who delivered the opinion of the judicial committee, conceded that the two statutes might have been validly passed to meet war-time conditions. He pointed out, however, that they were enacted after peace had been declared, were not confined to any temporary purpose, but were imposed without time limit and applied to the whole of Canada. Admitting that the subjects of undue combination and hoarding are matters wherein the Dominion had great practical interest and that such interest, in special circumstances might conceivably become paramount, overriding other interests of importance even in times of peace, the judgment held it to be quite another matter to say under normal circumstances, that a general Canadian policy could justify intereference on such a scale as the statutes in controversy, which involved the property and civil rights of the inhabitants of the provinces.

Under the British North America Act, the regulation and restriction of civil rights were, in general, exclusively confided to the provincial legislatures, and in regard to these the judicial committee ruled that the legislatures poossess quasi-sovereign authority. Only, therefore, under highly exceptional necessity, such as the committee could not assume to exist in the case of the controverted statues, would the Dominion Parliament have power to restrict the liberty of the inhabitants of the province, or could it intervene in the interests of Canada as a whole in questions such as that raised in the appeal. This is a very clear and distinct affirmation of the right of each province to deal with such matters as combines and high profits within its boundaries. Aparently, however, the judgment goes no farther than to lay down a general principle, and does not indicate whether the jurisdiction of the provincial legislatures extends over firms or companies operating under a Dominion charter or domiciled in another province. Obviously, also, there are may be a diversity of legislation in the various provinces, and what might be profiteering or unfair prices in one province might not be so held in its next door neighbor. In fact, it looks as though the flood gates of extensive litigation will be opened, should any one province adopt legislation of a drastic character and endeavor to enforce it impartially against all companies, whether provincial or extra-provincial. The decision, too, appears to strike at the proposed Dominion prohibition measure now asked by the temperance reformers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Peterborough extends a hearty welcome to her Kiwanis visitors tonight.

There seems to be a lot of open diplomacy about some of these political conventions.

It must be a new experience for William Jennings Bryan to attend such an historic event as the Disarmament Conference and not have a chance to make a speech.

Candidates for municipal offices should begin to get their platforms ready.

LIFE'S CLEAN SIDE.

The leading daily paper in one of the large cities has been conducting a series of interviews with prominent women concerning their home lives and the circumstances surroundings their marriages. Every woman interviewed thus far is happily married and has been for years and is mistress of the best type of American home. These are women who would not ordinarily give any publicity to their personal affairs. They do it now for the sake of lesson and example. Each simple love chronicle apears is wholesome, heart warming and far from lurid. Such stories offer a pleasing contrast to the modern type of sensuous fiction which young people devour daily in books or see depicted on the screen. They help to prove that public life and service do not interfere with competent home management or happy home life. They show that divorce is not necessary to individual developement or the broadening of interest which helps. The more good women who let their stories of life's clean side be published the better.

MONUMENT HONORS SEAGULL "SAVIOURS."

Birds Rescued Mormons From Grasshopper Plague.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 15.—A report from North Dakota that seagulls recently appearing in McLean County had destroyed grasshoppers which threatened to ruin the crops, calls attention to a similar incident in Mormon pioneer is in Utah.

To-day a notable monument stands in the Mormon Temple grounds in Salt Lake City in honor of the birds that saved the early settlers from threatened starvation in 1848. It is a pillar about 100 feet high surmounted by a bronze seagull. At its base are inscriptions detailing the reason for its erection with illustrations by Mahonri Young, the Utah sculptor.

The first pioneers trekked across the plains into Salt Lake Valley in 1874. Brigham Young stipulated that there should be intensive cultivation of the land. Crops were sown and the farmers looked for a bountiful harvest the next year. Then crickets in huge armies swooped down upon the crops. The farmers tried to eliminate the pest without success. Transportation at the time was difficult and means to obtain foodstuffs from distant points were limited. The situation looked critical.

When practically every one had given up hope of saving any part of the crops, the seagulls, termed by old Mormons as the "messengers from heaven," appeared. They did not touch the grain, but warred on the crickets and in a short time had rid the fields of the pest. There are no records to show from whence the birds came.

The seagull is Utah's sacred bird. It is unlawful to kill it. Many of the people of this state hold it in affectionate memory and during the summer thousands give of their bread to the birds that may be seen in large numbers at Saltair, a resort a few miles from Salt Lake City on the Great Salt Lake.

Take Care of Your Battery

Take good care of your battery this winter and it will more than repay you in service when you begin to drive again next spring. "Good care" if you are using your car through the winter means keeping it fully charged and having water put in when necessary. "Good care", if you are not driving, means the removal of the battery from the car, and storage where it can have the regular attention it requires. This service costs surprisingly little and adds greatly to the possible life and service of your battery.

Why not call up a Willard Service Station NOW before the winter sets in, and have your battery called for. It will be delivered and put on your car again next spring.

POLITICAL COMMENT

(The following extracts from newspaper editorials are published for the purpose of indicating the general trend of political sentiment and the opinions expressed in them are not necessarily those of The Examiner.)

CAMPAIGN STATEMENTS

(Manitoba Free Press.)

Political leaders who may be inclined to make extreme and unwarranted statements should remember that their ardent supporters are sure to repeat the same statements in a still more exaggerated form. Hence the gross misrepresentations that characterize every hotly contested election. An example of this is found in a letter which was sent out by a Conservative lady in Toronto to some fifty other ladies in that city urging them to help in saving the country from the peril of the National Progressive movement. The letter, which was published in the Farmer's Sun, which obtained it from one of the recipients of the letter, begins as follows:

"Dear Madam—In this crisis of our country, where vital issues are at stake, my services have been requistioned by the Conservative party in an effort to bring out the leading Conservative women of Toronto. Personally I call them Conservative women of the upper, educated class,' and by that is meant women of refinement and cultivation, who still count for so much in the community.

The coming election, so far as the future of our country is concerned, is as serious as the war. Women of the upper class cannot afford to stand still."

The letter then suggests the holding of drawing room meetings for which speakers would be provided, and with a view to stimulating interest in the matter the writer declared: "It is not our intention to be governed by a group of crude, inexperienced farmers.'

A MISERABLE APPEAL

Some of the campaign appeals that are being made by the Conservative party, through the press and from the platform, adopt an attitude that carries with it every earmark of a form of intimidation.

The method is this: If the Meighen government is defeated, the factory in which you work is going to be closed down flat, and you are going to be thrown out of employment.

The same sort of material is being printed in places where it is hoped it will come to the attention of women readers and the women voters. The meaning is very evident viz., seeking to practice a form of intimidation on the voter, in order that he or she may be forced to vote blindfolded, without the issues of the day with an open mind.

One might imagine we were still living in the age when man had not the right to his own opinion and his own vote, or that vote of a man was still a chattel to be bartered for or arranged for by the threat that his job would poss away were he to vote for any other than a Conservative candidate.

Those people who are making these apeals know full well the nonsense of their argument. They know there was no factories closing durin g the last Liberal regime in Canada. They know the man who will have most to do with tariff matters, Hon. W. S. Fielding, has a better and a saner conception of business needs, possibilities and requirements than any other man in the Conservative camp.

Yet, knowing all these things, they keep up the bombardment of the workingman with such cries as "Now you're not going too have anything to work at in this country if you dare vote for any person except Meighen or his candidates." And the women voters are told that the factories where their husbands and boys find work are in grave danger of closing down tight if the country dares to refuse indorsation to the appeal now being made on behalf of Arthur Meighen and his following.

It is a poor form of intimidation, and should deceive no person.

THE PRIME MINISTER

(Otawa Journal)

"I have no politics. I heard Meighen speak the other night and I heard Crear and King speak a few days before. There is only one thing I can do. I am going to vote for the man. He is head and shoulders above the others. And the people see it. He is winning the country to him every day."

That is the confession of faith The Journal heard voiced by a man in the street on Saturday. In the streets, in the homes, in the places where men and women come together in Ottawa and elsewhere throughout this country it is being spoken by those with party politics and those without. The Prime Minister is winning the country to him. He has been winning it steadily to him from the time he took the stump. He is winning it because he has "taken issues as issues and argued them as issues," because he has appealed "on one consistent policy.....the same everywhere in the Dominion." Because he is big enough and fearless enough and honest enough to do it and because his opponents have not even the shame to pretend not. "We know what we have got in Meighen; what have we got in others?" asks the man in the street, the woman in the home.

KEEP IT INVIOLATE

(Brandon Sun.)

The secrecy of the ballot has always been considered one of the safeguards of the franchise in Canada. Throughout constitutional history a fight has been waged to secure the secret ballot, and once that was gained, to guard it inviolate. No matter what procedings may arise from elections, no man or woman is required, or permitted, to divulge the name of the candidate for whom he or she voted in the election under review.

THE QUEBEC PARTNER

(Calgary Herald)

Mr. Crerar ignores Quebec but his party's interest there is looked after by that well known patriotic farmer, Mr. Armand Lavergne.

STATED IN SHORT

(London Free Press)

Strike for your factories and your firms against a policy which will put both in a foreign country's power.

THE ISSUE

(Fredericton Gleaner)

Every business man in Canada should be on his toes fighting in this campaign to prevent the destruction of his business. Free Trade in Canada with protection in the United States and in every other country in the world, would wipe Canada off the industrial map.

PITIFUL

(St. John Standard)

At this crisis in the country's history, it is pitiful to hear some men express the cynical view that, although Crerar and King talk Free Trade and lower Tariff they would not put either in operation if they got into office. There could be no more dangerous talk than that. It strikes at the roots of honesty and decency in public life.

A MORAL

(Monotreal Herald)

The officers of the United Farmers of Ontario Co-operative Association admit lage losses in connection with the concern, placing it around $300,000. Mr. Burnaby contends that the complaint of a shareholder is a political dodge to injure the farmers, but his admission of losses, undetermined as yet, coupled with the financial record of the farmers' Government of Ontario will not tend to inspire confidence in the ability of the farmers to manage the affairs of the Dominion.

"They did not," retorted Mr. Kelly.

"Then is the evidence of Mr. Rice-Jones before the Cost of Living Commission wrong?" queried the Premier.

Mr. Kelly repeated his statement that the United Grain Growers had put no money in the Grain Growers' Guide. "It wasn't in the Guide," he insisted.

"Where was it?" countered Mr. Meighen.

"You find out," Mr. Kelly replied.

"Well, didn't Mr. Rice-Jones tell the truth?" pressed the Premier.

"He may have," answered the interrupter.

"Oh, he may have," said the Premier.

Mr. Kelly went on to say the evidence of Mr. Rice-Jones before the Cost of Living Commission had not been given for political purposes.

The Premier replied that it had been given, and that there was no reason why it should not be used in that way.

During the progress of his speech, the Premier said that there seemed every prospect of an early drop in freight rates.

Notes on the Convention

Owing to Miss Aloha Horn, 51 McDonnell stret, being under quarantine due to illness in the family, the arrangements for billeting and registration are being looked after very efficiently by Miss Gertrude Reed.

Mrs. T. H. Yeoman, of Toronto, who will speak on "The Service of Women" at the Wednesday afternoon session of the Conference, delivered a very interesting address on church work at the deanery meeting for Noorthumberland held here recently. Mrs. Yeoma is very much interested in the "extra cent fund" which has done so much for foreign missionary work.

Rev. F. V. Vair, of Wallaceburg, is diocesan secretary for Port Huron A.Y.P.A.

Popular officers of the conference are the general secretary, Mr. T. H. Hollingsworth of Toronto and Mr. W. R. Sproule, vice president of Toronto District A.Y.P.A. local council.

Miss Blanche Graham of Lakefield is third vice president of the Dominion A.Y.P.A.

A representative of All Saints' parish, Miss Masie Rose, of Lakelands, Florida, has travelled long way to attend the Conference.

A great deal of success of pleasant arrangements for reception of delegates, billeting, etc. is due to the untiring efforts of Miss Jean Horsefield, president of the district A.Y.P.A. to Mr. Elmer Brown, the secretary, and Miss G. Hood, registrator.

he ladies belonging to the A.Y.P.A. of St. John's Church Lakefield are looking after luncheon and refreshments for the delegates on Wednesday, and the Millbrook ladies will co-operate with All Saints' Church on Thursday. The banquet at All Saints, Parish Hall on Wednesday will be under the care of the Churchwomen's Association of All Saints'.

Rev. W. G. Tebbs, L. Th., of Burlingtoon, who speaks on Wednesday afternoon on "How to Make a Membership Campaign Successful", was so successful in his efforts to organize a community club in his home town that he finished up with a membership of the entire village. He is evidently an authority on this sort of work, and should be able to delive an interesting address.

Rev. E. Appleyard, M.A. who gives and address on "The Dominion Association and Its Relation to the Brncha" on Thursday morning, is chairman of the Huron Diocesan A.Y.P.A. Commitee. He is also holder of a Military Cross, won during his services as Chaplain in the Great War.

Mr. G. S. Scovell, president of the Toronto District A.Y.P.A. local Council, who speaks on "The Value of the Admission Service" on Thursday morning, is a student for the ministry at Wycliffe College, Toronto.

Mr. H. Ashdown, a member of the eecutive, is president of St. Barnabas, (Chester) Toronto A.Y.P.A.

Rev. F. Elliott-Baker, curate of St. Michaels' and All Angels, Toro - to will be remembered as having been in charge of St. George's Mission here for some time. Rev. Mr. Baker will speak on "The Advantages of a Special A.Y.P.A. Service" at the Thursday morning session.

Rev. Canon A. W. McNabb, M.A. of Toronto, rector of St. Alban's is one of the senior and outstanding figures in A.Y.P.A. work.

MAY USE BOATS TO STORE GRAIN

Railways Swamped by Shipment of Big Crop; Europe Not Buying.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—Extraordinary efforts are being put forth by the transportation, elevator and terminal authorities of Montreal, Winnipeg, Fort William and other Canadian grain centres to cope with the glut of grain which threatens to overwhelm all carrying, shipping and storage facilities now available.

Absence of European buying in the face of the biggest grain crop in a decade—official estimates give 204,387,000 bushels of wheat, 466,305,100 bushels of oats, 57,607,300 bushels of barley, 7,166,300 bushels of flax and 11,847,500 bushels of rye, a total of 837,312,000 bushels, as this year's Canadian yield—is the primary cause, aggravated by a shortage in ships and terminal facilities at ocean ports, of the blockade.

Local Demand Less.

Coupled with the falling off of export demand has been a lessened local demand. Failure of the big lumbering and pulp companies to carry on their customary bush operations this winter is having an adverse effect on the grain and feed market, their normal requirements being quite substantial.

Montreal elevators are in a state of congestion, while the facilities at Port Arthur and Fort William are taxed with the supply of wheat now in storage there for which there appears to be no immediate outlet. According to the Board of Grain Commissioners, there were 14,197,083 bushels in storage at the terminal elevators at the head of the Lakes in mid-October, the amount having since been enormously increased.

Big Grain Receipts.

The Lake Shippers' Association reports that receipts at the elevators last week were more than 14,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,000,000 bushels of oats. Offerings of tonnage at Fort William, expected within the next few days, are looked to relieve the situation partially.

Grain cars from the West are reaching Winnipeg in such large numbers that the railway yards are congested and transportation officials are seeking the assistance of the elevator companies in an endeavor to hold back shipments until the local situation is relieved.

The railways are averse to placing an embargo, and believe that trouble can be avoided by reducing shipments from the West, especially from the points where heavy shipments have already been made this fall. The situation in all Winnipeg yards is largely aggravated by the shortage of space in the terminal elevators at the head of the Lakes.

May Use Boats.

It is reported that the Canadian Pacific Railway is considering boats to relieve the elevators and the large quantity on wheels.

Conferences have been held in the West between representatives of the grain dealers' associations, the railways and others, to devise means of meeting the situation. The lake elevator companies and the co-operative concerns have agreed to lend assistance to prevent, if possible, a complete blockade of the lake ports.

Meanwhile Canadian millers are protesting against what they assert are discriminatory rates maintained against them by the Canadian railways and the Government merchant marine. They say that the Canadian railroads are carrying wheat from Georgian Bay ports to Montreal at 10 cents a hundred less than the tariff rate on flour. In addition, they declare that the Canadian Government merchant marine fleet is carrying Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom at anywhere from 5 to 10 cents a hundred less than the rate they are asking on flour. A lull is being experienced at the present time in the export demand for Canadian flour due in part to the heavy decline in the price of wheat and the consequent loss of confidence in prices, on the part of the British importer, but also due, it is said, in no small measure, to the discriminatory rates as above cited.

A Vancouver dispatch says that 10,000 tons of bulk grain have been booked for the United Kingdom and the continent in the last few days for shipment through the Panama Canal, and that if the rate continues as low as it is at present, about 30 shillings, grain men predict a great movement through Vancouver.

Old Fashioned Girl Rare Social Worker Asserts

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—Girls who know how to darn stockings, bake cake, play the piano, wash dishes and sew are not the type who come under the jurisdiction of social service agencies, Mrs. Robert E. Page, assistant director of the Social Service Department of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, declared Tuesday.

Mrs. Page will have charge of the social service work in the Williams' House for delinquent girls, which is to open at 84 Hancock avenue west the latter part of this month. A gift of $10,000 was made by Mrs. Henry Ford for the establishment and maintenance for one year of this new institution. Thereafter the institution will be supported by the Episcopal diocese. It will be nonsectarian.

"Young girls like excitement, and if a mother lets a girl dance as much as she reasonably should she will not sneak away to dance halls," Mrs. Page said. "The country girl is our chief problem because she finds nothing to do in the country. She does not possess a background of culture that teaches her to enjoy the real beauties of nature, so she runs away. She comes to the city for excitement, and follows the easiest way.

Lack Domestic Training.

"Most of these girls, I have found, lack knowledge of practical feminine industries such as darning stockings. Some of them don't know how to thread a needle or cook. They have not been schooled in the womanly traits."

The Williams' House is an institution for young girls who need guidance, who will respond to constructive friendliness, the Rev. John L. Lever, who is in charge of the Social Service Department, said Tuesday.

Girls will be detained at the Williams' House instead of the Women's Detention Home. The institution will co-operate with Miss Virginia May Murray, head of the Women's Division of the Police Department and with social service agencies in the city.

The girls will not be held longer than two weeks, in which time their case will be disposed of by the court or an affiliated organization will take them in charge, as the circumstances warrant.

Try To Forget Past.

Millinery, cooking, sewing and housekeeping classes will be conducted at the institution for the benefit of the girls.

"We plan to give the girls plenty of wholesome recreation," Mrs. Page said. "Our policy is not to be shocked with a girl's past, but to be interested in her future.

"Another serious problem to meet with delinquent girls is found among foreigners—young girls who have become Americanized while their families live the ways of the old country. The parents do not understand the whims and fancies of their daughters and consequently do not know how to advise.

"We also have found a tendency toward restlessness among many girls who worked for high wages during the war. Girls who paid $400 and $500 for fur coats three years ago have difficulty in adjusting themselves to present conditions," Mrs. Page said.

Miss Clara Wolbert, formerly superintendent of the Children's Aid Society of Buffalo and for years social worker in Philadelphia, will come to Detroit as superintendent of the Williams' House.

LONDON CONSIDERING HORSE TRAFFIC CURB.

Streets Crowded to Saturation Point, Expert Says.

LONDON, November 15. — A collison between a taxicab and horse wagon—a scattering of broken glass, the inevitable few words of pointed comment—within hail of the House of Commons, was an illustration recently of the traffic congestion becoming an increasingly acute problem of London's busy streets.

Promised legislation has been held up because of conflicting views among the local authorities, but it is hoped that a bill may fare better next year.

"Traffic has reached saturation point in bottle neck streets which are main links with the city," remarked an expert.

"For a long time it has been strongly recommended that horse traffic should be diverted and kept apart from specified motor routes, say between 8 a.m., and 6 p.m., especially slow, heavy vehicles, which notably impede faster traffic.

"It would be a sensible thing to divert horse traffic to roads having surfaces suited to horses," said Captain Fairholme, secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals. "Highly polished, and slippery surfaces, are simply a sort of skating rink to the horses, and the strain is particularly trying in restarting on gradients which afford little foothold.

"Our motor ambulance for picking up injured horses last year did 3514 miles and we had 194 cases in the metropolitan area. The number was comparatively light, consequent on the long spell of dry weather."

Although but one year old the animal is of good size and full of life. A native of Ireland, the lioness was born in Dublin, and one of eighteen cubs possessed by the zoo of that city. She completed her first ocean voyage without a moment's sea sickness. She leaves for Toronto to-morrow morning.

MERGER WITH PULLMAN IS PRACTICALLY COMPLETE

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.— (Canadian Press.)— Details of the consolidation of the Pullman Company and the Haskell-Barker Car Company virtually have been completed, it was learned here to-day.

The stock will be exchanged, it was understood, in the ratio of four shares of Haskell-Barker for three of Pullman. This ratio, it is said, was agreed upon because the larger valuation of the Pullman Company was said to have occurred through the discovery that amounts charged off for depreciation were found to be greater than actual depreciation of the property.

Our Christmas Stock of Them

The inherent love of womankind for pretty things will be gratified after an inspection of these delightful creations of crepe de chine, satin and habutai silk. Their colors are glorious and the rows of ruchings contribute added charm. Could you spare time to come in and try them on?

In habutai you can choose your favorite color —rose, salmon, lavender, Copenhagen, pink or navy blue. Kimona sleeves and the wide flowing sort so inseparable from old Japan are in evidence. Most of them have the edges finished with picot ruchings arranged in serpentine effect and several are garnished with embroidery. Priced from $9.50 to $9.95.

Some of the soft colorings in crepe de chine that you can select from are old rose, maize, Copenhagen, salmon, orchid and peach. In these the low waist-line is featured and defined by a row of ruching that goes all around. The neck and pockets are outlined with the same, and on some you will find touches of embroidery. Priced from $13.50 to $17.50.

Breakfast Coats

One is in tea rose crepe de chine and the other is of blue and silver shot taffeta. Both are much the same in pattern. They button all the way down the front and are finished with picot edged frilling and the pockets are treated in the same manner. A girdle encircles the waist. The crepe de chine is $12.50 and the taffeta $18.00.

Quilted Satin Kimonas

Warm? Yes, and attractive, too. Choice of a rich purple shade or deep old rose. Beautifully quilted throughout. The collar has a small lapel in man fashion. Frogs to match adorn the front and serve as fasteners and the waist is circled with a girdle. Priced at $17.95.

Beautiful wash satins in orchid, rose, salmon and Copenhagen blue in slip-on models, enlivened with rows of tuckings and touches of embroidery. One in rose has shirring across the front in Empire style and from two rosettes is a pretty, loose satin cord draped down the front. The same can be had in pale pink. Priced at $15.00. Others in satin from $14.00 to $17.50.

Quilted Bed Jackets

Quilted with a light-weight wash satin and fasten with frogs. They are really abbreviations of the kimonas, for they are the same in every respect except that they just reach to the waist-line. Choice of red lined with red, orchid lined with lavender and pink lined with pale blue. Priced at $7.95.

JOINT COMMISSION HOLDS BRIEF HEARING

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—(By Canadian Press). — The International Joint Commission adjourned its public session here after a very short hearing yesterday, during which F. H. Rogers, engineer of Philadelphia, described the new type of turbine which the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission proposed to use in its scheme.

John Murphy, electrical engineer to the Railway Commission here, explained that the system of heating which was spoken of during the session was that outlined by him before the Joint Commission in Montreal last October. The plan is to keep the dams, valves, and gates, as well as the machinery within the power plant at 1-1,000th degree above freezing point, and this prevents ice either forming upon or adhering to them.

DENIES STATEMENT ATTRIBUTED TO HIM

COUNSEL IN MORENO CASE SAYS HE MADE NO REFERENCE TO "PIG'S BLOOD OR ENGLISH BLOOD,"

MONTREAL, November 16. Canadian Press. — That in his address to the jury he made no reference to "pig's blood nor English blood,' is the feature of a statement issued last night by Alban Germain, K. C., counsel for the defence in tre trial of Grace Moreno, sentenced yesterday to life imprisonment in connection with the death of James John Rowe, an ex-service man, stabbed to death by the woman in an altercation over a five dollar bill.

The trial of the Moreno woman was quite overshadowed by the sweeping denunciation of her counsel, uttered by Mr. Justice Monet.

His Lordship declared that in cross examination of Dr. Derome, a medical expert, on a statement that the blood found on the knife used by Grace Moreno, was human blood, Mr. German had not been afraid to say to the exclusively French-speaking jury, that the blood was not human blood, but the blood of a pig —that of an Englishman.

The judge condemned the statement as gross, incongruous and ignoble. He further stated that Mr. Germain had "struck the presiding judge of this court below the belt" in challenging the right of the judge to give his opinion concerning the interpretation of the proof.

Mr. Germain in his statement says:

"The statement attributed to me by Mr. Justice Monet is untrue. I never made any reference before the jury to 'pig's blood nor English blood.' I have a witness to this, my partner, Rene Theberge, who was beside me at the time. I believe the judge was acting is good faith, but he certainly misrepresented the facts. The members of the council of the Bar are my judges and I am asking them to investigate the matter and pass judgment according to the evidence."

In the opinoin of members of the Montreal Bar present in the Court of King's Bench it is many years since one of their number has been subjected to such unqualified censure as was pronounced by Mr. Justice Monet.

HELIGOLAND FORT NOW DEMOLISHED

HAMBURG, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press.)—Heligoland as a German fortress has been wiped out under the supervision of the Inter-Allied Commission, and little remains today of the once powerful fort. The work of demolition has been going on for two years, and while not entirely completed yet the Commission of which Sir Edward Charlton is the head, is said to be satisfied that the Island of Heligoland never can be a menace to the Allies. What little is left of the harbor, including the land reclaimed from the sea by Germany, it is expected will be gradually destroyed by the North Sea.

The work to be done in the demolition of the fortress is expected to be completed next April. Then a final inspection will be made by the Commission, and it is expected that Heligoland will be handed back to Germany under the provisions of the Peace Treaty. The Commission has withdrawn the officers in control of the work of demolition and remainder of the undertaking has been left in German hands. Quarterly visits will be paid to the work by the Commission until it is entirely completed.

The Commission has left nothing to be taken for granted, even though the German authorities have aided rather than hampered, the progress of the work. Naval officers have seen the great guns cut into pieces. In the destruction of cartridge cases, fuses, etc., they have insisted upon the production of scrap metal, while in the destruction of vast stores of explosives, where there is no residue to produce as evidence, they have personally watched the burnings. Admiral Charlton is said to be satisfied that very little in the way of warlike stores have been concealed.

Besides the destruction of guns at Heligoland, gun emplacements and harbor works, on the island have been broken up. In addition to guns many of which were very large, batteries of howitzers and aircraft guns have been demolished.

In order to make certain that Heligoland can not be utilized again as a site which to build a harbor for warships the Commission has placed blocks of stone and concrete about the bed of the harbor so that dredging will not be possible.

LANDED PROPRIETORS IN ENGLAND "HARD UP"

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press)—The plight of some of the landed proprietors of England was illustrated here when the Marquis of Northampton, in returning thanks for a wedding present from tenantry on his estate, said that at present time he was living on borrowed money.

"We are passing through difficult times," said the Marquis. "I try to excuse myself because I feel that people must hate me. I hope they do not. My grandfather had a great deal of money to play with. My father had some too. I have none. I have to live on borrowed money. I had to be rather pinching.

"The cost of living has arisen, and with it wages, and it is just as well I should tell you that in order to employ you at present wages I have to borrow money all the time. The money will have to be repaid but I do not quite see when that will be possible."

CORN DOESN'T PAY FOR COAL

So Farmer Solves Problem by Burning Grain, He Writes to Senate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A farmer in Nebraska sold his corn for 16 cents a bushel.

Then he bought some coal at $21 a ton.

It was cheaper, he decided, to burn corn.

The farmer wrote a letter to Senator Norris, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, telling about the difficulties the farmers are having. The letter, Norris said, is typical of scores that he and other Senators are receiving.

"Dollar wheat and 20-cent corn are forcing tenant farmers into bankruptcy," said Norris. "Everything the farmer has to sell is at bottom prices, while those things he buys have not declined in price proportionately."

Further, Norris holds, the disparity in prices the consumer pays and prices the farmer gets is too great.

"The low prices are not benefitting the masses of the people as they should," he said.

Norris believes lower freight rates are essential if the farming industry is to be put on its feet. Farmers, away from consuming and manufacturing centres, pay high freight on both the things they buy and sell, Norris pointed out.

He said also that before there is a price recovery, a market for the surplus products must be found through exportation.

CLAIM MILLER ALREADY BURIED AT FORT ERIE

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press).—That he has already been buried at Fort Erie and that the Canadian Records Office is unable to identify Albert Miller, who died recently in Buffalo in respect of his having carried the "cease firing order at Mons on Armistice Day, are the facts brought out by telegraphic messages received here by A. CANADIAN GENERALS WERE ALL CHRISTIANS

Lord Byng Knelt in Hut With the Rest of Men.

At the unveiling of a tablet in memory of those soldier dead who were members of Queen street Methodist church, Kingston, General Mitchell, in speaking of the Generals of the Canadian troops, said they were true Christian gentlemen. They always attended church, and the speaker told of Lord Byng of Vimy kneeling at service one morning on the floor with the rest of the men in a little hut. The services were held in stables, huts or dugouts, and the men never failed to attend them. The speaker praised every branch of the service in the Canadian army and spoke of them as co-operative to the finish. Each branch worked with the other and in this way success was gained.

Butterick Designs 3357-3378

Yes, children's clothes, too, are smarter and less expensive with the Deltor

GAY little frocks to dance around the Christmas tree! School clothes that combine practicality with just the proper air of youthful swagger! Clothes as dainty and light as snow-flakes, for the winter-baby!—the clothes you think of when you think of children—and all of them obtainable for less money than was ever possible before!

Because of the wonderful Deltor accompanying every Butterick pattern and especially planned for each individual pattern, you can make even the tiniest garments of less material than ever before. You save the price of the pattern always—and on just one frock for yourself, you can effect a saving of 50c to $10!

Yet economy is but one of the Deltor's purposes. This invaluable picture-guide shows you, also, how to make little clothes such as the exclusive children's shops display. It enables you to embody in every little frock or coat the smartness that gives even children a sense of well-being.

Butterick Designs 3377-3380

Go to the Butterick pattern counter. And whether you select a child's style or one for yourself, remember that the Deltor specifies ¾ to 1⅜ yards less than would otherwise be possible—a saving of 50c to $10 on every frock for yourself.

The DELTOR

Saves 50c to $10 on materials for a gown for yourself

First, the Deltor gives you an individual layout chart (yes, an individual chart—not just a general chart, but one for your exact size and for each suitable width of material). You lay out your pattern—the expert's way. You buy ¾ to 1⅜ yards less material on every garment, a saving that amounts to 50c to $10 on a gown for yourself!

Then, the Deltor gives you picture-and-word illustrations of just how the professional would put together the garment on which you are working. You sew swiftly and accurately and whether you are making a pair of bloomers or a frock, the Deltor for that particular garment guides every stitch.

Finally, as the little garment nears completion, precious secrets of finish are revealed to you—how to finish the neck, how to work the scallops, how to bind the buttonholes—important touches evolved for the garment you are making. The little garment reveals all the artlessness of childhood.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

"BULL-DOG DRUMMOND"

BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

With a slight frown he stared at the retreating car; he saw the man lean over and speak to the other man; he saw the other man look round. Then a bend in the road hid them from sight, and, still frowning, Drummond pulled out his case and lit a cigarette. For the man whose eye he had caught as the Rolls went by was Henry Lakington. There was no mistaking that hard-lipped, cruel face.

Presumably, thought Hugh, the other two occupants were Mr. Peterson and the doubtful daughter, Irma; presumably they were returning to The Elms. And incidentally there seemed no pronounced reason why they shouldn't. But, somehow, the sudden appearance of Lakington had upset him; he felt irritable and annoyed. What little he had seen of the man he had not liked; he did not want to be reminded of him, especially just as he was thinking of Phyllis.

He watched the white dust-cloud rise over the hill in front as the car topped it; he watched it settle and drift away in the faint breeze. Then he let in his clutch and followed quite slowly in the big car's wake.

There had been two men in front—the driver and another, and he wondered idly if the latter was Mr. Benton. Probably not, he reflected, since Phyllis had said nothing about her father being in London. He accelerated up the hill and swung over the top; the next moment he braked hard and pulled up just in time. The Rolls, with the chauffeur peering into the bonnet, had stopped in such a position that it was impossible for him to get by.

The girl was still seated in the back of the car, also the passenger in front, but the two other men were standing in the road apparently watching the chauffeur, and after a while the one whom Drummond had recognised as Lakington came towards him.

"I'm so sorry," he began—and then paused in surprise. "Why, surely it's Captain Drummond?"

Drummond nodded pleasantly. "The occupant of a car is hardly likely to change in a mile, is he?" he remarked. "I'm afraid I forgot to wave as you went past, but I got your smile all right.' He leant on his steering-wheel and lit a second cigarette. "Are you likely to be long?" he asked; "because if so, I'll stop my engine."

The other man was now approaching casually, and Drummond regarded him curiously. "A friend of our little Phyllis, Peterson," said Lakington, as he came up. "I found them having tea together yesterday at the Carlton."

"Any friend of Miss Benton's is, I hope, ours," said Peterson with a smile. "You've known her a long time, I expect?"

"Quite a long time," returned Hugh. "We have jazzed together on many occasions."

"Which makes it all the more unfortunate that we should have delayed you," said Peterson. "I can't help thinking, Lakington, that that new chauffeur is a bit of a fool."

"I hope he avoided the crash all right,' murmured Drummond politely.

Both men looked at him. "The crash!" said Lakington. "There was no question of a crash. We just stopped.'

"Really," remarked Drummond, "I think, sir, that you must be right in your diagnosis of your chauffeur's mentality.' He turned courteously to Peterson. "When something goes wrong, for a fellah to stop his car by braking so hard that he locks both back wheels is no ban, as we used to say in France. I thought, judging by the tracks in the dust, that you must have been in imminent danger of ramming a traction engine. Or perhaps,' he added judicially, "a sudden order to stop would have produced the same effect." If he saw the lightning glance that passed between the two men he gave no sign. "May I offer you a cigarette? Turkish that side—Virginian the other. I wonder if I could help your man," he continued, when they had helped themselves. "I'm a bit of an expert with a Rolls."

"How very kind of you," said Peterson. "I'll go and see." He went over to the man and spoke a few words.

"Isn't it extraordinary," remarked Hugh, "how the eye of the boss galvanises the average man into activity. As long, probably, as Mr. Peterson had remained here talking, that chauffeur would have gone on tinkering with the engine. And now—look, in a second, all serene. And yet I daresay Mr. Peterson knows nothing about it really. Just the watching eye, Mr. Lakington. Wonderful thing—the human optic."

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH HELD A BAZAAR

The Sunday School Hall of St. Andrew's Church presented a very gay appearance last evening, with the pretty and artistic booths which have been erected by the ladies in charge of the sale of fancy and useful Christmas gifts. The different sections are most attractive, and a great credit to their originators. The Japanese tea-room, where Oriental umbrellas and lanterns produce a charming effect, is in charge of Mrs. A. A. Cook and Mrs. McIntosh; the manufacturers' booth, in red, white and blue, where samples of all sorts of nice things are on view, from rolled oats in packages to pretty potted plants, is looked after by Mrs. R. J. McWilliams, Mrs. E. Breckenridge, Mrs. A. McDonald and Mrs. W. Stevens; the candy counter, an exquisite little pink-clad corner, where frilly crepe paper, festoons of pink popcorn and lace-frilled candy baskets make a little bower of pink prettiness, is under the care of Mrs. P. Allison and Mrs. Wren; and Mrs. F. L. Robinson, convenor of the entire undertaking, is in charge of the booth for fancy small articles, where the daintiest of small fancies are on sale, under a lattice work of mauve and white. Assisting at this booth are Mrs. E. Carr, Mrs. W. Fletcher, Mrs. C. Perry, Mrs. Frost and Miss C. McFarlane. The useful articles are in charge of Mrs. J. Robertson, Mrs. J. Jamieson and Miss Allen, in a corner where green crepe paper and red poinsettias make a pretty setting. Mrs. E. Frost and Miss Edmison are looking after the dissemination of church literature at a side counter.

The ladies intend to serve a bean supper this evening at 6.30, and during the evening, Miss Lucille Davis, of Rochester, will sing.

YOUR LAST CHANCE TO GET ON VOTERS' LIST

Judge Huycke began on Tuesday the revision of the voters' lists and was kept busy all day by a comparatively steady stream of men and women who had not previously registered. Morning sessions begin at 10.30 o'clock and the afternoon sessions at 3 o'clock. The prescribed Saturday night sitting will open at 8 o'clock, and in order that the public may have a last chance to secure their names on the list, His Honour will hold an additional session on Monday night.

The revision is proceeding in the Judge's Chambers in the south-east corner of the Court House. Those who are unacquainted with the lay out of the offices may be advised to enter by the door on the south side of the Court House. The public room in the Judge's Chambers is the very first door on the left hand or west side of the corridor. Quite a number of the electors registered yesterday were women, young and old, who accepted the franchise in much the same matter of fact spirit as the men to whom it has lost its novelty.

LOCAL ORANGEMEN HAVE FILED PROTEST.

A largely-attended meeting of the Duke of Manchester Lodge, L.O.L., No. 50, considered and adopted the following resolution, to be sent to the Prime Minister of Ontario; also to the Minister of Education: "Be it resolved that the Duke of Manchester Loyal Orange Lodge No. 50 make a solemn protest against the Government of Ontario granting such unwarranted concessions of the separate sectarian school system to the greivous injury of the public non-sectarian school system which would thereby be robbed of a large portion of its legal revenues, and have its efficiency severely impaired, and we urgently request the Prime Minister of Ontario not to re-open this sectarian controversy that rent the Province years ago and will again arouse bitter religious animosities if persisted in. We trust that this resolution will receive your earnest consideration.

URGE CITIZENS HELP ENFORCE LIQUOR LAW

DETROIT, Nov. 16. —(Canadian Press.)— Suggestions for organization of a National Association of Citizens to assist prohibition agents in enforcing the Volstead Law, were considered at a conference here yesterday of R. A. Haynes, Federal Prohibition Commissioner, and leaders of th eAnti-Saloon League, civic bodies, state and city liquor officers.

Plans for combatting border rum-runner were also discussed.

STAR THEATRE ONCE A METHODIST CHURCH

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—(Candaina Press).—The recently reported sale of the burlesque house, Star Theatre is but another chapter in the history ofo Toronto City property that has had about as many changes as Joseph's coat had colors. Originally the building was occupied as a Methodist Church, that was 60 years ago. Then for many years the church building was occupied as a printing establishment. Later it became a Temperance Hall and justified the name of the street on which it stands—Temperance street. Some time later it became a show house and the first burlesque theatre in Toronto. During the intervening years there had of course been many additions to the building and the churchified appearance disappeared between the modern theatre walls. For soome time, the Toronto Police Benefit Association held a mortage on the building and there was more or less comment on the fact that the prulchritude of the Toronto police should be in any way mixed up with a burlesque theatre.

HAM AND BACON ON DOWN GRADE IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, November 16. — Canadian Press. — A downward tendency in the price of cooked hams and breakfast bacon has been in evidence in the Ottawa wholesale provision markets in the last few days, and a reduction of two to three cents a pound to the trade has been made. Cooked ham is now selling wholesale at 38c to 42c a pound, and breakfast bacon from 24c to 28c.

The retail prices have not yet responded to any appreciable extent, but a slight drop in prices is expecter as new stock is acquired at lower prices.

BROTHER BILKED HER IN ESTATE, CHARGE

Alleges Misrepresentation in Division of Bourne's 40 Million.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Charged with defrauding his sister, Miss Marjorie Bourne, out of $389,120 in the distribution of their father's $40,000,000 estate, Arthur K. Bourne, wealthy son of the late Commodore Frederick G. Bourne, former head of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., has been made the defendant in a suit to recover that amount.

The suit arose over the disposition of Dark Island in the St. Lawrence River, where Commodore Bourne had a summer home. Miss Bourne says in her complaint that she holds a strong sentiment for the island and that her brother knowing her feelings, falsely represented to her that the estate executors, of whom he was one, intended to sell the island to the highest bidder.

She adds that he represented the book value of the Dark Island estate at $389,120 and induced her to sign an agreement forcing her to accept the property at that figure, whereas, she discovered later the market value of the property did not exceed $74,000. She asks the court to compel her brother to accept deeds reconveying the property to their father's estate, and to repay her the amount which was deducted from her share of the estate as the purchase price of the property.

PEASANTS ACQUIRE WEALTH IN PAPER

MOSCOW, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press)—An incident which shows how the Russian peasants have acquired what to them is great wealth by the sale of food products to the city people occurred the other day. A peasant woman who lives about 25 miles outside of Moscow prevailed upon two cultivated Russian women who are eking out a poor living in the capital city by working for the Soviet government to come to her home and perform a task about which the peasant was very mysterious.

She promised them large quantities of flour, potatoes and other foods too pay for their trouble. When the visitors arrived the peasant and her husband produced two great sacks of Bolshevist rubles and asked the visitors to count their contents.

We tried to count it but we couldn't the peasants said. "We can only count up to 10,000."

There were more than 20,000,000 rubles in the sacks. (Equivalent to less than $200.)

The owners said they were going to keep it until they have enough to buy more land.

"But the government won't let you buy land," one of the city women protested.

The peasant woman laughed and replied: "That is all rubbish. We own our land and we have neighbors who own land. Some of them will want to sell some day at a low price. There are lots of them who don't like to work."

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER LIVER FOR OVER 4 MONTHS

When the liver becomes slow, sluggish and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are, sick or billious headaches, heartburn, water brash, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

quickly remove the secretions, clear away the effete and waste matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Mrs. Alice Mehill, Napanee, Ont. writes:—"I was very badly run down for over four months. I tried several remedies, but got no relief. One day my husband brought me home a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and before I had used half of it I was much better. I only used two vials and I am a different person today.

I can safely recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to any one troubled with liver trouble."

REX STOCK COMPANY.

Tonight is the last night of "What Every Woman Wants." By this time the riddle is solved, you've seen the problem worked out satisfactorily and you've laughed at the way in which Miss Hobbs succumbs to the old lure of a real man. Mr. Wolff Kingsearl proves himself a modern Petruchio, and his taming process is worth watching. Mr. Snelgrove has a role that suits him, as well as last week's, and that is saying a great deal. As Henrietta Hobbs, Miss Vaughn gave much significance to the new type of woman and her meddlesome methods. She could not look terribly severe, and somehow or other I wish that some of our modern efficient women were as amenable to reason, or (was it affection) as the heroine of "What Every Woman Wants."

Some person asked me the other day when we were to have some more farce. Evidently Rex puts 'em over well, but I fear it will not be next week. "A Pair of Sixes" is to be the next bill, and it will be another very clever comedy. A 'propos' of this subject, Mr. Snelgrove says, that popular as are farces, the general public really prefers a drama or straight comedy with plenty of old-fashioned sentiment. Not that we want to revert to the melodrama type, but the heart interest, he says, never fails to appeal to an audience which always enjoys mingling laughter and tears. LAURA.

"BRINGING UP FATHER."

A riot of laughter, jingling melodies, unique features, successive and a plentitude of original ingredients and novelties, along with a beauty chorus qualified to set all Broadway in the throes of talk and envy, are promised in the latest McManus triumph, "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street." As might be gleaned, the play, which is in two acts and five scenes, is based on the ever-green and always welcome cartoons of the same title by George McManus. The new show with its wonderful scenic equipment, screams, hilarity, joy and ear-haunting tunes and melodies will be the next attraction at the Grand Theatre, next Thursday, November 17th, matinee and night.

WINNIPEG KIDDIES

A clever, talented child is always attractive but the over sophisticated or precocious youngster loses much that endears her to the average adult One of the chief assets to the company known as the Winnipeg Kiddies is the absolute simplicity of the children. They seem to romp and play through the afternoon or evening enjoying themselves, as thoroughly as the audience enjoys seeing them. After all why shouldn't they? At the age they know very little embarrassment, they have no nerves in the sense that oft times dyspeptic elders who have been out late the night before suffer from them, and so far they seem to be free from petty jealously and internescine strife. By the way I wonder why, I am lapsing into Caesarian terms — that last expression sounds strangely like my favourite passage in "the Gallic War". After which more or less irrevelant digression, we'll return to the Kiddies.

This year, I understand that the show they are to give, is along slightly diffrent lines from the one presented here last season.

It is a revue of popular songs with a great deal of dancing. The scenery is all new and there are many spectacular effects well worth seeing. As I remember the headliners the Holmes twins are very clever boys who resemble each other so much I can scarcely see how even their mother knows them apart—Jackie Finsilver makes me think of a juvenile Al Jolson—he really does possess an attractive wining personality and as for wee Dorothy Mackay! It may interest you to know that she is a very high priced little star. Her pay envelope would make even a full grown muscal comedy star sit up and take notice. I wonder if she has the artistic temperament?" I hear a lot these days about high priced people and how they must be handled—I think the man who called it artistic cussedness was nearly right. Don't forget the kiddies will be here Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee.

"Just Suppose"

Hector Charlesworth is looked upon as a great critic by many. He calls "Just Suppose" a masterpiece in miniature." One thing I know is that A. E. Thomas who wrote the play is responsible for many clever dramas produced within the past decade. He took a daring theme handled it skillfully and "Just Suppose" has justified his courage to the extent of being a great box office success. Mr. Edward Robins has the Canadian rights to the play —he gave repeated performances of it in Toronto during the summer and is now sending a specially selected cast on tour with a production that is absolutely first class in every respect. Graham Velsay as the Prince of Wales, is most charming. "Just Suppose" will be shown in Peterborough at the Grand Theatre, for one night, in the very near future. LAURA

AT THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol Offers Two Big Drawing Cards To-morrow Night—Thomas Meighan in "The Frontier of the Stars" and Harold Lloyd in His Very Newest Comedy, "I Do."

The Capitol Theatre management are out after patronage this weekend, judging by the very excellent programme they are offering. Thomas Meighan, always a popular favourite, will be seen in his big six-reel story of the New York underworld, "The Frontier of the Stars." Harold Lloyd, the king-pin comedian of all the fun-makers,, presents his very newest two-reel fun riot entitled "I Do"; and no funnier or cleaner comedy has ever been produced. It is a cyclone of hysterical giggles for the entire two thousand feet.

The balance of this splendid show is in keeping with the quality of the entertainment to be found at all times at this cosy, comfortable resort—The Capitol.

One of the most spectacular fire scenes ever filmed in a motion pocture studio was staged in New York when 'The Frontier of the Stars" was made. Thomas Meighan, the star, in the role of a gangster of the Bowery.

For the fire scenes sets, which exactly duplicated a street in lower Manhattan, near the Brooklyn Bridge, were built, and then three days were spent burning them up. A large crowd of extras were used; and the spectacle of some twenty or more policemen battling with the unruly mob which surged back and forth in the fire-swept area, in which hoses were playing and black smoke billowing forth from upper story windows, was so startlingly realistic that more than one bystander began to think that the entire studio would be destroyed.

Faire Binney will be seen as leading woman. Others in the cast include Alphonze Ethier, Edward Ellis ,Gus Weinberg, and Florence Johns. It is an Albert Payson Terhune story. Charles Maigne adapted the story and directed the picture.

Just the usual prices.

FAN-FAN.

AT THE REGENT.

LOUISE LOVELY SEEN IN HER BEST PICTURE.

One thing that pleases most about Louise Lovely, who is appearing at the Regent Theatre for the last time to-night in "while the Devil Laughs" is the charming little star's ability to act natural under the most trying circumsances. Although she is an emotional actress of exceptional power, she is not yet given to cyclonic outbursts. Yet it cannot be denied that he "gets over" her big moments with a force that brings out all there is in them.

AT THE ALLEN.

"A VIRGIN PARADISE" WILL END ITS RUN HERE TO-NIGHT.

Concluding a brilliantly successful run at the Allen Theatre, "A Virgin Paradise," the William Fox special from the story by Hiram Percy Maxim, will be shown for the last time to-night. The unusual character of the picture will cause it to be remembered always as a screen masterpiece.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE "A VIRGIN PARADISE" TO-NIGHT.

The last chance to see "A Virgin Paradise," the sensational William Fox special which has scored a decided triumph at the Allen Theatre, will be had to-night, when the run comes to an end. The Hiram Percy Maxim story in pictures probably has occasioned more comment and created more excitement than any other photodrama ever shown here. The scenic effects, the spectacular splendor and the powerful expression of human emotion admirably achieved by the all-star cast headed by Pearl White, make the picture a memorable one.

LESSON FOR SOCIETY LOTHARIOS IN THIS LATEST CHRISTIE COMEDY.

While "Short and Snappy," latest of the two-reel Christie Comedies which comes to the Allen Theatre to-morrow was being filmed no less than five visitors to the studios claimed that the idea must have been taken from their own experience. As a matter of fact the story is an original work of Jack Jevne, a Los Angeles nsewspaper man, but the controversy brought out a lot of good stories told by these five men at their own expense.

Undoubtedly a lot of men have found themselves in the same position as the two youths, played by Bobby Vernon and Billy Bletcher, who are strong on love for a beautiful girl and very short on finance. This situation is made the more farcical when they are provided with a single rented dress suit, are invited to dinner on the same evening by the same girl, and then the owner comes around to recover the suit because they have failed to pay the rent on it.

The picture is cited as an excellent example of the Christie idea of straight farce-comedy that is possible, though not very probable, with action emphasized and cleanliness carefully preserved.

"WET GOLD."

"Wet Gold," by J. Ernest Williamson, directed by Ralph Ince and distributed by Goldwyn, will be shown at the Allen Theatre to-morrow. It is a tale of two rival factions to recover stolen treasure hidden in an old wreck at the bottom of the sea. The remarkable features of "Wet Gold" are the use of diving suits, a submarine lying on the bottom of the sea as a base of operations, and the uncanny acting of the cast in their roles of searchers of the ocean deep.

Some of the most beautiful scenes in "Wet Gold" were taken at the race track in Havana, Cuba, where an old Southerner, who has staked his last cent on a favorite colt and lost, decides to join a ship-wrecked castaway, John Cromwell, in the hunt for the stolen treasure that he knows about.

One of the most thrilling incidents shows three men in diving helmets with internal oxygen tanks, starting from the shore in search of the submarine far out on the ocean floor. They walk straight out to sea; finally their heads disappear and we see their progress along the bottom of the ocean to the submarine which they use as their base of operations. "Wet Gold" is one of those pictures that you will talk about for a year.

portance?" Strangers and new members should be made welcome at the meetings, not by the president alone, but by all the members, who should work together in every possible way for the good of the organization. "If we give faithful service and co-operation, we are banded together in an army for Christ and His Church, and there is no doubt but we will go forward and accomplish what we intend to do."

Some active discussion followed these addresses, different representatives offering excellent suggestions along many lines.

speakers on the first two subjects being absent, their places were taken very ably at the last minute by two young men, who delivered excellent addresses, full of bright ideas. The section for "officers" was taken by Mr. A. S. McConnell, of Toronto, president of St. Michael's and All Angels' Branch. He outlined the duties of the different officers, laying special responsibility on the shoulders of the President, "on whom depends nearly everything," and whom he declared should be always a faithful member of the Church, as well as of the A.Y.P.A., and emphasized the value of securing a certain amount of publicity for meetings as offering an incentive to good work.

Committee Work.

H. Ashdown, of Toronto, president of St. Barnabas (Chester) Branch, followed with an exposition of committee work. He considered the Rector as "the father and adviser of the branch," and recommended also honest enthusiasm in the work of the various officers. A programme committee, a social service committee in lieu of a missionary committee in some of the larger centres, a social committee, a lookout or visiting committee were recommended by the speaker.

Duties of Members.

Miss Blanche Graham, of Lakefield, third vice-president of the A.Y.P.A., who was introduced by the chairman as one who had done much successful work during the past year, took the "members" section of the discourse, and gave an excellent and thoughtful address on the subject. Duties of the members were itemized by Miss Graham. Faithfulness at meetings of all sorts was emphasized, and also faithful attendance at the corporate communion. Service, the lack of which causes so much of the industrial unrest in the world to-day, was the need of the society. In war time, we worked well in the cause of an earthly king. Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

BRITISH CHAMPION LEFT GREAT IMPRESSION WITH THE UNITED STATES GOLFERS

Sportsmanship, as Americans and a few other peoples know it, is something worth while. No matter how muckerish or lacking in this quality we or others may seem at times, there is no doubt that the good sportsman is the most admired and the best beloved of people—no matter what their game.

Just now Cecil Leitch, the British girl who came over to the United States to annex the golf championship, is going back home, leaving behind her probably more friends and admirers than any foreign player ever has had. She came to America with practically the certainty that, barring accidents, she would add to her many honours the woman's championship of the United States. She failed, being beaten by a player who was not figured to have a real chance, and after her most serious obstacle, Miss Stirling, had been removed. She strolled across the green, smiling, and gave her conqueror hearty congratulations. A short time later she was beaten by a schoolgirl, and, rushing across to her opponent as the last putt sank, she embraced her and told her that she was destined to be one of the great players of the world. That done, she started driving farther and better than ever.

Although she failed, and perhaps had cause to feel the keenest disappointment any woman athlete ever suffered, she smiled. It has been her ambition since early childhood to be the greatest golfer in the world. The winning of the United States title would have given her clear title to that honour. More than that, winning the American championship meant a tour of the world and many honours.

She is going back home, defeated, but leaving every golfer in the United States including those who defeated her, convinced that she is not only the greatest woman golfer, but one of the finest sportsmen in the world. Her visit has not been a failure.

Perhaps Miss Leitch's visit is more noticeable because of the contrast it affords to the unfortunate one of Mlle. Lenglen, who now is said to be ill, and who perhaps may never play again. The French girl seemed not to understand sportsmanship as Americans and the British know it. Ill health and nervous temperament may have had effect, but ill-health and nerves would not have caused Miss Leitch to forget to congratulate a conqueror or Miss Stirling to fail to offer her congratulations to any one who defeated her.

Had Mlle. Lenglen been defeated, and smiled as she shook hands, she could have returned home with the majority of tennis lovers believing her still the great player she undoubtedly is. Her failure to live up to the code of sportsmanship caused many to hold the idea that she can not be as fine a player as she was—and perhaps will be again—in her own land.

Somehow in most of the worthwhile games that British and Americans play, there is something bigger than the game itself.

CHURCH LEAGUE BOWLING.

St. Paul's took two of the three games at the Y.M.C.A. last night from St. Andrew's. St. Andrew's took the first game, but St. Paul's rallied and captured the remaining two by scores which were well in advance of the opposing side. E. Walton and F. CAPT. J. DEWART CHARGES MINISTERS WITH "FEATHERING THEIR OWN NESTS"

MEETING HELD IN WESTWOOD LAST EVENING IN THE INTEREST OF THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS

Capt. John Dewart, the Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, held a very large and successful meeting last night in Westwood.

Mr. David Breckenridge occupied the chair.

The meeting was addressed by the candidate, Mr. W. A. Anderson, ex-Warden of the County of Peterborough, Mr. Joseph Wearing and Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P.

Capt. Dewart dealt at length with the Canadian National Railways. He pointed out that last year the Canadian National Railways actually lost the enormosu sum of $70,000,000 of the tax payers' money and that the year before the railway had lost the enormous sum of $70,000,000 and this year the Minister of Railways and Canals stated in the House of Commons, last March, that the Canadian Government Railways would go behind no less a sum than $50,000,000 this year.

Capt. Dewart pointed out that every penny of these enormous losses had to be paid out of the pockets of the Canadian tax payers and stated that the situation was so serious that it was utterly amazing that so little interest was taken by the Canadian people in a matter that so vitally concerns them.

In the face of such enormous losses which are liable to continue it is of vital importance that the method of management of Canadian National Railways should be subjected to the closest scrutiny by Parliament. The Company is managed by a Board of Managers appointed by the old Union Government during the time both Mr. Meighen and Mr. Crerar sat around the Council Board. This Board of Managers is given autocratic powers. It is not responsible to Parliament, nor is it called upon to furnish details of its expenditures to Parliament.

Mr. Dewart read over a list of the Board of Managers of the Canadian Railways and the several companies with which they are connected, and showed conclusively that all the members of the Board of Diretcors, with the single exception of one, were identified with other large companies, such as locomotive companies, car companies, steel companies, coal companies and mercanitle companies of various kinds.

It goes without saying that it is not in the interests of the Canadian tax paver that a Board of Management should be placed in charge of such a gigantic enterprise where the personal interest of the Board of Managers conflicts with the faithful performance of their duties and more particularly where the acts and conduct of the members of the Board are deliberately concealed by the Government from the Canadian people who have to pay the enormous losses that are from month to month incurred.

Autocratic System.

Mr. King, the Liberal Leader, introduced a resolution in the House of Commons last March wherein it was resolved that the Board of Management of the Canadian Railways should furnish to Parliament the fullest information respecting the details of its expenditure. He particularly pointed out that the present autocratic system of managing the railway did not furnish to Parliament any information that would enable the members to point out how the losses could be overcome because undoubtedly losses have arisen through bad management, through favoritism, and through secret influence.

The whole system of management harks back to the days of the reign of the Despot, the intriguer, and the Star Chamber.

Every single Liberal member of the House of Commons voted in favour of the policy requiring the Board of Managers to turn on the light and let the public know the names of the men who had probtable contracts in connection with the management of this road.

Feathering Their Own Nests.

Capt. Dewart pointed out that the Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, a Minister of the Crown, was a director of the Montreal Car Co. that had a contract for supplying locomotives that involved $13,700,000. It is not in the interests of the tax payers that such contracts should be let without open public competition and yet this Board of Managers with their own personal interests conflicting with the faithful performance of their duties were placed in the position if they chose to do so, "to feather their own nests."

Mr. Crerar, the leader of the so-called Progressive Party, voted with Mr Meighen to conceal from Parliament and from the Canadian tax pers, not only the details of the losses that had been made, but details of the future management of this railway.

CHILD WELFARE WORK

Votes of thanks were extended to Dr. N. D. Buchanan, Dr. T. P. McCullough, Dr. J. E. Middleton, and Dr. W. H. Lacey, and members of the Medical Society for work done free of charge to the Society during the year.

Rev. Peter Bryce.

Rev. Peter Bryce's address was a review of conditions in regard to child welfare in various parts of the world. He told how he was thrilled by the International conferences in London and Brussels last summer, which representatives of countries on every continent attended.

"It was wonderful in its cosmopolitan character. I rejoiced when I saw representatives from India and far-off Java joining together with us to discuss these things. By such exchanges of thought he believed progress in the face of discouraging problems could be made."

The war drew attention to the necessitv of conserving child life in Europe, and figures were quoted to show that the nations had been successful in reducing the mortality rate. The infantile mortality rates were coming to be recognised as an indicator of administration, he said. The death among infants per thousand is as follows: New Zealand 40, England and Wales 80, Ontario 103, Montreal 192, Toronto 104.

Infant Mortality.

New Zealand's efforts in reducing child death-rate has been a worthy one, and by systematic improvements reduced from 80 to 40 deaths per thousand in nine years. Since 1900 England and Wales have almost stopped by half the death of infants. Calgary stands as a notable example of what may be done with a reduction from 200 to 66, and in nine years Toronto has reduced its record from 197 to about 100.

"It seems a tragedy to me we have not realised before that the child is our greatest asset. We are ready to spend money on anything else but in child welfare." He dwelt particularly on the close relation to infant health as shown by data of a pure milk supply and fair housing conditions.

Mortality Among Mothers.

"I am sorry to report that while the infantile mortality rate is lower, there seems to be as many mothers dying as ever. One of our biggest problems to-day is to know what to do for the working man left with little children to look after. I am told on good authority that 90 per cent. of the deaths of those who die from child fever are preventable with proper care. This was realised as a great problem at the conferences."

The chairman of the Mothers' Allowance Commission praised the law that made it possible to now care for 2,78 omothers with 8,200 children in Ontario, with 38 families in Peterborough receiving allowance.

"It is now realised that the home is the place to train the child," he said. "I am as glad as you are we have the Workmen's Compensation Act," said Rev. Bryce in eulogy of the protection given wives and families of workmen to-day. He described the problem of family desertion as appalling, and said it should be made a criminal offence. A man should have to work for his family in jail or out of jail, one or the other.

Orphanages Abolished.

Concluding, he declared the orphanage was being done away with in Europe. "The day of the orphanage is past," he said. "There is only one place for the child, and that is in the normal home. The idea of boarding the child out has taken the place of the orphanage home over there, and I know we're all glad."

Distributing homes, however, he believed necessary. "Progress is taking place. If we are to fill our age with the sweetest thing of all ages—the laughter of little children—we must care for them."

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, November 16.—Canadian Press. — Opening prices in the stock market to-day were irregular, but the list strengthened within the first half hour on the support given to rails and equipments. Coalers, Grangers and Transcontinentals, as featured by Delaware, Lackawana & Western, Reading, Norfolk and Western, St. Paul, Kansas City, Southern Preferred and Northern Pacific, were higher by fractions to 1 1-2 points. Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Pressed Steel Car also were favored in the early buying. The strongest specialties were represented by American Tobacco, Sears, Roebuck and Famous Players, common and preferred. Oils continued hesitant on the further heaviness shown by Royal Dutch.

Oils assumed a dominant position later under lead of the Standard Oil group. The New Jersey issue rose 7 1-2 points and California shares 2 3-4. Mex. Petroleum, Gen. Asphalt, Freeport, Texas, Houston and Pierce preferred, were 1 to 5 1-2 points higher. There were a few accessions to the strong rails, in which heavy buying of Reading was featured. Chemical Drug, leather and textile shares displayed increased strength.

On the stock exchange call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent., the lowest initial rate in three weeks, but in private dealings offerings at 4 per cent were liberal. 'Change on London was conspicuously strong.

Regardless of extensive realizing sales the rise in Oils, Rails and numerous specialties made further substanial progress at mid-day. Some of the Steels, Equipments and Tobaccos were heavy, however, especially New York Air Brake and American Sumatra, common and preferred.

EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, November 16. Canadian Press. — Sterling exchange was strong. Demand Great Britain, 3.98 3-4; Canadian dollar 8 3-4 per cent. discount.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGOk, November 16. Canadian Press. — Initial wheat quotations which ranged from 1-4 to 7-8c higher with December 1.04 1-2 to 1.04 3-4, and May 1.07 1-2 to 1.08, were followed by some additional gains.

Seaboard bidding for corn helped to strengthen both corn and oats. After opening unchanged to 5-8 to 3-4c higher, May 52 1-4 to 52 5-8, the corn market continued to harden. Oats started 1-8c off to a shade advance. May 36 3-4 to 36 7-8, and then became firmer all around.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, November 16. Canadian Press. There was considerable improvement over recent days in the volume of business transacted on this morning's Bord of the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Canadian Bread Shares were the outstanding feature and notwithstanding "the bread war" now on amongst the local bakers, bread shares this morning advanced two points to 28.

Toronto Railway at 67 showed an advance of 2 points. Consumers' gas was off a half point at 68 on rather ctive dealings. War Loans were not as active as during the past few days but held steady.

TORONTO, November 16. Canadian Press. — Receipts were 926; trade was strong; choice butcher steers $5.50 to $6; butcher cows medium $2.75 to $3.50; calves $10 to $11 lambs $8.25 to $9; hogs selects $9.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, November 16. Canadian Press. — Practically no trading occurred on the local stock exchange during the first half hour this morning. Abitibi was factionally weaker at 32 while National Breweries was fractionally stronger at 57. Atlantic Sgar and Riordan were both unchanged at 32 1-2 and 90 respectively.

OF COURSE.
AND THE man said.
HE THOUGHT anyone.
COULD DO that.
SORT OF doctoring.
AND MY friend said.
WHY DON'T you hang.
OUT YOUR shingle.

AND TRY it awhile.
AND YOU would.
SOON FIND out.
WHY SEE here man.
IT TAKES four years.
OF HARDEST study.
LEARNING ALL those things.
A MEDICAL doctor.
HAS TO learn.
AND THE osteopathic diagnosis.
AND ADJUSTMENT besides.
AND AFTER that have.
YEARS OF experience.
BEFORE YOU can become.
A REALLY skilled osteopath.
YES JUST hang.
YOUR SHINGLE out
FOR AS an osteopath.
YOU WOULD surely make.
ONE HOWLING success.

Osteopaths know that it takes years of study and training, the grafting of an osteopathic education on top of a medical one, and then years of practice in the operating room and at the bedside to make a passable osteopath, so remarks like that just make him smile.

Osteopathy is the original and only perfect system of healing by adjustment. It handles all classes of cases with signal success.

SUCCESSFUL MUSICAL EVENT IN KNOX CHURH

One of the most successful musical events held in this city in a long time was the concert given by talented artists under the auspices of Knox Church Young People's Guild in the church last night. The quality of the offering merited a large attendance and the church was crowded. The following artists contributed: Mr. H. McKercher, Toronto tenor; Mrs. McKee Bingham contralto; Miss Edwina Palmer; Rev. J. A. Mckenzie; Mr. F. E. Walden and Miss Mildred Lloyd the noted young elocutionist of Belleville.

Mr. H. McKercher displayed unusual control of a fine tenor voice and in the solo "There is no Death" was at his best. The numbers by Mrs. McKee Bingham featured the program, the ever-popular "Abide with Me" showing her splendid contralto voice at its perfection. "The Spanish Dance" and "Souvenir" by Miss Edwina Palmer were outstanding numbers by this violin virtuoso and the Recessional March and "Andantino" by Lemare gave scope to Mr. F. E. Walden on the piano, fully demonstrating his pianoforte mastery. Rev. J. A. Mackenzie, pastor of Knox church possessed of a pleasing bar tone, sang two numbers that were warmly received "March of the Cameron Men" and 'Rolling Down to Rio".

The recitations of Miss Mildred Lloyd were of a superor nature, and she had to respond to numerous encores. Accompanists for various artists to whom the artists wish to express their thanks, were Mr. Walden, Mrs. Evans, and Miss Agnes Logan.

Mr. R. Haddow President of the Young People's Guild was chairman and in a short address thanked the artists for assisting and the people for their patronage and he remarked with no little gratification on the large attendance.

MORE RECRUITS FOR PETERBORO' RANGERS

ELEVEN MEN ENLISTED LAST NIGHT--TOTAL STRENGTH NOW 253.

The weekly parade of the Peterborough Rangers last night was marked by another influx of recruits, and the strength of the unit is increasing at a rate almost beyond the most sanguine expectations of its officers. Eleven men were added to the strength last night, bringing the total of N.C.O.'s and men up to 253.

A very fine standard of men are joining, a great number of them having had previous experience in the C.E.F. ,and also a number of young men in their 'teens, to whom the training will prove valuable and the military discipline a life asset. The new recruits taken on last night were as follows: Henry Paul, 116 Monaghan Road; Philip Rones, 544 Donegal street; Samuel Lowe, three years and four months in the C.E.F., 491 Elm street; John Joseph O'Brien, two years and four months, C.A.M.C. 621 George street; Harold Wheeler, 639 Concession street; Albert Wood, 144 1-2 Hunter street, three years in the C.E.F.; Frederick Gray, 300 Gilchrist street; James Murphy, Elm street.

In the absence of the O. C., Lt.-Col. A. W. McPherson, Major Gordon Hall inspected the unit, following which an address on training was given to the officers and N.C.O.'s by Brig.-Gen. F. W. Hill, A.A. Q.M.G., M.D. No. 3.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where dinner was served in the artistically decorated dining-room. About fifty guests were present, and the young couple, who are popular with a large circle of friends, were the recipients of many congratulatory favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlay left on the afternoon train for a wedding trip across the border, and on their return will reside in Seymour.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS

ON PLAN MODELED AFTER CANADIAN FEDERAL ELECTION

The High School Club of the Y.M.C.A. held its first meeting at the supper hour on Friday evening last, and made plans for a successful season. The election will take place this coming Friday evening at the regular meeting. Registration for voters will be made at the Y.M.C.A. office with the registrar appointed. Registrations close Thursday at 6 p.m., and only those on the lists will be available to cast a vote on Friday. Make sure that your name is on the list if you are entitled to vote.

BANQUETED IN ALL SAINTS' CHURCH LAST NIGHT AND TAKEN ON TOUR OF THE CITY

FURTHER SATISFACTORY REPORTS ON PROGRESS

Last evening's session of the Anglican Conference was a strictly social event. Over 250 people gathered in the Parish Hall of All Saints' Church, for a most enjoyable banquet in charge of the ladies of the congregation, who carried out all arrangements in the most attractive manner. The viands supplied were delicious, and were done full justice to by the visiting delegates, whose appetites had been sharpened by a sight-seeing automobile tour of the city shortly before. The banquet, commencing at seven o'clock, did not break up until after eleven, and was the jolliest of affairs. Short and humorous speeches, interesting branch reports, rousing choruses from the song sheets and selections by local talent, occupied the pleasant hours. The hall was prettily decorated by the ladies with pennants and flags, and the spotless tables were bright with gleaming silver and fresh flowers.

Miss Jean Horsefield, president of the district A.Y.P.A. local Council, acted as chairman, and, upon rising for an exceedingly brief speech, was greeted with rounds of enthusiastic cheering from the assemblage, and E. G. Brown, in a short report of the work of the Peterborough Council, paid a strong tribute to the work of Miss Horsefield and to that of Miss Graham, of Lakefield.

Toronto Activities.

An address that aroused a great deal of enthusiasm was the report of the work of Toronto Council, delivered by W. R. Sproule, the second vice-president. Mr. Sproule itemized various activities of the Toronto branches, such as the annual Lenten rallies, the annual dinners, picnics and summer camps, reported an awakening of interest all along the line in the work of the society, and spoke particularly of endeavors undertaken by the young people in work among the poor in the city. "The young people of to-day are the older people of to-morrow," said the speaker, "who knows what a wonderful power for good we may become, not only to our own Church, but to the Dominion."

Rev. Walter Cox.

The Rev. Walter Cox, of Toronto, is evidently a prime favorite with the young people. His address, "The A.Y.P.A. from the Rector's Point of View," a witty and attractive presentation of this angle of the organization, was greeted with much applause, which interrupted him constantly. Mr. Cox believes that in the A.Y.P.A. the Church has something worth while. He believes in it, and in its ability to "deliver the goods." It is a social organization as well as a religious one, but Mr. Cox reiterated his emphatic belief in the fallacy of always regarding the gloomy side of church work. "Living is our privilege in these days, not dying. Jesus Christ came to save us for life, not death, and the associations of young people show us what life is. The young people of to-day are the leaders of to-morrow."

The A.Y.P.A., according to the speaker, fills in the gap in church work between the Sunday School and the Church itself. It can be of great assistance to the rector in his work. "The parson," said Mr. Cox, "is one of the most misunderstood persons in the world, but the parson is a most necessary person. The world could not get along without him. He should stand in relation to his people as a father and a brother. We want to keep our youth, and it is by keeping in touch with the young people that we are going to do it. And, on its side, the A.Y.P.A. should contribute to the church life respect, obedience and ambition. The spirit of service in the name of the Lord should be its aim for, not only in the priesthood, but in the ministry of the laity, is there ample room for you 'to carry on.'" The speaker recommended as a slogan for the organization to "push ahead, and be loyal to your God, your church and your rector."

Presentation to Treasurer.

A. Callaway, of Hamilton, retiring president of the Dominion organization, paid a warm tribute to the work of Miss Woodhouse, of Dundas, the retiring treasurer, who has spent so much time (twelve years) in the performance of her duties, and presented her, in the name of the society,

MORE DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS OVER FAR EAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — (Canadian Press.)—Preliminary reconnoitering gave way to more direct negotiations to-day in the endeavour of the armament conference to find a solution for the problems of the Far East. Sitting as a special committee on the situation, the heads of the nine delegations went into conference to outline the respective policies. The ten points presented yesterday by Chian formed the basis of to-day's exchanges, and discussion is expected to bring out the opinions of the powers on the questions.

President of the Conference Hughes called a meeting of the United States delegates to-day at 2.30 for the purpose, it was understood, of discussing plans of the delegation heads for dealing with the Pacific and Far East questions.

GIVE US ROADS BEFORE TAXATION

SAYS O. M. L., SECRETARY OF PROPOSED GAS TAX

TORONTO, November 17. Canadian Press. — The Ontario Motor League has not yet defined its attitude towards the suggested 1 cent per gallon tax on gasoline.

"We take the position said the secretary to-day, "that the province should give us roads before increasing our taxation."

BRITISH CONSERVATIVES IN CONVENTION TO-DAY.

LIVERPOOL Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press)—A large number of Unionist leaders, including Austen Chamberlain, Government leader in the House of Commons, have arrived here to attend the conference of the Conservative Party to-day.

Most of the leaders who have arrived expressed themselves as being hopeful of achieving a settlement of the dispute between the two sections of the Party over the Irish negotiations despite the apparently great differences, provided they were not compelled to make premature disclosures regarding progress of the negotiations. The Unionist leaders are assuring the rank and file of the party that they insist upon the complete security of the British Empire and of Ulster They appear to be more apprehensive of aggression on the part of Andrew Bonar Law and Lord Carson, prominent Conservative leaders than of any possible agitation by the so-called "Die Hards."

Another good sign ,from the Government point of view, is the action of Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, in inducing his colleagues of the Northern Cabinet not to speak at the Ulster demonstrations in Belfast. At this request it was decided to substitute some of the lesser lights in the Ulster movement as speakers a last night's manifestations.

RIORDONS PREPARE FOR TO-DAY'S MEETING

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press.)—Creditors of the Riordan Company met here yesterday for discussion of the situation preparatory to the meeting to-day, when the question of extension of time by one year in which the company may meet claims, will be finally settled.

Gordon Scott, trustee for the creditors, and R. Montagu Davy, chairman of the creditors' committee, was present and answered a number of questions. The principal point brought out in the discussion was the fact that unless fifty per cent in number of the unsecured creditors of the company and a total of not less than two thirds in amount of the aggregate claims against the company, were registered in time for or during the meeting today, there could be no extension of time legally granted to the company. In that event it was stated that unsecured creditors might regard their claims as practically a total loss.

A Prayer For Life's Afternoon

Archdeacon Davidson concluded a sermon in St. John's Church on Sunday last from the text, "Things new and old" (St. Matt. xiii., 52) by urgently reminding the congregation that our religion was essentially concerned not with things but with a Divine Person Who linked the past with the present and future, "the same yesterday, to-day and forever." This final appeal was ended by the quotation of an unpublished verse of the well-known hymn, "Abide with me," which is subjoined, having been called for:

Thou on my head in early youth didst smile,
And though thoughtless and perverse the while,
Thou hast not left me, oft as I left Thee
On to the close, O Lord, abide with me!"

KIWANIS CLUB IS CHARTERED IN THIS CITY

CEREMONIES IN G. W. V. A. HALL LAST NIGHT—KINGSTON CLUB SPONSORED LOCAL ORGANIZATION.

ALD. FRANK WHITEHOUSE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

The Peterborough Kiwanis Club is now a chartered organization and led by a strong executive with fifty-eight chartered members working "tooth and nail" for Kiwanis, the future promises to be rich in good deeds by this new organization. Kingston Kiwanis Club, the sponsor of the local club, presented the charter, with some ceremony and amidst much good will in the G.W.V.A. hall last night. Peterborough is today the "baby" club in Kiwanis, but this honour will not last long, for the officers say a Kiwanis club is born every twenty-four hours.

Kingston sent sixty-two representatives in a special car that arrived here at 5.41. A torchlight parade, led by the Salvation Army Band, was held through the main streets, and by banners, yells and nocturnal music advised the citizens they were in town. The big banquet held in the G.W.V.A. hall, and attended by two hundred Kiwanians and their guests, began at 8 p.m., and the proceedings were not concluded till midnight.

Clubs Represented.

Not only were there many from Kingston, but there were also ambassadors with good wishes from Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, Guelph, St. Thomas and other clubs.

Hooper's catered and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. attended to the tables. To the President, Mrs. E. V. Frederick the fines taken in during the banquet were donated for the good work of the Auxiliary.

Presidential Duties.

President Frank Hoag, of the Kingston club, presided, till he transferred the duties to President Frank Whitehouse after the charter and gavel were presented. After honouring the King, President Hoag said: "I can assure you the Kingston club feel proud of their baby. I think the Kingston club may well be proud of the men in the Peterborough club. I wish here and now to tender them a hearty welcome into Kiwanis."

President Frank Whitehouse in reply said: "We are only a baby club, but I can assure you I feel a great honour in being its president." President Whitehouse praised the work of Rotary and expressed his regret that President Fred Roy had been unavoidably unable to attend. "We will try to live up to the ideals such as the carrying out of the golden rule. I hope it will not be long before we have an opportunity to visit you in Kingston.

Rotary Welcome Club.

Amidst a round clapping the President read a letter of welcome to Peterborough from the local Rotary club and greetings from Brantford, London, Montreal, Border Cities, Fred C. W. Parker, International secretary, Harry E. Kerr, International president, and from Quebec club. A St. Thomas Kiwanian announced they had sent three delegates to personally convey their greetings.

International Brotherhood.

George H. Ross, of Toronto, International trustee, brought the sincerest wishes of the International officers and in a fifteen minutes address dwelt on the high ideals of Kiwanis and the bond of fellowship between Canada and the United States, formed by this organization. The war changed the ideals of Kiwanis from commercial to altruistic he said. He told of the growth of Kiwanis in a few years to 600 clubs with 60,000 members.

Better Citizenship.

"Every Kiwanis club should get behind work that has for its object the making of better citizens and better conditions in the community," he declared.

He referred to the International convention to be held in Toronto next year and predicted it would be the best in the history of Kiwanis, but he said they would utterly fail

LOCAL CONCERN GETS CONTRACT FOR RED ARROW

CONSTRUCTION TO BE RUSHED TO COMPLETION IN 120 DAYS BY JOHN E. HAYES & SON, THIS CITY.

CAPACITY OF FIRST UNIT TO BE 500 TIRES

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held at the offices of Red Arrow Tires, Limited, 309 George street ,last evening the various tenders made by numerous contractors throughout the Dominion, for the erection of this company's factory building on North Water street, were opened. After considering them all very carefully the award was made to John E. Hayes and Sons of this city.

In an interview Mr. J. J. Turner, president of the company, stated:— "Now that the contract for the building of our factory has been let, We feel we have made considerable progress in the building up of a new and desirable industry for Peterboro. It will be 203 feet long and vary from 60 to 95 feet in width, and will contain approximately 50,000 square feet of floor space. It will be a daylight factory, built of red brick, with white brick pilasters, and will be of fire proof construction. The building for which we have just let the contract is our first unit. It will be built on the fore part of our property, allowing ample space between it and the river for an additional unit of like construction. It will have a capacity 500 tires and tubes a day.

"In designing this plant we have endeavored to have it most modern in every respect and all details which tend to provide the most satisfactory working conditions for our employees have been incorporated. All the most modern sanitary and safety features will be installed.

"The oficers and directors of our company are very gratified at the support received thus far from the citizens of Peterboro for our merchandizing plan under which the stock of the company is being sold to automobile owners. At the present time we have among our shareholders a great number of the prominent business men and merchants of our city, and it is our sincere desire that their support will be repaid through the success of our company. As we will employ 400 to 500 men when the first unit is in full operation it cannot help but react to the benefit of those who have assisted in making their employment possible."

The company this morning issued from the offices of the General Manager the following statement:

"The directors of Red Arrows, Limited, last night, awarded to John E. Hayes and Sons the contract for the erection of their new factory at North Water street and Hilliard street. Work on this building will begin at once and rushed to an early completion, as the contract calls for it to be finished on or before 120 days. The contract was let to the

REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says we must keep feet dry; avoid exposure and eat less meat

Stay off the damp ground, avoid less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occassionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the boyels and absorbed itno the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood af this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to elimate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to elimate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

TO-DAY'S NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

SOCIAL EVENING AT TRINITY CHURCH PARISH — PERSONAL MENTION.

MILLBROOK, November 6. — The entertainment and basket social held in the Trinity Church Parish Hall, on Tuesday evening, November 15, proved an unqualified success, even standing room being at a premium.

The Rector, Rev. Canon Allen, occupied the chair, making a brief address suitable for the occasion. The programme consisted of two choruses by the children, a couple of excellent dialogues entitled: "Bridget's Investment,' and "The Hoyden," two readings by Miss Olive Fallis in her usual well known style, and two well rendered solos by Mr. Gallagher of Zion, with encores. The words of one of his songs, "Why we have the U.F.O.," were composed by Mr. Gallagher himself and elicited much applause.

Mr. William Porteous acted as auctioneer, when the baskest (many of which were very artistically trimmed) were disposed of, filling the position admirably, and creating much merriment by his witty and timely remarks. Mr. Porteous certainly succeeded in gaining good prices for his wares, two baskets going as high as $2.80 and $2.75 each, and none going lower than 80c.

Mrs. (Canon) Allen was the accompanist for the evening's programme. The total receipts reached the satisfactory sum of $85

Mission Circle.

"The Golden Links" Mission Circle met on Tuesday evening, November 15th, at the home of Mrs. J. L. Byam. The president, Miss Ella Elson, being unavoidably absent through illness in her home, Mrs. Byam occupied the chair.

After the devotional exercises, business items were discussed, and four "Heralds" prepared for the "Watch Tower."Miss Marian Spence then read a most interesting letter from Miss Marian Coon, a daughter of the late Rev. C. H. Coon, at one time pastor of the Cavanville circuit, describing in a very entertaining and instructive manner, her first experiences after going as a missoinary to China.

Miss Bertha Hatherly also read a letter from Miss Olive, a W.M.S. worker in Japan. Miss Burnham gave a talk on "Present Conditions in China," and after the singing of a hymn, the meeting closed with prayer by the Superintendent.

A social hour followed, one feature which all particularly enjoyed being the toasting of marshmallows, and of course there was music, without which no gathering in Mr. Byam's home could be complete. Afterwards the Circleites dispersed to their various homes.

The Rector, Rev. Canon Allen, will have charge of services, and Mrs. Allen will preside at the organ. There will probably also be the usual harvest home decorations in the church.

The next meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Church, will be held on Monday, November 21st, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. John Allen. The Missionary Reading Circle will be on Friday afternoon of this week, at the home of Mrs. Westinacott.

FREIGHT RATE CUT OF 10 P.C. ON U.S. ROADS

RAILROADS TO EFFECT REDUCTION COSTING THEM $55,000,000 WITHOUT AWAITING FURTHER WAGE SLASH.

FOR SIX MONTHS' PERIOD

NEW YORK, November 17. Canadian Press. — An immediate reduction of ten per cent. in carload freight rates on farm produce for a period of six months, was agreed upon yesterday by the executives of the railroads of the United States.

In announcing the decision, Thos. De Witt Cuyler, President of the Association of Railway Executives, stated that any reductions in such rates made since September 1, 1920, were to be included in the 10 per cent., and that it would be put into effect without waiting for a reduction in wages. The freight rate cut will apply throughout the entire United States except on traffic moving wholly within the New England States.

It was expected that the new rate would be effective within ten days, as the railroads, it was said, had asked the Interstate Commerce Commission, through their general counsel, to authorize the change on one day's notice. The reduction will cost the railroads about $55,000,000, it was estimated.

The new rates are applicable to carloads of wheat, corn, oats, other grain, flour and meal, hay, straw and alfalfa, manufactured tobacco, cotton, cottonseed and products, except cottonseed oil, and cotton seed meal; citrous fruits, other fresh fruits, potatoes, other fresh vegetables; dried fruits and vegetables; horses and mules, cattle and calves, sheep and goats, hogs, poultry, eggs, butter and cheese and wool.

Ulster Declares Against Rule by South of Ireland

BELFAST, November 17 (Canadian Press). — Ten thousand Loyalists in three meetings last night emphatically protested against the British Cabinet's treatment of Ulster. Great enthusiasm was displayed.

The Lord Mayor of Belfast, presiding over principal meeting in the Assembly Hall, declared that Ulster never would be the vassal of a Sinn Fein Parliament.

Resolutions to this effect were adopted unanimously. These included a resolution confidently relying upon the Liverpool conference to repudiate the idea of placing Ulster under the dominion of an all-Ireland Parliament.

The mention of Lloyd-George's name was greeted with groans.

MASKED BANDITS GET SIXTY CASES OF LIQUOR

REGINA, Nov. 17. — (Canadian Press.)—After every precaution had been taken to prevent the raising of an alarm, which included the cutting of telephone wires, sixty cases of liquor were stolen from a liquor warehouse at Carnduff, Sask., Tuesday night by six masked bandits, who escaped, according to a report received at Provincial headquarters. The bandits, who are believed to have come from the United States, arrived in automobile and after loading the liquor took the employes of the warehouse to a point two miles from Carnduff, where they were liberated.

BRITAIN, JAPAN BOTH IN FAVOR OF "OPEN DOOR"

JAPANESE SUGGEST ALLIANCE OF BRITAIN, JAPAN AND U.S. AS SUDSTITUTE FOR ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE.

FRANCE TO BRING UP LIMITATION OF ARMIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.) — Four outstanding features of the official British viewpoint on China's proposals on the Far Eastern question were emphasized last night by the highest authorities:

Great Britain reiterates that she is in full agreement with the open door policy.

She regards the "spheres of influence" as antiquated and unsuitable to modern conditions.

The Panama Canal is not regarded as a specific question and will not be urged on the consideration of the conference.

The Anglo-Japanese Alliance is not regarded by the British as directly involved in the Chinese proposals for settlement of the Far Eastern questions, althouhg it may be drawn into the discussion at a later stage.

By the same authority, it was said that consideration of Far Eastern questions will proceed at once upon the basis of the proposition submitted yesterday to the "Big Nine" by the Chinese delegates. The various topics set out in the Chinese plan will be referred to experts for examination and it is the purpose to ring their reports before the full conference at the earliest practicable moment.

While the British viewpoint is that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance is not directly involved in any of the Chinese propositions submitted, the British would welcome some kind of an agreement between the Great Powers, or even one limited to the United States, Japan and Great Britain, to replace it. This is founded on the feeling that there is need for some co-operative action to regulate conditions in the Far East in the interests of peace and prosperity of the people.

No proposition concerning readjustment of foreign indebtedness to the United States resulting from the war will be advanced by the British delegates. Evidence that the subject is not in contemplation for consideration is afforded by the fact that there are no financial experts attached to the British representation here. In fact, there is every evidence that the British instructions contemplate a very strict adherence to the agenda proposed by the United States as a basis for the conference.

It is known that the French delegation is of the same mind, a fact which is believed to explain the expectations of both the British and French delegates, of a speedy and successful termination of the conference.

THE MAYORALTY RACE.

The announcement of the intention of Ald. J. J. Turner to offer himself as a candidate for the Mayoralty next year is a good augury for the coming municipal elections. Ald. Turner is a successful business man with a record of good service as a member of the Council, and whoever else may enter the contest it is a matter for congratulation that Mr. Turner is willing to place his business acumen and executive ability at the service of his fellow citizens. If more of the city's successful and capable business men were to show a similiar desire to discharge the full duties of citizenship, the problem of securing a businesslike administration of the city's affairs would be well on its way to solution. Mr. Turner is early in the field, and the announcement of his candidature will, as a result, arouse the citizens to a realization of the fact that the choosing of the city's governing board is a duty that is close at hand. It will be all the more welcome on that account.

THE PROPER COURSE.

Until some centralized system of relief work is devised, as suggested by The Examiner last night, the various church and social service organizations who include in their activities the furnishing of relief to those in need of assistance should consult Mr. F. H. Miller, the city's Relief Officer, before acting in any particular case. More than anybody else in Peterborough Mr. Miller knows where assistance is needed, knows the deserving cases from the imposters, and he alone can prevent over-lapping and the duplication of relief. Some societies have for years worked in conjunction with him and it would be well for the others to take advantage of his expert knowledge of the situation. Although it means more work for himself, Mr. Miller has always been anxious to co-operate with the various organizations, and in the present crisis it would be a prudent move for them always to get into touch with him when a distress case comes to their attention.

WE NEED THE SPIRIT.

About some sporting organizations there is that indefinable something that we call spirit, a vital force that makes wonderful teams out of only average material, and that results in the upset of first-class aggregations sometimes by outfits that on paper at least appear inferior. Most college teams have that spirit. Down in Kentucky there is a little college with fewer than 300 pupils whose football team, by sheer confidence in its own ability and the spirit which animates every member, has torn its way through every eleven that apposed it, even mighty Harvard having to admit defeat before these supermen of Centre College. It is spirit that makes a team play on when every last vestige of strength is apparently gone, when the opposition is almost sure to win and when nothing but defeat seems certain. It is spirit that has snatched victory in the dying moments of many a struggle on gridiron or rink. Poor teams become good teams when they are linked together by it, and good teams are by its influence made irresistible.

Something of that spirit is the aim of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. It is sadly needed here. Our various teams have not possessed it for some time, and they have, as a result, been beaten by adversaries not a whit more clever or capable. And our fans need it as well. We have not been pulling together and, as a result, we have been dropping behind. But the Athletic Association offers a way out, it offers a hope of an organization for which even playing members will deem it an honour to play, for which every citizen will be proud to cheer. It is the greatest step forward that Peterborough has ever taken in the world of athletics, and the community should be a unit in its support.

AN UNFAIR ARRANGEMENT.

In connection with the relief that is being furnished by the Federal Government to certain classes of returned soldiers there is an element of discumination that the public will have some difficulty in understanding. It is provided that only those soldiers who are on the pension list or who have received a course in vocational training are now eligible for relief. With the first class there is no fault to be found; most assuredly, men with a pensionable disability who are out of employment should receive help from the Government. But in the name of common sense why should the man who has had the benefit of vocational training be assisted to the exclusion of other returned men? One soldier on being demobilized has no other thought than to get back to civilian life and his old manner of living as quickly as possible, and, like the good citizen he is, he finds a job and goes to work. Soldier No. 2, not so keen on work, investigates the Government's vocational training scheme and sees an opportunity to get some easy money without much labour, and, accordingly, he applies for and receives six months' training with pay and allowances. Like everything else, the course must end sooner or later and he eventually finds himself expected to go to work. Sometimes he does so; in some cases he is unable or unwilling to accept a job. But, at all events, in the present unemployment crisis he is without a position; so, too, is his comrade who went straight to work instead of bothering about vocational training allowance. Soldier No. 1, who got none of the easy money, is unable to secure any relief from the Government, but No. 2, by reason of having a vocational course, is entitled to assistance for himself and his family. There is neither common sense nor justice in an arrangement of that kind, and the various organizations of returned soldiers are not alive to their duty if they do not bring the strongest pressure to bear in an effort to secure a more equitable distribution of Government relief.

INDUSTRIAL REHABILITATION.

Speaking of the scheme of industrial rehabilitation inaugurated by the United States the Kingston Standard says:

This plan of American industrial rehabilitation will make it next to impossible for a crippled man to become a public charge or the recipient of public or private charity. It will keep every man a producer and one able to earn his own living. It will in the end empty the poorhouses and make such institutions unnecessary. It will stop to a large extent the creation of the involuntary pauper. It is indeed a wonderful scheme pregnant with remarkable results and one which will go a long way towards solving the great problem of unemployment.

In Canada we have been applying this principle to the soldier, the man who was disabled by war and could not return to his former occupation If we are going to prevent the product of war from becoming public charges, it is only a logical step to apply the principle to the product of industries. The workmen's compensation act in force in Ontario is all right in its place, but it fails to touch the real situation. Compensation for the loss of a percentage of efficiency is not sufficient, because the largest amount conceded is not sufficient to maintain the crippled man. In many cases he cannot go back to his old job and is not fit for another. Very soon his compensation pittance is gone on one hand or it is insufficient to keep him on the other. The American act takes the crippled man and compensates him by training him for another place in the industrial life of his country, making it possible for him to maintain his self-respect and support himself and family without the shame of charity or the humiliation of a charitable institution. This act will take the crippled beggar off the streets and give him something better than selling bootlaces. It will create an army of producers augmenting the more fortunate who have escaped injuries and disabilities, and this is what we need. It is when the consumption exceeds production that prices are high because the demand is greater than the supply and the element of human selfishness takes advantage of such a situation demanding the highest prices. Increase the number of producers and we shall increase production, we shall create a condition where the supply is greater than the demand and as a consequence prices must drop.

Anything that will help to make every man a producer will build up a nation and help to make it strong. The elimination of poverty produced by disability will help to bring prosperity and satisfaction to the multitude, destroy unrest, make people contented, and fill the homes of the common people with sunshine and plenty.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

That sound you hear is the thud of Ald. J. J. Turner's hat dropping into the Mayoralty ring.

Sir Henry Drayton's favourite song these days is "Where Do We Go From Here?"

If the Fire, Water and Light Committee turns up with a surplus, the other Chairmen are likely to indict Ald. Morrison for unprofessional conduct.

In the old days the question never was, where the campaign funds came from, but rather where they were going.

The municipal campaign is now open, Ald. Turner having the distinction of beginning the annual sweepstakes.

INSOMNIA

"Doctor, I feel perfectly well. I have a good appetite, enjoy my food and seem to digest it perfectly. I seem to function in every way perfectly, yet when I retire, I cannot sleep; either I fall into a deep sleep, only to awaken an hour or two later and spend the balance of the night rolling and tossing about and listening to the clock tolling off the hours till morning, or else I lie awake until almost morning, finally falling asleep just about time to be getting up." How often has the doctor listened to this same story from patient after patient! The old orthodox physical examination reveals nothing. Blood-pressure, heart-sounds, stomach, liver and other viscera normal; reflexes undisturbed; urinalysis reveals nothing pathologic; still they just cannot sleep.

Osteopathic examination DOES reveal in these cases the presence of tightened spinal muscles and ligaments; vertebrae out of allignment and loss of motion in the spinal joints; the spine is tight and stiff; nerves are irritated and the circulation is disturbed and irregular; hence the restlessness and inability to sleep.

Osteopathic manipulation and adjustment will relieve these conditions and bring sleep to these patients. Seldom does it score a failure, but people who think that an insomnia of months, or maybe years standing, will be relieved in a week or so, may be disappointed. Give osteopathy time—time proportionate to the duration of the insomnia—and it will relieve 95% of these cases entirely. Remember, that no matter what the underlying cause of your sleeplessness, it has become in a measure a HABIT, and it takes time to cure a habit.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY REDUCING PERSONNEL

LONDON, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press.) — In connection with its policy of retrenchment in administrative expenditures, the British Admiralty has resolved to retire on pensions eighty naval captains and 200 commanders early next year, according to the Evening News. These retirements would not involve taking more ships out of commission, it was said, and if the Washington conference agrees on the United States naval restriction programme, further reductions in the Admiralty's personnel are contemplated.

Mackenzie King, the Liberal leader, referred to the world disarmament conference now under way at Washington as the outstanding event in the world's history. He drew a parallel between present-day conditions and those of 100 years ago, at the end of the Napoleonic wars.

Competitive armies led to slaughter, Mr. King declared, and he hoped the conference now under way would result in a new era of peace for the entire world.

TO RE-OPEN CASE OF SYRIAN IMMIGRANTS

QUEBEC, Nov 17—(Canadian Press)—Word was received in Quebec yesterday that the immigration department of Ottawa has decided to re-open a case which had been thought closed in regard to the refusal of admittance to a little band of Syrians, who, having travelled from the borders of the Holy Land were threatened with expulsion from Canada for the breach of a technicality in the immigration laws For weeks under lock and key this little group of foreigners, who came so many miles to form new homes among friends and relatives already settled here, have waited with vain hopes for some word of encouragement from the authorities regard ng their eligibility as future Canadian citizens. Once they were ordered deported, and only the actian of a lawyer secured by them delayed the execution of this "sentence"

The reason it is alleged, that this group, who came from Bierut, have been held up, is because they come to Canada direct from their home land. The reason why they did not buy this continuous passage, was, they state, because the agent in Syria was unable to sell it to them. Consequently they were forced to change at Marseilles. This constituted a serious breach of the Immigration Act and in consequence the little band were ordered from Canadian shores, the door was closed in their faces, and against their loud protestations. The world received yesterday opened fresh hope in their hearts and they are facing th future with more courage.

SCHOONER RUNS AWAY

VINAL HAVEN, Maine, Nov. 17 —(Canadian Press)—The three-masted British schooner Lucy R. demonstrated yesterday that a sprightly miss sometimes may go where she likes without men's direction. After her crew had abandoned her and rowed ashore Tuesday night when she grounded on Old Horse Ledge, she slid back into deep water and with all sails set bore off on the wind to the northwest tip of Matinicus where fishermen sighted her yesterday afternoon, aground again, and on beam ends.

The steam lighter Sophia was dispatched to the vessel's aid. The Lucy R. was built last year at Weymouth, N.S., and registers 128 tons. She is owned by James F. Rood of Halifax N.S.

FRANCE REFUSES TO NEGOTIATE WITH REDS

PARIS Nov. 17. — (Canadian Press).—The text of a note sent by the French Foreign Office to the British Embassy here November 8, in connection with the telegram of George Chitchern, the Russian Soviet Foreign Minister, annoucing that the Soviet Government was prepared to recognize Russia's debt prior to 1914 ,was published here yesterday.

The note declares that the Soviet Government, in its offer, is not making a concession which can be made the object of bargaining, but merely in applying a principle of universal right never contested by any government. It is pointed out that M. Chitcherin did not mention various financial obligations like war debts and municipality loans, prewar loans to companies, supported by the Russian Government and debts to companies the property of which was confiscated by the Soviet.

The note says that Soviet acceptance of international obligations should be marked by an abandonment of all Bolshevik propaganda all interference in the internal affairs of other countries, and all subventions to organizations hostile to foreign governments, or seeking to destroy the constitutions of other States.

France, the note asserts, is convinced that Russian economical activity cannot be reconstituted unless these conditions are realized.

CONTI AND HOPPE BOTH WON YESTERDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press).—Roger Conti, French billiard champion, yesterday won his first victory in three starts in the world's championship 18.2 balkline tournament when he defeated Jake Schaefer, Jr. 400 to 203. Conti had previously lost to Welker Cochrane, of San Francisco, and Willie Hoppe, holder of the championship title.

Conti played out in ten innings and would have finished in his ninth had he not missed an easy masse shot with four to go. Schaefer, (correct) the Chicago star, seemed to have trouble keeping the balls together while Conti exhibited his best work of the tournament. Conti's high run was 133.

Willie Hoppe, world's champion, won the second match when he defeated George Sutton of Chicago, 400 to 274. Hoppe played out in 10 innings with a high run of 186 in the last frame.

The match was one of the most hotly contested of the tournament.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs.

Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, become very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

DEEP SEA FISH WHO CARRY THEIR OWN SEARCHLIGHTS

Natural Organs That Light Up the Ocean's Darkest Depths

Deep Sea Fish Found Five Miles Below the Surface with a Twin Pair of Luminous Head-Light Organs

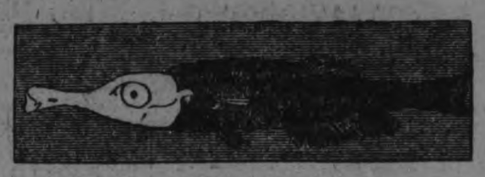
THE time-worn joke of the inveterate tippler who never lost his way home, even on the darkest night, because his luminous nose lighted him to safety, is brought to mind by the deep-sea fish which, moving in the black depths of 2000 fathoms of the Atlantic, goes on his way with sureness of movement, likewise lighted by his luminous nose.

The enormous pressure of the water at that great depth causes curious formations in the fishes. They are so fashioned that they do not mind being squeezed—in fact, they die when this process is relaxed. They cannot survive in shallow water, where there would be no necessity for their remarkable searchlight outfit.

The majority of these queerly shaped creatures are jet black, and, as one writer says: "Their luminous organs light up the dark regions they inhabit like flaming torches."

There are a variety of lighting schemes. Some have elongated snouts, on the tips of which are the lighting organs, which emit considerable volumes of light. Others have rows of luminous cells above and below their bodies, as in case of the deep-sea cannibal, with not only lights, but with reflectors and lenses, which serve the function of projecting light in any direction desired, just as a searchlight is operated on a warship.

Deep Sea Cannibal Who Can Swallow a Fish Larger Than Itself.



Deep Sea Fish Whose Head Is a Flaming Searchlight

There is one of these denizens of the deep whose head is a flaming searchlight—but please refrain from calling it a light-headed fish!—and its area of illumination gives ample opportunity to recognize friend or foe in time to stop and say "Howdy-do" or to make a quick getaway from a hungry foe on the forage.

Many of these pelagic creatures are extremely voracious and some are known to devour fishes several times their own size. This is possible because of their distended stomachs. The size of some of these meals would indicate they were the possessors of powerful digestive apparatus.

The specimens here shown were brought up from 1000 to 2000 fathoms by a trawl, and to preserve the extraordinary shapes a corps of artists quickly made casts of their bodies and copied their colors. When many of the deep-sea fish are relieved from their customary pressure they swell up and lose their serpentlike shape. Some of them puff up and burst.

Contrary to popular belief, animal life is quite abundant at 1500 fathoms. The sounding weight has reached the region of perpetual night, supposed to be void of all active animal life—5269 fathoms or 31,614 feet, nearly six miles. This distance exceeds the height of Mt. Everest, the highest mountain in the world, uplifting five miles into the clouds.

The Himalaya peak, crowned with silence and the eternal snow, could be sunk in the ocean, as sounded so far, and not a trace of it would be in evidence. It might also be dropped into a certain place in the Pacific and the most improved sounding apparatus might not even touch its crown-peak, for here, in the eastern ocean no plummet has ever reached the bottom. In speculating on these immense depths and on the unread mysteries of the sea, one realizes how easily a continent may have been engulfed and Atlantis may have been lost to the living world.

Here's an Air-Tight Inkwell

AN ink-stand which opens and closes automatically, and does not let the air reach the ink to dry it up, has been attempted for years, but a German inventor has produced it at last. It consists of a main reservoir (a) and the ink tank (b), connected by a canal (k). On the bottom of the curved surface of the reservoir is a knob (x), which tilts it backward. In the top of the ink-stand is a penholder filled with shot (f), where the stand is filled with ink as required.

The real cover of the ink-stand is a sliding plate (s), which moves on the axis (l), where it is balanced by a weight (3), which pulls it back when the stand is tilted forward. This tilting takes place automatically when the penholder is removed from f, thus opening the stand so that it is ready for immediate use. When the penholder is put back into its holder, the ink-stand tilts, the slide closes over the ink, and it cannot possibly dry up.

Unravelling the Mystery of Modern WORDS

By Adolph Roeder

WORD builders in ancient days must have been either geniuses or inspired. For their work certainly tells of a marvellous insight and an ability to forecast modern discoveries in psychology which borders on the miraculous

Take, as an instance some of the words which refer to personality. There are five that seem to group themselves about this idea. They are "Personality, Identity, Individuality, Character and Type."

If we begin with individuality and trace it back as far as it goes, we find that it expresses the idea of "an undivided something"—that is, a something which cannot be divided into various sections and layers, as can other parts of man's nature. For it is evident that intelligence, for instance, can be divided into thought, memory, association, imagination, concentration, reason, logic and a number of other organs and functions.

In the same way, and on the other hand, the emotional nature can be divided into impulses, sympathies, affections, loves and an almost endless array of inclinations. But back of all of these things, which a man can survey as from a gallery if his mind is trained at all, there is that Something which stands in the gallery and does the surveying. And that something is always the same.

It never varies. It has no parts. It somewhat resembles the old creed sentence concerning Deity, that He is "Without body, parts or passions." This undivided self our forebears, in their word building, called by the Latin word for "undivided"—namely, "individual."

But beside this they also noted that nature works in layers—not only in geologic layers, but in layers of mentality—and our recent discoveries of subconscious selves and secondary personalities and layers of identity have all been forecast by such words as "identity" in English, "auswendig lernen," or to learn by heart, in German.

Such words all involve the thought of different layers of human nature. The German, as can be seen from his expression "to learn outwardly," for to learn by heart recognizes memory work as being outwardly attached to character, and by "innewerden," or to perceive, he expresses the idea of interior mental activity.

In other words, he thinks of the mind as having at least two layers, one inner and one outer, and then proceeds, as did his Latin antecedent, to find that the functionings of these various layers have certain processes in common.

Take a few of these: If I examine into memory, I find immediately that memory works by association. That is, by placing one thing alongside of another. But if I examine thought I find that sustained thought does exactly the same thing. It puts one thing after the other.

And as soon as I have done that I find that I am reasoning, and that where I fail to do that I am imagining things. If I put things mental in order, I am concentrating, or thinking aut from a definite central concept.

In all these cases two factors prevail: first, that I am laying things in order, which in Latin is expressed by the word "in-struo," from which we make the word "instruction."

The second factor, which naturally follows, is the fact that the process goes on in several different life planes in the same way; that the same process goes on in different layers of consciousness. Hence the Latin suggested the term "idem-esse," or to "be the same," from which he built the word "identity." Whereby we discover that he thought of the inmost character of man as being an interior "undivided" or "individual" self, operating through various layers of consciousness in the same or identical manner, which created the word "identity"—meaning just this sameness of process, and hence the sustained and unimpaired true relationship between the various personalities composing the man.

Pioneer Miracle Workers

HOW many well informed persons have ever heard of John Walker Wilkins? He died during the close of 1913, practically unknown to the world, which day after day is bearing grateful testimony to the value of wireless telegraphy. Yet he was the first man in the world to transmit telegraphic signals through space.

Many of the world's great inventions began in the dreams of one man, who first did his part toward the realization of it and passed away Then another took up the work, and so on until a master mind fused the product of all into a glorious realization. The Scientific American makes this very point in commenting on the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals, which recently answered the question:

Who invented the flying machine?

The work of pioneers in air flight is cited and attention directed to the fact that—and this is the pivotal point of success—the Wrights were the first to recognize the necessity of using the vertical rudder in connection with the wing-warping mechanism, in order to prevent the skidding of the aeroplane in straightaway flight.

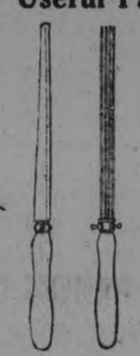
"Slight as that discovery seems, it made success possible where only failure was encountered before. This is the history of many other inventions Morse, Bell, Fulton and the rest, all of them seized the abandoned devices of their predecessors and combined them into commercial operative inventions. To the world at large it seems but a little thing to step in this manner from failure to success; yet only a master mind succeeds in grasping the true relation of a dozen mechanical devices, hitherto uncombined, and in uniting them in some brilliant invention for which the world is immeasurably richer."

This is true of wireless telegraphy and wireless telephony, without any disparagement of the splendid genius of Marconi, and the case of John Walker Wilkins, dead in England at the age of 86, well illustrates the general proposition. When Wilkins was only 18 years old he was appointed superintendent of the Northampton and Petersborough telegraphs. So capable was he that a few months later he was made superintendent of the lines, which had been extended from Hull to Fleetwood and from Rugby to Newcastle.

It was at this time that he experimented with induction telegraphy and succeeded in sending messages from one wire to another 120 feet away. It is true that his system had nothing to do with wireless telegraphy as we know it, in which the Hertzian waves are employed, but it did mark the first attempt at space telegraphy, and he did demonstrate that such an achievement was possible.

Many men have worked on the proposition since, and the Italian master has brought it to its present wonderful efficiency, just as the Wrights have done in solving the problem of air flight. Had Wilkins continued his work who knows to what a stage he might have brought it? But, unfortunately, he ceased his activities in telegraphy shortly after visiting the United States in 1851, and turned to engineering work. And yet in that first demonstration, as his signals flashed through the 120 feet of space that intervened between the two wires, he might have vaguely glimpsed the magnificent future of which his experiment was only an humble earnest!

Useful Paper Cutter



YOU can cut the leaves of your books four times as fast now as you could heretofore, for Dr. J. Scheib of Tannenberg, Ger., has invented a manifold book opener with four blades instead of one. All that is necessary is to slip the ends of the four blades into four pages and slice all four edges at once.

He has a device in the handle for drawing the blades close together so as to make the operation easy and expedite the operation. It requires but a few minutes to learn how to use this multiple knife, and then the leaves of the book are opened very rapidly and neatly.

Toad and Spider as Pets

THE attendant at "The Devil's Hole," one of the odd sights of Bermuda, calls to the fishes, and from the black depths of the pool they come flashing to the surface eager to be fed. Which leads Etienne La Comba, a French writer, to ask whether fish can reason. Whether or not they can, they nevertheless display a degree of intelligence that is frequently amazing.

The Acrobatic Spider.

The nature historian at Winsted, Ct., whose marvellous records have given novelty and variety to the otherwise conventionalized first pages of the American press, has told of singing, whistling and tangoing fishes, which, should the records be accepted without question, would indicate that the fish is so nearly human that a sympathetic diner must feel like a cannibal on Fridays.

The toad is not a fish, but it associates with fish, is some swimmer, and many persons are of the opinion that it is superior in intelligence to the fish. Here, for example, is the picture of a toad—called Tango Toadie because of its dancing qualification—that can distinguish the voice of his mistress from that of the man head of the house.

In answer to the pleasing feminine tone the toad emits a faint sound of pleasure; when it hears its master's voice it gives vent to a contented croak. Numerous tests have failed to make it vary in its responses.

The "Tango Toad."

A British writer in commenting on this very toad, reminds us that there is scarcely a living creature that cannot be tamed and made companionable; "even the 'toad, ugly and venomous,' as Shakespeare says, 'wears yet a precious jewel in its head,' and is worthy of care and affection, which he will repay. He soon comes to know the hand that feeds him, and the same is the case with reputed dangerous spiders."

The spider here shown, in what appears to be an acrobatic act, is really showing evidences of appreciation at being handled by his owner. One is apt to conclude that as a cosey, coddling pet, it would not be a success. But tastes differ, just as men and women differ; for, whereas the ordinary man or woman would shudder to have this Arachne pet crawl affectionately on his or her cheek, the owner of the spider would be apt to feel proud that the spider had the nice judgment to know just where to place its manifestation of friendship A spider of such discrimination would very naturally kiss a maid on the lips, but—then you would have to find your maid!

A CIGARETTE a Foot Long

CIGARETTE smoking has been practically a general habit among women of all classes in India for centuries. In Europe or America, when a lady smokes, she usually selects a very dainty brand, and some of the cigarettes made especially for the trade are scarcely thicker than knitting needles. The taste in India runs to much larger brands.

The curious white cylinder shown in the accompanying photograph is not a length of pipe, as might be imagined, but a very popular brand of Burmese cigarette. This is the cigarette made famous in Kipling's poem, "The Road to Mandelay," which he describes as a "whacking white cheroot." It was purchased on the steps of a temple where these cigarettes find a ready sale.

The ladies—and some of them are mere children—buy these cigarettes for a trifling sum and smoke them as they worship before the various shrines. It is a very common sight to see a girl making her genuflections cigarette in hand.

The cigarette measures a trifle more than an inch in diameter, and about one foot in length. The tobacco used is of the poorest kind, very poorly cured, and much of the material bears a suspicious resemblance to cabbage. A thin piece of tin foil is wrapped around the one end by way of mouthpiece.

WEEDS as a FOOD Economy

A SCIENTIFIC writer suggests weeds as one of the remedies for the high cost of living. The dandelion, he says, has long been used for human food, and, properly prepared, is grateful even to the fastidious taste.

The same statements apply with more or less force to milkweed, yellow dock, red clover, sour grass and golden thistle. These are all good as vegetables or salads or both. They contain quite as much of the mineral elements as the vegetables usually cultivated, and, as sources of nitrogen, are even superior to many salads now in common use.

He thinks man is consuming only an infinitesimal portion of the really edible and nutritious weeds, and suggests that those now eaten be improved by cultivation, while a search be made for others that may serve equally well for food.

It will be recalled that it took many years to transform the "love apple," which was regarded only as an ornament, into the tomato which everybody uses as food. The mushroom has a similar history.

It seems quite reasonable to suppose, therefore, that a general and scientific investigation of the food value of weeds, especially of those which are more common, would yield very valuable results. The facts seem to show that it would not only enlarge and diversify the human dietary, but materially decrease the cost of living.

Why OIL Stills Troubled Waters

LITERALLY as well as figuratively, to pour oil upon the troubled waters is to calm them to a degree. This has been known from time immemorial, although its scientific explanation is not any too familiar even at the present day. The secret of the phenomenon lies in the fact that oil is extremely viscous. That is to say, it is of a ropy consistency, sticky and adhesive, and can be spread out into a very thin but comparatively strong sheet.

In lubricating a bearing, for instance, it forms a tenuous film between the metals and so protects them from the wear of direct contact with each other.

Oil is lighter than water, and when poured upon it, remains upon the surface. As the surface tension of water is stronger than that of oil, the oil is immediately drawn out over the water in a very thin body, forming a sort of a blanket, which presents considerable resistence to the motions of the element beneath. The water waves still roll almost as high as before, but they are unable to break into ripples, so that the stormy sea, when oil-covered, presents a surface of huge undulations, but smooth ones.

Ships are able to ride such waves with comparative ease. It is the waves that break that present the real danger to the mariner.

Impossibility of a Sex War

ALARMISTS everywhere are prophesying a sex war. They picture men and women as eyeing one another like dogs keen for fight, prepared to snarl over the few bones provided by churlish fate. Presently we may experience a state of affairs such as existed in the time of Amazons, which "The Spectator," 200 years ago, described for the delectation of its readers.

The men and women of a country quarrelled about votes or something, and finally settled their differences by each party taking a separate portion of the land for its exclusive property, and never seeing the other except at an annual meeting in a prescribed spot on the boundaries of the two states.

Both sexes were thus at liberty to organize their dominions as they pleased, and all careers, from a navvy to a prime minister, from a cook to a queen, were open to everybody.

Presently, however, so we are told, the women kept their prettiest frocks for the annual meeting, the men hoarded their gains to furnish entertainments for the fair strangers, and in the end both discovered the rest of the year so dull in comparison with the period of union, that they decided to return to the old ways and live together.

History does not record which sex capitulated first, though the suffragettes dare hardly hope the women held out longest, or they would surely have secured better terms for themselves, unless, indeed, "men were deceivers ever."

"Railroad" Baseball

STEPHEN H. WILLS has invented a semaphore signal which will announce to the eager "fans" just the moment a runner touches a base, but there is not unnaturally a question whether it will ever become popular in baseball. The umpire draws a big salary for having an eagle eye, and, besides, he furnishes the flesh and blood element to the game which is the very soul of it.

Hogs' brains are being bought on an extensive scale by a company in Denmark from the abattoirs of that country for use in making lecithin and collestrin, which are exported to Germany and Switzerland for use in medicine.

The remarkable drop in the prices asked for projectiles by the various American manufacturers has resulted in a saving to Uncle Sam this year of more than $1,000,000.

Preferred HEROINES

WE moderns are popularly supposed to have been the first to profess admiration for the strong-minded woman, whom we proudly or derisively call the "new" woman. Yet if we study history, and not merely hearsay, we find that the heroines of the world were by no means gentle, submissive creatures.

Electra, whom the ancients exalted far above her milder sister, Chrysothemis, would certainly have been a suffragette, had she lived in this century, her sense of justice was so developed as well her powers of imperious persuasion.

Cleopatra, Hypatia, Joan of Arc, however diverse otherwise, were at least alike in rebelling against authority and following their own way.

Rowena would have seemed more attractive had she eloped with Ivanhoe, and we all prefer the nobler Rebecca, who nearly died a martyr because she was among the first lady doctors.

From time immemorial courage and spirit have been extolled, and justly so, too. People who feel deeply cannot always be passive. They wish to control destiny, not to be controlled by it, and sometimes they actually succeed in their desire, through their very refusal to accept the inevitable.

Obedience is apt to be often overrated virtue which may be the result of indifference or laziness, a mere craving for peace at any price, instead of a genuine and unselfish humility.

Non-Inflammable Movies.

NEPTUNE, being the god of the Seven Seas, very properly comes to the aid of the moving picture in banishing the menace of fire, but he does not offer water—sea-weed is the thing. From this an English experimenter has found that a product called "algin" can be extracted. It is used in the manufacture of non-inflammable films and in the treatment of paper to make it waterproof, flame-proof and germ-proof.

EPIDEMIC OF CHRISTMAS BAZAARS SWEEP OVER PETERBORO' CITY AND THE DISTRICT

A GOOD DEAL OF WORK IS INVOLVED IN THE SUCCESSFUL CONDUCT OF A BAZAAR—THE PUBLIC RESPONDS GENEROUSLY

The usual outburst of Christmas bazaars is taking place just now. There are bazaars being held or to be held in numerous places before the holiday season sets in, in good earnest. A good deal of work is involved in the successful conduct of a bazaar. It takes a lot of thoughtful consideration and an equal amount of hard work. The ladies in charge have to think of so many small and large details, and the human element that enters so noticeably in any dealings of a feminine nature has to be forestalled and possible disagreements guarded against, for nerves are frazzled and tempers distinctly on edge during the trying days of an undertaking of this sort.

The public who respond so generously to affairs of this kind doesn't receive as much thanks as is coming to it. There are people without number who will co-operate heartily with a movement of this sort, help in any way possible lend articles, give sundry pretty and useful things, give money and encouragement, and then attend the affair and leave some more money to swell the coffers of the church, society or organization getting it up.

Tuesday afternoon of this week, yesterday afternoon and evening, saw the annual bazaar of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society; today and tomorrow the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Church are having their bazaar, November 23, 24 and 25th sees a sale of candy, cooking and fancy articles at 173½ Hunter Street under the auspices of the Women's Association of Murray Street Baptist Church, November 24th and 25th are the dates set for the annual Christmas fair of the Ladies' Aid Society of George street Methodist Church, on November 25th and 26th, the Rebekah section of the Oddfellows society will hold their bazaar; 57th Regimental Chapter I.O.D.E. to be held in the Y.M.C.A., from December 5th to the 9th, the Catholic ladies of the city will have charge of a bazaar in the Market Hall, on December 8th, the Women's Guild of St. Luke's will hold a sale of Christmas goods, and the Trinity Mission Circle will hold a sale of Christmas goods, and the Trinity Mission Circle will hold a bazaar early in December also, in the Reid street hall.

The Salvation Army are working hard to pay off a mortage of over thirty years' standing, and will hold a big sale of work and all sorts of second-hand articles next week.

Taking them all around, it looks as if most of the feminine fingers in the city, at least those with any sort of church affiliation whatever will be busy with for some time to come with the thousand and one small articles of a useful or fancy nature that go to make up sales of this sort.

PETERBORO' WOMEN'S CANAD'AN CLUB TO HOLD THE FIRST MEET.NG THIS SEASON

The Women's Canadian Club holds its first meeting for the season at the Public Library on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Elections will be held, and a change in the executive of the society has been announced. The ladies are anxious that new blood should be injected into the personnel of the society, and extend a cordial invitation to every woman who has not yet joined to attend this meeting and become a member. There should be an increase of interest in this fine organization this year, as a number of fine speakers will probably be available during the coming season. Some of the members are anticipating being able to secure Miss Helen Fraser of England, one of the outstanding women lecturers of the day who delivers an address on "Personalities of Public Men of Great Britain," and was the recent feature at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club in Toronto.

Last year's programme was excellently thought out, including some fine lectures from eminent Canadian speakers: Dr. Gilmour, of McMaster University; Professor Wrong of Toronto; Professor Morrison and Captain Roy of Kingston; Professor Smyth of Montreal; Dr. Orchard of Port Hope, and Mrs. Becker of Toronto.

BLISS CARMAN

A New York paper of recent date chronicled the address given by Bliss Carman, at a gathering which numbered one thousand persons in the New Scence building on Broadway. It says: "To hear Bliss Carman", 'poet born', born Canadian, and international literary man whose work as long as thirty years ago, assured his immortality was the privilege of and audience etc.

"Though recently in delicate health, the poet's physical aspect was a surprise to everbody. More than 60 years of age, Dr. Carman has hardly a gray hair. Long and lean, with his years of outdoor life in the woods and on the streams showing in the weather wrinkles on his face and neck and in certain bleached look about the edges of his thick, reddish-brown hair, the poet walked to his place with the calm stride of the habitual and joyous pedestrian. When reading, he held his head up well looked levelly and pleasantly at his audience, and, without raising his tone, "threw" his voice so well that it reached the farthest hearers.

It will be remembered that Dr. Carman was to have spoken before the Canadian Club here last winter, butt through some mischance, the plans for his appearance miscarried.

About Fashions

Lattice work trimming is extremely popular in Paris.

Carved French ivory costume jewelry is the latest in novelties being brought over by importers.

Hip length sport coats, called "flapper" coats, are being made up in tan caracul and American broadtail, trimmed with contrasting fur.

When jet ornaments are used on hats they are in form of the pointed front of the Russian headdress and are placed directly against the front of the crown.

Black gloves, especially in long models are being shown. Gauntlets are also popular, displaying heavily stitched backs with crochet embroidery and cord treatment.

Fabric and color combinations are very popular in the new blouses. These combinations are often effected by having blouse and sleeves made of different materials and colorings. A black crepe satin blouse in tunic style and about hip length has sleeves of raspberry colored chiffon. Another, gray crepe de chine, has sleeves of the long peasant type made of strips of georgette in different colors, worked out in a sort of rainbow effect.

A HINT ABOUT PERFUMES

If you have sachets of some current popular scent, see that it agrees or at least harmonizes with your liquid perfume, says Delineator. Sachets make pleasing gifts. Little girls just beginning to take an interest in a dainty bureau may be encouraged by the addition of a lavender or violet envelope in each drawer, or even one in the crepe paper padded linings, quilted with ribbon, with sachet discreetly between cotton layers.

The odor of oily hair is often unpleasant to others, and even to ourselves. Hair-dressers who do not believe in too much shampooing sift orris-root powder through the oily hair, brushing it out afterward with a strong, clean brush. This not only removes the greasy smell, but also the oil itself, leaving the hair fluffier and far more managable. The brushing out is important. Decided brunets, however, will find that, unless they brush very persistently, the process is apt to leave dark hair dusty-looking. With blondes it does not show.

Still another odor—which, even in these days of women smokers we notice about men rather than women—is the stale tobacco odor in clothes. It can be most unpleasant for those who do not smoke and whose sense of smell is therefore not immune. After an evening in a group where people are smoking or the strong stale-smoke odor on one's dress in one's hair the next morning. Sun and air are the best remedies for clothes, as for a room and for the hair a shampoo.

TO FINISH EDGE

To work a simple crocheted edge around any article, such as baby's pique coat, which is too thick to push the crochet-hook through easily take a sewing needle and work button-hole loops all around, having them about a "space" apart or the distance you wish the little scallops to be, and crochet into the loops.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S. Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

"I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we recommend our

"ALL MEN LIARS ARE," SAID ST. PAUL

An evangelist announced to the congregation that on the following evening he would preach on the subject of "Liars." In preparation for the sermon he requested his hearers to read the sevententh chapter of Mark.

The following evening he began: "As announced last night I shall speak this evening on 'Liars.' But first I want to know how many of you have read the seventeenth chapter of Mark, as I requested."

A hundred or more hands shot up in all parts of the church.

"Good!" exclaimed the evangelist, beaming with gratification.

"I am glad to see so many of you here. You are the very people I want to talk to. There is no seventeenth chapter of Mark."

It is claimed that American women get more fun out of life than English women.

TO-DAY'S FASHIONS

INTERESTING FROCK

Caracal trims this frock of gray duvet de laine that is cut in such quaint lines. Pelerine collar, wide upper sleeve with the tight fitting under one are interesting touches. The long panels over each hip are pleated on in "cartrage" fashion. The panels, by the way, are longer by two inches than the skirt itself.

REMEMBER AUTHOR

The author of 'In Flanders Fields' who wrote his heart-touching poem with the Angel of Death probably hovering over his pen, and the grim Reaper looking over his shoulder while he composed his touching tribute to the boys he loved, has been remembered in a song "To John McCrae" written by L. J. Dunnett, of Aylmer, Ont.

—Sleepwell, brave heart, with comrades true and tried,
For list'ning ears have heard your clarion call;
Its ringing notes have found a quick response
And thrilled the hearts and nerved the hands of all.

The flaming torch you proudly bore aloft
Until death struck it from youf nerveless hands;
Still with its steady radiance gleams afar,
Caught up and carried by devoted bands.

So where the scarlet poppies bob and bend
Calmly and sweetly sleep, while overhead
The soaring larks above the cannon's roar
Sing a last requiem for the hero dead.

BRACE UP-BRUSH UP-DON'T WORRY-SMILE

The world knows but little of failures and care less. The world watches the successes.

Stop worrying over things that can't be helped and go do things that can be done.

Few people care a continental for your failure. Few, if any will help.

You may sit and magnify your mistakes, mourn and go mad over your blunders, but men will only smile that cynical smile and say of you, "He's no good."

Self-pity, sympathy-soliciting, wishing and wailing will only let you down lower.

Brace up. Brush up. Think up. And you will get up. Think down, look down; act down, and you will stay down.

Paint your face with a smile. Advertise that you are a success. Then think and work for it.

Whatever you think you are worth, is the price they will pay.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

Rings of ripe olives are decorative and tasty in chicken soup.

Stuffed leg of pork is good served with cooked cabbage and carrots.

Pencil marks on boys' cuffs should be removed with an eraser before sending the garments to the laundry.

Skin grapes, remove the seeds and insert nut meats; serve on lettuce with French dressing containing grapejuice.

Leftover pimentos may be chopped and added to scalloped potatoes or any creamed dish. They give the dish a delicious flavor.

Linen or canvas curtains that are decorated with stenciled borders will wash if the washing is carefully and quickly done.

Before cleaning out the fireplace sprinkle a handful of tea leaves among the ashes. The ashes will be easier to lift and the dust will not fly about the room.

Work smooth one small cream cheese. Beat into it French dressing to which a little onion juice and chopped parsley have ben added. A delicious dressing.

DON'T BE A PESSIMIST

Don't be a pessimist.

Don't fall into the evil habit of grouching and of grumbling.

Don't be eternally criticisizing and finding fault. If you must criticize, be a constructive critic; don't be that paltry pest, a destructive critic.

All change isn't improvement; all movement isn't progress. Sometimes it's a good thing to hustle leisurely—paradoxical as the suggestion may sound. It's right to push hard; but we want to be careful to push from the rear—not from the front. Let's be sure we're right; then go to it—but sensibly, serenely.

But morn is on the way—

Constructive criticism is beneficial. It makes the desert blossom with roses; it makes two blades of grass grow where none grew before; it makes the heart bound with hope and high endeavor. It does things—and laughs over the task. But destructive criticism is ruinous. It consists largely of a disputatious waste of time; it results in bickering, badgering and calling names; in creating confusion and misunderstanding; in encouraging dangerous discontent and engendering class hatred. It loafs on the job—and whines because it has a job.

Don't grouch.

Let's all go over to the camp of the constructives.—Selected.

Irritated and Annoyed

IT CHEERS THE INVALID

By all means let the pretty things presented to the convalscent be rose colored. Nothing has such a strong phychological effect in the sickroom with a later physical reaction of benefit to the discouraged invalid. No pale blue or lilac bed jacket can do the good that a lovely rose colored one will accomplish. Rose color lends a becoming flush to sallow skins and is flattering to dark and fair women alike. Real rose color is meant—not any pale flesh pink or shell pink, but rich rose shade.

A rose colored corduroy robe with a lap-spread to match bound with silk cord will put new zest for living into any convalescent. She might simply continue to be limp and languid in pale pink or blue—but she has to rise to that rose color! An enchanting bed jacket is of rose colored chiffon, ruffled all around the edge and mounted over white silk, and the cap to go with the jacket is of white silk striped with rose ribbon and smartened by a black velvet bow.

A warm knitted shoulder scarf, delightful for a convalescent is made of rose shetland wool. The scarf is 22 inches wide and almost two yards long and has a dropstitch stripe every four inches and long knotted fringe on the ends

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN

The sexes in Japan are equally divided as to numbers.

The University of Rio de Janeiro, one of the foremost institutions of higher education in Brazil, has opened all the positions on its staff to women.

New women students this year at the Charing Cross Hospital Medical School in London slightly outnumber the men.

Many Paris surgeons are accumulating fortunes by performing a new operation on women with figures too developed for the straight cut dresses of to-day.

Let Children Vote

Offer them plain bread or raisin bread. See which they select, and why

Some day, soon, do this:

Offer raisin bread and plain bread, side by side, to your boy or girl.

Note how the little hand at once selects the bread with raisins.

The flavor first attracts them—they know the deliciousness of raisins.

Unconsciously they know too that these raisins are good for them.

Every normal child craves sweets naturally, and should have them. Here are Nature's own sweets, the kind they should have—practically pre-digested and rich in vital iron.

The iron builds up healthy blood—lasting vitality for play or study.

Children need but a small lot of iron daily, yet that need is vital.

Healthful foods sometimes must be forced on children.

Not so raisin bread. They choose it for themselves. Just try and see.

Delicious raisin bread and raisin pie are sold by bake shops and groceries everywhere. Buy of them to save baking at home. Real Raisin Bread is made with lots of raisins. Insist on it. First-class bakers do not stint.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins, made from California's finest table grapes—American raisins, processed and packed immaculately in a great modern California plant.

Seeded (seeds removed); Seedless (grown without seeds); Clusters (on the stem). Also a fine, ever-ready dessert.

CONSIDER FIRST BREAK OF COVENANT OF LEAGUE

PARIS, Nov. 16. — (Canadian Press.)—The Council of the League of Nations met here to-day to consider the first accusation of covenant breaking since the League came into force. The case is that of Jugo-Slavia, whose troops have been charged with invading the territory of Albania.

LABOUR PRESENTS QUESTIONS TO CANDIDATES IN ELECTION

EXPECT WRITTEN REPLIES TO THEIR INTERROGATORY WHICH IS BEING MAILED TO LOCAL PARTY LEADERS--INDORSE ALD. CROWE'S CRITICISM.

Ald. Crowe's criticism of Ald. Morrison's expense account in connection with his trip to Three Rivers and Quebec last summer on the occasion of the firemen's convention was endorsed by the Trades and Labor Council last night. Some of the delegates expressed the opinion that the Aldermen should file itemized statements of their expenses.

The following letter was received from the Central Labor Council of Los Angeles, and after a careful consideration of the request the delegates decided that if the "feature" picture mentioned is announced for Peterborough at any time they will endeavor to prevent its showing:

To the Peterborough Labor Council:

Since July 15th we have sent you numerous appeals for moral assistance in our fight against the reduction in wages and increase to ten-hour day in the Los Angeles Moving Picture Studios.

This letter is a request for further assistance in fighting the Lasky Famous (?) Players Co., who are the stumbling block and stand in the way of a settlement between the other studios and organized labor.

This corporation might justly be called the Lasky Infamous Players Co., because of the reputation they have gained in their efforts to crush organized labor and the utter disregard for the law which some of their infamous stars have shown.

One of them, "Fatty" Arbuckle, is now indicted for manslaughter in connection with the death of pretty Virginia Rappe after the most disgusting orgy which the Pacific Coast has known for years.

Another one of them, Bebe Daniels, was arrested in Orange County, California, January 19th, 1921, for violating the speed laws, and on March 29th she was convicted and sentenced to jail. On April 6th she appealed, but on April 16th she surrendered and served her sentence.

The Lasky Famous (?) Players Co. are now capitalizing her violation of the constituted law of the land by portraying her as a heroine in a picture called "The Speed Girl," which was made in the studio that attempted to reduce wages $1.00 per day, put a ten-hour day in effect, and locked out all union men.

The Lasky Famous (?) Players Co. will attempt to defy the American public and ridicule justice by showing Bebe Daniels in "The Speed Girl" in your community.

Brothers, we ask you to help fight this outrage. Go to the bat with your theatre owners, church federations, mayor and city government and make them prevent the showing of this picture in your city. If necessary, create a board of censorship to do it.

Union men everywhere should rise in protest against the outrage. Reckless driving is a practice which we should make an attempt to stamp out for the usual result is the mangled, bleeding bodies of the workingman's children laying in the streets after the guilty speeders have escaped without even rendering assistance to their victims.

Do this for us and teach this wealthy corporation who capitalizes violations of the law a lesson.

Advise us what action you take in this matter. Failure to receive a reply from you will indicate that you have thrown this appeal in the waste basket.

Thanking you for past favors,
I remain, yours fraternally,
John S. Horn, Secretary.

Interview Candidates.

Although Labor is not nominating a candidate here in this election, and is unrepresented as a class in most of the constituencies, the Trades and Labor Congress has prepared an interrogatory which is being delivered to the candidates through the local councils in the hope of securing a definite understanding of the support Labor may expect from the members of the next Parliament. Of the eleven questions on the cards which have been mailed to G. N. Gordon and J. H. Burnham, are the following:

Will you initiate or support the enactment of legislation for a maximum legal working day of eight hours and forty-four hours per week?

Are you favorable to giving the Dominion Labor Department full control over fair wage clauses in Government contracts and the insertion of such clauses in all work undertaken by the Government or financed by it?

Will you support the retention by the Government of present nationally owned railroads, merchant marine and other public utilities and the extension of this principle whenever possible?

Do you favor the Government retaining control of the development of natural resources, such as oil fields, mines, etc.?

Are you favorable to taking the tariff out of the political arena by the establishment of an Independent Tariff Board on which Labor is fully represented?

Will you support the raising of the necessary taxation by direct methods such as through the income tax, taxation on land, inheritance tax, etc.?

Will you initiate or support legislation for the abolition of the present Senate and the substitution thereof of an elective body?

Are you favorable to the exclusion of all Asiatics?

Will you initiate or support legislation for the proportional representation with group constituencies in Federal elections?

Will you initiate or support legislation for the creation of: (a) National unemployment insurance? (b) Old age pensions (c) State insurance for sickness and disability?

Are you in favor of the restriction of military and naval expenditure with the ultimate goal of total disarmament?

Ask Other Provinces.

Acting upon a suggestion by Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., the Council decided to send a circular letter to all the Labor unions in Canada, urging them to bring pressure upon their Provincial legislatures to co-operate with the Province of Ontario and under the auspices of the Dominion Government in calling a conference at which the Labor legislation adopted in the Versailles Treaty may be discussed with a view to implementing all or part of it simultaneously in all the provinces of Canada.

ELECTION NEWS

Mr. J. H. Burnham's meeting at Buckhorn last night was largely attended, many ladies being present Mr.. J. V. Weir occupied the chair. Mr. Strickland and Mr. McElderry accompanied the candidate.

In opening the meeting J. F. Strickland briefly outlined the policy of the three parties before the people in this election contrasting strongly the consistency of the policy of the government and to some extent that of the progressive party with the absolute inconsistency of the policy enunciated by the liberal party and as warped by the Honourable Mr. King from one constituency to another throughout the Dominion. the leaders of the parties were also contrasted and Mr. Gordon was complimented for his vigorous defence of Mr. King's career from 1914 on and Mr. Gordon was also taken to task for his failure to stand behind the policy of which he was one of the framers in the liberal convention in 1919 and for his announcement that he was not bound by any policy and for practically disowning the leader who came into this riding to his assistance in the by-election.

Mr. V.. J. McElderry dwelt particularly on the plank in the Progressive Platform, which provides for the abolition of Tariff on Agricultural Implements. His argument being that this would lead to the dumping of Agricultural Implements on the Canadian Market from High Tariff Countries, which would result in defeating the very aim which the Progressive Party hope to attain by free Agricultural Implements, namely, that when our Domestic Industries had been stifled, by unfair competition with protected Foreign Industries, Foreign Manufacturers from High Tariff Countries could charge what they pleased for their implements.

The United States

Mr Burnham spoke of the marvelous growth of the United States in wealth. It had in its treasury one-half of all the gold in the world and no other nation's currency stood at the same high level. All other counries including Canada paid no less than from twelve to seventy cents premium on every dollar's business with the U.S. and if Canada adopted a lower tariff and bought more from the U. S. we would soon pay a premium of not twelve cents an the dollar as at present but of twenty and thirty. And when to that disastrous state of affairs we add that the U.S. as demanded first by the U. S. farmer has shut us out by a high tariff it is surely plain that we must develop and rely upon our own country or go to the wall. And since Britain has become highly protective higher than ever Canada was there remains no longer any excuse for the worn-out theories of free trade and near-free trade.

PULP, PAPER INDUSTRY TO BE BIGGEST FACTOR IN STABILIZING EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press).—The "pulp and paper industry in Canada is so steadily increasing that it is now the most important factor in bringing the Canadian dollar back to its hundred per cent. value", declared J. N. Stephenson, editor of the Pulp and Paper magazine here to-day.

KIWANIS CLUB IS CHARTERED

if Americans did not return convinced of Canadian good will and understanding Canadian Kiwanis ideals.

Two Mayors Speak.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre welcomed Kiwanis to Peterborough and said he was glad to have had some part in the formation of the club. "I think we are going to have one of the best clubs in Ontario." Mayor Hugh Nickle, of the Limestone City and Kingston Kiwanian club, dwelt on the virile influence of Kiwanis in a community and he congratulated Peterborough on its sturdy club. Incidentally he claimed Queens had the best football team in the Inter-Collegiate Rugby Union, and he explained why he thought so. Of course Kingstonians backed up his assertion and Toronto showed its sporting nature by giving cheers for Queens.

Presentation of Charter.

The charter to the Peterborough club was presented by Lieut.-Governor James of Toronto, and in presenting it he charged the President to guard it carefully and maintain the ideals of Kiwanis. He said Kiwanis was a religion by which business men, if open hearted, could do good in a community. He also described it as a melting pot of groups and a clearing house of ideas. He spoke of the one hundred per cent. increase in membership so far this year.

In accepting the charter, President Frank Whitehouse promised that the Peterborough club would guard it and live up to the ideals of Kiwanis.

Rotarian Reid Wren.

A hearty welcome to Peterborough was extended to Kiwanis from the Rotary club through Rotarian Reid Wren. He declared there was a vast field to cultivate and room for both organizations with still work to be left undone. The vastness of the work in community betterment and in assisting underprivileged boys, he said, the local Rotary club had begun to realize. He promised the Kiwanians the Rotarians' support in every project undertaken.

The reciprocal spirit was shown by President Whitehouse in urging Kiwanians to support the Rotary theatre night on Monday.

Two Members Welcomed.

Billie Mills, of Kingston, welcomed Lloyd Hamilton and Billie Campbell of Peterborough, into the organization. "We want you to live Kiwanis with us. We believe in faith, hope and charity, and in fun and fellowship," he declared.

Rev. J. R. Webb.

Rev. J. R. Webb, vice-president of the Ministerial Association, commended the fun and fellowship surmounted by high ideals of Kiwanis. He asked who circulated the slander the ministers were opposed to fun. "Raney," somebody shouted. "My friend must have lost something," said Rev. Webb, joining in the general laugh. He assured the Kiwanis they would have no better friend anywhere than the Ministerial Association.

G. N. Gordon, ex-M.P., declared the ideals of peace and good will that permeate Kiwanis were being established as world ideals by the disarmament conference and he believed that Christmas would see "peace on earth, good will towards man" as never before.

On behalf of the Toronto club, President Fred Higgins extended congratulations to Peterborough, Elmer Cosford for Guelph, Harry Rosines for Ottawa and Dr. Robertson for Hamilton. These felicitations were followed by Robert Rogers of Kingston, presenting President Frank Whitehouse with the gavel of office.

The entire programme of addresses and music was arranged by the Kingstonians. Only the more serious side of the affair has been alluded to, but there was a world of fun and good fellowship. During dinner music was provided by a five piece orchestra and at intervals Kiwanian Harold Hughes and Kiwanian Treneer, in black-face get up led vociferously in keeping up the spirits of the Kiwanians. There was little of a funeral aspect throughout. During the evening solos were given by Kiwanians Capt. Lee and Harold Singleton and George Chandler of Peterborough, and saxophone duets by Lee and Treneer were popular.

U. S. ORDER CRIPPLES MONTREAL BEER EXPORTERS

MONTREAL, November 17. Canadian Press. — Brewers and other liquor exporting interests in this city were perturbed to-day on learning that U.S. Deputy Secretary of Customs Ashworhy, had issued an order to all the Customs officers of the United States along the Canadian frontier that no further shipments of alcoholic liquors were to be accepted for importation nor released for exportation until further notice.

The question of the transportation of alcoholic liquors in bond through the United States for any other country has been fought through the United States courts and an injunction was secured against the enforcement of an order prohibiting such transportation. The order now issued is based on the ground that frauds could be perpetrated in the exportation of liquors which it is claimed remained in the United States and did not go forward to the countries of nominal destination.

It was stated to-day that the order would mean the crippling of the enire export beer trade from Canada to the British West Indies and immediate efforts will be made to have the United States authorities modify the new regulations.

BREWING OF BEER IS NOT PROHIBITED

Queen's Park Authorities Support Dictum of Inland Revenue Collector.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—Parliament Buildings legal authorities and James P. Haverson, K.C., confirm the announcement made by the Collector of Inland Revenue, that it is legal for a citizen, upon notifying the department, to brew beer in his own premises.

Whatever might be the astonishment of the layman to find that the case, it was said, there is nothing in the Inland Revenue Act, the O.T.A. or the Scott Act to prohibit the manufacture of beer for home consumption.

According to explanations advanced, the Inland Revenue Act is a law solely to protect the revenue sources of the Government.

BRITAIN, JAPAN BOTH IN FAVOR

French delegation, commenting upon the Chinese proposals, agree that they form a suitable basis for the discussion of the whole Far Eastern question. The proposals to them, however, seem to lack definiteness, except as to principle and it is presumed that the Chinese delegation will take an early occasion for suggesting specific settlement of such outstanding issues as Shantung, Monoglia, Manchuria and all the other disputatious problems.

Premier Brian, while not saying anything respecting the Chinese project, in talking after the meeting, did comment upon the general outline of his speech about the French army which he will be prepared to deliver at an early plenary session of the conference.

"France being isolated, for she is isolated," said he, "is in a different position from the United States, Great Britain and Japan in the limitation of naval armaments. Those countries are friends and they propose as friends among themselves to reach a reasonable and equitable restriction, each having due regard to the position of the other. France is not in such a relation to Germany. Consequently France is bound to make such provision for her security as seems to her sufficient.

"Germany is in a situation where she can with great rapidity mobilize five or six millions of men who have had service in her armies. We must be able to put immediately into action a force adequate to delay or prevent rapid mobilization. I shall go into these questions in the address I am to make when Mr. Hughes indicates the day."

Kemalist Treaty.

M. Briand was questioned respecting the treaty with the Turkish Kemalists.

"We have made that agreement," said the French Prime Minister, "so that we may withdraw the 70,000 men which we now have in Syria and Cilicia. The Angora agreement permits us to do that."

"Will that agreement enable the Turkish government to have Constantinople" he was asked.

"It remains for the Greeks to reach an accord following which, I assume, the Turkish Government would again have possession of Constantinople," said M. Briand.

Japanese Viewpoint.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.)—As many public sessions as possible are desired by the Japanese in the discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern questions, members of the Japanese delegation declared to-day. They added that the Japanese would welecome open discussions because they wanted the world to examine Japanese policies in the Orient.

It was intimated that Japan would like to adhere to her attitude voiced at Tokio a few months ago that questions affecting particular States be left so far as possible to direct settlement between those States and that no efforts be made to discuss the past in connection with the general examiantion of the situation in the Orient.

Japan stood ready, it was insisted by her spokesmen, to admit her faults, but if the conference were to plunge into history, as to Japan or the other powers, she feels it would prove endless and probably stir up ill-feeling. Such an examination, the Japanese point out, would logically include the conditions under which Great Britain occupied Hong Kong and Wei-Hei Wei, and France Indo-China, not to mention the spheres of influence of those countries in the Yang-Tse Valley and Yunnan Province, respectively.

Japan does not expect to raise the question of British occupancy of Chinese territory, and apparently does not expect that other countries will question her right to the leased territory of South Manchuria which came to her as a result of the war with Russia. Her delegates appear to regard this lease of ninety-nine years as being in practice perpetual. Its renewal within a few years under the terms of the 1915 treaty with China, it is understood, will be insisted upon by Japan, and any attempt to dispossess her would be regarded by the Japanese as an attack on their rights.

It was also intimated to-day that the Japanese are opposed to the idea of an international control of China, contending it would be a violation of the sovereignty of that country. China, the Japanese point out, has not yet even accepted the financial consortium agreement under which the powers were jointly to loan money to the Republic. Japan, it was said, could not make loans without guarantees, and was not disposed to enforce guarantees on China. This matter is believed to be closely connected with the thought of the powers ceasing all thier national rivalries in China and of acting in concert on all matters touching that country. The Chinese, the Japanese say, should be aided in bringing about a reform of the customs tariff and a unification of the currency system.

Favour "Open Door."

Japanese say they are willing to work for a real open door in China which would include all parts of that country, even Tibet and Mongolia, as well as Manchuria, in which Japan considers she has special interests. It appears desirable to the Japanese to fix some plan which would avoid conflict of interests, especially with the United States, at the same time insuring the territorial integrity and internal development of China. This may mean, in the opinion of responsible Japanese, a written understanding, although not an alliance, between the United States, Great Britain and Japan concerning the Far East as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese Alliance. The hope prevails among Japanese statesmen that the United States' Government will not be adverse to such a practical outcome of the present conference.

CHINA'S PROPOSALS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.)—In brief China's position on Far Eastern question as laid down before the Committee of Nine yesterday by the Chinese delegates are: She wants guarantees for territorial integrity and political and administrative independence; she proposes the open door for all parts of the country, she wants all spheres of influence relinquished; she wants no treaties made affecting her without being consulted about them.

MRS. MARY WILHELM, Pittsburg, Pa.

"No matter what I should say about Tanlac, it wouldn't be half good enough," said Mrs. Mary Wilhelm, 716 Mint Way, South Side, Pittsburg, Pa.

"I never dreamed it possible for a medicine to restore me to the splendid health I now enjoy. In fact, I had almost resigned myself to being an invalid, as I could see I was losing weight and strength every day, and no relief was in sight. For three years stomach trouble, headaches and nervousness made my life miserable.

"The first bottle of Tanlac acted almost like magic and it wasn't long until I was so well and strong that I could hardly realize I had ever known a sick day. I am like a different person in every way now, eating, sleeping, feeling and looking better than in years."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

ALBERTA BY-ELECTIONS TO TO BE HELD 9TH DECEMBER.

EDMONTON, Alta., November 17 (Canadian Press).— Writs for the Provincial by-elections were issued yesterday, nominations being held on Friday, 2nd December, with polling one week later. In making this announcement, Premier Greenfield refused to discuss the probability of his contesting the Peace River seat, vacated by D. H. Kennedy, who holds the U. F. A. Federal nomination in West Edmonton. Seven members of the Government will be affected by the by-elections including Premier Greenfield and Attorney-General Brownlee, who were not candidates at the last election. ROSSER, Man., Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press).—Premier Meighen's first morning meeting of his Western tour and the fourth in his own constituency of Portage La Prairie was held in the Assembly Hall here to-day. He said he had heard that an effort had been made to get the people of this constituency to pledge themselves to vote against him. He considered it unfair and dishonorable for his opponents to make this effort, especially when he was unavoidably absent from this constituency attending to the most important business which any man in the Dominion was called upon to shoulder.

LEMIEUX AND GAUTHIER STAGE VERBAL BATTLE

ST. CESAIRE Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press).—Warm passages were exchanged between Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux and L. J. Gauthier at an open joint meeting here yesterday. Mr. Lemieux insisted that Mr. Gauthier had been a traitor to the Liberal party. Comparing him with Judas Iscariot he told how the latter had hanged himself and hoped that Mr. Gauthier would not go so far but would leave it to the electors of St. Hyacinthe-Rouville to suspend him by their votes. Mr. Gauthier replied that Mr. Lemieux was a corpse politically speaking.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE THEATRE

By BEN DEACON
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Four new offerings were presented in New York theatres last night. Incidentally, speaking of such, the New York producers continue offering, but the public does not. With few exceptions notable among them "Blossom Time," which sells out nightly thus proving that after all there are New Yorkers with good taste, George Arliss in "The Greek Goddess", "Tangerin", "The Bat", which still disperses shudders at the Morosco, Al. Jolson's new show and "Sally", the playhouses neighboring on Broadway are experiencing trouble in coaxing offerings into the box office. But that has nothing whatever to do with the shows that opened last night. It is too early yet to discover what the public is going to do about them. The point is that there were four first nights last night. No correspondent can be in four places at one time. As a matter of fact, this correspondent wasn't in any one of the four places. This column will therefore call for help from the high-salaried, and, so to speak, gifted gentlemen of the local press. Brazenly and without apology I propose to crib their stuff.

"The Intimate Strangers", a comedy by Booth Tarkington, was presented at the Henry Miller Theatre, and marked the return of Billie Burke to the stage after several seasons in the movies. Louis V. DeFoe, of the World, acIls it a "radiant return" and becomes enthuiastic over both play and players. Here is how Mr. DeFoe saw Mr. Tarkington's little play.

Aunt Isabel (this role played by Miss Burke) and Ames, the lawyer from New York find themselves marooned and become acquainted at a desolate junction by reason of tornadoes, washouts and electrical storms and other acts of providence designed to plague travellers. Her chance remarks about the conversation of the older generation leads to his condescending rejoinder in praise of the mellowen years and then too his open condemnation of thoughtless and effusive youth—"brazen hussies in boy's breeches", he doesn't hesitate to call them. Then one half of the self same "brazen hussies"——Aunt Isabel's grandniece to be exact comes in a motor car to rescue her, and Ames before this vision of fresh and buoyant youth shows signs of contradicting the assertions he has made.

"His punishment comes in the humouros teasing and delightful mocking that Aunt Isabel keeps up during the succeeding acts, with which she tries to convince her much confused and obfuscated guest of years that she really cannot claim. How he attempts to dispel his doubts by the testimony of the family bible, how he detected redhanded in the act, and how finally his suspicions are allayed are some of the subsequently humorous episodes of this gossamer comedy."

It was a sort of old home night for former film stars. Bessie Barriscale, who strayed away to the movies some seven years ago also returned to the "legitimate" fold last night, her vehicle being a little comedy which her hubby and movie director, Howard Hickman, was good enoough to write for her. Hearken to Alexander Woolcott, of the Times:

"The sole mission of the play is quite plainly to present Miss Barricale with the opportunity to appear for two acts as a cheaped and sombreroed rancher, and then, by way of contrast, to offer her the opportunity to be seen at her feminine best in Act 3. She is more than equal to the part, of course, and emerges with honor even from the scenes that require her to be extremely cute. The reason for this donning of male attire is of the slightest—and so is the play. Indeed it comes about as close to the plotless drama as possible. But the second act, with the Wild West killings reproduced for the benefit of the innocent from the East, is at times highly amusing; the rest of it is no more tiring than a good many other plays around town, and there really is nothing in it to be irritable or enthutiastic about.

"The Great Way," which was the new attraction at the Park Theatre, appears to have made a desperate struggle to be a very serious drama, but came very near to be comedy instead. It is a dramatization of a novel of the same name by Harold Fish and it tells, a Tribune writer informs us, the tale of Dulcy, a trudge of the streets of Barcelona, who "meanders backward until she meets the high-chested Jose Luis,son of a union between a Spaniard and an Englishwoman. A week of his society starts her on the steeps of renunciation and amendment and she finds her heavenly citizenship when she becomes a great operatic prima donna—during three of the periods the play was completely offside in the territory of pathos. Dulcy's mountain climbing to the throne of grace excited amusement which the audience made polite endeavors to suppress."

Ed. Wynn, actor and inventor of the noiseless soup spoon, broke out with a new musical comedy, at the Cohan theatre. It is entitled "A Perfect Fool," and apparently what it lacks in common sense it makes up for in fun and melody. That is if you listen to an anonymous critc of the World, who says:

"'A Perfect Fool' is in two acts, 18 scenes, and as many laughs as you can finish in time. Mr. Wynn appears before each separate act is uncovered and tells you precisely what it turns out not to be. In these scenes which rise through draperies of silk, Miss Janet Velies' pretty face and voice come before you; the agile Meyako troupe of Japanese play dreamy melodies, ponderous Mr. Wynn himself doubles as a circus acrobat in baggy tights; Guy Roberts sings the haunting "She Loves Me, She Loves Me Not" (listen for it at the dance); Flo Newton and True Rice cut up, and capering caperishly through it all around two doben dimpled knees in tempo quite amazing. And pretty? This chorus has sweetness to burn."

Judging by this report Mr. Wynn is no fool at figures.

In addition to last night's outbreak there are new shows to be dealt with. Several have sneaked into town since the last time of writing. These are here dealt with briefly partly from personal observation, but largely on hearsay.

"Ann Christie" the new Euguene O'Neill play, is chiefly notable as a dramatization of a fog. It is a thick, dank, sea fog, and out of it comes O'Neill,dank,human dialogue. The heroine is a former lady of the streets, daughter of a drunken old barge captain. The "hero" is an Irish stoker. The first act—which is in a water-front bar room—has the girl meet her father after an absence of fifteen years. Here also she meets the stoker. In the two succeeding acts, the scene of which is the captain's barge, completely surrounded by a fog, the stoker woos the girl in a rough stokerish way and the father idolizes her, thinking that during the year they have been apart she has been living on a farm, innocent and happy. Then the girl shamelessly confesses her past to the two men. Though neither stoker nor captain have led lilly-white lives themselves, both are terribly shocked. They set off to sea, leaving the girl to await their return, and the presumption is that she has been spiritually regenerated through her confession and will after lead a happy though rather rough-and-tumble married life. The fog and some of the acting is declared to be realistic.

"The wandering Jew" is a revival of the "Ben Hur" type of production. It is a spectacular pageant play upon a religious theme. It was written by E. Temple Thurston. The central figure, the Jew, is played with praiseworthy dignity and reverance by Tyrone Power.

In the version of the ancient legend which Thurston makes use of Mathias, the sneering bystander who spat in the face of the Nazarene on the road to Golgotha, is doomed to wander over the earth until the second coming. After the crucification he is shown in Syria at the time of the first crusade, as a mysterious knight competing in the tournaments. Next he is in Sicily in the thirteenth century doing fair deeds, and thereafter in Spain at the time of the Inquisition. There he is shown as a healer and compassionate friend of the unfortunate. The great moment comes in the final act when he is called before the tribunal, and there inspired by the sight of his judges' bejewelled cross he tells the cruel court of another cross which he had seen borne up the slope of Calvary 1,500 years before.

PIMPLES ON FACE

DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine, and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion.

Miss Mary E. Flangan, R. R. No. 3, Stella, Ont., writes: "I have suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, "Burdock Blood Bitters chased them."

POUND STERLING RISES TO OVER $4.00.

NEW YORK, November 17 (Canadian Press), — British exchange—as represented by the pound sterling—rose to a fraction over $4.00 for demand bills in this market yesterday. This is the highest quotation in over six months, and equals a gain of six cents from the low quotation of the week. The rise again was associated with developments at the armament conference at Washington, as well as improvement in Britain's foreign trade situation.

French and other leading Continental remittances also strengthened, and German marks, which recently reached their most acute stage of demoralisation, were relatively firm.

RIORDAN CONNECTION WITH TICONDERGO CO. IS PROBED BY COURT.

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press)—Officials of the Riordan Company, Ltd., appeared before Mr. Justice Duclos yesterday in the Superior Court to testify as to their relations with the Ticondergo Pulp and Paper Company of Ticondergo, N.Y., which is being sued by Percy Cowan, of the brokerage firm of MacDougall & Cowan, of this city, for approximately $102,406.09, the amount alleged to be due on two promissory notes.

The Ticondergo Company denied responsibility of the notes in question, claiming they had been issued without the knowledge or the authority of the company's directors. The notes, it is stated, were issued on 22nd April, 1921, and were for $50,000.00 each. Interest makes up the balance claimed.

"BULL-DOG DRUMMOND"

BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

He rambled on with a genial smile, watching with apparent interest the car in front. "Who's the quaint bird sitting beside the chauffeur? He appeals to me immensely. Wish to Heaven I'd had a few more like him in France to turn into snipers."

"May I ask why you think he would have been a success at the job?" Lakington's eyes expressed merely perfunctory interest, but his cold, steely eyes were fixed on Drummond.

"He's so motionless," answered Hugh. "The bally fellow hasn't moved a muscle since I've been here. I believe he'd sit on a hornet's nest, and leave the inmates guessing. Great gift, Mr. Lakington. Shows a strength of will but rarely met with—a mind which rises above mere vulgar curiosity."

"It is undoubtedly a great gift to have such a mind, Captain Drummond," said Lakington. "And if it isn't born in a man, he should most certainly try to cultivate it." He pitched his cigarette away, and buttoned up his coat. "Shall we be seeing you this evening?"

Drummond shrugged his shoulders. "I'm the vaguest man that ever lived," he said lightly. "I might be listening to nightingales in the country; or I might be consuming steak and onions preparatory to going to a night club. So long. . . . You must let me take you to Hector's one night. Hope you don't break down again so suddenly."

He watched the Rolls-Royce start, but seemed in no hurry to follow suit. And his many friends, who were wont to regard Hugh Drummond as a mass of brawn not too plentifully supplied with brains, would have been puzzled had they seen the look of keen concentration on his face, as he stared along the white dusty road. He could not say why, but suddenly and very certainly the conviction had come to him, that this was no hoax and no leg pull—but grim and sober reality. In his imagination he heard the sudden sharp order to stop the instant they were over the hill, so that Peterson might have a chance of inspecting him; in a flash of intuition he knew that these two men were no ordinary people, and that he was suspect. And as he slipped smoothly after the big car, now well out of sight, two thoughts were dominant in his mind. The first was that there was some mystery about the motionless, unnatural man who had sat beside the driver; the second was a distinct feeling of relief that his automatic was fully loaded.

III

At half-past five he stopped in front of Godalming Post Office. To his surprise the girl handed him a wire, and Hugh tore the yellow envelope open quickly. It was from Denny, and it was brief and to the point:

"Phone message received. AAA. Must see you Carlton tea day after to-morrow. Going Godalmind now. AAA. Message ends."

With a slight smile he noticed the military phraseology—Denny at one time in his career had been a signaller—and then he frowned. "Must see you." She should—at once.

He turned to the girl and inquired the way to The Larches. It was about two miles, he gathered, on the Guildford road, and impossible to miss. A biggish house standing well back in its own grounds.

"Is it anywhere near a house called The Elms?" he asked.

"Next door, sir," said the girl. "The gardens adjoin."

He thanked her, and having torn up the telegram into small pieces, he got into his car. There was nothing for it, he had decided, but to drive boldly up to the house, and say that he had come to call on Miss Benton. He had never been a man who beat about the bush, and simple methods appealed to him—a trait in his character which many a boxer, addicted to tortuous cunning in the ring, had good cause to remember. Wat more natural, he reflected, then to drive over and see such an old friend?

He had no difficulty in finding the house, and a few minutes later he was ringing the front-door bell. It was answered by a maidservant, who looked at him in mild surprise. Young men in motor-cars were not common visitors at The Larches.

"Is Miss Benton in?" Hugh asked with a smile which at once won the girl's heart.

"She has only just come back from London, sir," she answered doubtfully. "I don't know whether . . ."

"Would you tell her that Captain Drummond has called?" said Hugh as the maid hesitated. "That I happened to find myself near here, and came on chance of seeing her?'

Once again the smile was called into play, and the girl hesitated no longer. "Will you come inside, sir?" she said. "I will go and tell Miss Phyllis."

APPLES DESTROYED BY FROST, SOUTH ONTARIO

WHITBY, Nov. 17.—One week of steady winter weather has caused serious injury to thousands of barrels of apples in South Ontario. Apple growers were caught unawares. The fruit varies in price from $5 to $10 per barrel.

WARNING

Ask me nothing now, my dear—
The stars are all too large and near;
At dusk the peepers in the pool
Make my pulses play the fool;
Robins with morning winds awake
And in my spirit barriers break;
The willow are too golden green,
The grasses are too young and clean
The little brooks too loud and swift;
Too red a crest the maples lift.
The heart of life beats high and glad
Can we keep wise when earth goes mad?
Do not ask me anything
I am in love with Love and Spring
And not with you at all!

GOVERNOR MILLER DENOUNCES LAKES TO SEA WATERWAY

Terms Co-operation of U. S. With Canada in Project "Criminal Foolishness.'

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press) Governor Nathan L. Miller, of New York, in an address before the Atlantic Deeper Waterways convention yesterday denounced the proposed St Lawrence ship canal project as involving an unwarranted expenditure of $200,000,000 by the United States, as "criminal foolishness" in wasting millions sadly needed for other improvements and as an attempt to realize an "impossible dream".

The governor declared that the tax burden would be increased in order to promote what was only an experiment and asserted that the prime necessity was to improve first the United States own ports and waterways instead of promoting a project in a foreign country. He affirmed that the New York State barge canal could, if properly utilized, carry all the 10,000,000 tons of grain which annually would seek a water outlet from the west..

He asserted that no unprejudiced person competent to speak on the subject believed that ocean-going vessels would ever navigate such a waterway as the proposd St. Lawrnce ship canal. The governor declared that a threat had been conveyed to him that opposition to the S. Lawrence canal would result in retaliation of the 18 states composing the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association. It might seem a waste of effort he said, to speak in opposition to the project, as the association had announced that if the 18 states approved the project, favorable action would be taken on it by congress this year.

Nearly $100,000 had been appropriated by the states in the Tidewater Association to promote the campaign and bring pressure to bear on congress he said. He added that the Charleston and Jacksonville Chambers of Commerce had suggested lining up with the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association on a principle of reciprocity. The governor pointed out that there was danger to the country on the promotion of public undertakings on a basis of reciprocity between sectional interests and declared such a method precluded a fair consideration of any undertaking in its merits. He declared that he regarded the cost of the St. Lawrence project as a mere bagatelle compared with the evil of introducing in congress the methods effecting legislation by combinations of groups of sectional blocs.

"I trust that the time has not yet come when the trading of support for local improvements can commit the treasury of the United States to a vast project for the improvement of a waterway in another country regardless of its merits," said Governor Miller.

The governor denied that the report of the engineers on the St. Lawrence canal was altogether favorable, as he said that they reits proponnts, and said that they reported only on the estimated cost and its practicability from an engineering standpoint. "They did not consider the commercial feasibility of the project", he said, "but they were heralded all over the country as having submitted a report altogether favorable to it".

Governor Miller said that he sympathized with the desires of the middle west for better and cheaper transportation but that the industries of the country already were staggering under excessive taxation and excessive cost of transportation. 'It is unthinkable", he went on, 'that the burden of taxation will be increased at this time by a vast expenditure which, in the most favorable aspect, is only an experiment and it is imperative that we concentrate on those improvements which will serve the greatest needs of the commerce of the country." The proponents of the St. Lawrence project have been "dazzled by visions", the governor affirmed. They see the Atlantic coast extended to Duluth, they see all the lake ports converted into sea ports with the flags of all nations flying in their harbors.. The danger lies in the fact that the partisans of the project are too prejudiced, while the rest of the country have not sufficient interest to examine the project fairly on its merits".

The Governor analyzed the cost of the scheme by saying that the propagandists had heralded over the country that the total cost would be $250,000,000 and that it would include the development of 4,00,000 horse-power which he said, "is held out as an allurring bait to the New England states." It would be reasonable in his opinion to add at least 25 per cent, as unexpected cost which would bring the United States half up to more than $150,000,000 for a canal 25-foot deep. He estimated that it would cost the United States an additional $50,000,000 to deepen the channels and harbors of the Great Lakes to a depth of 25 fe et so that, "we have an initial expense af $200,000,000 to be borne by the United States" as its half of the entire project. That sum was one-fifth the total amount expended in improving all our rivers and harbors during the entire history of the country.

Red Desolation Reigns In Petrograd, a City of Rust

PETROGRAD, Nov. 16.—Russia's former capital today resembles a Nevada mining town after the mines had become exhausted. It does not even wink at private trade in commodities. The Soviet Government has estimated Petrograd's population at 600,000, but this figure seems large to observers who knew Petrograd in the pre-war days, when it had within it more than a million and a half persons.

Guns Stop Fuel Hounds.

The visitor, looking it over from the tower of St. Isaac's Cathedral, sees only a city of rust. Virtually all the Russian roofs are of tin and were painted green or brown, but the repainting of them has been impossible. The roofs are leaky and the buildings have been abandoned.

The Red army drills every day in the square between St. Isaac's Cathedral and the Mariensky Palace, where there is now so little traffic. That part of it is used as a storage place for peat, which soldiers guard day and night to keep fuel hunters from stealing it.

The German Embassy, which the Russians wrecked at the beginning of the war, stands boarded up and abandoned. The Astoria Hotel, as well as most of the other large buildings about the square are being used by the Soviet. The Hotel Angle-Terre has been rechristened the "International." A Government guest house, it is one of the few places in Petrograd which really is comfortable.

The old hotel staff has been retained and is keeping the building clean and supplying the rooms with fresh linen. The service is excellent. The hotel is marvellously quiet and a comfortable oasis in the general Bolshevik disorganization in Russia, dominated by untrained Red army men. Foreigners are required to pay their hotel bills in pounds or at the dollar rate. The charge is about a pound a day.

The Nevsky Prospect is more deserted and shabbier than it was three years ago. There are holes in the pavements and the buildings are scaling off. The canals are utterly devoid of the wood barges which ordinarily supply the winter's fuel.

Tea at 110,000 Rubles.

Many food shops have opened, but they have little to sell except bread, butter and vegetables. The correspondent made inquiries at 20 shops before he found real tea and coffee. This sold at 110,000 rubles for a Russian pound (12 ounces). The exchange rate on the dollar is about 100,000 rubles. Sugar, scarce, sells for 46,000 rubles for 12 ounces. All the shop keepers said they had hopes that they would receive tea, coffee and sugar within a few weeks. They did not seem to know, however, whence it would come.

There are no big street markets in Petrograd, such as those in Moscow. The people apparently are without money or goods to exchange for food, and are much disturbed over the general discontinuance by the Government of the bread allowance and the abandonment of communal kitchens.

Children to the number of 200,000, nearly all in the city, registered and were examined for feeding by the Americans. More than 40,000 were found to be subnormal physically and now daily are being given their dinner by the American Relief Administration.

Boiler Furnaces Cold.

Smoke issues from the stacks of few factories, and ships that are arriving are so few and of such light tonnage that they impart little activity to the general situation. There are miles of deserted docks along the shipping canal and the various channels of the Neva River.

The visitor gets the impression that the once proud capital of Peter the Great never will return to normal.

Many prominent Republicans express the belief that never again will Petrograd be a really great commercial and industrial centre, because of its isolation from the ore mines, the coal fields and the oil supply centres of Russia, and also by reason of its ice-bound port. Rumors always are current in Moscow that the capital may again be removed to Petrograd, apparently without foundation and probably inspired by former real estate owners who are selling to speculators their rights, or possible rights, in confiscated property.

No Residence Phones.

The desolation in Petrograd has been intensified by the destruction of the Central Telephone Station by fire and the indefinite suspension of telephone service. The Government has strung temporary wires between the various departments here, but the indication is that it will not be possible to restore the residence telephones for many months because of lack of material and organization.

Only Government motor cars are on the streets, and these infrequently. Generally they are badly dilapidated. The street cars carry on a spasmodic service. They have no crowds on them during hours when fares are charged.

The opera, ballet and theatres are running regularly, but their receipts are disappointing because of the large number of free tickets still being issued to members of labor organizations and Government employes and because of the poverty of the city's reduced population.

MEXICAN ORGANIZE DEFENSE SOCIETY

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press)—Civil defense societies which have been organized throughout the republic for protection against roving bands are to be dissolved by federal order, due to the fact that many such organizations overstepped limits of protection and became themselves violators of law. Several train roberies and other acts of violence of late have been charged to persons who claimed to be civil defenders.

WHEN YOU SEE A TESTIMONIAL From a person you do not know, PAY NO ATTENTION TO IT. When you see a Testimonial From People whom you DO know in your own Locality, if you have any doubt, Go and ask them--This should convince you.

WE CANNOT IMPRESS TOO STRONGLY UPON THE PEOPLE OF CANADA THAT THERE ARE NO STOMACH AND TONIC TABLETS JUST LIKE DR. NORVALL'S. THERE ARE NO TABLETS JUST AS GOOD AS DR. NORVALL'S. DR. NORVALL'S STOMACH AND TONIC TABLETS ARE IN A CLASS BY THEMSELVES.

IN ORDER TO CONVINCE YOU OF THIS WE HAVE INTERVIEWED THE DRUGGISTS OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH, AND AS THEY ARE ALL SELLING PATENT MEDICINES AND PREPARATIONS OF KNOWN VALUE, THEY ARE IN A POSITION TO JUDGE THE MERITS OF DR. NORVALL'S STOMACH AND TONIC TABLETS.

Mr. Burgess, of Lakefield, says he finds it a pleasure to sell Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets, because as a laxative nd general tonic they have no equal.

The Tanner Drug Company, of Lakefield, say: "We have sold Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets for some time, and customers who have once used them recommend them to their friends."

Mr. Vincent Sullivan, Druggist, says that he was surprised the number of people that insist upon having Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets, and none other can take their place as a gentle laxative and building-up tonic.

We could fill a page with testimonials from residents in this City, but we consider the Druggists are in a position to advise the public.

Notes on the A.Y.P.A. Convention

The luncheon served to the visiting delegates by the ladies of St. John's Church here, was very much enjoyed. The ladies were assisted by feminine members from Lakefield and Millbrook helped All Saints' on Thursday in preparing and serving luncheon..

Some interesting suggestions for A.Y.P.A. evenings were made during yesterday's conference. One dealt with an idea for entertaining G. W. V. A. men at a social evening. The visitors were asked to bring war trophies along and a supply of "trench" stories.

Several members of the conference appear to have a good deal of Irish (blood) in their make-up. Mr. W. R. Sproule has a little accent, and Mr. A. McConnel of Toronto sprang a couple of real "Irish" bulls in the convention in his unthinking comparison of the A.Y.P.A. with the negro who had committed all the pecadiloes in the list and still retained his "religion", and his allusions to the 'marriage" question.

The address of Rev. Prof. E. A. McIntyre of Wycliffe College, on "The Call to the Ministry" was one of the outstanding features of the conference, and Mrs. T. H. Yeoman's talk to the ladies on "The Service of Women" was also much enjoyed.

Rev. E. R. James of Omemee, brought an enthusiastic delegation with him, including Mr. Vincent Jones, the president of Omemee branch. Mrs. Jones Miss Edith Robinson Mr. Horace Hill, Mr. Wilbert Clement and Mr. John Bent, the vice-president, who lays the blame of occasional depletion of Omemee branch ranks at the door of the unfortunate habit of the members in getting married with such frequency.

The inspirational reports of the delegates evidenced much activity along social, missionary and educational lines. Their work must be of great assistance to the rectors, ranging, as it does, from the providing of funds by various social evenings for the purchase of a new kitchen stove for use in their rooms to the laying of a complete new roof on the parish hall.

Yesterday, when Miss Blanche Graham of Lakefield presented the report of the society at St. John the Baptists Church, she recorded the fact that it was the birthday of the organzation, which came into exisence ten years ago.

The contingent from Lakefield numbered among its members; Mrs. T. Walden, the Misses Hampton, Watson and Ogilvie and Mr.. F. R. Alford.

Miss Jean Horsefield of Peterboro, made a very popular and efficient chairman at the banquet last evening in All Saints' Church.

Miss Woodhouse of Dundas the retiring treasurer, has been in service in ths capacity for the last twelve years. Mingled with expressions of regret at her retiring, were congratulations on the excellence of the new incumbent, Miss Blanche Graham of Lakefield..

From all sides come expressions of gratitude from the delegates at the fine hospitality afforded them by the citizens of Peterboro which, according to them, has surpassed all other convention cities in its treatment of its visitors. They have never ,so they say, received more excellent consideration, and were particularly enthusiastic about the motor ride around the city yesterday afternoon, to which the following with many others whose names are not available, contributed cars and time: Messrs. Robt. Neill, R. C. Kingan, Herbert Carter, James Carter, R. J. Murduff, Joseph Sedgewick, Elmer Brown and Miss Jean Horsefield.

Those delegates from Lakefield and Millbrook who were entertained with a motor ride around the city yesterday and an exhaustive description of the different points of interest, including a prideful reference to the Hunter street bridge, of which probably they had heard and seen somewhat in the past, were tactful enough to look as if they had come from the far west or northern Ontario.

Rev. Walter Cox has a wonderful smile which brought echoes of applause at its every repetition.. Mr. Cox claims to have had a Quaker parentage and upbringing. There must be something very nice about the Quakers.

Keen appreciation was tendered by Gananoque delegates to the Toronto council, for the latter's kindness shown to Mr. Hewitt, a resident of Gananoque, during his stay in the Toronto General Hospital.

Rev. C. R. Spencer of Millbrook holds the rank of Major from his service overseas in the Great War.

Premier Drury is an associate member of the Burlington A.Y.P.A. He wandered into their meeting one evening while visiting the town, and escaped only by consenting to be rated on the 'blue' side of their thermometer.

An incident very much enjoyed by the visiting delegates was the ringing of St. John's Chimes yesterday morning in their honor. The chimes were played by Mr. R. J. Devey.

The lady who took so much care with one especially fluffy-topped cream pie served at the convention banquet last evening would doubtless have been amply repaid had she seen the expression of joy on the expressive countenance of the Rev. Walter Cox as he sampled it.

440½ GEORGE ST., CORNER OF BROCK ST.

RECEPTION TO DELEGATES

with a very handsome silver flower-holder.

Miss Woodhouse responded in a suitable and humorous manner.

Praise Local Welcome.

Mr. Callaway, with T. H. Hollingsworth and W. R. Sproule, were loud in their appreciation of the "royal welcome" accorded them by the people of Peterborough. Mr. Sproule said: "You have come down to meet us at all hours of the night and day, have taken us in, fed us, and entertained us in the most wonderful manner, and we cannot adequately express our thanks for all your kindness."

Mr. Hollingsworth announced that he had been commissioned by an unknown benefactor, who wished his name withheld, to make a small return for this kindness, to present to the Peterborough Local Council a silver cup, to be competed for annually, in debates by the members of the district branches.

Miss Horsefield expressed the appreciation of the local council in appropriate terms, and remarked on the wonderful inspiration which had been derived from the speeches at this dinner.

With a warm tribute to the work of the retiring president, A. Callaway, "whose energy, money and time have been devoted unflaggingly for the past two years to the cause," and a rousing round of three cheers and a tiger for Miss Horsefield, the meeting dispersed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

An announcement was made of the winning of the book contest arranged by Miss N. Powell, of Toronto, by the Misses Myrtle Downs and Rebecca Arthurs, of Toronto.

An enjoyable musical programme was rendered during the evening by vocal and instrumental solos from the Misses Muriel Bridge, Florence Harrison, Edwina Palmer and Mr. Thorpe, and two fine recitations by Miss Hazel Davidson. Mr. Kenneth Brown, at the piano, and the orchestra of All Saints' Church, contributed to the excellence of the entertainment, which was heartily encored by the visitors.

Inspirational Addresses.

Yesterday afternoon's session, held at All Saints' Church, was the occasion of several inspirational addresses. Rev. Prof. E. A. McIntyre, M.A., B.D., of Wycliffe College, Toronto, delivered an exceptionally scholarly and interesting address to the men of the convention on "The Call to the Ministry." Prof. McIntyre has a sincere, thoughtful outlook that commends his utterances to his hearers, and he was listened to with a strong interest. His discussion of the present-day call to the Christian ministry dealt primarily with the challenge, which he outlined as essentially one of the spirit. The ministry has nothing extraordinary to offer, in comparison with the other professions, from a worldly point of view, but the speaker regarded this apparent deterrent as a fine thing, inasmuch as it emphasized all the more strongly the spiritual attraction to the man called to the service of God in this field. On the other hand, there is in the call an open door to a fine opportunity for leadership, and in this, the speaker saw the real challenge to red-blooded young men of to-day in the Christian ministry as more direct and more appealing than ever before. "In it we are offered something that gives very little of ease or comfort, but something that is committment of one's whole life to the cause of the Saviour."

Appeals to the clergy to foster as much as possible the desire for the ministry in the hearts of their young men, and a description of the methods employed by the colleges in assisting to finance the careers of those who respond to the call, concluded Prof. McIntyre's address, which was followed by a brief but interesting discussion.

Rev. E. R. James, of Omemee, with an admonition to young men to procure as great a grounding in the educational line as possible, from Rev. (Major) C. R. Spencer, of Millbrook, on the wonderful joy and uplifting power of the life of the ministry, and from Rev. W. G. Tebbs, of Burlington, on the financial side, made an interesting epilogue.

Reports From Branches.

Inspirational reports from various branches of the society were delivered during the afternoon from the following: Miss Blanche Graham, Lakefield, from Toronto branches; Mrs. Sheridan, Mr. A. McConnell, Miss Isabel Jones, Mr. O. J. Wyckoff, Miss Grimshaw, Mr. Scovell, Mr. Bond, Miss Gordon of Gananoque, Rev. W. G. Tebbs, Burlington; Mr. H. Bland, Stoney Creek; Miss Lillian Clark, Millbrook; Miss M. Hoadley, of Lindsay; Miss Bath, of Mt. Dennis; Mr. McConnel, of Walkerton; Rev. E. R. James, of Omemee; Rev. C. R. Spencer, of Millbrook; and from Peterborough: Miss M. Stone, of All Saints', and Mr. E. B. Brown, of St. John's. The reports evidenced, one and all, progress in every department of the work of the society.

A telegram from Mr. Clarence Bell, of Toronto, regretting his unavoidable absence, was received.

Miss Woodhouse, of Dundas, the treasurer, gave in a brief report an excellent outline of the year's work. The balance at hand at present in the treasury was $234.33.

Miss Woodhouse also gave a very interesting talk on "How to Plan and Carry Out a Month's Programme," in which she emphasized several points that go toward the making of a successful meeting, and outlined briefly the method of procedure for a business, social, missionary and literary night. She evidenced Peterborough as a splendid example of preparedness, in its well-thought plans for receiving and entertaining its visitors, and considered that one of the important factors of a successful meeting of any sort was having everything in readiness beforehand.

Rev. W. G. Tebbs, L.Th., of Burlington, spoke on "How to Make a Membership Campaign Successful," in a manner that made his discourse most attractive. He described the method taken by the society in Burlington, where it has been most successful, to arouse enthusiasm in its members, by means of various contests which are calculated to inspire and sustain interest in a membership campaign.

In connection with the reports and the discussion following the addresses, Mr. John Bent, vice-president of the Omemee branch of the A.Y.P.A., made an interesting little speech that appeared to appeal immensely to his audience.

"Service of Women."

Mrs. T. H. Yeoman, of Toronto, in connection with the "Open Door to Service" address, gave a most interesting talk to the ladies of the convention on "The Service of Women." Mrs. Yeoman said:

There never was a time when the call to service for women was more insistent, both in church and public life. Even so far back as the time of our Saviour women had their part. The blessed Virgin Mary set the seals on women's work. Our Lord made friends with women and loved to be in their homes. Four women and one man stood by the Cross to the last, and on Easter morning it was a woman, Mary Magdalen, who first saw the risen Lord, and to her He gave the command, "Go tell my brethren."

Twice in the world's history the fate of the world hung on a woman's decision; once, when the serpent spoke to Eve and she fell, and sin and death came into the world. The angel spoke to many and new life came to the world.

Mary of Bethany gave all she valued most, the alabastor box, to the service of the Lord.

Every A.Y.P.A. girl has her alabastor box—the precious offering of her heart and life and influence. The A.Y.P.A. is a training school for girls and women. The girls of to-day are the women and mothers of to-morrow, and we must base our service in prayer, and then other avenues will be opened up. We need prayer, Bible and prayer book study to fit us for service. We have a great influence on the people they come in contact with, and girls will do well to keep their standard of living high. Nowadays, girls have so much freedom in the mode of dress, action and dancing that it is difficult to do this. Some one said that with conditions of to-day a young man has not the ghost of a chance to go straight. In so far as a girl respects herself, others respect, and the purity of her ideals must be kept up. Perhaps the highest call to service is the missionary call, and we must listen for it and answer promptly — "Hear am I, send me." Great stress should be laid on education, as to enter the foreign field, a girl must have her matriculation, and young girls can't take too much interest in good reading, which is so easy of access. Do not try to dissuade girls who have heard the call, but help them to perceive it. Samuel heard the call but Eli perceived it, and helped Samuel to fit himself for his work. Christian work is not dull, blue and gloomy, but it is bright, cheerful and sunny. The service of influence is next to prayer. Social service offers a wide and varied field. It is for the love of humanity with the love of Christ constraining us. The A.Y.P.A. motto, "For Christ and the Church," is the leading motto, and we should work from the love of God down to the love of humanity. We should keep posted on the questions of the day; it will put new interest in our lives. Life is a mission: its end is service, its low sacrifice and its triumph, fellowship with God.

Several questions were asked, but the time allotted for this topic did not permit lengthy discussion.

O'BRIEN CUP TO N.H.L.

OTTAWA, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press.)—The O'Brien Cup, originally the championship emblem of the National Hockey Association, will serve henceforth as that of the National Hockey League. Word to this effect has been received from President Frank Calder, of the N. H.L., who will turn the O'Brien Cup over at once to the Ottawa club.

The O'Brien Cup was presented by Senator M. J. O'Brien, of Renfrew, after the "Creamery Kings" and other rebel clubs had successfully battled the Eastern Canada League into submission by organizing the National Hockey Association. When the National Hockey Association closed up several years ago, to be succeeded by the National League, the O'Brien Cup was then held by the Canadiens. Arrangements were made by President Calder this year through J. Ambrose O'Brien to have the O'Brien Cup turned over to the N.H.L. Following the death of the late Geo. Kennedy it was secured by President Calder, who is having it cleaned and polished, prior to its presentation to the Ottawas.

The O'Brien Cup is made of solid silver from the famous O'Brien mines at Cobalt and was valued at $1.500 when presented by Senator O'Brien. A new deed of gift is being drawn up and a board of trustees will be appointed, subject to the approval of Hon. Senator O'Brien.

Thomas Meighan and Faire Binney in a scene from "The Frontier of the Stars" A Paramount Picture

At the Capitol—To-night, Friday and Saturday

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

Capitol offers a wonderful show tonight, Thomas Meighan in "Frontier of the Stars" and Harold Lloyd in his very newest and funniest comedy entitled, "I Do."

Thomas Meighan, Paramount' big likeable star, will be seen in "The Frontier of the Stars'" written by Albert Payson Terhune. Charles Maigne wrote the scenario and directed the picture.

The story cerns Buck Leslie, a gangster and gunman, who tries to stop a fight between Gregory, a chemist, and a Bowery tough, with the result that Phil Hoyt, a Bowery detective, catches Buck with Gregory's gun, making a clear case of circumstantial evidence against him.

Buck escapes to the housetops, where he comes upon Hilda Shea, sister-in-law of Hoyt, a cripple who has spent most of her life in a wheel chair on the roof of an East Side tenement house. Hilda hides Buck and Hoyt and they become such good friends that Buck is induced to seek an honest livelihood.

Seeking revenge on Buck, Gregory originates a scheme whereby he will be caught with some dangerous explosives in his possession. Buck visits Hilda with the explosives, and Hoyt tries to arrest him.

A fearful fight ensues during which the explosives set fire to the tenement. Excitin incidents follow in lightning rapidity. Faire Binney is the leading woman.

CAPITOL FRIDAY

Friday night the Capitol will offer 5 very good local vaudeville acts. These acts have been engaged by Manager Abbey are Peterboro's best talent and quality of entertainment presented two weeks ago Friday by the Peterboro Vaudeville acts is sufficient guarantee that the public are going to see a great show.

AT THE REGENT.

"THE MATRIMONIAL WEB."

Big Triple Combination of Star, Director and Author Means Big Production.

"The Matrimonial Web" was written by C. Graham Baker especially for Alice Calhoun. It is a story calculated to draw out the subtle points of the star's acting. It is intensely dramatic and very exacting on the part of the heroine. She must portray emotions that run the whole course of human activities — the society girl, the character of the underworld, tough and sophisticated and then the simple little country maid. There are very few actresses who are able to handle roles of this type and Miss Calhoun is one of the few. She develops a marked instinct which leads her on as she works and gives her an expression that is seldom seen upon the screen.

Film authorities have ventured the opinion that this star in combination with Edward Jose, one of the best known motion picture directors in the world, who was engaged to direct her in "The Matrimonial Web," will be an interesting one to watch, as Mr. Jose is noted as knowing every trick of the stage and screen production and Alice Calhoun, who climbed to stellar heights in three years through her artistry and charm, responds to such direction with sensational results.

Miss Calhoun is known as the girl with a thousand faces because every type of emotion she portrays changes her face entirely. She never photographs twice alike. This is due to a rare ability with the use of facial muscles and the depicting of emotion in reality.

Everything that is humanly possible has been done to make "The Matrimonial Web" one of the greatest productions this star has made. A cast of well-known players, including Joseph Striker, Edith Stockton, William Riley Hatch, Charles Mackay, Dick Lee, Armand Cortez, Elsie Fuller, Ernest Hilliard, Marion Barney and G. C. Frye, support the star. Most of these players have had long experience both on the spoken stage and before the camera. They have appeared with some of the greatest stars in the theatrical world, playing prominent roles and in a number of cases creating the character which aided in making a production a marked success.

The story was written by C. Graham Baker who has written some of the best screen productions to be transferred to celluloid. On the whole, the C. Graham Baker, Alice Calhoun, Edward Jos combination is one that cannot be beaten and one which will bear watching.

AT THE ALLEN.

MARK TWAIN'S DOUBLE IN UNDER-SEA PHOTOPLAY

Thomas McGrane, who plays the part of Colonel Hamilton in "Wet Gold," a remarkable under-sea photoplay from the pen of J. Ernest Williamson, has long been known for his close resemblance of the famous American humorist, Mark Twain. The part he plays in the picture which is distributed by Goldwyn and will be shown at the Allen Theatre for 3 days, beginning today, is exceedingly grateful. He recalls the easy-mannered Mark Twain in every gesture he makes.

"Wet Gold," is a thrilling drama surrounding a tender love story. Ralph Ince directed the picture.

SECRETARY OF NAVY PRAISES "WET GOLD"

Former Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, was sufficiently impresed with Mr. Wiliamson's photo-play, "Wet Gold", to write him a laudatory letter about the picture. The photoplay, which is distributed by Goldwyn, will be shown at the Allen Theatre, today. Mr. Daniels' letter fotllows:

My dear Mr. Williamson:—

I want to thank you for the pleasant entertainment afforded me and the officers of the Navy Department by the showing of the new film, "Wet Gold."

Naturally, the Navy people were more concerned with that part of the picture which dealt with the submarine and divers than the rest of it. I found this phase of your picture particularly interesting and attractive and have heard very favorable comments from some of the officers whose work deals directly with the Navy Submarine.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) JOSEPHUS DANIELS,
Secretary of the Navy.

COMEDY SHOWS POWER OF CHRISTIE COMPANY

Wide range of the possibilities of the organization making two reel Christie comedies is again shown in "Short and Snappy," latest of these pictures, which comes to the Allen Theatre today. Bobby Vernon is the featured player and Vera Steadman appears opposite him. How many people are available for work in these comedies is shown by the fact that this is only the fourth picture in which she has been his 'opposite."

Again the power of the organization is proved with the presentation of two "stars" in this cast for Eddie Barry has the role of a butler and contributes a clever bit of character work for which he is so well known. Billy Fletcher appears as Vernon's chum and there are a score of other players to supply the "atmosphere." The entire picture is confined to exteriors although these range all the way from the attic bedroom of the two very indigent chums to the home of a wealthy man.

"Short and Snappy" is a straight farce. It centers around the fact that Bobby and Billy have jointly rented a dress suit, agreeing to use it on alternate nights. Their first difficulty is with the owner who seeks to collect the charges, but the more serious complication arises when they fall in love with the same girl and are invited to the dinner party on the same evening. Of course, both of them want to wear the glad rainment, and there the complications start but they grow worse when the owner of the garment arrives and leaves the pair in their B.V.D.'s.

According to critics who have seen the pictures at private advance showings it represents an ideal of what might be called a "French farce," with a suggestion of spice but nothing that could offend the most critical. Although the two youths are trouserless in a considerable part of the action—even in the midst of the dinner party—it is cleverly carried out that it is promised the only shock will be to the laugh emotion.

William Beaudine, who has made many of the most successful Christie comedies is the director while "Short and Snappy" was written by Jack Jevne, a well-known Los Angeles newspaper man.

AT THE GRAND.

"BRINGING UP FATHER."

When "Bringing Up Father in Wall Street," the latest version of the popular comics of George McManus, is shown at the Grand Theatre, where this side-splitting comedy in two acts and five scenes will hold the boards tonight, the public, and especially those who have followed the fortunes and adventures of the well-known Jiggs Mahoney family, will have an opportunity of seeing and enjoying a play in which all the ingredients of laughter and happiness have been retained along with unusual features and other novelties certain to arouse new hope and interest in the joy of living. Here we have an example of what a resourceful and enterprising manager can do in the way of providing real up-to-date entertainment. In the three acts necessary to unfold the plot there is said not to be a dull moment; surprise after surprise is followed by some unique innovation and novelty with the result that one is both amused and thrilled, and, in addition, compelled to laugh right out loud as it were, something we humans must admit is not always possible in these days of rapid theatrical competition. The cast contains fully fifty people, including a bevy of beauty qualified to make Aphrodite in her most halcyon days look up and take notice. This attraction comes direct from the Manhattan Opera House, New York, and the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia, the homes of grand opera.

"WINNIPEG KIDDIES."

It is doubtful if there is a funnier boy comedian in the world than the little Canadian youngster who leads the comedy element in the new production of "The Winnipeg Kiddies," who will bring their brand-new revue to the Grand on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 18 and 19.

A POPULAR STAR.

DOROTHY MacKAY,

former star of "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Babes in the Wood," who is now with "The Winnipeg Kiddies, co-starring with Jackie Finesilver, the Holmes Twins and other popular favorites. The Kiddies bring their new production to the Grand tomorrow and Saturday.

Jackie Finesilver, the Tom Thumb of modern comedians, has had at least a hundred offers from various parts of the American Continent, but he prefers to remain with "The Winnipeg Kiddies" for two reasons —firstly, because he is with other children with whom he has the time of his young life and, secondly, because this company carries its own school so that he, and the other children, get as complete an education as if they were going to a public educational institution.

Jackie's parents also adhere to the same views, except that the parents reverse the order, for to them the school reason is the most important. But Jackie, being a normal healthy boy, would probably like to see the hours of school and recess reversed.

"JUST SUPPOSE."

It is with more than ordinary pride that the management of the Grand Opera House announce the engagement of "Just Suppose," the comedy-romance based on the recent visit of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales. Edward H. Robins is simply holding his wonderful company together by making a brief tour of the principal cities of Canada, after which they will return to their home theatre, the Royal Alexandra, Toronto, for a run of "Just Suppose."

It is part of the contract between the management if the Grand Opera House and Mr. Robins that the company to be seen locally will be the same as seen at the Royal Alexandra during the record-breaking run of this comedy there last summer, when all records for this theatre were shattered.

Graham Velsey, the clever young English juvenile man, has been brought to this country just to play the role of the Prince of Wales. Norman Cope, another Englishman, understudy to Sir John Martin Harvey during the latter's recent tour of Canada, will be seen as the chum, Bubbles, and Walter Howe, one of the cleverest of character men from England, will be seen as the Ambassador to Washington. Murray Bennet, still another Englishman, will be seen as the young southern boy, and no better selection could possibly have been made than in Kathleen Wallace as the young southern girl, Linda Lee, with whom the Prince falls in love. Mrs. Julia Hurley, the oldest of present-day American actresses, will be seen in the role of the grandmother. Thomas McKnight, Walter Ainslie and Harry P. Young are others who will be seen in their original roles. The stage pictures are from the studios of Gilbert Sackerman, New York's most noted scenic artist, who has selected for his stage pictures the home of a well-known Southern statesman.

"Just Suppose" comes to the Grand Opera House for one night, Thursday, Nov. 24.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THEATRE-GOERS

It is my earnest intention and desire to give the theatre-goers of Peterborough and vicinity the same class of attractions at the ALLEN THEATRE that are being shown in the very largest cities, and to present all special photoplays in the same manner that they are being produced in the big theatres. I expect to present all big photoplays with a complete competent orchestra, thereby giving the picture the presentation it should have. In order to do this it will mean that the patronage must be sufficiently large to warrant the big expenditure of money necessary to do this; therefore, it is up to the people of Peterborough whether or not they want this theatre conducted along lines such as outlined above.

All that I ask is that you show me by your patronage that you want the ALLEN to be run as a city theatre and I will go the rest.

Yours for amusement,
R. G. FURLONG,
Resident Manager.

THEIR ACCOUNTS SQUARED IN BOOK OF LIFE THEY STILL HAVE CREDIT IN VOTERS' LIST

JUDGE HUYCKE FINDS IN THE ROSTER OF ELECTORS THE NAMES OF PERSONS WHO HAVE GONE TO ETERNITY OR STILL LIVING HAVE MOVED FROM PETERBOROUGH.

In the revision of the voters' lists Judge Huycke has added 115 names since Tuesday, and has refused the applications of four or five whose period of residence in Peterborough did not comply with the regulation for registration. This qualification requires that the applicant shall have been a resident of this city since August 8th, 1921, and have lived in this country since August 8th, 1920. Before the revision is completed it is likely that the total number of names added by Judge Huycke will reach a very considerable figure.

While many persons are getting their names on the list, either of their own initiative or at the suggestion of party workers, no one gives thought to the names that should come off. At the by-election and again now names of persons who have died or who have moved away from Peterborough have been permitted to remain on the register. It is not the duty of the revising officer to call attention to this dead timber, nor can he expunge from or add to the list any name unless upon evidence being presented to him. As a result of these names representing those who have moved away from Peterborough or who have passed away the election workers will likely waste considerable time and effort on election day if they endeavour to locate the persons represented by those names. Some of them will have squared accounts in the book of life but will have a line of credit in the local political record.

A.Y.P.A. CONVENTION

"THE QUIET HOUR"

The Quiet Hour conducted in the church by Rev. W. G. Tebbs of Burlington, was one of the most inspiring features of the entire conference.

Mr. Tebbs gave an address along the lines of service to the Master which is truly selfless; will our Master consider servce rendered to Him which constantly asks favors for ourselves, our Lord can never be in our debt, we can never render sufficient sacrifice to Him. The illustration of our Lord going out with his followers in their boat and commanding them to cast their net even though they had night of failure. though a night of failure. Their phenomenal success was one of the miracles and this is a figure for the A. Y. P. A. —failure, fullness and fellowship. The Young people present are among the leaders of the Association and they must remember that success can't come without the lives definitely given to God.

The next few minutes was taken up with prayers of remembrance of the soldier dead of the A.Y.P.A. for the disarmament conference and for the speedy and lasting peace for Ireland. The hymn "Peace, perfect peace", was sung.

The second part of the address dwelt with the surrender and service of Abraham. Abraham left his home and country at God's command and journeyed toward the promised land. He stopped half way at Huron but God can't use anyone in a half way place, there his father died and he suffered bereavement. God sends sorrow to bring us nearer to him. There Abraham separated from Lot—his nephew and when Lot got into trouble and was taken prisoner, Abraham rescued the weaker one but refused a share of the spoils of war—another surrender. Then Abraham was ready to surrender to God his only son who was the idol of his heart. We mus surrender our body, soul and spirit to God —te surrender not of compulsion but of love.

Mr. Callaway having left on the early morning train, Mr. W. R. Sproull of Toronto presided at the Parish Hall, where the session opened with an interesting address by Rev. (Capt.) E. Appleyard, M.A., M.C. of Woodstock chairman of the Huron Diocesan A.Y.P.A. Committee, on "The Dominion Association and its Relation to the Branch", in which the speaker itemized the duties of the branches, in their individual diocesan, provincial and dominion significance. The Dominon organzation was started in 1913 and a number of new charters have been added this year. Enquiries are numerous from all parts of the Dominion, coming from as far away as Newfoundand. Huron is the only organized diocese

Mr. G. S. Scovell, president of the Toronto District A.Y.P.A. Local Council, followed with a brief talk on "The Value of the Admission Service", emphasizing the right attitude of members which is that of putting something into the A.Y.P.A. instead of getting something out of it. A development along the four-fold lines of work, worship, fellowship and edification is necessary, and the meaning of the pledge with the Sacred Name inscribed thereon, with the badge, where faith and purity go hand in hand. The value of the service lies in the establishment of a bond of interest and fellowship for new members.

Some interesting discussion followed this discourse and the one immediately thereafter delivered by Rev. F. Elliott-Baker, of St. Michael's and All Angels, Toronto on "The Advantages of a Special A.Y.P.A. Service". Rev. Mr. Baker spoke in glowing terms of the kindness and warm hospitality extended the delegates by the citizens of Peterboro. His address opened with a recommendaion that a special service be not set aside for A.Y.P.A. benefit but that a certain Sunday be dedicated to the cause, with corporate communion in the morning, matins and evensong all along the same line of A.Y.P.A. work. "Through the power of your service, you constitute a great camp from which the church and state will draw its future rulers", he said and "by your actual work and worship you will refute the adverse statements made from time against your society." The speaker warned the young people to guard against the dangers of schism reviewed the advantages of an A.Y.P.A. special service to the laity, the members of the society themselves to the rector and to the church, and concluded an address which was an intellectual treat, with "just as the blood of the martyrs in the early Chrisian times was the seed of the church of to-day so the A.Y.P.A. of to-day is the seed of the church of to-morrow and it is your power it build it up or to break it down."

RUGBY AND HOCKEY

Collegiates are getting in some good work-outs in preparation for their next game in the Interscholastic series.

Oshawa plays in Belleville next Saturday, and a Belleville win will give the locals group honours.

A victory for Oshawa will tie the motor town team with Collegiates, in which event a sudden death game will be played in Port Hope.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press).—The over-night announcement of the proposed cut in freight rates on agricultural products was without material influence on railway shares at the opening of to-day's Stock Market. Changes in that group were mainly, though moderately, towards higher levels.

Strength again was shown by Oils, Equipments, Shippings and various Chemical and Fertilizer specialties. Mexican Petroleum rose 1 3-8, Railway Steel Springs one point, and American Agricultural Chemical Preferred, Mercantile Marine Preferred and American Ice were higher by one to almost two points. Royal Dutch was the only active stock to show a re-actionary tendency in connection with forthcoming dividend rumors, losing 1 3-8 points.

Exchange on London again was strong.

Pullman and Packell and Barker, which are expected to announce their merger to-day, were among the strongest stocks of the active forenoon, Pullman rising 4 1-4 points. Oils, rails, and various specialties also extended their early gains, but the advance was checked before noon by the selling of steels, tobaccos, and miscellaneous issues. Crucible Steel fell 1 3-4, Sumatra Tobacco Common and Preferred, 1 1-2 and 3 1-4 respectively, and Industrial Alcohol, broke sharply on rumours of unfavourable dividend action by directors after the close of the session.

Call money was plentiful at yesterday's fixed rate of 4 1-2 per cent.

Resumption of dividends on the Hocking Valley strengthened coal shares at midday. Chesapeake and Ohio, which controls Hocking Valley, and is scheduled to act on its own deferred dividends to-morrow, rose over 3 points.

Inactive specialties were heavy, especialy1 National Cloak and Suit Preferred, which fell 5 1-2 points.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, November 17 (Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange easy. Demand Great Britain $3.99 5-8; Canadian dollars 8 7-16 per cent. discount.

LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, November 17. Canadian Press. — Receipts were 419. Trade was slow. Butcher steers $5.50 to $6; butcher cows, medium, $2.25 to $3.50; calves $10 to $11.60; lambs $8 to $8.75; hogs, selects, $9 to $9.25.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press).—There was an increase in business in the shares section, but a falling off in activity in war loans on this morning's session of the local Stock Exchange. Trading in stock was the most active for some days, and, with the exception of General Electric, which developed marked weakness, the price trend was upward. Canada Bread advanced one point to 29. C.P.R. was 2 higher at 162. Consumers' Gas advanced ½ to 68½, with Brazilian, after an early gain, closing unchanged at 25½. General Electric sold off 3½ points to 90.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press).—Injtial wheat quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 3-8c higher, with December 1.06 3-4 to 1.07¼, and May 1.09½ to 1.09 3-4, were followed by something of a set-back, then by a decided upturn all around.

Corn and oats hardened with wheat. After opening a shade to ½c higher, May 53 1-8 to 53½, the corn market sagged a little, but then scored slight general gains.

Oats started 1-8c to 3-8c up, May 37 3-4 to 37 7-8, and continued relatively firm.

RIORDON GETS ONE YEAR'S EXTENSION OF CREDIT.

MONTREAL, November 17 (Canadian Press). — At a meeting of the creditors of the Riordon Company, Limited, this morning, an extension of credit for one year, so as to secure its continued liquidity during re-organisation, was granted.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, November 17 (Canadian Press). — Trading on the local Stock Exchange during the first half hour this morning was duller than it has been for months. Indeed, it was almost non-existent, for with the exception of Atlantic Sugar, which appeared unchanged at 33 1-4, none of the leaders put in an appearance.

U. F. O. DANCE A SUCCESS.

Reputation has again proven to be the best drawing card in the dancing world. The results of last night's dance given under the auspices of the Peterborough branch of the United Farm Women of Ontario, has displayed this fact bevond all doubt.

The hall was packed to the utmost, but owing to the good graces of the Follis' Orchestra, there was such a continuous flow of lively, well-timed and harmonious dance music that every one present had plenty of chance to dance without having the floor crowded at any time The sandwiches and cake, served with coffee, was in abundance, and every one left the hall thoroughly grateful to the U. F. W. O. for the splendid evening's entertainment, and many made eager requests to have the programme repeated at a later date.

ELDERLY LADY WAS THROWN TO ROAD BY CITY STREET CAR

MOTORMAN DID NOT GIVE HER TIME TO ALIGHT—STUNNED AND INJURED BY CONTACT WITH HARD PAVEMENT.

The modern speed mania, besides making the streets a menace for unlucky pedestrians who have to dodge wildly-driven motor cars, has now spread apparently to the members of the street car profession. Residents in different parts of the city know how recklessly some of the motormen sweep along. This is particularly noticeable on Park street, especially in that couple of blocks directly below Hunter street which slopes to Charlotte street, where the cars have a fine chance to come down at a good pace, to wait for some minutes at the corner for north and east bound connecting cars.
Last evening, between nine and ten o'clock, a lady living on Park street rang the bell for the northbound car to stop at Hunter street. The car stopped, and just as the lady, a woman of mature years, by the way, had one foot on the ground, it started on, precipitating her with such violence on to the hard pavement that she was stunned and unable to rise. Her hat and eyeglasses were knocked off, and her head cut so badly that her coat and blouse were afterwards discovered to be covered with blood. Some of the passengers on the car caused it to stop a little farther on and several came running back, lifted the woman and assisted her to her home, half a block away. The doctor was called and put in several stitches in the cut.

CAPT. J. DEWART HOLDS SUCCESSFUL MEETING

ADDRESSES ELECTORATE AT COTESSLOE ON CANADA'S DEBT.

Captain John Dewart held a very large and successful meeting at Cotessloe, in the Township of Dummer, last evening.
He stated that the annual expenditure of the Dominion of Canada in 1911 was 79 million dollars. Those expenditures in 1911 had no connection whatever with the war, but those same expenditures that have no connection with the war have increased over 400 per cent, while the population of the Dominion of Canada during this last ten years has not increased more than 15 per cent.
In other words, said Mr. Dewart, if our population had increased to 32 million people we could very well undertake the expenditure for the ordinary affairs of Government that we are now assuming, but as a matter of fact our population has only increased 15 per cent. and our rate of living has increased 400 per cent.
At the very last session of Parliament, over 300 million dollars was voted for ordinary expenditure, and upon the top of that, said Mr. Dewart, we have to provide for the cost of the great German war. That involves an interest charge of nearly 140 million dollars, and involves a mortgage upon the Dominion of Canada of an amount nearly equal to what the whole Province of Ontario, including its farms, its cities, towns and villages, would sell for if it were put up at auction at the present time.
The problems arising out of this indebtedness requires the united effort and co-operation of every man, woman, and child in the Dominion of Canada.
If the Canadian people divide into groups and seek to pass class legislation then we will find that the burdens of taxation will, in the last result, fall upon the farmers themselves.
In order that Canada may be re-established, it is necessary that all classes should unite and co-operate with each other.
To the extent that all classes unite and co-operate with each other, our annual burdens will become lighter and our prosperity will become greater.
Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P. for West Peterborough, also spoke at length.

OBITUARY

Word was received by Mr. F. M. Dela Fosse, librarian of the Public Library, this morning, advising him of the death of his wife at Ontario, Southern California, early this morning. Society

The regular weekly at home of the Immfaculate Conception church, held last evening in their parish hall, was very successful. Ladies in charge were Mrs. Thos. Clancy, with Mrs. O'Connor, Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. Kirn and Mrs. Mayette. Prizes for cards, a pretty worked centrepiece and a tie, were won by Mrs. Jack Crowe and Mr. Fred Knapp.
Kiwaian W. G. ("Bill") OBrien of Kingston, formerly of Peterboro, was "booster" at the big meeting last night. His many friends in Peterboro, where he resided until last year, will be glad to learn of his success in Kingston, as district supervisor for the Imperial Tobacco Co.
Miss Helen Wedlock, Reid street, is visiting friends in Montreal.
Mr. and Mrs. P. Thompson, of Cleveland, after three weeks' visit with their daughter Mrs. Harry Gunsolus, 582 Water street, will leave for Toronto on Friday for a short stay with their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Fordham, then returning to Cleveland.

IS RECOMMENDED BY PETERBOROUGH DRUGGISTS.
On page eleven of this issue there will be found a half-page advertisement of Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets, giving genuine testimonials from Peterborough druggist to the remarkable efficacy of this well-known preparation in relieving constipation, billiousness, sick headache and indigestion. It is indeed a question if any other patent medicine could get so strong a professional recommendation for producing exactly the beneficial results claimed for them as have Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets from druggists in this community. The manufacturers of this preparation also have on hand hundreds of testimonials from satisfied users of their medicine, both in Peterborough and elsewhere. Read the advertisement on page 11.

STOPPING WORK ON SUPER-HOOD SHIPS ORDERED

BRITISH ADMIRALTY ORDERS SHIPBUILDERS TO INCUR NO FURTHER LIABILITIES UNTIL NOTIFIED.

JAPANESE SUSPECT U.S.

LONDON, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press).—The Admiralty announced to-day that it had ordered the cessation of all work on the four warships of the Super-Hood type. The shipbuilders were notified not to incur further liabilities on new naval construction until further notice.

TOKIO, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press).—With the fading of enthusiasm over the anticipated relief of armament burdens, a spirit of caution has developed in Japan with an inclination to look for a possible advantage to the United States in Hughes's proposals. Expressions favoring a more equal balance of power have become the conspicuous note in public expressions concerning the scheme.

BRITAIN FAVORS 'OPEN DOOR'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press). — British authorities emphasized to-day that Britain has come to the conference for the purpose of helping China to assume her proper place in the commercial world. With this aim in view, Britain is satisfied this may best be obtained through the open door and by leaving China free to carry out her own destiny.

In a formal statement to-day the Chinese delegation to the conference said that "in viw of the printed report that it was at the suggestion of the United States that the Chinese delegation had presented has presented her ten general principles," the statement was authorized that this report is unfounded.

ARMAMENT SLASH WILL NOT AFFECT STEEL INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press). — Addressing the American Iron and Steel Institute to-day, Elbert H. Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, urged the negotiation of a treaty which would prevent future wars in conjunction with an agreement to limit navies.

He belittled the suggestion that armament limitation would reduce the manufacture of steel, saying the thought was unworthy of passing notice. Business was improving, but there must be further adjustments.

WOMEN PLAN TO GET MEMBER ON SCHOOL BOARD

WOMEN'S COUNCIL HEARS ADDRESS ON ADVANTAGES OF DENTAL INSPECTION IN SCHOOLS.

The local Council of Women held a very well-attended meeting in the green room of the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon, Mrs. A. Mowat presiding.

Discussion of numerous matters was carried one. Miss Walton, convenor of the committee on moving pictures, reported that R. C. Furlong, manager of the Allen Theatre, had suggested that representatives of the Council attend the first showing of pictures at his theatre on Mondays and Thursdays of every week, for the purpose of criticism. He agreed to delete any objectionable portions at the request of the ladies. In this regard, it was decided to postpone decision until further enquiry had been entered into.

An encouraging report was given of attendance at the Public Library on Sunday afternoons, and Miss A. Lancaster, convenor of the committee on "Citizenship," read a letter from Dr. Stowe-Gullen, bearing on the importance of women's interest in matters vital to the state and to themselves, such as the national debt, the railway situation, the recommendation to Boards of Education of the addition to the school curriculum of a course in citizenship, the care of the mentally deficient, the appointment of women as juvenile court judges and officers, and of women as examining physicians for women and girls, the unjust laws relating to the rights of women and to their privileges as citizens.

Address on School Dentistry

Dr. J. J. Craig, Hunter street, gave an interesting talk on "The Advantages of Dental Inspection for School Children." According to the speaker, too little attention is given to this branch of education, which is more important than many studies included in the curriculum. Dr. Craig gave a short account of the origin of Oral Hygiene work, from its beginnings in Canada and the United States to the present splendidly-equipped dental clinics in both countries. Results of a two years' course in this sort of work conducted in the Sacred Heart Orphanage in Toronto, were exemplified in the disappearance of the annual epidemics from which the institution had never been free at any time, and also in the oustanding results achieved from a five years' trial of school inspection in Bridgeport, Connecticut. "When the government comes to realize that a child is just as important as a Holstein calf or a Tamworth hog, then it will have a school inspection," said the speaker, who characterized the system as an advantage for both the rich and the poor alike, with no discrimination shown.

A. Y. P. A. MEET ENDS SESSIONS; IS SUCCESSFUL

SUMMARY OF CONVENTION'S WORK SHOWS CONFERENCE ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL IN A.Y.P.A. HISTORY.

PETERBORO' PRAISED

Yesterday afternoon's short session of the Dominion Anglican Conference closed one of the most successful conferences in the history of the A.Y.P.A. The installation of officers took place. In the absence of Clarence Bell, past Dominion President, Rev. R. B. Grobb of All Saints' Church was called on to install the officers for the coming year.

Mr. Grobb, in a happy little speech, expressed his pleasure at the conference just closing and felt that the parishes who entertained the delegates received the greatest inspiration.

The form of installation was very impressive and the officers were invested with their badges by Miss Woodhouse, the retiring Treasurer. After the ceremony was over the new President called on Rev. G. S. Despard of St. Paul's, Toronto, to give an address on the A.Y.P.A. Bible Class. This is a representative gathering of Anglican young people gathered from all parts of the Province, and it suggests optimism and responsibility and should be the inspiration of a vision of great possibilities.

The Young People's Council of the church consists of representatives of the General Board of Religious Education and the Dominion Executive of the A.Y.P.A.

The A.Y.P.A. and the organized Bible Class are linked together and should have a definite and high aim. Now, in the mid-week activities, the call for social activities is insistent and the educational element is in danger of being neglected, but the A.Y.P.A. should have a Sunday programme linked up with a Bible Class.

An organized Bible Class is a group of men and women banded together to equip themselves for dei-

Burnham Moots Joint Meeting

SAYS DOUBT EXISTS AS TO PLATFORMS OF THE TWO CANDIDATES

In a communication to The Examiner to-day, J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P., Conservative candidate in West Peterborough, suggests a debate or joint meeting between himself and G. N. Gordon, ex-M.P., Liberal candidate, to remove the doubt as to the platforms of the two candidates.

Mr. Burnham says that it is being stated that Mr. Gordon is "a Meighen Protectionist," and he wishes to clear upon this point.

Mr. Burnham's letter follows:

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—If Mr. Gordon would not think it a bit of bounce on my part, my supporters, and indeed the public generally, would greatly like to have him and myself state our policies, and otherwise generally define what and whom we follow and endorse. I would of course pay half the usual expenses of a debate or meeting, which would go far to satisfy a public that seems to be impatient over our not having come directly to issue. It is being persistently stated to me that Mr. Gordon is a Meighen Protectionist, and that he does not follow Mr. Mackenzie King in his trade and tariff policy. It might interest the public and clear their minds if we threshed our respective trade and tariff policies out in a public hall at an early date, and I am willing and will be found quite reasonable as to the arrangements. With respect,

J. H. Burnham.

MR. V. E. TAPLIN, OF TORONTO, ORIGINATOR AND DESIGNER OF THE FAMOUS LINE OF TAPLIN NATURAL TREAD SHOES.

Mr. Taplin is President and General Manager of Natural Tread Shoes, Limited, with their factory in Belleville, and is now specially engaged in developing the Company's Chain Store System.

The store at 376 George Street, is the latest link in the chain.

Mr. Taplin has during the last seven years lectured hundreds of times to various organizations, and his teaching is without doubt, having its effect on the shoe trade of the country. He successfully entertained over 1500 people in the Grand Opera House recently.

He is a member of the Masons, Moose and Macabbees and is an enthusiastic curler, bowler and all-round athlete. He is now endeavoring to play Golf. Having grown up in the woods, he says it is much easier to bring down a running deer than to properly hit the elusive Golf ball.

Mr. Taplin will spend most of the next two weeks in the city after which the business here for the most part will be in the hands of the local directors with Mr. Greenslade in charge.

RAPS METHODS OF EDUCATION NOW IN VOGUE

DR. EVANS SAYS THERE ARE TOO MANY FRILLS AND FOUR YEARS OF LOAFING ARE THOUGHT TO INDUCE BREEDING.

SAYS BIBLE RIGHT BASIS

With a dramatic presentation, a power of oratory, and a rapid-fire delivery that held his audience absolutely intent for nearly two hours, with a rapt attention that culminated in an outburst of enthusiastic and sustained applause at his conclusion, Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans spoke to a well-filled hall at the Conservatory of Music last evening, after an introduction by Mr. Josepr Wearing.

Dr. Evans' subject, "Let There be Light", was a general, humorous criticism of the educational systems of Great Britain the United States and Canada. Interspersed with humorous allusions deliverd in a unique style of platform oratory, the speaker commenced with a recital of the definitions of man; Carlyle's, which classed him as a toolusing animal; the Frenchman who regarding him as a "cooking animal"; the Englishman who regarded him as a "laughing animal"; and the speaker's own classification of man as a "learning animal".

"How are we educating the brains and also, in a larger sense, the mentality, of the boys and girls of this country?" said Dr. Evans who regarded the popular pastime of the Canadian in constantly crticisizing the dweller of the United States as an attitdue unworthy of the spirit of a great empire. He spoke in terms of the strongest disfavor of the educational system in vogue at the present day, when children are allowed to think and do pretty much as they like, when there is "too much of the fluffy ruffles and frills of the fraternal societies, sonority hops senior proms, and the rah-rah meetings, where four years of loafing makes a well-bred man."

"No nation was ever greater than its development intellectually, and no community was ever bigger than its brains", said the speaker, who regarded the modern liking for fiction and "snappy stories" as a sign of decadence and retrogression.

His discourse contained many allusions to the Scotch and he said: "the coming of Andrew Carnegie to Skibo in the old days caused no more stir than a rabbit, but let a professor from Glasgow or a dominie from Edinburgh appear, and the plowman would drop his work and climb to the top of the highest hill to catch just a glimpse of the skirts of a scholar disappearing in the distance." "It is not what we have but what we are, that in the end defines our usefulness to society."

The speaker attributed the evil condition of many patrons, prominent examples of which were Mexico and Russia, lands overflowing with natural resources and yet in the most desperate of social and financial states to the lack to education in the young, and recommended particularly in the cirriculum the study of the Bible and the ten commandments, "the basis of all knowledge".

BANQUET HELD BY ENGINEERS HUGE SUCCESS

PROMINENT ENGINEERS, OFFICERS OF DOMINION INSTITUTE, ATTEND GATHERING HERE.

Their annual banquet is considered by the local branch of the Engineering Institute to be the event of the season in engineering circles, and last night's function was no exception. Fun and entertainment in large measure, with periods of sertousness, combined to make an evening that will be long remembered by those present.

The guests of the evening included the following prominent engineers and officers of the Institute: Walter J. Francis, of Montreal, Vice-President; Fraser S. Keith, General Secretary; Col. Magwood, of Cornwall, chairman of the Ontario Provincial Division, and Professor Peter Gillespie, of Toronto University.

After the toast to the King had been suitably honored, the toast to the Institute was proposed by R. L. Dobbin, Waterworks superintendent. Mr. Dobbin, in his remarks, drew attention to the preponderance of Peterborough men at the head of the affairs of the Institute, among whom are R. A. Ross, immediate past president; J. R. M. Fairbairn, president; Walter J. Francis, vice-president; F. B. Brown, Prof. Peter Gillespie, and Prof. H. E. T. Haultain, councillors.

Walter J. Francis, C.E., who replied, extended the regrets of the President at not being able to be present. Mr. Francis expounded the aims and objects of the organization, which had been singularly fortunate in the past in the high quality of the men at its head. Mr. Francis made an appeal to the Peterborough Engineers to keep up these ideals before them, and in advancing the Institute interests, they would advance their own.

Toast to Branches.

The toast to the branches was proposed by Fraser S. Keith, general secretary, who told of the growth of the Institute to its present large size, having now over 5,000 members. There are now 21 branches scattered all over the Dominion, and Mr. Keith prophesied that in five years every engineer who amounted to anything would be a member of the Institute.

Professor Peter Gillespie replied on behalf of Toronto branch, and extended the greetings of its officers.

Col. Magwood spoke for the Ontario Provincial Division, which includes all the Ontario branches, and described the efforts being made to secure legislation controlling the practice of engineering in the Province. Ontario and Saskatchewan are the only provinces that have not passed such legislation.

History of Club.

Chairman P. L. Allison, of the local branch, gave its history from its beginning as the Engineers' Club in 1917 to its present state as one of the most active parts of the Institute.

P. P. Westbye proposed the toast to "The Sister Professions," and replies were given by Dr. (Ed.) Wood, Basil Hall, and Rev. Harold Young, on behalf of their respective associations.

A feature of the evening was the singing of the C.G.E. Sextette, a body whose musical efforts were a huge success. Several original compositions, introducing various prominent local engineers, and the visitors of the evening, aided in the jollity of the occasion.

EXCAVATING TO START AT ONCE FOR RED ARROW

PLANT TO BE IN FULL OPERATION BY APRIL UNLESS HITCH DEVELOPS, OFFICIALS EXPECT.

PUBLIC IS INVITED

Tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 p.m. will see the turning of the first spade of sod for the erection of the new factory building of Red Arrow Tires, Limited, at North Water and Hilliard streets. This is to be a public ceremony and everyone is invited to attend.

The ceremony will be in charge of G. A. Gillespie. Vice-President of the company, and the first spade of earth will be turned by J. J. Turner, President of the company. Mr. Turner at this time will make a statement outlining the policy of the company and its aims and desires.

John E. Hayes & Sons, who have the contract for the erection of the building, will start excavating Monday morning, and they are planning to employ enough men on every branch of the work to rush the job through to early completion.

A contract was given yesterday to William Hamilton Company of this city for the building of the boilers which will be installed. This company will also build the stack and install the automatic stokers.

At the present time there are in the city the representatives of practically all the large manufacturers of tire building machinery, who are here to figure on the equipment to be installed in the plant.

At the speed with which the company is working and if bad weather does not delay building operations, it is expected that the company will be in full operation by April.

TO-DAY'S FASHIONS

WINTER SUIT

Navy blue Avora was the delightful choice of this warm winter suit. Combined with the blue is glossy gray wolfe. Bell shaped jacket and sleeves give a new silhouette to the suit. Small "half-moon" pockets and carved bone buttons contribute their bit to make the costume distinctive.

BOUFFANT STYLE FOR THE SLIM

For so picturesque a fashion, old blue taffeta is quite the right material—so old blue taffeta it is, with streamers and rosettes of blue and silver ribbon to set it off. This fashion is especially becoming to youthful, slim figures of the petite type.

TO AIR ANGLO-JAP PACT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press.)—From a high British authority it was learned to-day that members of the British Empire delegation are preparing for a complete airing of the question of the Anglo-Japanese alliance before the Far Eastern committee of the conference. Since the publication of China's policy there has been much speculation as to whether the paragraph in this document relating to treaties was intended to raise the question of Britain's compact with Japan. All doubt was removed to-day when a direct statement was made that the Alliance would come before the conference.

The armament conference was called by Chairman Hughes to-day to meet next Monday at eleven a.m.

BANQUET HELD BY ENGINEERS

W. H. Barrie made a proficient accompanist.

The souvenir programme was the work of R. C. Flitton, and was very much admired, and was a very appropriate programme for the engineering affair. Mr. Flitton struck a very happy design and carried it through with the precision of a professional artist. The programmes were made by blue-print, and entailed no little work on Mr. Flitton's part. The cover contains a splendid drawing of the Hunter Street Bridge, and on the inside, surrounding the toast list are illustrations of motor cars, telephones, trains and ships, etc., all mindful of the part engineers have played in the progress of the times. The back of the cover shows President J. M. R. Fairbairn, chief engineer of the C.P.R., in exaggerated size, sitting on a C.P.R. engine speeding to Peterborough. Unfortunately for the engineers, the President was unable to do what the caricature depicted.

TO-DAY'S NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

CRERAR AND MEIGHEN BLAMED FOR POLITICAL TRICKERY IN 1917

CAPT. JOHN DEWART WAS WELL RECEIVED AT KEENE—GOVERNMENT'S RECORD REVIEWED AND ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN

Captain John Dewart, M.C., Liberal candidate in East Peterborough, addressed a comparatively large audience at Keene last night. In spite of the rain and extremely muddy roads the attendance was highly encouraging. Quite a number of the audience were women. Mr. Dewart was accorded an attentive and friendly hearing as he discussed the administration of the Meighen government and the issues of the campaign. He was assisted by ex-Warden W. A. Anderson, R. R. Hall and C. R. Widdifield.

Reeve F A. Easson was appointed chairman.

Mr. Eason in accepting the chairmanship, alluded to his allegiance to the U.F.O., saying, "You all know where I stand as far as this campaign is concerned. The duty of the public is to hear public speeches and read the press, weigh the various arguments and arrive at a conclusion."

Captain John Dewart stated that the Hon. Arthur Meighen was trying to becloud the real issue in this election by parading the tariff question on every platform.

"The chief issue is not the tariff," he said, "but whether the people of Canada are to be governed by autocrats or democratic methods. The democratic idea is government of the people, by the people, for the people; the autocratic method is government of the many by the few without consulting the wishes of the great mass of the people."

Mr. Dewart illustrated these opposite principles. In 1904 and 1908 the Laurier government went to the people for thir approval of the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway. The people, by re-electing the Laurier government, gave their assent to the building of the N.T.R.

On the other hand, said Mr. Newart, the present government had bought 20,000 miles of railway without consulting the people. The government had a majority and they simply forced that bill through. Before committing the country to that obligation and expenditure they should have appealed to the people for endorsation.

Mr. Dewart enumerated the deficits in the operation of the C.N.R. now after the owners had sold to the government and retired with their millions. He explained the interlocking directorate of the C.N.R., naming them and the companies with which they are associated.

Referring to the Hon. T. A. Crerar, Mr. Dewart affirmed that not only had he voted to conceal how the C.N.R. money was expended, but also said that while the Grain Growers' Grain Company, of which Mr. Crerar is president, had made profits from 44 to 66 per cent. and 520 per cent. in one of their subsidiary companies, the shareholders had never received more than 10 per cent. on thier money and had got as low on their money and had got as low

R. R. Hall.

Mr. Hall opened his address with a lucid presentation of the increased cost of administering Canada's affairs during the last ten years. In the final session of the Meighen government the sum of $340,000,000 had been voted for the purpose of carrying on the ordinary business of the country, as compared with $79,000,000,000 in 1911. Not a dollar of the increase was due to the war. Had the population of Canada grown in the same proportion it would now be approximately 32,000,000 inhabitants. Although the cost of administration was four times as great the census returns showed only a comparatively slight increase in population for the same period.

Last session the sum of $140,000,000 interest on the national debt had been paid. This was entirely separate from the national debt itself. The total amount voted last session was $600,000,000, including ordinary expenses and obligations in consequence of the war.

"These are conditions that must cause men to think," said Mr. Hall, pointing out that the total revenue last year was only $372,000,000. With all our large sources of revenue and income we are going behind no less than $225,000,000 a year. The national debt on March 31, 1920, was $2,248,000,000. What does that mean? If the farms of Ontario, the property in the villages, towns and cities including the great buildings and manufacturing institutions were sold at their assessed value, the total would fall $750,000,000 short of our national debt."

The Bright Side.

Turning up the bright side of the situation, Mr. Hall referred to Canada's natural resources and their development potentialities.

"I am told that in Northern Ontario we have more gold and silver in prospective sight than would pay our national debt twice over." Mr. Hall enumerated the vast farm lands awaiting cultivation, the mines, the forests and fisheries to be developed.

"We want population," he urged. "In the last ten years 819,000 person, nearly one-tenth of our population left this country for the United States. This exodus must be stopped, and it can be stopped only by inaugurating a policy that will bring back renewed opportunity and prosperity to this country."

"I remember in 1896 when, speaking for John Lang in this riding, there was the same wave of exodus. Mr. Lang was elected and under the Liberal government that exodus was turned to immigration. In those 15 years one million people were added to the population of the northwest.

KING INDORSES THE CANDIDATURE OF C.W.KERR IN NORTHUMBERLAND

LIBERALS OF THE COUNTY WILL BE REPRESENTED IN THE ELECTION BY THEIR NOMINEE OF NOVEMBER 1ST — INCENSED AT METHOD OF THE U.F.O. AT LIBERAL CONVENTION.

COBOURG, Nov. 18.—The Liberal Mass meeting at Colborne on Tuesday the 8th instant, through the rough house politics of the National Progressive Party was prevented from reaching the order of business, viz., the nomination of the Liberal candidate. The townspeople were not well represented as the meeting was held in the afternoon so that Liberal farmers might be present. It was expected that the business was merely to ratify the nomination of a Liberal to contest the Constituency of Northumberland and that such nomination would be made without opposition. The U.F.O. club members although not invited turned out in full force and claimed as they were opposed to the Meighen Government they had the right as former Liberals for the most part to first leave the Liberal Party and nominate a follower of Crerar as the National Progressive Candidate and then attend a Liberal Convention and vote that no Liberal Candidate should be nominated, on the ground that the National Progressive Candidate was still a Liberal. This unseemly course was taken despite the fact that a representative meeting of Liberals just the week before had carried almost unanimously a resolution that it was not only in the interest of the Liberal party in Northumberland but in the interest of the Liberal party in Canada that a candidate representing the Liberl party should be placed in nomination even though it meant a three-cornered contest so that the electors might freely express themselves as between all existing parties.

Muzzling Liberals

The National Progressive's candidate's brother-in-law took part in the Convention and claimed although supporting the National Progressive Candidate that he was still entitled to muzzle the Liberal electors by reason of the fact that he was opposed to the Meighen Government and that this was the first election at which he had been supporting a Liberal nominee.

The lack of fairness and the indecency of trying to run the supporters of the National Progressive candidate, had no effect on the supporters of the National Progressive party who were present to see that no Liberal Candidate be allowed to be placed in the field, although they heralded their party as the party which would ever follow the straight path and avoid the meanness and trickery so frequently now ascribed by them to the old parties.

They were reminded it was impossible to serve two masters. It was pointed out that in a three-cornered contest that the fight would be between the Liberal nominee and the National Progressive nominee for first place but that in a contest between National Progressive and Meighen Party that the National Progressive would be hopelessly beaten, as the electors in Campbellford, Hastings, Brighton, Colborne and Cobourg, as well as in the small villages and hamlets if they had not an opportunity of voting Liberal will abstain from voting before they would pulmotor into existence a sectional party and a party bent on defeating if possible the Liberal Leader, Honorable W. L. McKenzie King, and his first Lieutenant, The Honorable Charles Murphy, K. C.

Political Cracksmen

Stalwart Liberals like Dr. Robertson, (Colborne), Curtis, (Percy), Johnston and Lawless, (Haldimand), Maher, Kerr, McColl, and DeLanty, (Cobourg). pressed the National Progressive supporters either to retire from the Liberal Convention or to refrain from voting. The National Progressive supporters led by Smith, (Murray, Macklem, (Haldimand), Ewing (Brighton), insisted that there was nothing improper or indecent in first selecting their own Candidate and then attending and voting at a Liberal Convention to prevent a Liberal Nominee from being in the field. This shows what impression the teachings of Wood, late of Missouri has had on the National Progressive party The National Progressive party knew what that they had packed the meeting and immediately proceeded like political cracksmen to seek to deprive the many electors for Northumberland, who are opposed not only to the Meighen part but to the creation of a class party, from having a candidate to vote for by defeating a resolution to proceed to nominate a Liberal Candidate to contest Northumberland at this election. The resolution to nominate a candidate was supported by the Liberal speakers already named and by almost every other Liberal in the hall, who had not been pledged to the National Progressive Party. The National Progressive Party thereupon voted in opposition to the resolution and succeeded in defeating such resoluton. The National Progressive party chered heartily when the result was announced, as they thought they had gagged Liberalism and forced the Liberal electors to be mere hewers of wood and drawers of water. Liberalism will not lie down under such treatment. The best laid plans of mice and men oft gang agley, so it is to be hoped that such methods as were practiced by the Progressive party at Colborne, in this free country of ours are not permitted to go unpunished.

Want A Candidate

Many electors in Northumberland are urging the electors of Cobourg, the County Town, to protest against such political methods and to take the lead in making an appeal to the electors of the other municipalities to join in bringing out a Liberal Candidate, so that all electors may be able to properly express themselves at the polls.

The methods adopted by the National Progressive party it is claimed by many, will lead to its immediate destruction.

The U.F.O.—National Progressive party—in Northumberland followed the Tammany methods by the Anderson party in West York against the Conservative party by packing a Liberal Mass meeting and voting

Warm Welcome Given Prince

TUMULTUOUS ENTHUSIASM SHOWN UNPRECEDENTED IN BOMBAY.

LONDON, Nov. 18.— (Canadian Press.) — Reuter's correspondent with the Prince of Wales, in a long detailed despatch, describes the reception of the Prince of Wales by the populace of Bombay, when he landed, and during the four-mile circuitous procession through the city. The splendid military cortage at various points along the route touched the fringe of the native bazaar, where there was tumultuous enthusiasm unprecedented in the history of Bombay.

The route of the procession was lined with British and Indian troops. A public holiday had been declared and all the inhabitants closed their shops and flocked into the streets to greet the Prince, whose manner of bearing made a great impression.

The correspondent adds that although the political atmosphere in Bombay is rather tense, the tour of the Prince is considered to have opened with splendid promise.

A despatch to the London Times from Calcutta dated Tuesday says the Extremists were taking advantage of the visit of the Prince of Wales to gain further notoriety and that they might declare a general demonstration when the Prince landed. It added that the lower element, inspired by unscrupulous agitators and professing adherence to Mahatma Gandhi and the Caliphate of Workers, were likely to interfere with the plans of the better part of the population by organized demonstrations of terrorism which already were rife in the Indian quarters.

The conditions in Calcutta were described as disquieting. The tramway strike and the Caliphate agitation had led to serious rioting. Gangs of "hooligans" infested the streets, particularly in the Indian quarter, shouting for Gandhi and interfering with traffic. Unsuccessful attempts had been made to induce the police to go on strike.

DO YOUR BOWELS MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt at once from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all of its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicines, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

BOYCOTT OF VISIT OF PRINCE FAILED

LONDON, Nov. 18.— (Canadian Press.)—The Bombay correspondent of the London Times says the Non-Co-operationists had made the utmost effort to render the boycott of the Prince of Wales' visit effective, but the only result was an overwhelming and tumultuous reception, passing all possible expectations.

Experts say it will be a severe blow to Gandhi and his party of discontent, but the correspondent refrains from prediction. At the moment of the demonstration Gandhi himself was somewhere in Bombay, but is reported to have been assisting at "a farcical bonfire of imported clothing."

SUBMARINE IS THE POINT OF DISAGREEMENT

BRITAIN STANDS FOR ABOLITION OF SUBMARINE AS IMPROPER NAVAL WEAPON.

U. S. OPPOSES THIS

WASHINGTON, November 18. — (By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) — Indication was given this morning from a high British source, that the point of chief interest to Great Britain in connection with the naval armament proposals, is that restricting the building of submarine tonnage.

The British opposition to permitting of any large number of submarines to the nations, endorsing the agreement, is based on humanitarian principles. The possibility of abuse of the U-boat as revealed in the recent war, it is believed, has very largely been instrumental in influencing the British delegation in endeavoring to secure the agreement of the other nations to some plan of limiting their use as far as possible to legitimate purposes of defence.

It was pointed out that the main idea of the conference is not economic but humanitarian. Its idea is to put a stop to wars and not merely to save money for the nations represented, the reduction of expenditure being merely incidental. The British therefore take the stand that the comparative cheapness of the submarine as opposed to the battleship is no argument in its favor in relation to the aims of the conference.

U. S. Avoids Subject.

There is a tendency on the part of the United States to concentrate on the British position in regard to the maintenance of shipyards rather than on the submarine question, which from the British viewpoint, is undoubtedly the more important. The question of the advisability of making some arrangement to provide against the possibility of the starting of a mad race in ship construction at the end of the ten year holiday was merely put forward ten-

LIGHT CRUISERS MEANT?

WASHINGTON, November 18 (Canadian Press). — Admiral Baron Kato, head of the Japanese delegation to the Armament Conference, announced that Japan would seek modification of the United States naval limitation programme which would permit Japan to maintain a "general tonnage slightly greater than sixty per cent." of that of each of the other two Powers.

Japan also would ask, Baron Kato said, for the right to maintain "any type of vessel of strictly defensive character," with tonnage approximating that maintained by the other two Powers.

A statement issued by Baron Kato said:

"Because of her geographical position Japan deems it only fair at the present time that the other interested countries should agree that she should maintain a proportion in general tonnage slightly greater than sixty per cent., and, in type of vessel of strictly defensive character, she might desire even to approximate that of the greater navies."

Light Cruiser Meant.

Baron Kato's statement was made at a conference with newspaper correspondents, but he would not give details as to the modifications his delegation would submit, saying this was for the conference to discuss. It was assumed generally, however, that the "slightly greater" general tonnage the Japanese desired would include the battleship Mutsu, probably just commissioned, and that the type of defensive vessel referred to was a light cruiser suitable for policing the waters of the Orient against pirates and the like.

The Mutsu is a ship of some 33,000 tons, armed with eight 16-inch guns. She is comparable to the United States Maryland class, and according to Secretary Hughes' programme each nation would retain but one

CRERAR AND MEIGHEN BLAMED FOR POLITICAL TRICKERY IN 1917

CAPT. JOHN DEWART WAS WELL RECEIVED AT KEENE—GOVERNMENT'S RECORD REVIEWED AND ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN

Captain John Dewart, M.C., Liberal candidate in East Peterborough, addressed a comparatively large audience at Keene last night. In spite of the rain and extremely muddy roads the attendance was highly encouraging. Quite a number of the audience were women. Mr. Dewart was accorded an attentive and friendly hearing as he discussed the administration of the Meighen government and the issues of the campaign. He was assisted by ex-Warden W. A. Anderson, R. R. Hall and C. R. Widdifield.

Reeve F A. Easson was appointed chairman.

Mr. Eason in accepting the chairmanship, alluded to his allegiance to the U.F.O., saying, "You all know where I stand as far as this campaign is concerned. The duty of the public is to hear public speeches and read the press, weigh the various arguments and arrive at a conclusion."

Captain John Dewart stated that the Hon. Arthur Meighen was trying to becloud the real issue in this election by parading the tariff question on every platform.

"The chief issue is not the tariff," he said, "but whether the people of Canada are to be governed by autocrats or democratic methods. The democratic idea is government of the people, by the people, for the people: the autocratic method is government of the many by the few without consulting the wishes of the great mass of the people."

Mr. Dewart illustrated these opposite principles. In 1904 and 1908 the Laurier government went to the people for thir approval of the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway. The people, by re-electing the Laurier government, gave their assent to the building of the N.T.R.

On the other hand, said Mr. Newart, the present government had bought 20,000 miles of railway without consulting the people. The government had a majority and they simply forced that bill through. Before committing the country to that obligation and expenditure they should have appealed to the people for endorsation.

Mr. Dewart enumerated the deficits in the operation of the C.N.R. now after the owners had sold to the government and retired with their millions. He explained the interlocking directorate of the C.N.R., naming them and the companies with which they are associated.

Referring to the Hon. T. A. Crerar, Mr. Dewart affirmed that not only had he voted to conceal how the C.N.R. money was expended, but also said that while the Grain Growers' Grain Company, of which Mr. Crerar is president, had made profiits from 44 to 66 per cent. and 520 per cent. in one of their subsidiary companies, the shareholders had never received more than 10 per cent. on thier money and had got as low on their money and had got as low

R. R. Hall.

Mr. Hall opened his address with a lucid presentation of the increased cost of administering Canada's affairs during the last ten years. In the final session of the Meighen government the sum of $340,000,000 had been voted for the purpose of carrying on the ordinary business of the country, as compared with $79,000,000,000 in 1911. Not a dollar of the increase was due to the war. Had the population of Canada grown in the same proportion it would now be approximately 32,000,000 inhabitants. Although the cost of administration was four times as great the census returns showed only a comparatively slight increase in population for the same period.

Last session the sum of $140,000,000 interest on the national debt had been paid. This was entirely separate from the national debt itself. The total amount voted last session was $600,000,000, including ordinary expenses and obligations in consequence of the war.

"These are conditions that must cause men to think," said Mr. Hall, pointing out that the total revenue last year was only $372,000,000. With all our large sources of revenue and income we are going behind no less than $225,000,000 a year. The national debt on March 31, 1920, was $2,248,000,000. What does that mean? If the farms of Ontario, the property in the villages, towns and cities including the great buildings and manufacturing institutions were sold at their assessed value, the total would fall $750,000,000 short of our national debt."

The Bright Side.

Turning up the bright side of the situation, Mr. Hall referred to Canada's natural resources and their development potentialities.

"I am told that in Northern Ontario we have more gold and silver in prospective sight than would pay our national debt twice over." Mr. Hall enumerated the vast farm lands awaiting cultivation, the mines, the forests and fisheries to be developed.

"We want population," he urged. "In the last ten years 819,000 person, nearly one-tenth of our population left this country for the United States. This exodus must be stopped, and it can be stopped only by inaugurating a policy that will bring back renewed opportunity and prosperity to this country."

"I remember in 1896 when, speaking for John Lang in this riding, there was the same wave of exodus. Mr. Lang was elected and under the Liberal government that exodus was turned to immigration. In those 15 years one million people were added to the population of the northwest.

KING INDORSES THE CANDIDATURE OF C.W.KERR IN NORTHUMBERLAND

LIBERALS OF THE COUNTY WILL BE REPRESENTED IN THE ELECTION BY 1HEIR NOMINEE OF NOVEMBER 1ST — INCENSED AT METHOD OF THE U.F.O. AT LIBERAL CONVENTION.

COBOURG, Nov. 18.—The Liberal Mass meeting at Colborne on Tuesday the 8th instant, through the rough house politics of the National Progressive Party was prevented from reaching the order of business, viz., the nomination of the Liberal candidate. The townspeople were not well represented as the meeting was held in the afternoon so that Liberal farmers might be present. It was expected that the business was merely to ratify the nomination of a Liberal to contest the Constituency of Northumberland and that such nomination would be made without opposition. The U.F.O. club members although not invited turned out in full force and claimed as they were opposed to the Meighen Government they had the right as former Liberals for the most part to first leave the Liberal Party and nominate a follower of Crerar as the National Progressive Candidate and then attend a Liberal Convention and vote that no Liberal Candidate should be nominated, on the ground that the National Progressive Candidate was still a Liberal. This unseemly course was taken despite the fact that a representative meeting of Liberals just the week before had carried almost unanimously a resolution that it was not only in the interest of the Liberal party in Northumberland but in the interest of the Liberal party in Canada that a candidate representing the Liberl party should be placed in nomination even though it meant a three-cornered contest so that the electors might freely express themselves as between all existing parties.

Muzzling Liberals

The National Progressive's candidate's brother-in-law took part in the Convention and claimed although supporting the National Progressive Candidate that he was still entitled to muzzle the Liberal electors by reason of the fact that he was opposed to the Meighen Government and that this was the first election at which he had been supporting a Liberal nominee.

The lack of fairness and the indecency of trying to run the supporters of the National Progressive candidate, had no effect on the supporters of the National Progressive party who were present to see that no Liberal Candidate be allowed to be placed in the field, although they heralded their party as the party which would ever follow the straight path and avoid the meanness and trickery so frequently now ascribed by them to the old parties.

They were reminded it was impossible to serve two masters. It was pointed out that in a three-cornered contest that the fight would be between the Liberal nominee and the National Progressive nominee for first place but that in a contest between National Progressive and Meighen Party that the National Progressive would be hopelessly beaten, as the electors in Campbellford, Hastings, Brighton, Colborne and Cobourg, as well as in the small villages and hamlets if they had not an opportunity of voting Liberal will abstain from voting before they would pulmotor into existence a sectional party and a party bent on defeating if possible the Liberal Leader, Honorable W. L. McKenzie King, and his first Lieutenant, The Honorable Charles Murphy, K. C.

FEDERAL RELIEF.

In its remarks last night in regard to the discrimination being exercised in the matter of Federal relief for returned soldiers against those men not on the pension list or who did not receive a course of vocational training, The Examiner had no intion of casting any reflection on the majority of those who availed themselves of the re-training facilities provided by the Government. Many ex-service men enrolled for vocational training in a commendable desire to improve themselves for the battle of life they were about to resume. They were quite justified in taking advantage of a plan that was designed precisely for that purpose, and there is no reason why there should be the slightest criticism of their course. But there were other returned men—many of them, in fact—who only applied for vocational training because it looked like a "cushy" way of obtaining six months' allowances. They admitted frankly that they had little intention of making use of the training afterwards. It is this class that The Examiner claims should have no advantage over other returned soldiers in the matter of relief from the Government. The man who went to work while these easy-money-seekers were drawing vocational training pay should not be penalized now for his industry—in fact, in some cases the reverse should be the case.

NOT THE REAL FIGHT?

Some political observers, and they are of all shades of politics, too, regard the present election campaign as merely a preliminary contest; the real fight they claim will begin after December 6th. In other words, they believe that not one of the three parties will be in a position to carry on a Government, and that a re-aligment will be necessary. There are various guesses as to what form the re-shuffling will assume. Some commentators declare that there will be an alliance between the Liberal and Progressive forces with either King or Crerar as leader; others profess to believe that the new Government will consist of a union of the supporters of the present Government with sections of the Liberal party who favour a protective policy. As to the head of this last mentioned alliance there are also differences of opinion. Some observers say that Meighen will be at the helm, but there are others who foresee a compromise by which some other chieftain might be chosen. The Examiner has no claim to make of its ability as a prophet. Possibly one of these guesses may be not far off the mark; more probably all are wrong, but at all events they are being made, and the fact that they are being freely circulated shows how thoroughly perplexing and confusing is the whole campaign.

PREACHING—AND PRACTICE.

Leaders and followers of the Agrarian political movement have never failed to attack the tactics of the two old parties and to proclaim the Progressive party as the exponents of a Simon-pure brand of politics such as Canada has long looked for. But somehow when theories are left behind and the realm of practical politics is entered the Farmers' party have in some instances at least shown that their platform pretensions are not to be taken too seriously, and they have been able to demonstrate to the older organizations some new twists in political manipulation. The situation in Northumberland furnishes an illustration. Here, when the Liberals of the riding called a convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate to oppose the Government and United Farmer candidates already in the field, men who did not attempt to disguise the fact that they were supporting the Progressive cause packed the meeting and prevented for the time being the selection of a candidate. Morally these interlopers had no right to vote in a Liberal convention, and their action in blocking the convention was nothing more nor less than a Tammany coup, a demonstration of gall and brazenness such as has rarely been equalled in the political history of this district. It was successful for the moment, but the announcement is now made that Mr. C. E. Kerr is to enter the field as a Liberal candidate in spite of the novel and audacious attempt of the Progressive to prevent his appearance in the fight.

A FORMIDABLE LIST.

The joy of being a candidate for Parliamentary honours is well illustrated by the list of eleven questions which the Trades and Labour Congress are asking to standard-bearers to answer. It is surely not considered possible that any candidate in the midst of an election campaign could be able to give such questions the consideration they deserve and be able to formulate definite answers to each of them in such a short space of time. Some, of course, could be answered readily, but there are others that cannot be dismissed without more thought than a busy candidate can find occasion to give them just now. They run the whole gamut from Asiatic immigration to proportional representation, and if each of the proposals were to be investigated as it should be before a reply was prepared the candidates would have little time left for canvassing or speech-making. At best the Trades and Labour Congress must be prepared to receive evasive answers to this questionaire.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If you are not on the list look after your vote tomorrow.

The general verdict is that "Babe" Ruth as a vaudeville actor is the best home-run hitter in baseball.

The ex-Kaiser lost a great chance by not securing a job to write his views on the Disarmament Conference for the Hearst papers.

Both Meighen and King are coming back to Ontario. This Province is the centre of the whole fight and much depends upon its verdict.

Next Tuesday is nomination day. The campaign draws rapidly to a close.

With many three-cornered contests there will be an unusually large number of candidates who will lose their deposits.

The Progressives have nominated a dentist in North Toronto, probably figuring that he will have a better pull than Tommy Church.

SOMETHING IN COMMON

To every species of living thing there is something in common: the vast chain of sympathy runs through all creation. ELECTION NEWS

KING ASKS UNITED SUPPORT FOR LIBERALS

REGINA, Nov. 17. — (Canadian Press.)—Addressing a large audience which included many Conservatives and Progressives last night Hon. Mackenzie King again warned of the danger of the Progressive movement in bringing about isolation of the Middle West of Canada and urged the people to get together for a fight for Liberal principles. Canada, he said, needed a government based on the needs of the whole Dominion and any attempt to rule the country on the basis of the needs of any class group or section could only lead to divisions in the state.

He charged the Premier with autocracy in seeking to restrict the issue to that of protection versus free trade. Riordon tax payments and railway matters came in for considerable attention from Mr. King.

ship in this class. Great Britain has no battleships of this type. If the Mutsu is later added to the ships Japan is to retain, she will make the second 16-inch-gun ship for Japan, and it was assumed that if this was granted, the United States delegation would desire to retain the West Virginia of similar characteristics to be launched next Saturday.

Admiral Kato made his statement in the presence of M. Hanihara, the Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, and several other members of the Japanese delegation. He was then asked to define more clearly what he meant in stating that "in a type of vessel of strictly defensive character she might desire to approximate that of the greater navies," and in reply said he wanted to make perfectly clear that the above reservation did not apply to capital ships, but to other ships of a defensive character.

Submarines Not Included.

In reply to another question he added that the reservation did not refer to submarines.

"Has Japan any views," he was asked, "as to the tonnage of submarines?"

"I have no views to express," he answered, "until I have had a chance to read and study the proposals of Great Britain."

"There is some idea of abolishing submarines, poison gas, and other like instruments of warfare," said another questioner.

"Has the Japanese delegation ever considered this?"

"I hope to take this matter up in the conference itself," the Admiral replied, "so I am not in a position to answer at this time."

that no Liberal candidate should be placed in the field. They justified their position by asserting that they were the true and trusty exponents of pure Liberalism. In West York, A. J. Anderson, the deserter from the Liberal Party, packed the Conservative Convention in West York and without shame bodly proclaimed that he was a better Conservative than Len Wallace.

The Peterborough Examiner in its issue of November the 9th gave a very full report of the brazen methods adopted by the U.F.O. clubs of Northumberland at the Liberal open meeting held at Colborne on the 8th of November.

C. W. Kerr Will Stand

Mr. Charles W. Kerr was unanimously endorsed at a representative meeting of Liberals held at Colborne on November 1st and has now notified the President of the Liberal Association that he is in the field as a Liberal candidate. The action of this meeting in nominating Mr. Charles W. Kerr has the full approval of the Liberal Leader of Canada who has wired Mr. Kerr as follows:—"Please accept for yourself and convey to the Liberals of Northumberland my hearty congratulations on your nomination as their Standard Bearer in the present contest. I send the best of wishes for every success in the campaign." This means a three-cornered fight if the Progressive candidate remains in the field.

All electors should look after registration this week before His Honor Judge Ward, Cobourg, and at Campbellford.

Mr. Reg. Pearson of Smith, was in the village on Wednesday.

Quite a number attended the dance given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Northey at the home of the former's mother, at Haultain, on Wednesday evening.

On Armstice Day Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were presented with a map of their son's grave in France by Pte. Wilbert Webster of Lakefield. The map is the work of Pte. Webster and certainly is one of skill. It gives the exact location of Pte. Wilson's grave in Aix Nonlette cemetery, France. The following verse is inscribed on the map:

"He dared the direst dangers
Of that dread and dear-bought day,
He fell among the foremost
In the fury of the fray;
And a solemn silence answered
When we called him on the roll,
For we knew that we had lost him,
And that Heaven had gained a soul."

CRERAR AND MEIGHEN BLAMED

Tariff Revision Overdue.

The adjustment of the tariff has been long overdue. Sir Thomas White acknowledged that three years ago, but he did nothing. When boots were $3 a pair the duty at 35 per cent was $1.03; when the price increased to $6 the duty followed to $2.10. The duty was not revised to meet the changed conditions and Arthur Meighen hadn't the courage to revise it."

"Revise the tariff along the lines that will attract foreign investors to Canada", Mr. Hall suggested. "I don't mean manufacturers only, but men who will settle on the land and devote their savings and their labour to agriculture; investors who will develop our mines and other resources.

Do you know that it costs $30,000,000 as compared with $20,000,000 fifteen years ago to ship grain to Great Britain. What possible chance have farmers to make money in the face of a combination of capitalists in Montreal, New York and Liverpool, who advance the freight rates 18 times what they were 15 years ago.."

Crerar For Concealment.

Mr. Hall referred to Premier Meighen's refusal to disclose the details of the disbursements for the Canadian National Railways yet one of the first acts passed by Sir John A. McDonald in 1867 provided for a proper book-keeping and record of all Canadian expenditures.

"We are losing millions onnually in the C.N.R. but no one has been called upon to account for one cent of that money.

"When Mackenzie King moved a resolution on March 22nd., last calling upon the Government to show how the C.N.R. losses were made up Arthur Meighen voted for the concealment of the facts from the people and the Hon. T. A. Crerar also voted for concealment. And John A. Sexsmith voted for the principle of concealment."

Mr. Hall ridiculed what he described as a pretext of the govenment that they didn't wish to disclose the business affairs of the C.N.R. for the benefit of the C.P.R. Freight and passenger rates were the same. The C.P.R. in its great shops knew the cost of producing rolling stock.

The true reason of the Government's defeat of Mr. King's resolution, Mr. Hall suggested, were the disclosures of the dealings of the directors of the C.N.R., as a Board operating the national railways with the private companie of which they were directors.

Crerar and Conscription

Mr. Hall recalled the promises made prior to the 1917 election of exemption of farmers' sons, Reeve Max Brown and Robert Knox were appointed a special board to recommend exemption of farmers to the regular tribunals.

"I haven't one word of reproach to cast on ex-Warden Brown and Mr. Knox. They acted innocently and honestly and as honourable men. But I regret to say that men sat behind them at Ottawa who were using them for their own selfish ends. The Hon. Mr. Meighen and the Hon. T. A. Crerar sat around that Council table at Ottawa and the Hon. T. A. Crerar sent the telegram to J. H. Burnham to select that local Board."

Mr. Hall recalled that the Board was disbanded after the election and none of its representations was acted upon.

"The Government promised wives and mothers that their husbands and sons would be home for Christmas. One woman told me she had a letter from her husband saying he would be home for Christmas and asking her to vote for the Union Government. He voted for the Government and was sent back to the trenches. They added to the anxiety and distress of ten thousand women that deferred hope which makes the heart sick." The Hon. T. A. Crerar was minister of Agriculture in the Union Government.

"He sat with Mr. Meighen at the same Council table and I put both of them in the same basket. Are you going to help exalt one of these men by sending either of them a supporter? I don't have to resort to the language of denunciation. I present the facts to you and leave you to draw your own conclusion. As righteousness exalteth a nation and sin is a reproach to any people we should not have men guilty of such conduct."

Mr. Hall also reminded his audience that the Goverment gave the franchise to squaws of Curve Lake and Hiawatha, but refused to grant it to those patriotic women who worked for the comfort of the soldiers but who had no members of their familes overseas.

"Were they (these squaws) not as much entitled to vote as the other women who had soldiers at the front" a man in the audience asked.

"So they were", replied Mr. Hall, "but what about the rest of the patriotic mothers and wives and daughters. And I may add that the squaws are now denied the right to vote".

Mr. Hall's recollections and further information evoked applause from all parts of the auditorium.

Captain Dewart Worthy

In conclusion the speaker urged the people of Otonabee to consider the splendid miltary record of Captain Dewart.

"He took a noble part in the war. He was wounded at Passchendaele, promoted to Captain on the field and was rewarded by His Majesty the King with the splendid honour of the Military Cross. You have heard him and must have been impressed by his abilities, his grasp of public questions and his love of justice to all men. He was prepared to lay down his life for his country; surely he is entitled to your confidence and a place in the hall of Parliament."

W. A. Anderson

Mr. Anderson supplemented Mr. Hall's account of the appointment of the so-called Farmers' Exemption Board.

"I met Mr. Burnham with the telegram one day during County Council week. Mr. Brown and Mr. Knox were at the Court House with Mr. Elliott. The young men from the county reported to them believing they would not be exempted. It was only to get their votes. The Order-in-Council appointing those Boards was contrary to the Military Service Act. The Act said the men would be conscripted the Order said they wouldn't. Mr. Crerar was a party to it. He shouldn't have been. He was on the platform when Premier Borden refused the petition of the deputation at Ottawa Afterwards in the corridors Mr. Crerar told the farmers they weren't getting a square deal.

"If that is an honourable minister of the crown I don't know what a dishonourable one is."

Mr. Anderson remarked that Mr. Hall's statements were true. He said he was just as much a Liberal today as in 1917. "My principles are Liberal and that's the only place you can get me. Men may go wrong but Liberalism can't be wrong. There is not a possibility of it being wrong."

To reassure the returned men, Mr. Anderson said he didn't want them to think that in 1917 he had any idea but of assisting them to the fullest extent. He had supported every patriotic cause in Otonabee and in the township and county council and had stood for the immediate payment of contributons for the Red Cross, Patriotic Fund and similar causes.

"I did so in order that there would be no debt standing for the soldiers to pay a share when they came home, or in harder times than we had then."

Mr. Anderson said the Government instead of piling up a big debt could have handled the finances in the same way.

"I had no faith that the men in the Union Government were going to carry on the business of the people to the same extent that they would carry on their own business."

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HELD A MEETING—PERSONAL MENTION

MILLBROOK, November 18. — The Women's Institute held their usual monthly meeting on Wednesday, November 16, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. William Rowland, the president, Miss Fisher, occupying the chair.

The attendance was small as unfortunately either other events intervened or the majority of the members themselves do not take sufficient interest in the work of the Institute to attend the meetings in large numbers. However, some important items of business were attended to in connection with the next Chautauqua concert on the 30th of this month; and after considerable discussion it was decided to hold a "Rummage Sale and Sale of Home-made Cooking," on the 17th of December; all members and friends of the Institute to be asked to assist in providing material for this event. A committee was also appointed to secure a suitable place for holding the sale, and other details were arranged as far as possible. After a pleasant social evening the meeting adjourned.

Day of Prayer.

The annual Day of Prayer, which the board of management of the W. M.S. of the Methodist Church arranges to be observed by the local Auxiliary on Thursday, November 17th, from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

The President Mrs. (Rev.) Tucker took charge of the opening, after which five periods of intercession, each with appropriate hymns and Scripture references, and in charge of separate leaders, followed.

The "Home Base" was taken by Miss Stella Hetherington; "Canada" by Miss Pearl Burnham; "Japan," by Miss Byam; "Our Young People," by Mrs. J. L. Byam, and "China," by Miss Tucker in place of Miss Hampton, who was unavoidably absent.

Although doubtless owing to the unfavorable weather there were not as many present as had been hoped for yet an excellent spirit pervaded the entire service and the meeting proved both inspiritional and profitable. A former president, Mrs. J. W. Walsh, by whose untiring efforts, the first Auxiliary in Millbrook was organized, was amongst those in attendance, and was warmly welcomed by her many friends.

The pastor, Rev. S. T. Tucker, took charge of the "Quiet Hour," and consecration service in which the meeting closed.

Miss May Needham left for Toronto recently and will remain for some time visiting with friends.

The many friends of Miss Mary Higgs, daughter of Rev. William Higgs, a former pastor here, will regret to learn that she is ill with typhoid fever at Frankford, where she has been teaching since last September. Her uncle, Mr. Latta, with whom she boarded, is also ill with the same disease.

Married—At the Presbyterian Manse on Wednesday November 16, by the Rev. G. S. Gervan, James Wilbert Wood son of Mr. William Henry Wood, of Cavan, to May Letitia Stewart daughter of Mr. George Stewart of Manvers.

The Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of Grace Presbyatrian Church held their November meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the S. S. room, the president, Mrs. L. S. Clarry, occupying the chair. After the devotional exercises several important business items received attention Two very interesting papers in the Chapter "Africa" from the study-book: "Canada's share in World Tasks", were given by the secretary, Mrs. J. R. Eakins and Mrs. H. Johnston.

The meeting closed in the usual manner.

Dr. Ellis returned from his hunting trip in the Parry Sound district on Thursday, he and his party, which included two friends from Toronto, being successful in bringing home their quota of deer. The doctor shot his in the early morning as it was being pursued by a pack of wolves.

Dr. A. Jemison has been confined to the house for several days on account of illness and is not expected to be able to resume his practise this week.

Born:—In Dr. Turner's private hospital on Saturday, November 12th to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Newton, a son.

A pretty wedding took place recently in St. John's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, when Bessie Millicen Rogers youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jane, Millbrook, became the bride of Andrew W. Fiddes only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fiddes of Toronto. The Rev. Thomas A. Roger performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Bolton H. Price of Orillia, has recently been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Doak.

BETHANY NEWS

BETHANY, November 18.— Rev. J. K. Beaton, missionary from China, home on furlough, spoke in the Methodist Church on Sunday. The life and work of the missionary was his theme. He also gave some very descriptive stories of the lives of the Chinese, which were very interesting. A missionary subscription was taken at the close of the meeting, and was well responded to.

Mr. A H. Monk took the work on the Fleetwood Circuit on Sunday.

Miss Maye Arthurs, of Janetville, is the guest of her friend, Mrs. Clarence Neil.

Mr. and Mrs. Oman Urry, of Millbrook, visited with Mrs. Urry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rowan, on Wednesday.

Miss Olga Fowler, of Peterborough, atended the chicken pie supper at the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Matchett, of Cavan, were guests of friends in the village on Wednesday afternoon, and attended the supper in the Methodist Church in the evening.

Chicken Pie Supper.

The annual chicken pie supper of the Methodist Church was held on Wednesday evening. Although the weather was not very promising, a large crowd gathered to enjoy the good things the ladies had provided.

The programme was excellent, and was put on by the members of the Epworth League. Little Miss Hazel Jackson excelled in her recitations. A song drill by six junior girls was given in splendid style. Helen Byers and Jean Thorndyke did unusually well in a darkie song. The Preston brothers sang. Karl Monk recited, and the Tuxis Boys gave several selections, besides several solos, quartettes, and quintettes. A play entitled "The New Minister's Wife" was put on by the senior members of the League, demonstrating a Ladies' Aid meeting preparing for the new minister and his family. The evening's programme closed with the National Anthem.

Over $100.00 was cleared.

Among those present at the supper on Wednesday evening were Mr. Fred Bowen, Orono; Mr. Sandy Kelly and sister, Miss Kelly, Cavan; and Mrs. Geo. Morrison, of Toronto.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid" indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

SUBMARINE IS THE POINT

tatively as a point which well be discussed. It was never definitely declared a part of the British policy, and Mr. Balfour in his address did not bring it forward. However, it came to light on the day the head of the British delegation made his speech, and appears to have been confused with the definite pronouncement of Great Britain's attitude regarding the United States proposals. Those in close touch with the British delegates to-day again emphasized that Great Britain is very anxious to secure a real naval holiday and has no intention of bringing anything into the discussion which would in any way be detrimental to bringing it into effect. The matter of shipyards, in the British point of view, is merely one of the many technical questions which must be threshed out by the special committee of the naval experts.

An Outstanding Point.

WASHINGTON, November 18. — Canadian Press. — Great Britain's antipathy to submarines as a naval weapon still loomed to-day as the outstanding point of disagreement between the British and United States point of view in connection with future restricted naval programmes.

The submarine question is being stressed beyond any other in unofficial discussion in conference circles, and views of the two powers are so far apart that it seems likely extended consideration must be given before a mutual agreement can be reached.

In the British view, submarines should be abolished entirely as an improper naval weapon. A wide range of subjects has been covered to support that position.

In the United States view, submarines properly used, are as legitimate a naval weapon as battleships. No British argument yet presented has shaken that conviction as far as can be told.

OSHKIGMONG HAPPENINGS

OSHKIGMONG, Nov. 18.—Mr. Dan Whetung has returned from his hunting trip and reports very poor luck.

Mrs. Ben. Sawyer, who is here for a few days, will return to Longford today.

The mail was transported from Curve Lake to Selwyn and return across the ice.

Mr. J. Jones, who has been making improvements to the store of Chief D. E. Whetung, has completed his work.

A JOKE ON DAN.

(By Dan Himself.)

In his hunting expedition Dan Whetung realized a funny experience last Sunday and Monday. Being isolated from close connection with the civilization and Dan's engagement was so intense to kill a deer or a bear, that he forgot to number his days. On Sunday morning, thinking it was Saturday, marched off into the woods with a deadly weapon slung over his shoulder and with a full anticipation in bringing back a deer or a bear. After tramping through the woods for considerable time and failing to see the desired aim, changed his course until he came out to the road, where he met three young people riding in a buggy, who were probably going to church, Sunday service. Dan handed a letter to the young man with a request to post it. The obliging young man courteously took the letter from Dan and with a smile said he will post it. On his return towards the camp a flock of ducks flew over his head. Dan, with a deliberate aim, fired at them without doing them any damage; the ducks went on their way congratulating themselves they have escaped an expert shot. Dan went to his camp empty handed. Feeling pretty tired, went to bed with the comfort and assurance that tomorrow (Monday) will be the day of rest, and as Dan never was a deserter to the Sabbath, determined that the observance of the holiday he kept and respect the fourth commandment. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor." Dan labored seven days and kept the eighth day for Sabbath. Later in the day a friend came along and found Dan under the subjection to loyalty to the Sabbath, who informed him that it is Monday. To his amusement Dan knew that he has labored on the seventh day.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

WHAT ABOUT THE CANAL?

To the Editor.

From time immemorial the most important question to this district, namely, the completion of the Trent Canal, has been trotted out at every election, but we have had the Premier, the Minister of Railways and Canals, Mr. Burnham's address and Mr. Gordon's address, but never a mention has been made of the completion of this great project. In fact, it is an indirect black-eye for the project to have had the Minister of Canals come here and go away again without having the matter ever referred to. One would have thought that those who are seeking to represent this large district would have had the leaders of their respective parties make some pronouncement upon such a live question to this district. What are those organizations doing that should be looking after such matters. The whole canal is practically completed, with the exception of one section. With the great unemployment question on our hands and work on this great project stopped, someone should be up and doing.

Yours truly,
"PROGRESS."

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Hon. Mr. Meighen stated in his speech in Peterborough on Nov. 2 that it would be unfair to the farming industry if all the manufactured goods bought by farmers were protected and foodstuffs were placed on the free list. He gave the farmers present to understand that the removal of duties on foodstuffs would ruin the home market for farm produce, as the country would be flooded by cheap food from foreign countries. As the U.S. is our nearest neighbor, I presume that this "flood" would come from that source—a country that bought from us last year $148,000,000 of food products.

If Canada was a country that barely produced enough food to feed her own population, a high tariff would benefit the farmer (at the expense of the urban resident). In Great Britain, where the urban population is many times greater than the rural and where enormous quantities of foodstuffs must be imported, a high tariff would raise prices to the English farmer and probably bring starvation to hundreds of city workmen. The situation in Canada is just the reverse. We produce a greater amount of food every year more than we need and the balance must be sold in the markets of the world. Can food products compete in the British market with the produce of Ireland Denmark, Argentine and Australia? If the Canadian farmer can do this in the world's markets, he need not be alarmed at competition at home. With cattle selling at 5 cents per lb. live weight, hogs at 8 cents, wheat below a dollar a bushel and hides, wool, etc., a drug on the market, the foreign producer, after paying shipping charges, must "go some" to come under our prices in our own markets. When the export demand for bacon, cheese and all dairy products, cattle, wheat products, etc., falls off, down goes the price in the home market at once. For any politician to tell the farmers that "their products must enjoy adequate protection or he will be crowded out of business" is veritable rot.

What program have the apostles and high priests of protection to offer towards finding a market for our surplus agricultural products? Apparently nothing, except the old cry, "Keep up the tariff wall to develop the home market." For the past forty years the home market has been in process of building. Probably in another century, if the rural population keeps on decreasing at its present rate, those who are on the land then will see the protectionist's dream realized and all agricultural produce consumed at home.

Previous to 1911 Mr. Meighen in Parliament demanded that the Liberal Government must reduce all duties on agricultural implements. He quoted evidence igven before the U. S. Committee of Ways and Means by an official of the International Harvester Co., showing that implements can be made comparatively as cheaply in Canada as in the U.S. He showed that between 1881 and 1905 implement factories in Canada decreased from 234 to 70, while their capitalization rose from $9,116,000 in 1891 to $40,000,000 in 1910. The decrease was due to large concerns crowding out the smaller ones. Today he tells us that if we have free implements the Massey-Harris Company will do their manufacturing in the U.S. and the International Harvester Company at Hamilton will close its doors. When the old National Policy was first introduced, the intention was to reduce gradually all import duties on manufactures according as the concerns became firmly established. The present state of affairs shows clearly that our giant industrial concerns now demand protection whether it is needed or not; and that neither Tory or Liberal parties dare refuse their requests. Tariff history since 1896 will bear this out.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
CHAS. S. BROWN.

HEALTH FOR WORKING GIRLS

Those Who Suffer and Are Unable to Work Need Helpful Suggestions

Springfield, Ill.—"I had periodic trouble with weakness, cramps and backache and I could not work. A neighbor recommended your medicine and I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now strong and well, able to work, and recommend your medicine to my friends."—ANNA RIMKUS, R. R. No. 8, Springfield, Ill.

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rimkus did when case after case is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been the standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.

MRS. MARY WILHELM, Pittsburg, Pa.

"No matter what I should say about Tanlac, it wouldn't be half good enough," said Mrs. Mary Wilhelm, 716 Mint Way, South Side, Pittsburg, Pa.

"I never dreamed it possible for a medicine to restore me to the splendid health I now enjoy. In fact, I had almost resigned myself to being an invalid, as I could see I was losing weight and strength every day, and no relief was in sight. For three years stomach trouble, headaches and nervousness made my life miserable.

"The first bottle of Tanlac acted almost like magic and it wasn't long until I was so well and strong that I could hardly realize I had ever known a sick day. I am like a different person in every way now, eating, sleeping, feeling and looking better than in years."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

REDS INTRODUCE NEW BRAND OF FINANCING

Arrest Merchants and Threaten Lives to Get Money.

TIFLIS, SOVIET REPUBLIC OF GEORGIA, Nov. 18.—(By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press)—The Soviet government here is much more active than that of Moscow. It is a case of the new broom that sweeps clean. It has been supposed that, since the destruction of the democratic Georgian Republic the Eleventh Red Army, last February, the government here was of the kind jocularly called "ersatz" in Germany, that is, a sort of harmless substitute for the real thing.

While in Soviet Russia, the Red flag and the bayoneted Red soldier are going out of style, these two attributes of new freedom are much in evidence here.

Automobiles whiz along, bearing red banners, these banners are likewise flown from many public buildings and passes are strictly examined on trains by shaggy persons armed with knife and pistol, which every true-blue Communist has a right to wear.

Strange persons, probably intent on pocketbooks and forgotten or mislaid baggage, represent themselves as members of the Cheka, (committee against counter-revolution) when interrupted. This is quite a pastime with the young roughs. On the contrary, in greater Russia, the Cheka is a gumshoe affair, and when it takes anything, it does it when nobody is looking. It covers its trail even when it makes arrests so thoroughly that the near relatives of the arrested are left in doubt.

Here, when the Cheka makes an arrest and later executes, near relatives are broadly informed, when they bring food to the prison, that the person in question no longer needs food and they had best discontinue their visits.

One of the latest performances of the Soviet here was to start a brand new kind of finance. It set out to reform the currency and improve exchange and general commercial conditions, and took the short cut of arresting 700 of the leading merchants of the country. They were told that they would be shot within a week unless they made a contribution of 25,000,000,000 rubles to the "sanitation fund." They were short half this sum, about $200,000 in real money. For the other half a committee was released to visit the Near East Relief where the sum was asked for in the form of a loan. As the loan was not made, the merchants returned to prison, and were later released, after giving promissory notes to pay the sum.

LANDRU TO PRODUCE HE IS CHARGED WITH SLAYING

VERSAILLES, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press.)MA daramtic announcement made in open court yesterday by Henri Landru that he would produce before the court one of the missing women the prosecution charges him with having murdered, proved the climax of the trial of the so-called "Bluebeard of Gambais."

The opinion was general in the court room that if Landru can make good his declaration he most surely will be acquitted, but that if he fails to do so he will be guillotined.

Counsel for the defence absolutely refuses to give any inkling of the whereabouts of the missing woman referred to to-day by Landru, but it is reported in well-informed circles that evidence to be produced to-day will be to the effect that the woman Madame Cuchet, together with her son, is now living in Rio Janeiro. It is said that she has made an affidavit before the French Consul in the Brazilian capital of their identity and expressed a willingness to return to France, providing that young Cuchet shall be posted only as a deserter from the army and granted immunity.

GREAT OIL CITY POVERTY-STRICKEN UNDER RED REGIME

Baku, Pittsburg of Russia, Rather Down-at-the-heel.

BAKU, Azerbaijan, Nov. 18.—(By a Staff Correspondent of The Associate Press)—The economic keynote to this city is found in a small shop of the broad Nikolaevskaya, a stone's throw from the ancient palace of the Klans. In a window of this shop are a few bars of soap, combs, hairbrushes, shoe polish, and three tiny bottles of French perfume, one of which, marked "Quelque Violets" is priced at 600,00 rubles.

Baku has neither bread nor clothes but she still hopes to come back sometime. Thansk to her vast oil wealth, now unproductive in the main, she has for many years been like Pittsburgh a place where men became millionaires overnight.

Everybody is poor and hungry now, as they have been before, but they live on the gambler's hope. One of the specialties of Baku, with its rough citizens of many races, has been the making of revolutions and another may be produced to put out the Soviet and bring back the good old times.

For the present the city wears a down-at-the-heel look. Houses are are paintless, windows are boarded up for want of panes. The only color of life is produced by flaring Bolshevik posters, illustrating the evil of alcohol and demon rum, capitalism and sundry odds and ends, including the necessity of caring for the teeth. As there is no alcohol, even for medicinal purposes, nor dentists, nor money circulating among the poor, these posters lose their effect. They hang-over from old Soviet educational campaigns.

Baku took up Bolshevism where Moscow left it off and still pretends that it is very, very socialistic and brotherly. The small boys in the streets have taken a liking to the word "Tovarish", (comrade) and address passerby with it, when begging a bit of bread or a match.

There are no hotels at all in Baku today. All buildings and homes have been communized and the stranger is hard put to it to find a place to sleep. The city still has a good supply of artists and singers. Some of them are sent from Moscow which has, through thick and thin kept faith to the program that the public should have first-class entertainment.

Strangers meet courtesy and expedition at the office of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. Youth is in control there. The Foreign Minister is a Tartar, aged 23. The War Minister is 26 years old, the Minister of Industry of Industry and Commerce, 22 and the president of parliament of the republic is 24.

When oil is mentioned, the old timers explode. "There is hardly any oil here, in one of the world's richest centers," said one engineer. "After the oil properties of the private companies were requisitioned, workmen who didn't know how to read or write, or anything about oil, were put in control, as a committee.

"The Soviet has ruined us and brought us to starvation. It has ruined the richest wheat section in Russia and now we can't get bread from Samara. If there had been no drought, the famine would have come just the same due to Soviet requistions of grain that left no seed grain to the peasants."

LABOR MEMBERS PROBE IN EGYPT

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press)—A delegation of labor members of the British Parliament has just completed an unofficial tour of investigation in Egypt. It was headed by J. E. Swan, member of the House of Commons and a mining leader of Durham. The local press devoted columns daily to the activities of the mission but it caused little excitement and there was no unfortunate incidents such as occured in previous instances.

It is regarded as unfortunate in business circles here that the visit of the Swan Mission was personally conducted by the Nationalist Party. It came at the invitation of Saad Pasha Zagloul, president of the Nationalists. Business men feel that under such conditions the mission did not have the best opportunity to obtain a comprehensive view of conditions in Egypt. They also question whether the mission devoted sufficient attention to the study of the commercial and financial condition in this country.

The extravagant hopitality of the Orientals is likely to make a visitor forget that the East, like the West, depends for its prosperity upon its commercal and financial machinery.

So far as known the Swan Mission did not consult with the large foreign colonies here which handle the financial and commercial business of the country which is so essential to its prosperity. With the exception of the growing and picking of the cotton crop which constitutes Egypt's greatest contribution to the world's raw products, all the other operations of ginning, pressing, financing, insuring, exporting and shipping of cotton are done by foreigners.

These men feel that their views should be considered by any group which hopes to make an impartial study of the Egyptian question.

In view of the foregoing facts, foreigners in business in Egypt doubt whether Swan Mission will have much influence upon the negotiations now resumed in London between the representatives, of the British and Egyptian governments.

U. S. TARIFF MAY BE DEFERRED FOR A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.— (By Canadian Press.) — With the approach of the close of the extra session of Congress, the movement to defer tariff legislation for another year has become stronger than ever.

Some of the more prominent Senate leaders are predicting that tariff revision will be forced over until 1923, and that Congress will avoid acting on it next winter.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Colour, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn grey, streaked, and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked, or grey. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, grey, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time ;by morning all grey hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft, and luxuriant.

DECOLLETE NO LONGER FASHION

Writing from Paris, a fashion observer says;

Paul Picret wants every woman to look like a baloon. Some of the tiny French girls will look exactly like a penguin this winter coming down Champs Elysee in his clothes.Worth scorns anything but the slinkiest of lines, and Lanvin, the woman who has made side draperies famous, is touching them very lightly now. Renee affects the long waist and wide sash of little girlhood days, and Jenny makes a pair of sleeves with a pillowship attachment, which serves as a dress.

All of this is practically by way of saying that in the matter of silhouette you may live your own life.

As long as you get a hat turned up in front, after the manner of Napoleon's head covering, and tiited over one ear, as the great man perhaps wore his in the stress of battle, when his mind wasn't on his looks—you can arrange the remainder of your outline to suit youreslf. But, in general, follow the basic principle of the last season or two; a long, straight line for afternoon and sometimes spready for evening.

As for details of the fall openings, the decollete that suplied us with our jokes, and our moral attitude is out of style.

Even in fully licensed dinner dresses you will scarcely see those long V-shaped, backless dresses any more. A square neck for evening and a wide, round effect for daytime is one of the principles on which smart houses take a unified stand. The collarbone is the deadline. Few dress necks go below it. The straight back running horizontally fore and aft, shows the edge of the shoulders.

It looks as if, as usual, Paris dress designers could do more to reform dress than all the resolutions of all the women's clubs.

GRAIN REQUISITIONS BLAMED FOR FAMINE

Soviet Killed Goose That Laid Golden Eggs.

SAMARA, ON THE VOLGA, Nov 18.—(By a Staff Correspondent of The Associated Press) Constant requisitions of grain by the Red army was the chief cause of the great famine in this section of Russia, according to the peasant farmers. They say the Soviet, itself, helped kill the goose that laid the golden eggs.

The story of the famine and its most intense miseries cannot be had in the cities. It is only in the little villages, where the farm workers live and where the famine had its origin that the truth, bare, bitter and crushing, can be ascertained.

The story of the village of Novo Semikinoi, 16 miles from Samara, is typical of many the correspondent visited up and down the Volga. Riding out across the rich, rolling farmland, swept by cold winds from the east, but still beautiful in the golden autumn, the forests shot with deep brown, the grass yet green and upon it herds of cattle and horses with here and there patches of fields ploughed and sowed with spring rye and wheat, one arrives at this village straggling for a half mile long the two sides of the main road.

A heavy silence envelops the village. Many of its one-storied, log cabin homes, each shut off from the other by high rail fences enclosing a quarter-acre plot for chickens, cows, wagons and barns, are shut the windows boarded and the doors locked.

Midway in the village the correspondent stopped, knocked at the door of an occupied home. The peasant said the village was composed of 250 houses, 50 of which had been deserted by the owners going elsewhere for food. Two years earlier the richer peasant had worked each about 300 acres of land but now they farmed but three acres. Normally, the yield was 60 to 80 bushels of grain per each three acresacres, whereas this summer the harvest had been but about 40 pounds. Last year the harvest had been about four bushels of grain tc each three acres.

At that point, the peasant, a tall raw-boned man, thinned by lack of food, began to get angry. The Red army of Samara, had last December ordered the village to contribute about 5,800 bushels of grain, for which no payment was to be received. The village hadn't b able to supply all this requisition but offered part. So the Red soldiers came and took the amount of the requisition.

The village was left without seed grain, though it was promised from Samara, and also without food for the winter. To get bread in December, the villagers began selling of their valuables, and eating their cattle and sheep., As the winter deepened, the famine set in, and the poorer villagers began to boil up old skins and hides from furs, even the soles of old boots and shoes.

When last spring came, Samara failed to furnish much seed grain, and the peasants sold more valuables to buy a little. One way or another they had 36 pounds of seed grain per three acres. Then came a dry spring and a dry summer, with a scant harvest. The rain came after the harvest.

The peasant, citing the way of the Soviet requisition, said 52,000 pounds of potatoes had been taken and locked up in the basement of the church and had there spoiled.

The worst of it was, he said, that in the face of their starvation, the Samara Soviet had just ordered the village to furnish three to six pounds of butter for each cow owned. Yet the only food for the cows was field grass, and most of them no longer gave milk.

The villagers were eating fruit, melons, pumpkins, and bread made from roots, nuts, and tree bark. They had enough for two or three longer. "A pound of bread cannot be had here, no, not for 1,000,000 rubles," they declared.

The villagers were suffering from stomach diorders and asked for castor oil, a medicine not to be had in the whole of the district. They admitted that food, not medicine was what they needed.

"Our only hope is the Americans," they said. "Otherwise we must die."

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching; if what you eat sours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate, which is inexpensive and almost tasteless.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast.

SENTENCING OF ALIS A BLOW TO GHANDI CAMPAIGN

LONDON, November 18. — Canadian Press. — The sentence of two years' imprisonment imposed at Karachi, India, recently on the two Ali brothers and Dr. Kichlew, for attempting to cause disaffection among the troops, and sedition, removes for he time being, three of the most active of the followers of Ghandi in his campaign of non co-operation with the British in India.

The arest of the Ali brothers and Dr. Kichlew followed a decision of the government of India to institute proceedings against the Mahomed Ali, the younger of the two brothers, and other speakers, for speeches made and resolutions passed at the All-Indio Caliphate Conference held a Harachi in July last. One of these resolutions declared that it was wholly "haram" (unlawful) for any Moslem at this time to remain or enlist in the Indian army, or to get others enlisted in it.

Decision to prosecute these offenders was made before the Moplah uprising, which occurred in the Malabar district on August 23rd, which resulted in the death of more than one thousand inhabitants, including many whites. Actual institution of the proceedings, however, was delayed by the neecssity of obtaining evidence as to the exact language used by the accused. Accordingly the trio sentenced were not arrested until Thursday, September 13th, when they were charged with tampering with the loyaly of the troops.

The Ali brothers have been a source of trouble to the Government in India for some years. In May, 1915, they were interned in the United Provinces and it was then officially stoted that this action had been taken because the brothers had "freely expressed and promoted sympathy with the King's enemies" in the war. They refused an offer of complete freedom of movement on the signature of an undertaking to refrain from doing, writing or saying anything intended or reasonably likely to assist the enemies of the King,unless they were permitted to add "without prejudice to our allegiance ot Islam."

In June, 1919, their restriction of movement to one particular area—for this was all the "internment" amounted to—was found insufficient and they were imprisoned on account of their disloyal attitude in respect of the Afghan war. At the close of the war they were released in accordance with the prerogative of clemency toward political prisoners, announced in the Royal Proclamation on the passing of the India Reform Act.

PETROGRAD HARBOR IN SERIOUS CONDITION

PEROGRAD, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press) Only 20 ships can find docking facilities for unloading now in this port at one time. Previously it was possible for 99 ships to unload simultaneouslyl but the silting up of the river and the decay of docks makes it necessary for many ships to wait their turn since the resumption of shipping activity.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

ELECTION NEWS

KING REITERATES DANGER FROM FARMERS

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Nov. 18.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—Another warning to the people of the prairie provinces that they were liable to bring about political isolation by their course "in seeking to defeat both old parties and support a third class group," was given by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King at yesterday afternoon's meeting in the armouries here. The Liberal leader also declared that Premier Meighen's claim of "no pledge in 1917" showed the prime minister to have "been a party to the betrayal of this nation."

When Mr. King was charging the government with having "hung to power after the war," a man in the audience said: "No Liberals had resigned in protest."

"Why all who resigned were Liberals," declared Mr. King, as he named the ministers who left Union government.

"There was one man you elected from this riding, Hon. J. A. Calder, who did not resign. Did any of you elect to have him remain in the Government as long as he could and then find a life job in the Senate?" (Cries of no, no.)

The Liberal leader asserted that the record of the Liberal party showed also its friendship for the farmers of the west.

The speaker dealt with the tariff and declared his policy of downward revision would be best for all Canada. Dealing with taxation, Mr. King declared the farmers "were being badgered in regard to their payments, while some big companies like the Riordon Company got away by giving promissory notes."

To-day Progressive candidates were being placed in the field to defeat Liberals. He deplored the Progressive tendency, which raised up enmity where there should be only friendship. The Liberal leader warned his audience that coalition was not to be expected after elections.

He predicted a majority over all for the Liberals and the return of a strong Liberal administration. Western Canada must have full voice in the forming of a government, but it could not secure this by defeating the Liberal candidates in the field.

Mr. King aagin renewed his challenge to any one to produce any two of his tariff speeches which differed. He had made the same statement from the Atlantic to the Pacific, he said. He believed in a revenue tariff, revised to protect the consumer and not to add to manufacturers' profits.

At a well attended and an enthusiastic meeting held at Mrs. Wright's home, 128 Park street, last evening, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, that we the lady followers of Right Honorable Arthur Meighen and his candidate in Ward No. 1 do band ourselves together in a personal touch movement to place him at the head of the Government for the next Parliament of Canada, realizing that any effort made by paid canvassers in any campaign to corral the vote is an insult upon the intelligence of the electors. We hope by our stand to assist in bringing the politics of Canada to a higher level. Moved by Miss Emma Collins, seconded by Mrs. Bradley.

Jennie Watt, Secretary.

LAND TAX HARDEST TO RAISE, SAYS PREMIER

BOISEEVAIN, Man., Nov. 18—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Premier Meighen, in opening his speech here yesterday afternoon, declared that he did not know how farming was to be successful when there was wrought all summer and rain all fal, combined with falling prices. The west had suffered severely as a result of weather conditions, he said.

The prime minister reiterated his former statement that railway rates must come down and emphasized the statement that the government had no jurisdiction over the railway commission, but al indications commission, but all indications were that rates would fall.

"No living man has any warrant to say that I favor high protection Mr. Meighen insisted. The government favored a tariff sufficiently high to enable Canadian industries to compete with those in the United States, and no higher.

The Premier said that if protection was removed from Canadian industry, te source from which sixty per cent. of our taxation was obtained, would be removed. If Canadian industries were depleted, 110,000 employees who were not paying income tax would not pay very much.

"You will have a land tax then", said the premier. "You will have it on the improved as well as the unimproved land values, because there won't be any where else to raise taxation. The most expensive form of taxation to collect is the land tax," he said.

In closing he premier once more eplained his policy for the establishment of a voluntary grain pool. Mr. Crerar's policy on the grain question was that of the United Grain Growers' company, he declared.

Illinois is the greatest corn growing state in the union.

PROPOSE JOINT USE OF TRACKS WITH D. U. R.

DETROIT, November 18 (Canadian Press). — An ordinance adopted at the recent election requiring the Deroit United Railway to remove its tracks from two of the city's chief thoroughfares will be suspended pending consideration of a new proposal by the company, it was announced from the City Hall yesterday. Under the terms of the ordinance the company would be required to tear up approximately ten miles of double track to make room for the municipally-owned traction lines.

The company now proposes joint use of the tracks by the city and the Detroit United Railway.

Difficulties to be met in replacing the tracks during the winter are said to have persuaded Mayor Couzens to entertain the company's proposal, while the company's advantage is understood to lie in retention of means to bring its interurban cars to the centre of the city.

BREAD PRICES CUT.

SARNIA, Nov. 15. — (Canadian Press.)—Bakers announced last night that the price of bread in Sarnia has fallen one cent for the pound and a half loaf in keeping with reductions which have been made in the price of flour recently. The loaf now costs ten cents.

It is a coincidence that the reduction was announced at the same time that the Board of Commerce gave notice of its intention to investigate complaints received of the high cost of living in Sarnia in comparison with other cities, with special reference to the price of bread.

M. C. R. TO CUT WAGES.

DETROIT, November 17 (Canadian Press). —The general demand for a reduction in the transportation costs require a reduction in the wages of all employees, the Michigan Central Railroad announced today. The company has advised its employees it will confer with their representatives.

Everybody Is Wondering If Prices Are Going Up Again!

Frankly, we don't believe they are, but the trade journals say that many prices that have been decisively reduced may swing back to higher levels again, because so many manufacturers in order to stimulate their industries, had cut prices below production costs, and below what the goods can be procured for, even under new conditions. Now, this may be true or not. Certainly it is well within the probabilities that some prices may go up again. It is possible that a few prices may recede a little. But aside from these exceptions, which will be a small percentage of the whole, it is a generally accepted trade fact that PRICES ARE AT ROCK BOTTOM NOW! —THE CRESSMAN CO., LTD.

TOYLAND

Takes Place on Saturday

"Every little girl and boy in Peterborough is to be ready on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to go to Turnbull's Toyland to see my wonderful new toys that I have just placed there for them this week," says Santa Claus. "During the past summer it wasn't as hot up at the North Pole as it was in Peterborough, and so I was able to keep working all summer long making toys, and I have made a lot of new ones that will make you all jump for joy when you see them."

Tell Mother and Daddy about this, and be sure to ask them to bring you down to see all these nice things to play with. Here is a little note that Old Santa Claus left in Turnbull's Chimney last week.

To All the Good Little Girls and Boys of Peterborough:

I came down from the North Pole last night (Sunday night) and could not stay to see you this year because the snow will not last long enough for me to get around to all the different places. I hope all these toys will make you happy this Christmas.

Good-bye with lots of kisses for all good little girls and boys. SANTA CLAUS.

He also sent word to have his two new letter boxes ready to receive the letters from all of the little girls and boys of Peterborough, one letter box to be placed at Simcoe Street Entrance, the other at the elevator on the Top Floor, Toyland.

BAY OF QUINTE WINTER SCHOOL JANUARY, 1922

WILL BE CONDUCTED IN METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL AT COBOURG—BIGGEST THING EVER ATTEMPTED BY QUINTE METHODISM.

THE ORGANIZATION

The Bay of Quinte Conference Winter School, which is to be held in Cobourg during the week of January 9-16, 1922, promises to be one of the biggest things ever attempted by Quinte Methodism. Its staff of enthusiastic officers are putting their utmost into the task of providing such a programme of study and inspiration as will present an irresistible appeal to the young people who live within the bounds of the Bay of Quinte Conference.

The Bay of Quinte Winter School owes its inception to the success of the Summer School movement which has done so much in the way of training for Christian leadership. Then again, the success of the Winter School held in Toronto last year stirred up within the minds of certain of our leaders in young people's work the conviction that such a venture within the bounds of our own Conference would meet with a like success. This conviction was strengthened by the fact that in the rural district surrounding Camborne and Coldsprings a Winter School of Agriculture had met with unqualified success.' Add to the above the imperative demand for Christian leadership in the affairs of church and state, and the appalling lack of facilities for the training of young people in Christian leadership, and we have the manifold reasons which led to the organisation of forces for the carrying out of a Winter School for training in Christian leadership.

But this organisation was brought about only by the tireless energy and indefatigable zeal of Rev. E. Harston, the secretary for Religious Education in the Cobourg District. This matter had so gripped him that he could not rest until the machinery to bring the whole matter to a successful issue was set up and put in motion. He presented the matter to the executive of the District E. L. in session at Port Hope, and received their hearty endorsation. He then went to the Albert College Summer School and presented the scheme to the executive of that institution. While favourable to the idea, this body felt that a Winter School ought to be handled by a separate staff, upon which should be representatives of the Conference E. L., the Albert College Summer School, and the district in which the School was to be carried on.

The matter was finally brought to a head at the Biennial Convention of the Bay of Quinte Conference E. L., in session at Peterborough in October, 1921, when temporary machinery was set up to effect a permanent organisation. This temporary machinery consisted of representatives of

1—The Conference E. L.—Rev. H. A. Frost, B.A., B.D., pres.; Miss Florence Hall, 2nd vice-pres. Eldred Lean, pres.; Elwin Brown, 2—The Cobourg District E. L.—Eldred Lean, pres.; Elwin Brown, Summer School representative.

3 (Later)—Albert College Summer School—Rev. D. R. Clare, B.A., B.D., Rev. R. T. Richards, B.A.

The Organisation.

The committee met at Brighton on 3rd November, 1921, when the following organisation was effected:

Hon. Pres., Rev. Wesley Elliott, President of Conference; Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, B.A., B.D.

President, Rev. E. Harston, Camborne.

Secretary, Mr. Eldred Lean, Camborne.

Business Manager, Mr. E. Brown, Port Hope.

Book Steward, Rev. D. R. Clare, B.A., B.D., Colborne.

Registrar, Miss Joy Nichols, Cobourg.

Reporter and Historian, Rev. H. A. Bunt, B.A., Roseneath.

Also the following executive committee—Rev. R. T. Richards, B.A., Rev. H. A. Frost, B.A., B.D., Rev. H. W. Foley, B.A., B.D., Miss Florence Hall.

Plans were made at the same time for holding the Winter School at Cobourg during the week of January 9-16, 1922—the sessions to be held in the Methodist Sunday School Rooms

Open to All.

While under Methodist auspices, this School is open to those of any denomination who desire training in Christian leadership. The curriculum will consist of courses in Bible study, missions, Y. P.'s work and problems, organisations and methods of work. Men most eminently fitted for leadership in the above are being secured, and it is confidently expected that this Winter School will be the biggest thing ever attempted by Bay of Quinte Methodism.

FOLLOW GERMAN SYSTEM

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 18.—When General Mangin the hero of Verdun, visited Buenos Aires recently, he was asked to review the crack regiment of Argentine cadets, future officers of the Argentine army.

Those who accompanied the French general to witness the manoeuvers wondered what he thought when he beheld a regiment of uniformed and helmeted like the Prussian guards he had fought against in the war and marching with the famous Prussian goose step.

The Argentine school continues to be trained in the methods of the German military school which were adopted some years before the war under the tutilage of German officers and with German equipment.

Remarkable effect of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin on constipated babies.

The experienced mother quickly associates the baby's crying with constipation, biliousness, feverishness or sour stomach, and knows that a mild laxative will soon relieve the trouble.

Half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will work wonders with a crying, peevish baby. It is just a vegetable compound of Egyptian Senna and simple laxative herbs with pepsin that all druggists sell under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. It has the largest sale in the world, and a dose costs less than a cent!

Mrs. E. Smith, 9 Harris St., Guelph, Ont., says Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is just the remedy her little girl needs and she will never be without it. Mrs. A. F. Lithgow, 389 Northcliffe Av., Montreal, and Mrs. E. Whalley, 956 Alexander Av., Winnipeg, both use Syrup Pepsin for their babies and recommend it to all mothers. Mrs. Whalley writes her baby was

BANCROFT MAN WAS TARRED AND FEATHERED

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 15.—The village of Bancroft is very much excited over a tar-and-feathering incident which happened there recntly.

It is alleged that three residents of that place seized a well known man and took him for a trip of eight miles into the country, where, after the usual preparations, he was tarred and feathered and threatened with further maltreatment should be ever return to Bancroft.

Although the victim did not lodge a complaint, the Provincal authorities are investigating the circumstances at Magistrate Jarman's request.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold however slight. If you do it can have but one result: it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and barks, promptly eradicates the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. S., writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor but what he prescribed did me so little good I became discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found that I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and the cough were gone. I would not be without "Dr. Wood's" for any money."

Price, 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

$4,000 REWARD FOR JEWEL SMUGGLERS

PARIS, Nov. 16. — (Canadian Press)—Large advertisments have been appearing in the French press offering $4,000 reward for information aiding in the arrest of persons who bring about the entry in contraband into the United States of pearls, diamonds and oher precious stones It is specified that the value of the seizures must be at least $40,000.

The offer was made by an association for the protection of American jewelers.

Strong Nerves

Pure organic phosphate, known to McDermid & Jury and most other druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, is what nerve-exhausted, tired-out people must have to regain nerve force and energy. That's why it's guaranteed.

GOVERNMENT BOATS TO HANDLE LIQUOR EXPORT.

MONTREAL, November 18 (Canadian Press). — In connection with the embargo on export of alcoholic liquor in bond through the United States, which went into force last Tuesday, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, the Minister of Marine, stated here today that the Government Merchant Marine was arranging to place two boats on the service to the West Indies and Mexico which could handle this traffic, and rates on which would be placed at a figure to compete with lines from New York.

Mr. Ballantyne said that these ships would use Montreal in the summer and Halifax and St. John in the winter.

Further information as to the cause of the embargo came through here to-day to the effect that much of the exportation in bond traffic was directed to bogus addresses in Mexico and elsewhere, and that the cars containing wet goods were subsequently broken open in the United States, the liquor being spirited away in motor cars. No complaints were ever received as to loss incurred in this way.

A hurry-up telephone call was received yesterday from the United States Customs Office at Rouse's Point that large shipments of beer consigned by Montreal breweries were being raided by thirsty United States citizens, and that if the cars were not recalled at once there would be little left.

SOVIETS CHARGE BRITISH AID FOR GENERAL WRANGEL

Claim They Have Transported His Troops to Vladivostok.

RIGA, Nov. 18.—(Candian Press) Charges that Great Britain had already transported a number of General Wrangel's followers from Constantinople to Vladivostok, together with rumors that the British were collecting large forces of "White" Russians in Bombay and Bagdad are contained in a statement sent out by Russian official news agency.

Aboard a British military transport which has already arrived at Vladivostok, states the agency, are 768 Russians, of whom 600 effectives are in British unitorms and formerly served with Wrangel's or Denikine's forces.

Soviet Russia, according to the agency's report, energetically protests against this act as menacing to the Far Eastern republic, and charges that Great Britain which, in Lord Curzon's note, accused Russia of breaking their agreement, is herself violating the agreement by openly assisting the enemies of the Far Eastern republic.

What to do with the thousands of Cossack and other Russian troops under the command of General Baron Wrangel who were thrown out of the Crimea by the Bolsheviki and took refuge in and near Constantinople, has been one of the puzzles which has perplexed the Allied governments in Europe. In April last it was reported that Wrangel had asked the French government to convey his men to Vladivostok.

The Soviet government of Russia has been suspicious that the forces would be used somehow against the Bolshevik government and during the past Summer the official Russian news agencies have put forth several reports that these troops were to be shipped to Vladivostok to aid the new anti-Bolshevik government there or to take the field in Siberia against the Soviet government of the Far Eastern Republic with headquarters at Chita.

One of the reports was that Japan had agreed with General Wrangel to move his troops to Vladivastok and that the Russian Soviet govrernent has lodged a protest against it.

Since coming out of the Crimea, thousands ofWrangel's troops have been living in huts in extreme poverty on the Galipoli peninsula, and the island of Lemnos in the Aegean Sea sustained by the hope that some time their services would be needed to reestablish a new government in Russia.

Thousands of women marched in the jobless parade in England recently, many of them carrying babies.

IRISH SITUATION LITTLE CHANGED

ULSTER ATTITUDE OFFSET BY UNIONIST SUPPORT OF GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press).—The Irish peace situation is not deemed to have been made actually worse by Ulster's adherence to its previously declared position. The overwhelming majority given the Government's policy yesterday by the Unionist party at Liverpool is looked upon as creating a better atmosphere for the continuance of the peace negotiations although the possibility of the resignation of the Cabinet is not ignored.

MUCH DAMAGE IN RIOT IN BOMBAY

TRAM CARS WRECKED AND POLICE KILLED

BOMBAY, November 18. — Canadian Press. — The disturbance in the native quarter of the city which broke out yesterday while the procession was escorting the Prince of Wales, was caused by a mob of mill hands, who burned and wrecked a number of tram cars at several points. The mob hurled stones at the Europeans. After several police had been killed and wounded, the police opened fire, inflicting a number of casualties.

SETTLEMENT OF BRIDGE ACCOUNT

FINANCE COMMITTEE MET LAST EVENING---DEBENTURE ISSUE

The Finance committee, at a meeting last night, recommended that an offer of $5,000 be made to Frank Barber, engineer on the Hunter street bridge, without prejudice, in full settlement of his claim or account aaginst the city in connection with the construction of the bridge. After some discussion the recommendation was made on motion of Mayor A. A. McIntyre, seconded by Ald. G. Hay. Mr. Barber is claiming about $10,000 from the city and the city is contesting the account, claiming that the Commission on extras is not due.

Robert Hicks, chairman of the Utilities Commission, told the Finance committee that the electrical about $125,000 over the amount of about 6125,000 over the amount of debentures issued and he expected that the commission would soon appear before the Council and ask for an issue of debentures.

MULLEN CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE

EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS HAVE BEEN DROPPED—TUCKER CONFESSED TO CRIME.

In a letter from Sheriff Harry J. Mead, of Jasper County, Missouri, Chief of Police Newhall has been advised that the extradition proceedings against Walter Mullen were suspended when the Sheriff determined that Mullen could not have been connected with the murder of William Spain on May 1 last at Carthage. He stated that he had not asked Judge Spotton to grant extradition because he was convinced it was impossible to connect Mullen with the murder of William Spain.

Since returning to Missouri he said Tucker, who is serving life imprisonment at the state prison for complicity in the crime, made a complete confession, admitting that he had accused Mullen falsely, thinking that he would never be apprehended. He admitted that he had got Mullen's gun from the cook when he deserted at Camp Eustace, Virginia, and left it at the scene of the crime to substantiate his own false story.

Sheriff Mead warmly thanked the chief and his officers for the co-operation they had given him. While Sheriff Mead's investigation served to clear Mullen, his brother, an Ottawa business men, made investigations and he established the fact that on the day of the murder Mullen changed clothes with a man down east and had the man's own indisputable evidence that Mullen was in Canada on the day William Spain was shot to death. Mullen's people live in Ottawa and are respectable residents. Against Mullen himself there is only the black mark of army desertion and a previous charge of theft when a boy at Ottawa.

J. O'TOOLE HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

WAS NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED —DRIVER ALLOWED TO GO.

When struck by automobile 135-013, owned and driven by Harry Sugden, 12 Albany Avenue, Toronto, at the corner of Hunter and George Street, at 8.15 p.m. yesterday, John O'Toole received a severe shaking up and suffered cuts on the face and scalp and an injured ankle that will require his confinement to St. Joseph's Hospital for a few days. Mr. O'Toole was crossing the road, and it is presumed that he did not see the automobile approaching from the north.

It is stated that Mr. Sugden tried to avert hitting O'Toole, who was directly in his path, and pulled the car up in its own length. He placed himself under the direction of P. C. Bromley, and was taken to the station and released when it was determined that O'Toole was not seriously injured. Dr. C. H. Amys rendered first aid, and Mr. O'Toole was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in Belleghem's Ambulance. This morning Dr. Amys told The Examiner that, apart from a painful ankle, which, however, does not appear to be broken, he was not suffering serious injury, although his face and scalp are lacerated evidently from being dragged on the inite service and to encourage others, and organization makes expansion possible. It must be under the church and have elected officers and committees, and it is self-governing, in that the responsibilities are with the members.

It is an educational agency, and is also evangelistic with personal responsibility for the work of Christ and the church, and is at the back of all great movements for social and moral reform.

Invitations were received for the conference to meet next year at Gananoque, and also from St. Catharines. The question will be decided later. The President announced the granting of five new charters for branches since the conference began, and W. R. Sproule of Toronto moved a hearty vote of thanks to Rev. W. G. Tebbs of Burlington, who had so beautifully conducted the "Quiet Hour Service," a vote which was seconded by the Rev. Mr. Spencer of Millbrook and accorded unanimous assent by the delegates.

Summary of Work.

Miss Blanche Graham's report of the conference brought out the following points:

The value of a social evening to bring the delegates together and the result in the increased attendance at the corporate communion.

The pleasure of running the expansion of the Council in increased membership.

The call to service which could not help but influence both the young men and women who heard.

The representation of dioceses Algoma, Huron, Niagara, Toronto and Ontario being represented.

The emphasizing of the annual fee to the Dominion.

The call for making our ideals high and pure and hold high and higher still the torch we have flung to us.

The remembrance of the A. Y. P. A. fallen at the Quiet Hour service and the prayers for the disarmament conference and peace of Ireland and the value of the Quiet Hour as an inspiration.

Thankfulness that Huron Diocese has let down the barriers and joined with the Dominion so that we can go forward united.

The value o fthe organised Bible class, special service and admission service.

The idea of young men as sidesmen of the church.

The splendid co-operation of local clergymen, especially Rev. R. C. Blagrave and Rev. R. B. Grobb

And lastly to carry away as a motto "Would kind of a church would my church be if every member was just like me?"

Resolutions Report.

The report of the Resolutions Committee, adopted as read, was presented by G. S. Scovell, of Toronto, convenor, which dealt with several important questions. It heartily endorsed the action of the executive regarding the handling of the A.Y.P.A. supplies by the General Board of Religious Education, and suggested that a letter be sent to the Rev. Mr. Hiltz, of Toronto, thanking him for the same, recommended that the executive committee approach the bishops of the different dioceses in Canada, asking them to appoint an A.Y.P.A. diocesan committee, who would report to the Dominion secretary, noted with pleasure the appointment of Rev. (Capt.) Appleyard of Woodstock, as chairman of the Huron diocesan committee, recommended the taking of steps to relieve the Dominion secretary of some of the burdens of office by approaching the G.B.R.E. for assistance in the sending out of circular letters and cards, of the employing of a paid assistant periodically for this work. They strongly recommended the continuation of the system of sending our cards and literature which had resulted in such good work, and recommended also that the executive committee, through the A.Y.P.A. representatives on the Board, petition the G.B.R.E. to provide literature for extension work only, and also financial assistance in extending the work, suggesting that the funds be secured through the Forward Movement, following the precedent of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

They commended particularly to the attention of the delegates the splendid addresses on "The Open Door to Service" delivered by Rev. Prof. E. A. McIntyre, M.A., B.D., of Wycliffe College, Toronto, and Mrs. T. H. Yeoman, of Toronto.

They heartily recommended to the A.Y.P.A. members that the Dominion A.Y.P.A. executive be enlarged to include Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave and Rev. R. B. Grobb, of Peterborough; Rev. C. R. Spencer, of Millbrook, and Rev. Walter Cox of Toronto; and Messrs. A. S. McConnell and A. C. McCullough, of Toronto, feeling that these appointments would greatly strengthen the executive.

Praise Peterborough.

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to the people of "this picturesque city of Peterborough," to the rectors of St. John's and All Saints', to the committees in charge of billeting arrangements, to those who had extended the hospitality of their homes in such a cordial manner, to those ladies who so kindly provided the luncheons at the two churches and superintended the arrangements for the inspirational banquet, to the friends who so kindly placed cars at the disposal of the visitors, to those who were responsible for the playing of the chimes, to the orchestra of St. John's Church and those who took part in the musical programme, to those who filled the place of absent speakers, to Rev. Mr. Tebbs, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded The Evening Examiner for the publicity afforded the conference.

A resolution of condolence was accorded to the family of Mr. Bright, of Hamilton, a member of the Association, who passed away during the year.

With silent prayer, led by the president, Mr. E. T. Hollingsworth, of Toronto, the conference closed.

A great deal of the credit for the success of the convention is due to the untiring efforts of Miss Jean Horsfield and Mr. Elmer Brown, to the assistance rendered Mr. and Mrs Harold Devey and Mrs. Spriggs at St. John's, and to Mrs. Joseph Crowe and Hanlon Sisson at All Saints', and to the excellent co-operation of the orchestra of St. John's Church, which performed at St. John's Parish Hall and at the banquet at All Saints' Church, under the capable direction of Miss Muriel Bridge and Kenneth Brown.

This little bit of advice may help you to regain your Health, Strength and Vitality

Thousands of people suffer from nervousness. They are run down and miserable without knowing the reason why.

They do not stop to think that much of their trouble may be caused by drinking tea and coffee which contain the drugs, thein and caffeine. When you over-stimulate the system for any period of time, the result may be nervousness with its many accompanying ills. You may fail to sleep properly and your sleep does not refresh you as it should.

Postum, made from scientifically roasted cereals, will help you to overcome all these conditions. For it contains only healthful substances, instead of drugs, as are found in tea and coffee.

Postum helps build sound nerve structure, by letting you get sound, restful sleep.

In flavor, Postum is rich and satisfying. In fact there are many people who prefer Postum for its savory flavor alone.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Serve this rich, fragrant beverage for the family. See how the children will like it, and how much better everybody will sleep at night.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

How the Madcap Princess Danced the Mortgage off the Castle

With a Costume Painted On Her, Marie, of the Ancient House of Esterhazy, Fascinated South America with a "Dance of the Passions" After Mad Pranks and Romances

Princess Marie in as Conventional a Costume as She Ever Wears.

The Madcap Princess Is the One with the Hat in This Group of Her Dancers. Their Photographic Pose Is from the "Dance of the Passions," with Which They Electrified Buenos Aires.

The Princess in Her "Camel's Hair Shawl," Artistically Put On With a Camel's Hair Brush.

ATIMEWORN favorite among melodramas is the story of the wayward daughter who is banished from home, makes a fortune in the big city and returns just in time to pay off the mortgage on the family farm and save her old father and mother from poverty and disgrace.

But life, in the case of Marie Rose Aloise Alexa Esterhazy, the "Madcap Princess of Austria," has made the melodramas look too positively prosaic for words. She, too, was a wayward daughter—exiled by the Emperor because of her champagne baths and reckless flirtations. She, too, set out to seek her fortune. She, too, found it, in America, and returned to Europe with enough thousands to rehabilitate the Esterhazy fortune and prevent the historic Esterhazy castle from being knocked down to the highest bidder.

And how did the Princess Marie do it? By dancing—dancing only in a coat of paint, so that blase Buenos Aires, satiated Santiago and hardened Havana sat up with a shout and stormed the theatres where the Princess Marie, in her paint-brush costume, pirouetted and whirled, dancing the mortgage off to the strains of the can-can and the castanet.

The Princess Marie, who is only twenty-one to-day, had startled Vienna at fourteen by her love affair with an officer of the Czar. A few years later she was celebrated as the champion heart-breaker of the gayest capital in Europe. She was only sixteen when she bathed in a tub filled with champagne, and she was only seventeen when she all but broke up a court function by pouring wine down the backs of a couple of gray-haired Ministers.

Her younger brother, Prince Paul, head of the house of Esterhazy, declared the Princess had gone too far when she formed an attachment for a mere non-commissioned officer in the Hungarian army. The fellow was handsome, but—Prince Paul, so the story goes, turned the Princess out of the Eisenstadt Palace when she refused to heed his remonstrances.

The Princess Marie took an apartment on the fashionable Vienna Walnerstrasse. There she kept "open house" and gathered about her stage notables men-about-town and a bizarre crew of celebrities. Her entourage cost her about $2,500 a month. Her balls and soirees were the talk of the town.

The old Emperor, Franz Joseph, scolded. She saucily reminded him of Kathie Schratt, his actress sweetheart. Her brother scowled, and she retorted by mentioning his own escapades.

And then she gave a ball which was the last straw. The male guests were required to prove that each had had at least one duel for the love of a woman. Several hundred qualified—most of them officers. Each brought along his particular lady love. The ball began Saturday night and it was Wednesday afternoon before the last of the revellers had departed for home.

Of course, the affair created a tremendous scandal and the Emperor exiled Marie from Austria. But before she left, her officer friends, furious that the newspapers had chronicled the affair in lurid colors, wrecked the plants of half a dozen publications.

Marie, seeking new fields to conquer, sailed for America. While she was on the ocean, war was declared. The Princess arrived in New York nearly penniless, with no way of communicating with home. She lived for a few days in a fashionable hotel, then she sought cheaper quarters.

In Vienna, she had been noted as an unusually fine amateur dancer. Face to face with the necessity of earning her own living, Princess Marie decided to make use of her talent. She applied to Leo Sergastchenko, a dancing teacher. For several months she studied—worked hard, for a princess. Finally, with a troup of dancing girls and her teacher, she sailed for Buenos Aires.

The opening night Buenos Aires went mad with delight. Marie and her partners danced—wild bacchanalian dances in which their costume was principally paint! Splotches of variegated colors adorned the bodies of the dancers. Gleaming lights played upon them as they swayed and gyrated to the melody of the orchestra.

Marie was the solo dancer. Her youth, beauty and grace captivated Buenos Aires—the men raved over her; the women talked about her. So great was the demand for seats to witness her dancing that prices of admission were doubled. Still the theatre was packed to the roof at every performance. The Madcap Princess had created a furore.

From Buenos Aires the troupe went to Montevideo and Santiago de Chili and Rio de Janeiro. Everywhere Marie's triumph was repeated. She coined money and—saved it. When peace was declared, Marie grew homesick. She longed for the vast estates of the Esterhazys in Hungary—for the tinsel and splendor of court. So she set sail for home, laden with South American shekels.

Arriving in Vienna, she found $1 was equivalent to 2,500 kronen. Translating her savings into Austrian money, Marie was a multi-millionaire.

An emissary was sent to Prince Paul with the message that the Madcap Princess had real coin of the realm. Straightway the Prince invited her to the great castle at Eisenstadt.

The prodigal daughter returned home—the fatted calf was killed and the Princess wrote checks and checks and checks, until the most pressing of the Esterhazy obligations had been liquidated and the family financially rehabilitated.

The Madcap Princess saved from creditors what was before the war the largest privately owned estate in the world. It exceeded Ireland in extent and comprised twenty-one country seats, sixty market towns and 440 villages. The castle of Totis contains 140 guest rooms, a gigantic Winter garden and conservatory, salons and galleries filled with priceless treasures of art, stables of the finest equipment in Europe, an English church, used for the English trainers and jockeys employed by the head of the family and, last, but not least, a private theatre seating 1,100. Before the war the Esterhazys maintained a symphony orchestra of fifty pieces and a complete opera company—which lived a life of ease at the princes's expense.

Princess Marie and Her Tutor, Sergastchenko in Their Fire Dance.

The Esterhazys claim descent variously from Queen Esther, of the Old Testament, and from Attila, the original Hun; the latter through Paul Esterhazy, of whose baptism in 909 there is a record at Eisenstadt.

From the Dark Ages—and before—there is record of the bravery and importance of the Esterhazys. Paul of Galantha bore himself so magnificently in the many wars against the Turks that by imperial decree he was permitted to coin money and to rule over his fellow Magyars.

Francis Esterhazy was a favorite of Empress Maria Theresa, who married him to Princess Pauline Staremberg. A few months after the wedding she eloped with a Count Schulemberg to Switzerland. The Swiss court condemned the Count to death, but Princess Esterhazy intervened, saying that he could never be grateful enough to the Count for having rid him of such a she-devil as Pauline.

In more modern times Prince Paul played a momentous role in history. He was a favorite aid of the great Metternich and a colleague of the equally famous Talleyrand. Prince Paul married Lady Sarah Villiers, lovely daughter of the beautiful Countess of Jersey.

Once when visiting the first Earl of Leicester at Holkham, in Norfolk, England, the peer, whose flocks were the largest in Britain, remarked that there were just 4,000 sheep all told.

"What a strange coincidence!" exclaimed the prince. "I employ exactly that number of shepherds to guard my flocks."

And he was not exaggerating!

On state occasions he wore the costume of the Hungarian magnates, which was so covered with magnificent diamonds that it was said to cost him thousands of dollars each time he used it, because of the loss of stones. The airgrette in his kalpak, or cap, was adorned by more than 5,000 diamonds.

The Esterhazys were Magyar magnates since prehistoric times. They were created barons of the Holy Roman Empire in the sixteenth century; counts a few years later, and princes in the seventeenth century.

This Does Not Look Like the Usual Cottage Which the Heroine Saves by Thwarting the Villian with the Mortgage—but Princess Esterhazy Is Always Unusual.

"BULL-DOG DRUMMOND"

BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

She ushered him into the drawing-room and closed the door. It was a charming room, just such as he would have expected with Phyllis. Big windows, opening down to the ground, let out on to a lawn, which was already a blaze of colour. A few great oak trees threw a pleasant shade at the end of the garden, and, partially showing through them, he could see another house which he rightly assumed was The Elms. In fact, even as he heard the door open and shut behind him, he saw Peterson come out of a small summer-house and commence strolling up and down, smoking a cigar. Then he turned round and faced the girl.

Charming as she had looked in London, she was doubly so now, in a simple linen frock which showed off her figure to perfection. But if he thought he was going to have any leisure to enjoy the picture undisturbed, he was soon disillusioned.

"Why have you come here, Captain Drummond?" she said, a little breathlessly. "I said the Carlton—the day after to-morrow."

"Unfortunately," said Hugh, "I'd left London before that message came. My servant wired it on to the Post Office here. Not that it would have made any difference. I should have come, anyway."

An involuntary smile hovered round her lips for a moment; then she grew serious again. "It's very dangerous for you to come here," she remarked quietly. "If once those men suspect anything God knows what will happen."

It was on the tip of his tongue to tell her that it was too late to worry about that; then he changed his mind. 'And what is there suspicious," he asked, "in an old friend who happens to be in the neighbourhood dropping in to call? Do you mind if I smoke?"

The girl beat her hands together "My dear man," she cried, "you don't understand. You're judging those devils by your own standard. They suspect everything—and everybody."

"What a distressing habit," he murmured. "Is it chronic, or merely due to liver? I must send 'em a bottle of good salts. Wonderful thing—good salts. Never without them in France."

The girl looked at him resignedly. "You're hopeless," she remarked—"absolutely hopeless."

"Absolutely," agreed Hugh, blowing out a cloud of smoke. "Wherefore your telephone message? What's the worry?"

She bit her lips and drummed with her fingers on the arm of her chair. "If I tell you," she said at length, "will you promise me, on your word of honour, that you won't go blundering into The Elms, or do anything foolish like that?"

"At the present moment I'm very comfortable where I am, thanks," remarked Hugh.

"I know," she said; "but I'm so dreadfully afraid that you're the type of person who . . . who . . ." She paused at a loss for a word.

"Who bellows like a bull, and charges head down," interrupted Hugh with a grin. She laughed with him, and just for a moment their eyes met, and she read in his something quite foreign to the point at issue. In fact, it is to be feared that the question of Lakington and his companions was not engrossing Drummond's mind, as it doubtless should have been, to the exclusion of all else.

"They're so utterly unscrupulous," she continued hurriedly, "so fiendishly clever, that even you would be like a child in their hands."

Hugh endeavoured to dissemble his pleasure at that little word "even," and only succeeded in frowning horribly.

"I will be discretion itself," he assured her firmly. "I promise you."

"I suppose I shall have to trust you," she said. "Have you seen the evening papers to-day?"

MEIGHEN RAPS ONTARIO GOVT. OVER EXPENSE

SAYS FARMER GOVERNMENT HERE HAS INCREASED COST OF GOVERNMENT BY 119 PER CENT.

BRANDON, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press).—"If ever there was a state wrecked by theory it's the State of North Dakota," declared Premier Meighen here last night. "And those who suffer most are the theorists themselves. Townleyism in North Dakota has been terrible lesson.

"The Drury Government has all the belts, records and medals for increased expenditure," said the Premier, in comparing the cost of government to-day with pre-war cost. The increase in the cost of government in Ontario was 119 per cent. as compared with an increase of 21 per cent. in the Federal Government.

"Mr. King says that responsible government in Canada must be restored," he continued, "and that I am an autocrat who has usurped power." He did not know why Mr. King indicted him as an autocrat.

"Then why worry?" queried a voice.

"I am not," replied the Premier, "and I hope you are not."

"If the Parliament of Canada becomes a collection of groups and the Government is composed of men selected because they are representative of these groups and not because of ability, the penalty will fall on the people. We must have capacity. Make sure that the country gets a strong administration."

ST. PAUL'S BAZAAR

Tthe Ladies' Society of St. Paul's Church has achieved a very artistic effect in the arrangement of the Sunday school room for the bazaar held under their auspices yesterday which continues this afternoon and evening. The president, Mrs. C. A. White, in charge of the affair, with the convenors of the different booths, have spared no pains in the carrying out of an extremely pretty design of attractively decorated alcoves, and a pleasantly-arranged tea-room, in charge of Mrs. D. Jordan. Here palms and ferns, with carnations and 'mums on the small tables and soft lights; a pretty place in which to partake of a cup of tea, and a small rest-room with wicker furniture, offers a haven for tired feet.

There are a number of dainty alcove booths, charmingly decorated and containing numerous articles of a fancy and useful nature. The 'Made in Peterboro' booth, with Mrs. W. J. Mein as convenor, and decorations of rose and yellow, has all sorts of home-made cakes preserves, apples, potatoes, etc. and the 'Made in Canada' corner, in red, white and blue, contains samples of canned and packaged goods, soaps, chocolate safety razors, even an electric smoothng iron, and is looked after by Miss Lena Aikens. The candy room is very pretty, with black and range favors of all sorts, the assistants to Mrs. C. Sherwood wearing yellow and black caps; pale pink and blue crepe paper adorns the booth where useful garments are offered for sale, in charge of Mrs. R. Davidson, while yellow and green festoons streamers and arches decorate the spaces in which all sorts of dainty gifts are on view, with Mrs. W. Burrell, Mrs. James with Mrs. W. Burrell, Mrs. James venors. Mrs. A. McNab looks after the home-made quilts, of many varieties, and Mrs. E. Manning has charge of the dainty handkercief booth, a Christmasy looking corner of silver tinsel and balsam boughs.

A pleasng little table is the one devoted to babies' and childrens' wear, with plenty of cunning things for the dollies of the tiny tots, the Junior Mission Band, who are responsible for it with Mrs. W. F. Nelson and Miss Cameron superintending the sale.

The ladies had a splendid attendance yesterday afternoon, both for the sale of work and in the tea-room and anticipate a successful afternoon and evening to-day. Last evening piano solos were kindly contributed by Miss Olive Johnston.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, November 18. — Canadian Press. — Uncertain price tendencies due to specific causes, characterized the early trading in the stock market to-day. Central Railroad of New Jersey, rose ten points on two transactions, presumably on the advantageous sale of its coal properties. Industrial Alcohol fell 2 3-4 points, as a result of the suspension of the dividend announced after the close of yesterday's session. In general the list was inclined to react, oils, motors, equipment and tobaccos recording losses extending from fractions to one point. Shipping, sugars and several of the prominent steels and coppers were firm.

What Kind Of a Christian Are You

Is Your Religion the Kind

That is merely a concession to "good form?"
That you hang away with your Sunday clothes?
That almost forgets there is a God?
That is ashamed to confess His mastership in private or in public?
That finds sermons dull, hymns meaningless, and church service an unpleasant duty?
That finds fault when asked to contribute to Christian enterprises, one-tenth the sum spent for pleasure?
That says "good Lord" in one crowd and "good devil" in another?
That seldom gives a thought to the other fellow?
That never mixes religion with business?

Is It the Kind of Religion

That is ready to confess Christ in private or in public?
That reveres the Scriptures and accepts them as your rule in life?
That controls and directs your daily thoughts and acts?
That honours God in the home as well as in public?
That counts in every religious and other enterprise for the public good?
That seeks to help everybody in need, materially and spiritually?
That has both heart and hand for the down-and-out?
That people respect for its genuineness?

AT THE REGENT.

"THE MATRIMONIAL WEB."

One of the oldest towns on the Atlantic coast is used for exterior scenes in the Alice Calhoun production, "The Matrimonial Web" which will be shown at the Regent Theatre to-night. The story by C. Graham Baker has its locale in a quaint fishing village. Miss Calhoun's entire supporting company, including Joseph Striker, her leading man, William Riley Hatch, Charles Mackay, Armand Cortez, Dick Lee and many others, spent several weeks at Rockport, Maine, making scenes for this quaint production.

The story is one of unusual interest and presents the star in many new phases of her emotional ability, proving her to be a player not confined to any particular type production. In "The Matrimonial Web" she appears first as the daughter of a revenue agent, an unsophisticated country girl. In order to save her father's position, and unknown to him, she attempts to round up a band of smugglers. In seeking clues, the trail leads her into some of the dives of the underworld. She mixes with the frequenters of these dives, and is picked up by a man who has a double purpose in inducing her to spend the night upon an island where the smuggler is at work. Here she meets the hero and an interesting love story develops. The picture is full of action and beautiful scenic backgrounds, a large portion of the scenes being taken out of doors. For the most part the interiors are in the shack of the smuggler but there are nevertheless several magnificent interiors showing the palatial homes of the hero's parents and the girl who attempts to trick the hero into marrying her.

AT THE ALLEN.

Tuesday's bill of fare at the Allen Theatre is one that will appeal to the most exacting fan. The comedy films are as full of pep as a barrel of tobasco sauce and invite more laughter than a barrel of monkeys. Another episode of the million-dollar serial, "The Hope Diamond Mystery," shows scenes in the temples of India and the paceful Nautch dance. In the wonderful picture "Wet Gold" a live story holds the audience spellbound and works from deep sea diving bells to its happy ending in the merry jingle of wedding bells. This picture, apart from its highly dramatic story, is of great educational value and deep interest, as it shows the adventures of a Virginia Colonel and his charming daughter, the former's horse loses a race at Havana, that oasis so near a Sahara of prohibition, and the heroine's adventures in a submarine. One sees the hero fifty fathoms below the surface of the Carribean Sea, with fish playing about like butterflies in a garden, walking on the ocean's floor. One sees his actual encounter with a shark. One sees a $5,000 torpedo expelled from the submarine and explode. In fact, one learns why Germany placed her hopes to win on her submarines—only Germany did not know what English and Canadian soldiers and sailors were and did do. This evening's program also shows the official pictures of Lord Byng's reception in Canada.

AT THE GRAND.

"BRINGING UP FATHER."

Jiggs Mahoney, Maggie and Dinty Moore, are the old familiar figures of George McManus' cartoon strips, visited the Grand last night to the delight of a crowded house. "Bringing up Father in Wall Street," is the 1921 version of the Adventures of "Jiggs," and it is by long odds the best presentation of its kind that has been given here. "Bringing up Father" had been allowed to fall to pieces in the past couple of years, and last night's production was on that account a surprise. Tom Haverley was the most amusing "Jiggs" that the Grand has seen, not excepting the late John E. Cain. He was the cartoon Mahoney in every respect as regards make up, and in addition he proved himself a clever comedian. Alice Dudley was most effective as Maggie, and the Dinty Moore of Edward J. Morris added much to the laugh pjroducing qualities of this production. There was a lot of tuneful music, some clever specialties in which Berne Green, especially, scored because of his fine work with the violin. A handsomely gowned chorus and adequate scenic accessories. In its present form "Bringing up Father" is not only a sure cure for the blues, but it is a decidedly meritorious production in other respects. It has been drawing capacity houses and should continue to do so. F.D.C.

WINNIPEG KIDDIES

Folks who are romantic lly-inclined, including some quite eminent thinkers of modern times, are reverting in all seriousness to the belief in fairies, and one author has gone so far a to describe the shapes and colors and habits of fairies in various parts of Canada nd the U.S.

A visit to the Grand to-night and Saturday, will give the impression that fairies can cavert in fleshly guise—to say nothing of kaleidoscopic colors, and that they dabble in the most hilarious and comical antics. Thes "fairies" are The Winnipeg Kiddies, a Canadian company of exceptionally clever children who won enviable international renown since they first entered the portals of stagedom a few years ago to raise funds for Canadian war charities.

They are new on a straight commercial basis, having developed into the world's greatest juvenile road show. They are not new to Eastern Canada, though they have made many tours through the Canadian and American northwest than through the east. Their present production is built on a most lavish scale, and is crammed with melody and color and comedy. You don't have to wonder if fairies do exist or not; you can go and see them, and laugh till yohr sides ache at the fantastic antics.

"A PAIR OF SIXES."

Why does that fickle, uncertain goddess of Chance play such an important part in our lives? The throw of a dice, the odd card which fails to give us a straight or flush, and the whole course of one's life may be changed. "A Pair of Sixes" does not mean much to the average poker players,, but as everybody knows, they beat something else—they are a trifle better than a pair of fives or a near—well, they are better than ace high.

The name of next week's attraction, as Rex told you himself, is "A Pair of Sixes." When I first heard the title I thought it must have something to do with a game I've heard of called "poker." I am not quite sure, but that it is what I think the name is. Now, poker seems to call for a lot of bluffing—that is, a man may pretend or give one the impression that he holds certain cards when he doesn't. Now, ordinarily, one would not call that procedure exactly straightforward and above board. But at this excellent game, it is called bluffing, and if one gets away with it—so much the better). (I hate to have my bluff called, however). Now, as I said before, Rex's next play has this captivating title, and I thought we might possibly expect an exciting stage card game. Apparently nothing of the sort takes place, and "A Pair of Sixes" refers to merely an episode. It is important, though, and many funny incidents hinge on that chance draw. The Stock Company offers it on Monday night, Nov. 21st.—Laura.

"JUST SUPPOSE."

The prettiest little comedy romance that will be seen in Peterborough during the present theatrical season will be "Just Suppose," the play based on the recent visit of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, which Edward H. Robins will present for a special engagement of one night at the Grand Opera House, Thursday, Nov. 24th.

"Just Suppose" is from the pen of A. E. Thomas, who gave to the stage that wonderfully funny comedy of Neurasthenia, "Her Husband's wife." Mr. Thomas, when he let it become known that he was going to write a comedy in which the central character would be the Prince of Wales, created a furore that was widespread. Managers all over the country doomed the play to failure long before the first line was written, but, strange as it may seem, when it was presented at the Henry Miller Theatre, New York City, it caught the public fancy to such an extent that it was the mecca of theatre-goers. Later, at the Royal Alexandra Theare, Toronto, where Mr. Robins made his production, it repeated its New York success, all previous records held at this theatre being shattered.

The company that Mr. Robins will present here will be identically the same as seen at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto.

AT THE CAPITOL.

A very attractive offering is "The Frontier of the Stars" at the Capitol this week, with Thomas Meighen in the stellar role, as Buck Leslie, the gangster and gunman who succumbs to the power of a slight crippled girl spending her life on the house tops, weaving imaginary dreams about the "frontier of the stars". Faire Binney is the childlike, appealing heroine whose sweet outlook offers such a strong contrast to the tough career of the man she finally reforms and marries, and whose nature leads him into all sorts of complex situations in the unravelment of the plot. A thrilling fire, with a spectacular rescue of the cripple by her lover, and the shock which restores her to complete health, are interesting episodes of a likeable picture.

Harold Lloyd, has a funny new comedy, "I Do", and a number of short reels round out a fine programme.

UNION-ROYAL DUTCH MERGER IS RATIFIED.

NEW YORK, November 18 (Canadian Press). — The stockholders of the Union Oil Company of Delaware yesterday unanimously ratified the plan for merging all of its properties with the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company. The plan involves all of the United States interests of the Royal Dutch Company, excepting its tankers.

The merger will enable the two corporations to proceed with the creation of a new company having a capital stock issue of ten million shares without par value. The Royal Dutch Company will receive 72 per cent. of the new stock and the Union Oil Company the remainder.

The moment we can use our possessions to any good purpose ourselves the instinct of communicating that use to other rises side by side with our power.. If you can read a book rightly, you will want others to hear it; if you can enjoy a picture rightly, you will want others to see it; learn how to manage a horse, a plough, or a ship, and you will desire to make your subordinates good horsemen ploughmen, or sailors; you will never be able to see the fine instrument you are master of abused.—John Ruskin.

CARPENTIER DID NOT LOSE CASTE WILL RETAIN GLORY TILL HE QUITS

MOVE TO MAKE HIM MORE POPULAR AS EUROPEAN FISTIC CHAMPION—MLLE. LENGLEN CRITICIZED

PARIS, Nov. 17.—Georges Carpentier did not lose caste at home because of his defeat. He is the same beloved idol he was before he went to the United States to his Waterloo. Americans are prone to think this is just because he is a Frenchman, and that the French people would have just as keen admiration for any other of her sons and daughters who went to defeat in America, but this is not true.

For instance where only admiration is expressed for Carpentier, it is hard to find anyone who will say a kind word for Mlle. Lenglen, the tennis champion, who made such a poor showing there. They are frankly sceptical as to the seriousness of the illness which she pleaded as the reason for her failure in the States.

But the plane upon which Carpentier has been placed is well indicated by the plan which is being formulated to find a successor to him. It is anticipated that he will retire within the next two years, but before he does it is proposed to have the "battle of the century" between him and a selected opponent.

The opponent is to be chosen by a series of contests in every country in Europe where boxing has gained a foothold. When each country has established a winner, these champions are to meet in a tournament, or rather, a series of matches, and the survivor is to have the great honor of meeting Carpentier. If he wins, he becomes the champion, naturally, but if he loses he inherits the championship of Europe on Carpentier's retirement.

Competitors in the different matches proposed would be: Paul Journee, known in the States: Marcel Nilles and Battling Siki of France: Joe Beckett, Bombardier Wells; Dick Smith and Tom Cowler of England; the Spalls brothers Erminio and Guiseppe, of Italy; Van de Veer, the Holland champion; Texidor, champion of Spain; Borer, champion of Switzerland, and de Paus, champion of Belgium.

SPORT GOSSIP

CLAD IN ARMOR

Walter Eckersall was probably the best quarterback who ever played in the west. A. Alonzo Stagg ask "Eggie" to wear hip pads that weighed less than two pounds. "Eckie" threw them away announcing that no man could move about the gridiron handicapped by so much excessive weight.

W. Jerome Dunne, captain of the Michigan eleven, played this esason wearing 12 pounds of steel braces and a double leather padding. Dunning has a floating cartilage at the knee, making necessary the steel brace. He had a few cracked ribs and that makes necessary the heavy leather padding, but under this weight handicap, Dunne played the best foot ball of his career and his career is probably over, for he had an arm thrown out last Saturday, making his appearance against Minnesota improbable.

"PHANTOM" BALL

It was related of a couple of American baseball teams in London on a foggy day seveal years ago, that the players threw the ball round so fast that several English critics were deceived into belief that the men were playing "phantom" ball—that is, making all the motions of pitching, batting, hitting and catching without any ball being used. But is is now told that some phantom stuff was pulled several years ago on the Pacific coast that was mistaken for the real thing by Umpire Mike Fisher.

The Chicago Cubs were playing an exhibition game in Sacramento. A Sacremento hitter drove one through Joe Tinker at short like a shot. Tinker went through all the motions of fielding. Chance on first stretched out and slapped his glove as if making the catch.

"Out," yelled Mike Fisher loudly.

And all the while the center fielder was madly chasing the ball. Of course Fisher never heard the last of this. —Hamilton Spectator

LEWIS DEFEATS McCORMICK IN 14TH

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. —(Canadian Press.)— Ora Morningstar, of San Diego, California, yesterday lost his first game in the world's 18.2 balkline billiards tournament to Welker Cochrane of San Francisco, 400 to 317 in 16 innings.

Cochrane had a high run of 132, while Morningstar's best run was 70 in the final inning. This leaves Hoppe, world's champion, the only undefeated man in the tournament.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

Good progress is being made with the membership drive of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. Many members are being secured. One of the many encouraging features of the campaign is that a number of citizens who had not been approached by the campaigners and did not wish to be overlooked have made personal application for membership.

After a survey of the situation it was found inadvisable to hold the theatre night this week. The committee in charge of the event have practically concluded negotiations for the use of a theatre for Thursday night, November 24th.

Society

Mrs. A. Stevenson is the representative of the Local Council of Women at the executive meeting being held in Woodstock this week.

Mrs. L. O'Reilly, 475 Cedar street, entertained at her home on Tuesday evenings. Cards and dancing were indulged in, Mrs. William Gallagher winning the ladies' first prize at cards and Mr. Driscoll the gentlemen's.

A bumper crowd assembled at St. Alphonsus' Lyceum last evening for the "At Home" held under the auspices of the Holy Name Society Athletic Association. The long rooms were filled to capacity, and excellent entertainment was provided by the committee in charge, composed of Messrs. C. McDonald, Joseph Kelly, J. Condon, O. Kennealley, T. Lansfield, A. Costello, E. Cronin, J. Coughlin and Jno. Hanrahan.

Ladies in charge of the refreshments were Mrs. T. Lane and Mrs. Joseph White. Follis' three-piece orchestra provided good music for the dancing. Prizes for cards, two turkeys, donated by Dr. Jas. V. Gallivan and Dr. W. N. Hayes, were won by Mrs. M. McDonald and Mr. Thos. McAuley.

The large turnout at this "At Home" was due to the enthusiasm shown by the members of the Holy Name Society in their junior O.H.A. team.

Mr. C. C. McDonald of Toronto, is in the city visiting friends for a few days.

GORDON ASKS WHY GOVT. BUY GOODS ABROAD

CLAIMS LOCKS AND RUGS FOR PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS COULD HAVE BEEN OBTAINED IN PETERBOROUGH.

HIS TARIFF PLATFORM

At Gordon's Main Committee Rooms last night a large rally was held, with President J. J. Hartley in the chair. F. D. Kerr, K.C., addressed the meeting upon the failure of the Government to provide for the ordinary needs of the people, and claimed that the Government had outlived its usefulness years ago, that it was without a mandate of the people ,and it did not represent public opinion any more than J. H. Burnham did.

G. N. Gordon addressed the meeting also and claimed that the locks in the Parliament Buildings came from the Yaletown factory, the source of which was American capital, while the Peterborough Lock Company did not have a chance to have one lock sold under the specifications for the erection of the Parliament Buildings. He said the rugs in the Parliament Buildings, according to information he obtained, were imported, while the weavers of the Brinton Carpet Company were on short time in Peterborough, and if they had had a chance to manufacture these rugs unemployment in Peterborough would have been taken up to some extent, but instead of that Canadian money was sent out of the country by hundreds of dollars to purchase the rugs used in the building.

Mr. Gordon went on to say that American clocks had been bought with Canadian money for the Parliament Buildings. Yet there were clock factories in Canada capable of making these clocks, and yet Mr. Burnham had never protested against any of these things in the interests of the Canadian workingmen .

Mr. Gordon spent considerable time discussing the tariff, and said that he stood for a fair, just and reasonable customs tariff, and that as far as he was concerned he intended to stand by protection, but not the kind that protected the Riordon Paper Company, with its six millions of profits, while Peterborough men were fined for failing to make their tax returns, but the kind of protection that would protect the consumer and the workingman, as well as the manufacturer.

The meeting closed with rousing cheers for the King and the candidate.

WOMEN HOLD RALLY.

Last night at the Ladies' Committee Rooms, over Bond's Drug Store, at the corner of Hunter and George streets, a large meeting of the women supporters of the City and North Monaghan was held. The commitee room was packed to the doors and the meeting was a most enthusiastc one. Committees were formed for each sub-division in the city and North Monaghan, including Brownton and Clariday.

G. N. Gordon spoke for an hour and dealt with the question of the tariff and failure of J. H. Burnham and the Government to do anything for Peterborough. He also took up the question of the sugar combines and showed that the sugar refineries in Canada put at the same price all their products, showing a conclusive arrangement to maintain and fix the price to the extent of over $3.00 per hundred pounds above the price in the United States.

Mr. Gordon said the Government had abolished all the laws that were of any use and workable to protect the public from combines in restraint of trade, and that there were now in existence combines in various trades fixing prices which forced the cost of living up to an abnormal figure.

The evening was concluded by the ladies checking up the lists and taking them with them for use in their canvass.

Number of Hunters and Deer Both Smash Previous Records

Over one thousand dollars worth of hunting and trapping licenses have been issued by C. G. Graham, manager of the Empress Hotel, within the last few weeks. Records of other years have all been broken. With a sale of 333 deer licenses a new record has been set. Since the first of November Mr. Graham has been one of the busiest men in town, and has had all his spare time occupied in keeping track of the Department's records.

From far and wide the hunters have come seeking licenses. Besides the garden variety of deer license, 17 non-resident hunting licenses, costing $25 each, have been issued at the hotel this year. No less than 200 fishing licenses at $5 a throw have been passed across the counter, and in the recent weeks seven ordinary trappers' licenses, costing $5, and two general trapping licenses, costing $10, have been issued, as well as a couple of moose licenses at $5.

Most of the parties are still in the woods and will not return from the primeval till Monday. If the 20th did not happen to fall on Sunday, the hunters could blaze away to their hearts' content till midnight if they wanted to, but, sad to relate for the hunters, the 20th is in red on the calendar, which, commonly translated, means it is the Sabbath. Inspector M. J. Woodcock, game and fisheries overseer, declares that there must be no hunting on Sunday, and threatens prosecution of any parties breaking the Lord's Day Act in this regard.

Inspector Woodcock contends that whatever stories hunters may return with about the scarcity of deer, he has found no evidence of it, and game of every description has never been more plentiful. The woods are full of bear and partridge, the latter so plentiful, hunters can almost knock them down with a club. In a trip through north Hastings last week, Inspector Woodcock says he saw three bears, but as luck would have it, he only had a revolver with him.

Last night at the G.T.R. Station a carload of deer from the north country, destined to Rice Lake points, was unloaded, and station employees stated that there is as much more venison for the same district awaiting shipment at Lindsay. Some of the deer will be taken to their destination by boat this afternoon.

Several young moose are reported to have been shot around Apsley, but hunters who have returned did not know who shot the kings of the woods.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH TOMORROW NIGHT

SECOND OF THE SERIES OF SPECIAL ADDRESSES WITH SPECIAL MUSIC.

The large audience present on Sunday evening last at St. Andrew's was greatly pleased with the opening address by the pastor on the subject of "Friendliness," the first of the series of addresses to young people to be given each Sunday evening.

Another address equally important and interesting, to which much thought has been given by the speaker, will be given to-morrow night and young and old are cordially invited and assured of time very profitably spent.

The excellent musical numbers by St. Andrew's choir at each service are most favorably spoken of throughout the city.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR COLLEGIATE CLUB.

There is no lack of interest on the part of the older boys of the Collegiate in elections. This was demonstrated last night when 35 turned out at the meeting of the Collegiate Club at the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of holding the election which assumed the form of a miniature general election. Two parties had been formed, each with a leader and a cabinet of officers. The election resulted in a win for the National Progressives, led by R. Breyfogle. The leader of the defeated party was elected Vice-President, in the person of Eric Finlay.

The other officers elected were as follows: L. Broune, Sec.-Treas.; T. Miller, chairman Religious Committee; H. Cole, chairman Religious Committee; N. Rishor, chairman, Social Committee; D. Hay, Membership and Educational Committee.

ROBERT ARNOTT DIED ON VISIT TO HIS SON

WIFE PRE-DECEASED HIM SIX MONTHS AGO—WERE ON WESTERN TRIP.

The friends in Peterborough of Robert Arnott, who lived at 208 Rubidge Street, will regret to learn of his tragic death, which occurred on the ranch of his son near Bawlf, Alta., on November 7. Mr. Arnott's death is made particularly sad by the fact that it is only six months since Mrs. Arnott died suddenly in Prince Albert while on her way to visit relatives in Weldon, Sask. Mr. and Mrs. Arnott left Peterborough about eighteen months ago on an extended visit to their sons in Western Canada.

Mr. Arnott was trampled to death by a vicious bull in the stables on the farm owned by his son, Cecil Arnott, whose ranch is fifteen miles from Bawlf. The fatality happened in the evening of Thanksgiving Day while Cecil Arnott and his wife were in Bawlf. The family is well-known in Peterborough, Robert Arnott having operated for years a cheese box factory near the C.P.R. Station.

MISS JEAN THOMSON GOES TO HAMILTON

LOCAL Y.W.C.A. LOSES ITS INDUSTRIAL SECRETARY

Miss Jean Thomson, industrial secretary of the local branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, has accepted a similar position on the staff of the Y.W.C.A. in Hamilton, where she will assume her new duties on December 1st.

Miss Thomson, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas Thomson, of Lakefield, where she taught school for some time prior to taking up Y.W.C.A. work in Toronto, has been industrial secretary of the local institution for almost two years, and has owing to her pleasing manner and attractive personality, been most successful in introducing the 'Y' work amongst the girls of the city. Her resignation will be regretted both by the Board and by the staff of the Y.W.C.A., but she is to be congratulated upon her promotion to a larger and busier centre.

The work that Miss Thompson so ably commenced in Peterborough will be carried on by different members of the staff of the local branch.

GETS MONEY FROM POSTMAN, USING A FORGED LETTER

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—An adroit thief wearing the uniform of a postman, and carrying a false order, supposedly signed by the chief of the letter carriers, approached a letter carrier on the street yesterday and obtained a money package valued at three thousand dollars. The order directed the carrier to hand over the package on presentation. This was accordingly done, and the money is still missing; so is the culprit.

Britain Is Willing to Discard Japanese Pact For Canada Suggestion

WOULD ACCEPT AGREEMENT BETWEEN JAPAN, UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN—U. S. TO STUBBORNLY DISPUTE JAPANESE PROPOSAL FOR NAVY LARGER THAN ALLOTTED BY HUGHES —BRIAND SAYS SECURITY MAKES LARGE FRENCH ARMY IMPERATIVE.

WASHINGTON, November 19 (Canadian Press). — It is stated that Great Britain's delegation will willingly discard the Anglo-Japanese alliance if some agreement between Japan, the United States, and Great Britain can be reached on Canada's suggestion.

WASHINGTON, November 19 (Canadian Press). — Japan's request for an increase in the proportional strength of her Navy may lead to some straight talk across the conference table.

The United States delegation stands ready to dispute stubbornly any material change from the ratio set forth in Hughes' plan.

War would have broken out several times since the signing of the Armistice had it not been for the French Army, declared Premier Briand yesterday. For security, France must have a strong army.

THIEVES WILL GO TO KINGSTON PEN

TWO MEN BELIEVED TO BE WANTED IN PETERBORO' ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

Yesterday Fred Moore, formerly of Peterborough, aged 21, and Joseph Morrissy, of Toronto, aged 25, were sentenced to five years and three years respectively in Kingston penitentiary by the Police Magistrate in Brampton for thefts and housebreaking. These are the two men wanted in Peterborough for housebreaking and thefts and also in connection with the assault, with intent to rob, of a Chinese laundry man in East City, but the charges here will perforce have to be dropped for the present ,although some of the stolen goods may be recovered. When the men are released from penitentiary the charges could be pressed and because of the seriousness of the attack on the laundry man, Chief Newhall was inclined to this course.

Chief of Police Newhall was advised by Chief A. Herkes of Brampton, of the conviction. Convicted by Magistrate D. W. Dumble on the charge of entering and stealing from stores in East City in 1913 Moore served five years in penitentiary, and Morrissy is also not unacquainted with the interior of Kingston penitentiary, having served several years the same time as Moore.

During two visitations to Peterborough money and goods worth over $500 was stolen by the two. Two tills in small groceries yielded them about $400. About $300 was stolen from Knox's grocery store on Lock street. The two men entered the store with a coal oil can and mentioning the name of a woman up the street as their hostess, threw Mr. Knox off his guard, although he was suspicious of the strangers when they entered. He had just counted his money and placed a big wad of bills in the till. When he went out to the back of the shop to get the coal oil one of the men transferred the wad to his pocket and it was ten minutes after they were gone before the loss was discovered and the men had plenty of time to make a getaway.

In a small grocery in East City the same stunt was pulled and the till rifled. Houses in the city and country were entered and jewelry stolen.

BUTTER PRICES ARE LOWER TODAY

CHICKENS PLENTIFUL ON THE FARMERS' MARKET — EGGS SCARCE.

Butter was lower on the farmers' market to-day but eggs were not to be caught on the downgrade. Quite the reverse. Housewives found today the price had gone up to 80c, with very little prospect of it coming down till this year's pullets go into action.

Around the maze of tables all that could be seen was butter and fowl. On ten fingers a count of the baskets of eggs could have been made. Butter sold at 40c and 43c. No authority said so but it is evident the mild weather and rains have brought about a better milk production.

Geese and ducks were quite plentiful this morning at 30c and 35c.

The balmy weather brought a big crowd into the market to-day and great quantities of apples, potatoes and winter vegetables were offered.

Potatoes sold freely at $1.75, winter onions were 75c a peck carrots 25c, beets 25c, cabbages, 5 to 15c, celery 10 and 15c.

One grower had a bushel or two of spinach. "There will be lots of it as long as this mild weather lasts," he declared. He was getting 25c a peck. Citrons, pumpkins and English melons were plentiful at 5 and 10c.

Householders seeking apples had a wide range of varieties to choose from. Some fine Spys were $7 a barrel; No. 2's $6.50; greenings were $7; Peewaukies were $2 a bag, and Baxters 50c and Spys 60c a peck; with Snows also 60.

Pork was not scarce and sold at 15c and 17c fore and hind quarters. Lamb was 17c. Young hogs were offered at $8 a pair.

Chief among the attractions to-day was the stand of a collar button agent, who by means of a penetrating voice and contortions of the torso, the latter supposed to represent a struggle with a refractory collar, soon had an appreciative audience. The new fasteners for neck adornment were eagerly pounced upon by the citizens who twice a day stage a battle with friend collar. Some seized upon them as a Heaven-sent blessing; others assumed the role of critics, and some were openly cynical.

PILGRIMAGE TO ATONE FOR SACRILEGE OF MONDAY.

MEXICO, Nov. 19. — (Canadian Press). — Thousands visited the shrine of the Virgin of Gaudalupe yesterday on a pilgrimage of atonement for the sacrilege committed last Monday when a bomb was exploded in the Cathedral. Five miles of highway between Mexico City and Gaudalupe were crowded all day with pilgrims, and soldiers were stationed on the roofs of the Cathedral to prevent intersectional clashes.

PETERBORO NOT INTERESTED IN THE ELECTION?

IN THE BY-ELECTION ONLY 7475 VOTES WERE POLLED IN THE CITY AFTER A MORE VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN THAN THIS ONE

HOW MANY THIS TIME?

Of the 13,000 votes cast in the five-cornered contest in West Peterborough last February, only 7,475 were polled in the city, and it is quite evident on figures based on the estimate derived from the county assessment statements and for the voters' list for West Peterborough that the city dwellers did not use their privilege at the polls to nearly the same extent as did their brothers and sisters of the country.

Had the urban portion of the riding voted to the same extent as the rural centres, fully 5,000 more votes would have been cast.

In East Peterborough, there are seven townships, joint and otherwise, with a total population of 9,433 as follows:

Asphodel	1412
Belmont and Methuen	1364
Burleigh and Anstruther	363
Chandos	580
Dummer	1393
Douro	1540
Otonabee	2772
	9433

There are three villages:

Lakefield	1135
Norwood	698
Havelock	1220
	3053

Total population of East Peterborough Riding—12,486.

In the East Riding, there are approximately 7643 votes.

The comparison between population and voters in the six county townships in the West Riding is as follows:

	Pop'n.	Voters.
Ennismore	642	366
Galway & Cavendish..	433	263
Harvey	753	412
North Monaghan	2272	1470
Smith	2248	1406
	6348	3917

This is a proportion of about 2t to 13, and this will be found to be generally applicable to country districts.

In Peterborough, taking the population of the city at 22,000, there were only 7475 votes polled in the city proper.

TELEGRAPH PREDICTS ISOLATION OF JAPAN BY CONFERENCE.

MONTREAL, November 19. — Canadian Press. — That within ten years Japan will be isolated, is the belief of Akinori Ichihara, of Tokio, connected with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, or Japanese Mail Steamship Company, as expressed in an interview at the Windsor Hotel here.

Mr. Ichihara predicted the repeal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty and the formation of an Anglo-American Alliance as the possible outcome of the Washington disarmament conference. He could not see anything in the conference agreeable to Japan declaring the Chinese proposals to be unfair to the Island Empire and not conducive to a satisfactory settlement of Far Eastern problems. The Hughes naval cut proposals were also in his veiw far from being to the point as far as his country was concerned.

BEWARE OF THESE SCOTCH (?) LASSIES

Exchange: Two girls arriving in town last week, posing as Scotch Lassies about to leave Canada for the States, had a pile of cloth for men's suitings to sell.

The story they put up to the prospective buyer was that they could not take the suit lengths across the line without paying a heavy duty and they accordingly were willing to sacrifice the cloth at much below its value.

One purchaser bought a suit length for $23, and found it did not contain the measurement as represented by the Scotch lassies. He promptly got in touch with them and threatened to put them where they put bank robbers and thieves if they did not land back the $23. There was no way out and the money was promptly returned.

CAPT. DEWART AT VILLIERS

LIBERAL SUCCESS IN TARIFF ADMINISTRATION A GUARANTEE TO ALL CLASSES IN CANADA.

At Villiers in Otonabee township Friday night Captain John Dewart contended that the Liberal tariff policy had proved under the Laurier administration the soundest that could be evolved to the satisfaction of all sections of Canada. With the Hon. William Fielding, Minister of Finance in the cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, again in charge of that department the Canadian people could look forward to a renewal of the prosperity that had been built up by the Liberal Government in the years from 1896 to 1911.

Mr. Dewart stated that there was no industries in western Canada. The Progressive movement was essentially tending toward free free trade. It was political in its aims and should be regarded as entirely distinct from the economic interests of the U.F.O. as represented by the Farmers' clubs and their activities. Mr. Dewart pointed out that in Eastern Canada the manufacturers, workingmen and farmers were interdependent. Here the farmers sold their produce in the home market. The Progressives wanted legislation which they felt would be beneficial to themselves but which might react badly against the people of the east, farmers, workingmen and manufacturers. Mr. Dewart urged that this was an aspect of the election that should receive the serious consideration of the farmers of Ontario, including those in East Peterborough.

The Hon. T. A. Crerar, he continued, was president of the Grain Growers Grain Company which had made progfits of from 44 to 66 per cent, and in one year recorded a profit of 520 per cent. in one of its subsidiary companies.

"In Norwood last Monday I was talking with a shareholder in that company who told me that he had never received a dividend of more than ten per cent. on his investment in the Grain Growrs' Grain Company. The rate of interest was now down to 6 per cent. and the average rate had been about 8 per cent. The question is where has the difference between 8 or ten per cent. and the 44 and 66 per cent. gone. This man told me that that was exactly what he'd like to know."

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Those who are interested in the work of the Children's Aid Society of Durham and Northumberland, are invited to attend the annual meeting to be held in the Town Council Chamber, Port Hope, on Thursday, November 24th, at 3 p.m.

Mr. Ambrose Pollard, who has been driving one of the Lindsay creamery trucks since last spring, returned to his home at Pontypool on Thursday, the work for this season having been completed.

The dance under the auspices of the G.W.V.A., held in the Armouries on Thursday evening, was a very enjoyable and successful event. Between three and four hundred guests were in attendance, including three car loads who drove in from Cobourg, and quite a large number who came from Peterborough, and other outside points. The music was good, and an excellent supper was served. The receipts totalled nearly $70.

The many friends of Mrs. Roy Raper and Mrs. William Mullen will be glad to learn that both have recovered from their recent illness. Mrs. Raper is now able to be out again, but her mother has not gained quite so rapidly. BABY JOHNSON.

"VIROL rallied him"

140, Raglan Avenue, Toronto.
Dear Sirs, May 13th, 1920.

This is just a word to express our appreciation of the virtues of Virol as a food for babies. Just after our little son was born, his natural supply of food having failed, he developed a bad case of diarrhœa, losing weight rapidly. He went down from 9½ pounds to less than 6 pounds. Virol was the food that rallied and sustained him. We have since been giving him Virol, and now at the age of seven months he weighs nearly 20 pounds. His flesh is firm, his skin is clear, and he is healthy in every way.

Yours sincerely (Sgd.) CHAUNCEY E. JOHNSON.
(Sgd.) (Mrs.) PEARL F. JOHNSON.

Virol is used in large quantities in more than 2,500 Hospitals and Infant Clinics. It is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk; it is also a bone and tissue building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

OBERAMMERGAU PLAYERS REFUSE MOVIES' OFFERS.

OBERAMMERGAU, Bavaria, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press)—The Passion Play Committee, which recently has been bombarded by proposals from United States moving picture concerns for the privilege of filming the production in 1922, when the play will next be performed, is standing firm in its refusal "to play Judas to our tradition, despite our poverty," as it puts it.

The committee, it is stated, has refused offers running as high as seventy million marks, representing a huge fortune to the villagers. Their production of the play every ten years is a fulfillment of a vow made back in the Seventeenth Century thus to express the gratitude of the village for having been spared from a plague. The play, last produced in 1910, was not given in 1920, the regular date, because of the mortality among the performers and musicians caused by the war.

Landru Produces Promised Address

FIVE YEARS OLD, BUT IT IMPRESSES COURT — PROMISES MORE.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press.) — Henri Landru, on trial for murder in the Assizes Court here yesterday, fulfilled his promise of Thursday to give the address of one of his eleven alleged victims, but the dramatic effect was somewhat lessened when the address proved to be five years old.

The prisoner told the court that Mme. Heon, whom he is charged with having murdered on October 6, 1915, lived six months following that date at the small Hotel Du Mans, in Paris. He declared the police had never been there to seek any trace of the missing woman.

Prosecutor Godefrey, who Thursday assured the reputed "Bluebeard of Gambais" that proof that one of his victims was living would save his head, applied to the court to direct the police to investigate the address Landru gave and report to the court to-day.

Although the spectators had expected Landru to offer proof that the alleged victim was now living the jury and judge were visibly impressed when he gave the address. The predicted sensation of the session brought such a crowd of spectators to the little court house that an additional company of troops was needed to preserve order. Landru said later that if his statement to the court was verified he might give other addresses, which he said would refute the prosecution's testimony.

BRITISH DECISION TO CEASE WORK ON HOOD TYPE VESSELS EVOKES CHORUS OF APPROVAL

EXPERTS EXPECT ACTION TO RESULT IN SAVING OF $250,000,000--SOME PLACE SAVING AS HIGH AS $500,000,000--SUGGESTIONS ADVANCED AT WASHINGTON THAT IF AGREEMENT ON ARMS LIMITATION IS REACHED OTHER NATIONS BE INVITED TO GIVE ADHERENCE.

LONDON, Nov. 19. — (Canadian Press). — The British Admiralty's announcement yesterday that it had ordered the cessation of all work on the four warships of the super-Hood type evoked a chorus of approval by prominent authorities throughout Great Britain.

Vice-Admiral Ballard, in an article published by the Evening News, estimates it will result in an ultimate saving of £50,000,000. Moreover, he says, it means the abandonment of a design embodying the experiences of the late war in favor of a design to be adopted a decade hence, and that it is conceivable that the decision may lead to the entire disappearance of capital ships. He thinks, however, that if the armorplate mills are idle for a decade it will be difficult to re-start them, especially as regards their personnel.

Admiral Sir Percy Scott, who warmly approves of the Admiralty's announcement, places the saving it will involve at £100,000,000. He thinks no country will scrap its submarines, except possibly the long-range ones, because, he says, they are primarily weapons of defence.

WOULD EXTEND SCOPE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—The suggestion was advanced in high quarters yesterday that if the Washington conference should reach an agreement, nations other than those participating might well be invited to give their adherence to the agreement, thus averting confining the agreement to the nine nations now involved.

"INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY'(IS PUT TO ITS FIRST TEST

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press.)—Plant committees of Armour and Company yesterday agreed to accept a general reduction in wages in accordance with the request made by the company ten days ago. The same cuts, it was said, will be accepted in plants of the other packing companies.

This is the first time in the industry that employers and employees have met in plant conference and agreed on a wage cut.

$10,000,000 REQUIRED BY MANITOBA FARMERS.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—"Manitoba farmers require $10,000,000 to finance 1922 operations," states the Winnipeg Free Press, in a front page article. The story says:

"This was the opinion expressed by Government officials and persons in close touch with farming conditions in Manitoba. The statement was made that not 10 per cent. of western farmers received sufficient return from their farms this year to pay for threshing and freight charges on grain shipments.

"Thousands of farmers will be unable to pay their taxes this year, if reports reaching the Government buildings can be considered as accurate.

"It is expected rural members of the Manitoba Legislature will demand Government action to revive the basic industry of the province when the session convenes, the second week in January."

THE PAPERS NOT TO BLAME.

Many newspapers in all parts of Canada have been commenting upon the unusual attitude of the people towards the present election, the lack of enthusiasm at public meetings and the failure of the electors generally to work themselves up into the usual state of excitement that formerly was considered a necessary feature of a general election. The newspapers themselves are in some quarters receiving the credit for this changed condition of affairs. It is pointed out that in many sections of the Dominion the majority of the papers are neutral in their attitude towards the campaign; many of the journals founded on the old party system have disappeared and the survivors, with readers of all shades of politics, are not taking an active part in the fight. However, it would seem that some other reason than this must be found. The neutral newspapers are giving plenty of space to the campaign, and there is this difference over the old days—a difference that must be appreciated by their readers—that such papers publish reports of the meetings and activities of all the parties instead of merely covering the doings of one particular faction. This changed policy should increase rather than diminish the interest in politics, for the electors have a chance to follow the whole campaign in a way that was impossible in the old days unless one subscribed to two or three newspapers.

A DULL CAMPAIGN.

With election day a little over two weeks ahead, it will be readily admitted that West Peterborough has never experienced such a quiet campaign or given so little surface indication of interest in the outcome. Possibly the indifference may be accredited to the reaction following the five-cornered fight of last February. That was the most extraordinary contest the riding had known, not only because of the large field of candidates, but because of the presence of so many party leaders and the intense interest that was taken in the result by the whole country. The eyes of Canada were, during that contest, focused upon West Peterborough, and the electors had to be excited over the campaign whether they wanted to or not when they found the local fight was being reported at length in every newspaper in the land. In the present campaign West Peterborough is but one of many ridings, and with every constituency in Canada involved in the election the spotlight has been turned off this district. The result is reflected in the lack of interest that is being shown. Next week, with the official nominations to take place on Tuesday, may cause a different attitude on the part of the electors, and certainly a revival is needed.

AN EXPLANATION.

There is a point in connection with vocational training and emergency relief for returned soldiers that The Examiner has perhaps not made clear in its articles upon these subjects, and that should be understood by the general public. The vocational training scheme was devised for the purpose of training disabled soldiers not fit to return to their former occupations, so that they would be able to earn their living at some other work. Provision was made for youngsters under age when they enlisted to take these courses, but otherwise the plan was that only men incapacitated through army service would be eligible for training. In arranging for emergency relief the authorities decided to assist only the two classes, those who received pensions and those who had taken a vocational course, the assumption being that they were handicapped in their civilian life by reason of war disabilities. In theory this course may appear justified, but unfortunately it would seem to be the case that many soldiers whose disability was, to say the least, but trifling succeeded in securing for themselves the benefit of re-training and then qualifying for the present emergency relief when other ex-service men find there is nothing for them now when they are out of work and out of funds. They know just how shallow was the claim of many of their comrades to the vocational training privileges, and they resent a system that leaves them out in the cold because they did not see fit to "swing the lead" to get something to which they were not entitled.

CHANGED CONDITIONS.

Although they may differ on every other point, Messrs. King, Meighen and Crerar will probably find common ground for agreeing that in no other campaign have there been so many people anxious to find out the attitude of the various parties on different subjects as the present fight is bringing out. In other general elections the country has been divided into two political camps—Liberal and Conservative—their policies were pretty well understood and people were either of one party or the other. Today there are so many interests with questions to ask that the three leaders scarcely get time to read their mail. Rev. Ben Spence wants to know where they stand on the temperance issue, the Trades and Labour Congress feels a broadside of eleven weighty questions covering a wide range of legislation, returned soldiers' associations are insisting upon knowing what each of the parties propose to do about their particular problems, western farmers have asked the leaders for a statement on the Wheat Board, other westerners advance the old problem of the natural resources of the Provinces, and everywhere they turn the political chieftains find more groups with similiar queries. Political conditions have most certainly changed in this Canada of ours, and it looks as if the ties of party are not nearly so tight as they were in the old days.

MODERATION IN POLITICS.

The following extract from an editorial in the Canadian Freeman on moderation in political campaigns will be appreciated by many readers:

We think public opinion is turning in favour of moderation on election compaigns; and even when they do not know the facts, people are disposed to distrust speakers and writers who go to extremes in denunciation and accusation against their opponents. No one can deny that hard hitting is sometimes necessary; but it is seldom that it is just or fair to be as sweeping as politicians commonly are, in abuse of their opponents.

At one time, a large part of the public looked on elections as contests in which they were on one side and their neighbours on the other; and they cared less for the effect of an election on the welfare on the country, than losing a chance to crow over their neighbours on the day after the election. And whilst such an idea moved large bodies of people, it was natural that they should be more pleased with personal attacks on the other side than with arguments about policies, tariffs, or legislation.

But we think there is a change. We think the number of people is now much larger who want to hear each other; who want to hear about national questions, and who realise that an opportunity to crow over the man next door is a poor thing, unless one is sure he has really something to crow about.

However large or small the change may be in the public demand for improvement, surely it is time a change was made by the public men themselves. We do not agree with those who think that the average of human intelligence is rising constantly and fast. We fear that that is not so. But we do think that most people have come to realise that it is impossible for all the good to be collected on one side, and all the evil on the other, in any political divisions or parties.

Even from the narrow point of view of partisanship, it is foolish to try, day in and day out, to fasten all that is bad on one's opponents, and never to give them any credit at all. We do not believe such extreme views can be impressed on many people. There was a time when they could. There was a time when a great many very honest and well-meaning people in Canada did really believe that the other political party was composed of bad men, and that their own party contained all the good men. Tories and Grits were spoken of by Grits and Tories, as the Germans were spoken of during the war, comprehensively and without exceptions admitted, as bad and untrustworthy.

Well, we believe that spirit is pretty well gone. But some candidates and some editors proceed still as though they were able to count on that bad old spirit of unreasoning partisanship. Perhaps in some cases they can; but we advise them not to count upon it very far.

Indeed, they would do well to adopt a broader policy. This is a time when party lines have shifted a good deal. There are questionings and appeals, and theories, which were never before heard as part of a general election campaign. The old hard-hitting tactics are of very doubtful value in this election of 1921. There are thousands of electors who are thinking more seriously about politics than they ever thought before; and, whether they happen to be right or wrong, they want to hear arguments; not the mere calling of other people by opprobrious names; and not wholesale condemnations which cannot, on the face of them, be completely accurate, because they are too general and sweeping.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lowered freight rates are said to be coming soon. They cannot arrive too quickly.

The poison squad of the Hearst papers has already commenced its campaign against the Disarmament Conference by casting doubt upon the motives of Britain and Japan.

The political prophets are at work. Hon. T. A. Crerar says the Progressives will win 50 seats in Ontario. Hon. Mackenzie King declares the Liberals will have a majority over all and Sir George Foster maintains the King forces will only win four seats west of Ontario and but a handful in this Province. Help yourself to any one of these predictions.

SO MANY PEOPLE ARE NERVOUS

"Fruit-a-tives" the Greatest of all Nerve Remedies

This Fruit Medicine Restores Health

The increase in the number of persons suffering from Nervousness is world-wide; due, in a measure, to the reaction following the war. Sleeplessness, Headaches, Mental Depression, Rheumatism, Nervous Dyspepsia, Bad Heart Action, are the results of a disturbed condition of the Nervous System.

The nerves and the blood are so intimately, so vitally, connected that the condition of one is bound to affect the condition of the other. If the blood is laden with impurities, it is impossible to have strong, steady nerves.

The first essential in treating nervous troubles is to purify and enrich the blood. This, "FRUIT-A-TIVES" will do.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" stimulates the bowels, kidneys and skin and purifies the blood. "Fruit-a-tives" improves appetite and digestion and insures food being properly digested, thus enabling the blood to carry wholesome nourishment to build up the body, particularly the nerves.

Men and women who take "Fruit-a-tives" for some form of nervousness—because they cannot eat or sleep or work or enjoy life—say that this fruit medicine is simply marvellous in its action.

JUDGE AND LAWYER STILL IN CONTROVERSY

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.— (Canadian Press.) — In communications addressed to the Council of the Montreal Bar here, Mr. Justice Monet and Alban German, K.C., reiterate their previous declarations as to certain utterances alleged to have been made by the latter at the trial of Grace Moreno this week, now sentenced to life imprisonment in connection with the stabbing and death of James John Rowe, an ex-service man, last May.

Mr. Justice Monet alleges that Mr. German described stains on the knife with which Rowe was killde as "pig's blood—blood of an Englishman," an expression which Mr. Germain strenuously denies having used.

The mater will be heard by the council of the Bar at its meeting next Tuesday here.

BETHEL COUPLE ARE HONOURED BY FRIENDS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson Presented with Clock, Table Silver, and An Address on Eve of Departure for New Home in Peterborough.

KEENE HAPPENINGS.

KEENE, Nov. 19.—About 90 people of the Bethel and Indian River district met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson on the Norwood road on Wednesday evening, the 16th inst., previous to their departure for their new home near Peterborough.

An address was read by Rev. W. E. Honey and the presentation made by Mrs. Samuel Armstrong and Mrs. T. Breckenridge, to which Mr. and Mrs. Patterson both made suitable replies. The company afterwards enjoyed a social time in games, music and conversation, following which dainty refreshments were served.

Following is the address:

"To Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson:

"We, your friends of the Bethel and Indian River neighborhood, having learned with sincere regret of your expected removal to another community, feel that we cannot let you go from our midst without expressing in a definite way the regard and esteem which we have always had for both of you. Living as you have in this part of the country all your life, we have knowledge of your life and are able to testify to your true worth as neighbors among us. You have always shown the solid qualities of truth, honor, kindness and fidelity in all your dealings and relationships, and your sterling character has commended you to us at all times.

"You will be greatly missed in Bethel Church where you, Mr. Patterson, gave valuable service as Secretary of the Sunday School, and your loyalty to the church and your generous support of every worthy enterprise make us realize that in our departure we are sustaining an irreparable loss.

"We prize your friendship, and assure you that the bond of fellowship shall not be broken in your removal. It is our earnest hope that as you take up your abode elsewhere you may not only find new and good friends, but may also cherish pleasant memories of your old home neighborhood and its associations, and that you may from time to time visit your old friends and renew the fellowships of former days.

"We ask you to accept this clock and table silver as a slight token of our esteem, wishing you every blessing of happiness and prosperity under the Divine Providence and trusting that you may find fresh fields of opportunity in the Master's service.

"Signed on behalf of the community—Mrs. W. E. Wood, Mrs. W. Garnett, A. Evans and Mrs. J. Soanes."

This is an unusual and merely temporary appeal, the necessity for it arising from the unemployment problem. As soon as conditions in this respect are improved no further call from this mission need be expected.

The Junior League purpose holding a "giving Christmas" on December 16th, when the admission will be something to put on the tree. Afterwards these gifts will be sent to the Deaconness Home, Toronto, to be used in providing Christmas cheer for needy families.

The "Sunshine Mission Band" also purpose sending their usual box to Miss Hawken at Kolokreeka, for the Ruthenian children under her charge in the boarding school there. Miss Hawkens' five- year term will be completed next June, and it is expected that she will soon afterwards visit her many friends in Millbrook, as it was from the Auxiliary here that she went out as a missionary.

REACH COMPROMISE ON USE OF WHITE LEAD.

GENEVA, Nov. 19. — (Canadian Press). — The International Labor Conference yesterday reached a compromise in the fight of several days' duration on the use of white lead in the manufacture of paint.

The compromise was contained in a proposed convention, providing that white lead be limited to two per cent. of the ingredients of paint to be used for exteriors, that white lead be prohibited entirely in paints for interiors; that women and children under 16 years of age be not employed where white lead is used in the manufacture of paint, and that countries now using white lead be given six years to comply with these regulations.

CANADA GRAIN ACT AGAIN PUT TO TEST.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—The constitutionality of the Canadian Grain Act is challenged in an action which is now before the Provincial Police Court. The Manitoba Grain Company, Ltd., charged with a violation of the Act, claimed in defence that the Dominion Government had no power to legislate in regard to the grain.

Magistrate Noble, who is preparing the case, withheld the decision for a week.

NEED 25,000 TROOPS TO ENFORCE BY-LAWS.

SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—"Nothing short of a cordon of 25,000 troops around the island will ever keep smuggled booze out of Cape Breton," declared Capt. Alfred Lacouve, commander of H.M.C.S. Margaret, here yesterday.

The Margaret has been on patrol duty off the Cape Breton coast all summer, and has captured seven smuggling schooners as well as overhauling and searching numerous suspects.

"Not in my 26 years' experience in the patrol service of the Canadian Government have I ever run up against a tougher proposition than that of keeping St. Pierre liquor out of Cape Breton," Captain Lacouve said.

MOVE TO PROHIBIT USE OF LEAD IN PAINT

GENEVA, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press).—Complete prohibition of the use of white lead in the manufacture of paint became a possibility yesterday afternoon when the International Labor Congress in session here adopted a resolution offered by the French section providing for discussion of "prohibition of lead", instead of merely regulating its use, as provided by the original resolution. The vote on the amendment was 45 to 44.

NORTHCLIFFE EXPLAINS

PEKING, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press).—Lord Northcliffe, who is on a tour of the Orient, has issued a statement here to-day explaining that his despatch to the London Times on October 28, was not meant as an endorsement of the Canton Government's claims that it represents the Chinese people, as the despatch evidently had been interpreted. It was, he said, merely a quotation of Dr. Wu Ting-Fang, who made those claims in an interview with the British publisher.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN HOME BANK APPEAL

MONTREAL, November 19. Canadian Press. — Argument was heard yesterday afternoon in the Court of Appeal and judgment reserved on an appeal by the Home Bank of Canada in the case of the Corporation Agencies, Limited.

The bank apepaled from an interlocutory judgment which last February dismissed appelant's petition for permission to amend the defence, and examine B. F. Bowler, said to be a material witness in the case, and also appealed from the final judgment maintaining the action of the Corporation Agencies, Ltd., of which C. H. Cahan, K.C., Sr., was president, and condemning the Home Bank of Canada to pay to the Corporation, $205,960.37, representing the alleged defalcations of C. H. Cahan, K.C., Jr., while he was a director of the plaintiff corporation. It is alleged by the bank that young Cahan between March and December, 1919, as a director of the Corporation Agencies, Limited, signed from time to time 96 cheques with the countersignature of Bowler, the secretary treasurer, and deposited them to his own personal and private account with the Home Bank of Canada, withdrawing them later for his personal use and benefit. He subsequently disappeared and has not been heard of since.

BARKING DOG SENTENCED TO DEATH APPEALS CASE.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., November 18. — A colie dog's plea failed in Police Court here, and Shep, pet of Mrs. William M. Ramey, was ordered destroyed or sent out of the city by Police Justice Snow.

However, the sentence has been stayed, as Shep's attorney, Frank Stuart, noted an appeal to the higher Court, and will make a fight to save the dog.

Shep's crime was barking. The complainant, a policeman, testified that the dog barked almost continuously, making sleep for him in the daytime out of the question.

Mrs. Ramey produced two witnesses, who testified that they lived in close proximity, but had never been anoyed by the dog.

The decision of the higher Court is awaited with interest.

Miss Daly says she had complained of noisy parties apparently in the Johnson apartment. Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock, she said, the door was pushed open and in walked Miss Marsh to seat herself, cross her knees, light a cigarette and announce —'Well, darling, we are here to stay.' Johnson uprooted the telephone, threw two boxes of candy out the window, and struck Miss Daly in the face, according to Miss Daly.

Miss Marsh is the woman who sued the Field estate of Chicago for baby son.

"BULL-DOG DRUMMOND"

BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

"I looked at the ones that come out in the morning labelled six p.m. before I had lunch," he answered. "Is there anything of interest?"

She handed him a copy of the Planet. "Read that little paragraph in the second column." She pointed to it, as he took the paper, and Hugh read it aloud.

"Mr. Hiram C. Potts—the celebrated American millionaire—is progressing favourably. He has gone into the country for a few days, but is sufficiently recovered to conduct business as usual." He laid down the paper and looked at the girl sitting opposite. "One is pleased," he remarked in a puzzled tone, "for the sake of Mr. Potts. To be ill and have a name like that is more than most men could stand. . . . But I don't quite see . . ."

"That man was stopping at the Carlton, where he met Lakington," said the girl. "He is a multi-millionaire, over here in connection with some big steel trust; and when multi-millionaires get friendly with Lakington, their health frequently does suffer."

"But this paper says he's getting better," objected Drummond. "'Sufficiently recovered to conduct business as usual.' What's wrong with that?"

"If he is sufficiently recovered to conduct business as usual, why did he send his confidential secretary away yesterday morning on an urgent mission to Belfast?"

"Search me," said Hugh. "Incidentally, how do you know he did?"

"I asked at the Carlton this morning," she answered. "I said I'd come after a job as typist for Mr. Potts. They told me at the inquiry office that he was ill in bed and unable to see anybody. So I asked for his secretary, and they told me what I've just told you—that he had left away several days. It may be that there's nothing in it; on the other hand it may be that there's a lot. And it's only by following up every possible clue," she continued fiercely, "that I can hope to beat those fiends and get Daddy out of their clutches."

Drummond nodded gravely, and did not speak. For into his mind had flashed suddenly the remembrance of that sinister, motionless figure seated by the chauffeur. The wildest guess-work certainly—no vestige of proof—and yet having once come, the thought stuck. And as he turned it over in his mind, almost prepared to laugh at himself for his credulity—millionaires are not removed against their will, in broad daylight, from one of the biggest hotels in London, to sit in immovable silence in an open car—the door opened and an elderly man came in.

Hugh rose, and the girl introduced the two men. "An old friend, Daddy," she said. "You must have heard me speak of Captain Drummond."

"I don't recall the name at the moment, my dear," he answered courteously—a fact which was hardly surprising—"but I fear I'm getting a little forgetful. I am pleased to meet you Captain Drummond. You'll stop and have some dinner, of course."

Hugh bowed. "I should like to, Mr. Benton. Thank you very much. I'm afraid the hour of my call was a little informal, but being round in these parts, I feit I must come and look Miss Benton up."

His host smiled absent-mindedly, and walking to the window, stared through the gathering dusk at the house opposite, half hidden in the trees. And Hugh, who was watching him from under lowered lids, saw him suddenly clench both hands in a gesture of despair.

It cannot be said that dinner was a meal of sparkling gaiety. Mr. Benton was palpably ill at ease, and beyond a few desultory remarks spoke hardly at all: while the girl, who sat opposite Hugh, though she made one or two valiant attempts to break the long silences, spent most of the meal in covertly watching her father. If anything more had been required to convince Drummond of the genuineness of his interview with her at the Carlton the preceding day, the armosphere at this strained and silent party supplied it.

As if unconscious of anything peculiar, he rambled on in his usual inconsequent method, heedless of whether he was answered or not; but all the time his mind was busily working. He had already decided that a Rolls-Royce was not the only car on the market which could break down mysteriously, and with the town so far away, his host could hardly fail to ask him to stop the night. And then—he had not yet quite settled how—he proposed to have a closer look at The Elms.

RECIPES

Candied nuts in combination with glace fruits are often used as garnishing for fancy puddings and ice creams, as well as for a finish to the frosting of cake.

The method of preparing them is so simple that the most inexperienced housekeeper can have a supply on hand to use in preparing desserts for special occasions. To three cupfuls of sugar add two cupfuls of water and a quarter of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and boil to the crackling stage. If it becomes brittle ,it has reached the right stage. Dip the nuts separately on a long hatpin into this syrup until they become well coated; then remove and drain on waxed paper.

For burnt almonds use two cupfuls of brown sugar, half a cupful of water and a tablespoonful of vinegar. When the sugar reaches the hard-ball stage, remove from the fire and let it stand till it stops boiling; then add the almonds and stir with a buttered fork till the sugar begins to grain and harden. Remove the almonds and lace them on waxed paper to harden; boil up the syrup again and repeat the process three times.

For little fancy cakes in particular, as well as for puddings and fancy desserts, little diamonds of citron paste are very desirable. To make them, pare and chop fine one large citron and cook it in just enough water to cover it until it is tender. It is then drained and covered with lime juice and is left for twenty-four hours. The next day the lime juice drained off and fresh is added, and this process is repeated on three consecutive days. On the third day it is drained and put into a boiling syrup made with two cupfuls of sugar and a cupful of water and is cooked to a thick green paste; a quarter of a cupful of rose water is then added, and the jelly is boiled till it hardens when dropped in cold water. It is then poured into greased pans half an inch deep and, when cold, is cut in diamond shapes and dipped in powdered sugar.

DRAPED VEILS

The extremely feminine modes of the moment are lending draped veils in fashion at a season when women usually concentrate on looking as tailored and trip as they can. In spite of the determined effort of veil manufacturers to push face veils to the front—how could the poor manufacturers who stocked up heavily with new fall face veils guess that fashion would take the such a capricious fancy for large veils at the wrong time?—it is the large veil that is in demand now in Paris.

That it is the season when fur neckpieces begin to make the line of throat and shoulder bulky has no bearing on the matter at all for they conspire with veils and have wider brims to set the draped folds of the veil out beyond the line of fur neckpiece. A draped veil on a very small turban with the folds of the veil slanting outward over fur neckpiece and shoulder is ugly. The folds of a veil always drop straight down to give an effect of grace. But since tiny turbans have been abandoned in favor of trimmed hats, or turbans with rolling and flaring brims, large veils are perfectly possible even with fur coat-collars.

And as hats have increased in size, so have veils. A yard-and-a-half long veil is a skimpy affair these days and to possess any style at all a draped veil must give an effect of lavishly used material—filmy stuff looped and swathed and draped, and escaping in long ends that fall to the waistline.

And veils now disport themselves generously at the front of the silhouette. They trail over the shoulders and fall down in the front of the costume. A veil tied around the hat and with its ends simply sagging down the back would have no style at all and would give its werer a dejected, bedraggled look. One picture shows a veil knotted at either side of the hatbrim so that the veil ends fall forward over the shoulders rather than down the back. This is one of the smartest veil modes of the new seson. Over a rollbrim sailor the long bordered veil is thrown in such a way that one edge descends to the chin in front and the other edge just covers the hatbrim at the back. At each side the veil is gathered up and the handsomely decorated ends show off well, spread over the shoulder or floating like steamers. The veil is interesting also because of its color scheme. The mesh is a soft taupe shade with ramie border a scroll of slightly darker tone and the floral clusters are in a rich purple lightened by shades of mauve.

FACES MURDER CHARGE.

Girl Accused of Luring Sweetheart to His Death.

NEW YORK, November 18. — Charged with luring her sweetheart to death, Miss August Humann, 18, the youngest girl ever tried for murder in Queen's County, pleaded not guilty on her arraignment to-day.

The death-bed statement of the sweetheart, Henry Dewey Garbe, is the most important point of the prosecution, it was said. In it, Garbe charged that she led him into an ambush, where he was fatally shot.

Joe Labasci, co-defendant, is charged with the actual shooting.

The trial was set for the 21st of November.

Millions Who Are Sick Will Soon Be Well

Will Be a Revelation to Suffering Humanity—Cleans Liver in a Few Minutes—Symptoms of Liver Trouble Are: Sallow Complexion, Bad Taste in Mouth on Rising, Tired, Out of Sorts, Etc.

This new drug is called Tanated Calomel. It acts only on the Liver, which immediately relieves many troubles such as Rheumatism, Constipation, Boils, Kidney Pains, etc. No salts, Seidlitz, are necessary after taking, because it is self eliminating. It does not have a nauseating, sickening feeling the next day, like so many similar drugs. You no doubt have been taking all sorts of laxatives, salts, castor oil, etc., with only temporary results. The reason is that some of these draw liquid from the blood and the tissues, causing a great flush. What you need is something like Tanated Calomel, which causes the bile to be excreted from the liver into the bowel, causing a natural elimination of the waste. You know waste allowed to remain in the system causes a multitude of troubles. I can venture to say that 90 per cent. of all sickness is due directly to this very thing. What is generally the first thing your doctor does when you are sick? He gets your bowels operating so as to eliminate wastes in your bowels, which are poisoning your system. Now, in order to be happy, healthy, vigorous, vivacious, bright, alert, keen to observe and understand, you must first keep your Liver clean, or you are coaxing all sorts of trouble upon yourself. Doctors recommend that you take a tablet before eating and one at bedtime. Just get some of these, and I feel assured that you will feel as if you had a new lease of life.

These Tanated Calomel Tablets are for sall by F. C. Webber, Charlotte Street.

FANS

To Dame Fashion rather than the ancient god Zypher are these fans dedicated. For they are created to complement my lady's gowns. There is a flaming red cocque fan to liven a somber gown, black glycerine ostrich to accent a gay one, and, if feathers will not do, comes a dainty fan of lace a-gleam with sequins to add its quaint touch to a quaint frock.

With The Horticulturists

The last annual report of the Horticultural Societies of Ontario contains an interesting article on gladioli. Mrs. A. H. Austin of Ravenna, Ohio, tells of some of her experiences in the early days of the culture of this bloom which has only recently captured the fancy of the fancy-loving public.

Gladioli have been found in Asia, Europe and Africa, and, according to certain records, the flower was grown and catalogued in America a hundered years ago, but it is only in the last few years that its culture has been undertaken on this continent to any extent, for commercial purposes.

Mrs. Austin had less than a hundred bulbs in her first real collection, and, when first she tried to market the blooms, her efforts met with failure. Boys who helped her at that time are now grown to be business men in Cleveland, and remember the days when they assisted in the pioneer efforts to popularize these lovely flowers. For seventeen years, Mrs. Austin and a sympathetic woman neighbour worked away, doing all the work by hand, and grading her bulbs according to diameter, with the help of a yardstick. Her husband finally became interested in her endeavors, and, ignoring the remarks of neighboring farmers on "posey growing" went into the business extensively, with ever increasing orders.

Mrs. Austin remarks that she was often questioned in those early days "Why the gladioli?" It is so lacking in gracefulness. This spurred her on to efforts in cross-breeding which resulted not only in increased gracefulness but in size and beauty of bloom. This flower lends itself to experiment, and the exquisite ruffled petals, the variations in positions to blooms, the double flower, the iris form, all were outcomes of experiments, and the writer concludes with "If you wish to add a new pleasure to your life take up the culture of this flower and with it the study of plant breeding. The gladiolus is not a fad, a craze of today and gone tomorrow. It is the great flower of progress. Where is there another that has made such advancement as this with its orchid beauty and potato culture?"

At the Florists' Conventon held here this summer, there were some exquisite examples of gladioli from nurseries in Simcoe, and the gladioli exhibit held under the auspices of the Peterboro Horticultural Association was very successful. As the flower will grow in any good rich soil in a sunny situation it does not require an extraordinary amount of care, and amply repays the trouble expended on it, by its exquisite, light-producing bloom, its culture should be more universally attempted.

Y.W.C.A. WORK

One of the activities of the Young People Women's Christian Association, which has branches all over the face of the earth, in forty different countries of the world, is the work carried on at the branch in Kobe, Japan. Here has been established a depot for the "foreignization" (to coin a word to fit the occasion) of the native-born son or daughter who wishes to leave his own land and journey across the sea to California, or Australia, or Canada. Here he or she is taught the rudiments of an elementary education in the customs, manners and sometimes even the trades for there is a short course in plumbing, of the land to which he or she goes. The "picture" brides of Japan, so called because the only knowledge they have of their future husband has been gleaned from a photograph, the marriage usually being arranged though agents on eit her side, may here get a good working knowledge of the dress, methods of cooking and house-keeping, the manners and customs of the land where they will live, and the religion of the foreigner is explained to them here also.

The Japanese government thinks so highly of this course that it has made it obligatory before sailing from Kobe, and the benefit derived from it for the cause of Christianity has been described as incalculable, the Japanese mind comprehending good impulse behind the action and ascribing it to the religion of their benefactors.

On Friday next, November 25th, an Oriental evening will be held in the Y.W.C.A., when the little play, "It Happens in Japan," will be given in the gymnasium. The green room will be turned into a Japanese tea-room with decorations in keeping, and in the library, all sorts of Oriental curios will be on view. A musical program will also be rendered. The proceeds will be devoted to the foreign work of the Y.W.C.A., the Canadian head office of which has already sent out one secretary to Japan, two to China, and three to India.

Two Ladies Exchange Compliments When They Clash On Sidewalk

An encounter with some possibilities took place just the other day on one of the central streets of this city. Two ladies met. This is not an unusual occurence. Ladies often meet on public streets, and sometimes they stop and chat awhile. If they are large and heavy, you scowl heartily and get out into the gutter, or simply slide around, according to your temperament, and if they are slight and thin, you just take what is left of the pavement and try to be thankful. In the event of one lady having a baby carriage, it is quite likely that both of them will be admiring the occupant thereof, and if they both happen to have baby carriages, the case is hopeless, and it will require a traffic cop to cope with the situation.

But to get back to our narrative. The ladies met and the onlookers shivered, at least those who were familiar with the situation doubtless shivered. For the emity existing between these two has no parallel in history ouside the historic feud between the houses of Montague and Capulet, and they are both hefty ladies, with a great deal of that blood in their veins of both which scorns the thought of a superior.

For months, these two women had never met, and here they were face to face on an open thoroughfare, with the memory of a grudge rankling bitterly. What would be the outcome? One lady regarded her enemy scornfully. Her vocabulary failed her. She could not compass the depth of her resentment within the limits of the dictionary, but finally her tongue responded. "Pig" she said, with an emphasis which left no doubts in the minds of her hearers as to the friendly feeling in her breast. "Pig pig, pig"- The other lady quailed for a moment, and then rose to the occasion. "Cat"! she responded bitterly, "cat, cat, cat"! They glared at each other for a moment, and then passed on.

Christmas Hints For Homemakers

A pageful of cunning looking little toys for children are cut with jig saws of coping saws, over designs with the fewest possible angles, from poplar one-half to one inch thick. If designing your own tops seems too difficult, pictures in children's books on magazine covers or in advertisements may be transferred by placing picture over carbon paper on the wood and then going over the outline with a pencil or pointed stick. Enamel is best for painting, but water colors, with a coat of white shellac, may also be used. Black lines may be fitted into stands by chiselling grooves about a quarter of an inch deep and glueing, or by nailing. Button molds make the best wheels and should be put on with washers on both sides of the wheel.

A cunning Peter Rabbit, with painted waistcoat, jacket and bow tie, is one of a set of tenpins, 8 inches high, with small stands easy to tip over. The ball, about an inch thick, represents a curled-up bunny whose ears meet his simulated toes.

A merry pieman rings a sure-enough bell when his movable arm is wriggled by the rod passing through his body. He is 12½ inches high, and black and white except for his blue tray and his bright red stockings.

To make a crawling turtle, paint an oval 7 or 8 inches olive color, with black outlines. Upon washers nail four pieces of wood, two with wheels, one with legs and head, and one with legs and tail.

A blue-eyed white kitten, 10 inches from black paw to black tail has a green stand to slip under the nursery door and hold it open. The spotted pup, who pursues her, running fast on his button mold wheels, is all of 6 inches long and 5 inches high.

Sadie Inkbottle, 8 inches high, has two cup hooks in her back to hold a pen. An ink-bottle, with grey squirrel-mounted stopper, fits into a hold in the stand which supports Sadie, its red cork matching her gay ribbons.

The kind of doll bed that kiddies have always wished for has 10 inch blue posts up which climb playful teddy bears, with bright pink bows around their necks. Headpieces, 10 by ¾ inches, are glued into slits at the top, and 15-inch pieces into the other slits for sides. Through tiny holes bored in the side pieces strings are woven from side to side to hold the mattress.

KEEP HEALTHY DURING WINTER

COLDS AND DISEASES MAY BE AVOIDED IF THE BLOOD IS KEPT PURE.

Do not let your blood get thin this winter. For people who have a tendency towards anaemia, or bloodlessness, winter is a trying season. Lack of exercise and fresh air, and the more restricted diet; are among the many things that combine to lower the tone of the body and deplete the blood.

As soon as you notice the tired feeling, lack of appetite and shortness of breath that are warning symptoms of thin blood, take a short course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Do not wait until the color has entirely left your cheeks, until your lips are white and your eyes dull. It is so much easier to correct thinning of the blood in the earlier stages than later. This is well illustrated in the case of Mrs. E. Williams, Elk Lake, Ont., who says:—"I take great pleasure in letting you know the benefit I have found in the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I was in an aneamic condition, and was very weak and run down. The least exertion would leave me breathless and it was with difficulty that I did household work. I was advised to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills and after the use of four boxes I felt like a new person. In fact my system seemed filled with new energy, and new life. I strongly recommend this medcine to all who feel weak or run down."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or difficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after-effects of the grip or fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

You can procure Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

REV. MacKENZIE'S CALL UNANIMOUS

Only Name Balloted on by Sault Ste. Marie Congregation.

The Daily Star of Sault Ste. Marie has the following reference to the call extended by the congregation of St. Andrew's Church of that city to Rev. J. A. MacKenzie of Knox Church, Peterborough:

"At the meeting of the congregation, Tuesday evening, Nov. 15th, the call was made unanimous on the first ballot. The other names before the congregation last evening in addition to Rev. Mr. MacKenzie were: Rev. G. M. Dix, of Ottawa; Major Birch, of Toronto; Rev. F. J. Maxwell, of Pembroke; Rev. Dr. Hughson of Toronto; Rev. W. J. McQuarrie, of Kenora, and Rev. Hugh McFarlane, of Wiarton.

"Rev. Mr. MacKenzie graduated from the Presbyterian College in Montreal in 1912, and for the last seven years has been located in Peterborough.

"On motion of Mr. J. E. Irving and Mr. Thomas Dean, it was decided to set the salary at $3,000, which is what the church has previously paid.

"Chairman J. W. Shaw of Board of Managers, reported to the meeting that the congregation at the present time had a deficit of $2,380.15, but he expressed confidence that that could soon be made up when the congregation once more had a regular pastor."

IN THE WORLD OF FASHIONS

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

The fun of Christmas presents is a lot in the making, but one must start early. Here pink brocaded satin, blue taffeta and gold galoon has been artfully made up into a perfectly darling set for a young girl's dresser. Cardboard, a glass Sundae dish, a doll and frame are all that is needed beside the material. The set includes talcum holder, powder box, pin cushion, hairpin holder and my ladyship whose ample skirts may be used to cover a light or hide the innumerable little accessories to the toilet which might look cluttery on the dresser.

Rinso

Just Soak the Clothes in Rinso Suds—then Rinse

It's not a cake soap—not a chip soap—not a washing powder, but a wonderful new form of soap—in granules—which washes clothes immaculately clean—gleaming white—without either rubbing or boiling.

These pure granules are so rich in cleansing value that they loosen the hardest dirt while the clothes soak for a few hours. Yet Rinso is so harmless that it doesn't even redden your hands.

It seems almost unbelievable that RINSO cleans so easily. Just soak the clothes for a few hours in the pure, rich, cleansing Rinso suds—then rinse a few times in either warm or cold water and they are as clean and white as though you had boiled and rubbed them for hours. One trial will convince you.

Try RINSO Next Monday

Follow the easy directions on the Rinso package and see how it soaks out the dirt that you used to get out by main force.

If you have a washing machine—

Soak the clothes overnight in the usual Rinso way. The cleansing suds loosen every bit of dirt. In the morning operate the machine for a few minutes and the clothes are perfectly clean—even the most soiled spots.

Hazardous Life Of Ashburnham Ladies

Another hazard has been added to the list of casualities which may arise at times from the Hunter street bridge. Complaints of the muddy approaches, the up and down pavements which constitute an obstruction of traffic in baby carriages have now been added to by the danger arising from this structure in the matter of headgear. A lady coming over to the city proper just recently was wearing a very pretty new blue velvet hat, which according to the mode of the moment, possessed no pins. A high wind took the hat and carried it down to the water below, while the owner could do nothing but stand and watch it being slowly submerged in a liquid which has not the slightest affinity for velvet hats.

A gentleman has also added his recital of the tale of a lost hat to the list, and there may be many more who could tell the same story. The only thing to do, evidently, would be to keep a firm hold on one's headgear when crossing this "bridge of sighs," or else petition the City Council to construct some form of protection against casualties of the sort. Their attention to such a request is not guaranteed.

The Safeguarding of Peterboro's Milk Supply

The safeguarding of a municipal milk supply is as important, if not more so, than the safeguarding of the water supply.

A municipality would be more justified in enforcing the PASTEURIZATION of all milk than they would be in requiring the filtration or chlorination of their contaminated waters.

The largest cities in the United States and Canada enforce PASTEURIZATION—the only safe and sanitary milk for consumption.

In addition to PASTEURIZATION, all our milk is CLARIFIED—that is, the milk is run through a centrifugal machine which forces out all foreign particles, however minute.

RICHARD HALL & SON LTD

MESSRS. J. H. BURNHAM, R. DENNE AND E. A. PECK VISIT BENSFORT

ISSUES OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE SPEAKER—LADY OCCUPIED THE CHAIR.

BENSFORT, November 19. — Notwithstanding the rain and bad roads, a large audience greeted Messrs. R. Denne, E. A. Peck, and J. H. Burnham at Bensfort last evening.

Mrs. Whittington consented to take the chair, amidst much applause, and introduced the speakers in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. Denne dealt with the necessity of safeguarding our own interests, as Great Britain and the United States were doing with theirs. "It is impossible," the speaker said, "to furnish wok for the worker and the farmer at home if you are going to have that work done abroad."

Mr. E. A. Peck said that he was greatly concerned for the return of the Meighen Government and for the safeguarding of Canadian interests by a protective policy. Canada is a difficult country to govern, with its large area and diversity of race, and no Government should be too readily found fault with on that account.

Mr. Burnham dealt chiefly with Mr. Crerar's manifesto. He pointed out that Mr. Crerar admitted that Canada had too many railways. Since the Laurier Government built the National Transcontinental, which the country approved of in 1904, the people of Canada were themselves to blame for that. That Mr. Crerar should lament the departure of Canadians for the United States was a strange commentary on his Free-trade policy since they were leaving a low tariff country for a high tariff country. "Let us develop our own country and keep our people at home," said the speaker. As for population, it was easy to have that, but Canada was doing as the United States was doing—keeping out the unfortunates of Central Europe. That, and the fact that there was no immigration during the war, accounted for the slower increase in population. Mr. Crerar said that the big interests "had tried" to dominate the Parliament of Canada, but did not allege that they had succeeded. Statistics reveal the fact that there are all told, 860,000 people, men and women, engaged in agriculture in Canada, and that there are slightly over 2,000,000 in other callings. In contrasting the wealth of the various callings, it is noticed that the farmer and the mineowner are the only ones who get their land free in the first or original opening up of the country, but it is usual to add the value of the land to their wealth in considering it in the mass; and so it will be under Mr. Crerar's and Mr. King's policies of direct taxation.

The meeting closed with cheers for the King and the candidate.

SEXSMITH MEETING AT COLDSPRINGS

C. F. KITNEY OFFICIATED AS CHAIRMAN — COL. ACKERMAN ALSO SPOKE.

COLDSPRINGS, Nov. 18.—A well attended and very interesting meeting was held last night at Coldsprings School House in the interests of Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, Government candidate. The meeting opened at 8 p.m., and Mr. C. F. Kitney was appointed Chairman.

In opening the meeting the Chairman said it was an honor to be Chairman of Mr. Sexsmith's meeting, as we are always able to tell a good thing by the way it wears. Mr. Sexsmith has represented East Peterborough for fourteen years, he has been before the people for twenty years, he always came with a straight-forward proposition and did not waste his time in abusing his opponents. Mr. Kitney remarked that to be fair to Mr. Sexsmith he would briefly review the meeting of Mr. Dewart last week. He admired Mr. Dewart for the clean way he had spoken, but he did not know who Mr. Hall had in mind—not the intelligent people of Otonabee—when he mixed the dose he delivered then. If Mr. Hall expected us to swallow that, cork and all, without analyzing it, he made the mistake of his life, declared the Chairman. Mr. Hall spoke of the mess the Government had got the country in with their railroad proposition. Why did not Mr. Hall tell us it was the Liberals who were the cause of the country having the railroads on its hands today? In 1903 Sir Wilfrid thought, to be a truly great man, he must build a railroad across this country like Sir John A. Macdonald had. In 1903 Mr. R. L. Borden, then leader of the Opposition, predicted that if the Liberal policy to build the G.T.P. was carried out we would have exactly what we have today. The old Liberal Government is responsible, asserted Mr. Kitney, for the railroad deficit of today, and not the present Government.

Mr. Kitney said Mr. Brethen had not been here yet, but we would be disappointed if he did not come. The farmers might believe that free trade was a good thing for them, but it was bad for the market gardeners.

Col. Ackerman.

Col. Ackerman was the next speaker, and declared he was pleased to have a part in East Peterborough's contest. He very ably dealt with the criticism of the Government by the Hon. Mackenzie King and asserted that all of Mr. King's criticism had fallen to the ground, and that at present he had nothing whatever to abuse the Government about.

Here some questions were asked and ably answered. Among these questions binder twine was discussed, and it was pointed out that under the tariff, at a factory in Peterborough, binder twine cost 7 to 8 cents a pound; now it was taken off the tariff list and it cost 22 cents. Inquirer: "Who took away the Peterborough factory?" Col. Ackerman: "You should have asked at the meeting last week."

The debate, which here followed, brought out some concrete points and helped to make last night's meeting the most interesting ever held in this part of the township.

J. A. Sexsmith.

Mr. Sexsmith, in his address, asked if anyone had any fault to find with his record in his twenty-nine years of public life. He did not boast of what he had done, not tell of what he was going to do. He had tried honestly to serve the people of East Peterborough, and his party had again honored him as their candidate. Mr. Sexsmith reviewed very briefly the record of the Government, and discussed Mr. King's platform and that of the National Progressive party. He concluded by saying: "If you think I have done my duty and have a fair, clean and clear proposition, vote for me; if not, vote for the other fellow." (Cheers).

In closing, the Chairman said the Americans admitted that Canada had gone through the war and come out of the war better than any other country. Who brought this country through and out of the war? The present Government, he exclaimed; and with that record, why not put them back and elect Mr. Sexsmith on Dec. 6th?

The meeting closed with three rousing cheers for the King and another three for the Meighen Government.

Review of the Local Market

A slight advance in hide prices have taken place in the market this week, and farmers will be glad to note this. Cow hides are now 6 and 7 cents, and dealers say that the outlook for a recovery is brighter, although the wool market is still flat. In the dairy produce section eggs are very high, being quoted all week in the stores at 65 and 70 cents. Dealers are only able to explain the high price to a failing supply. Farmers generally remark that the supply in early winter has never been less, and in spite of fancy feeds and every persuasion the hens will not lay. Butter remains fairly steady, between 40 and 45 cents for creamery and dairy.

Barley dipped ten cents more this week and oats went down five cents, bringing grains down to a level unconceived of a year ago. Wheat, which is now being bought at a dollar, was on Nov. 18, 1920, selling at $1.00. Barley was then 90 cents; today it is 55. Buckwheat was $1 a bushel and now is 40 per cent. lower. Oats today, selling at 40 cents, were hardly considered worth selling in the early winter of 1920 at 55 cents.

Early in the week hay on the market went down to $27 a ton. The farmers who had been bringing it in promptly realized the mistake they made in putting too big a supply on the market and forcing the price down and have, during the past few days, assiduously kept away, and when they begin drawing again the price will likely have recovered to $30 again. Not only have they been inspired by a desire to keep the price up, but most of them have been ploughing and working on the land since the soil has been loosened up by the recent rains. It has been a satisfaction for many of them to know that while they labored the hay market would promptly adjust itself as it has always done in the past. On the whole, the Agrarians have a very capital understanding that has never yet failed to favorably raise the price until hay has become the most profitable commodity grown on the modern farm.

That winter has settled down on this part of the world, however much the weather might give it the lie, is emphasized by an inspection of any of the fruit shops. The same vegetables and fruits confront one year after year. Imported goods hold the eve now and remind one of the Yuletide season. Rosy apples are about the only things on the list of fruits that Ontario can boast of having produced. Spys are slightly lower and some are quoted at $6 a barrel. Snows are very scarce, and dealers are getting 80 cents a peck. Greenings are selling in considerable quantities, it is said, at $5.50 to $6.50. Californian grapes are clinging to the market and are selling at 30 to 35 cents a pound; Malagas, the white ones, are in good demand and are 25 to 30 cents. Cacabas melons at 50 cents each might be classed as luxuries, but one dealer assured the investigator that he had a steady sale for them among the so-called middle class. Cocoanuts are better quality, it is said, than in some years and are down to 10 and 15 cents this year. Malaga raisins, the choicest raisin product in the world, so the dealers say, is on the market again at 50 and 55 cents a package.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—Eggs Secretary of Labor Davis said today, are "going sky high", and likewise turkey. VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT ACT.

Long Term Loan on Farm Mortgages.

This Act was passed by the Ontario Legislature at the 1921 session. It aims to provide additional facilities for securing money to invest in farm lands, and thus enable men of character and experience to secure a start upon reasonable terms. It is the laudable ambition of very man who is engaged in agricultural work to own his own farm. This Act should be a great help in enabling many to achieve this ambition and should be of special advantage to farmers' sons, tenant farmers and farm laborers.

Loans may be made for acquiring land for agricultural purposes, the erection of farm buildings, to pay off charges existing against land at the time of acquisition by the borrower, under a will or by descent. The board is authorized to make a loan up to 65 per cent. of the value of the property taken as security. This is 15 per cent. greater than the amount usually loaned by companies or even farm loan associations.

A competent valuer must submit the value of the land to the board and the applicant required to appear before the board in person, or before a local qualified committee in order to comply with the following conditions: That he is a British subject of at least twenty-one years of age and has been resident in Ontario for at least three years; that he has had at least three years' experience in farming; that he is of good character; that he is actually engaged or intends to engage upon the land, upon the security of which the loan is to be made.

Repayments are to be made upon the amortization plan. This means that the interest and a small sum of the principal is paid together each year and these are figured out so that the entire loan will be discharged in 20 years. The rate of interest will be six per cent.

This will mean that the annual repayments of each $1,000 borrowed will be—1st year, principal outstanding $1,000.00, interest $60.00, principal repair $27.18, total $87.18; 2nd year, principal outstanding $972.82, interest $58.36, principal repaid $28.82, total $87.18; 3rd year, principal outstanding $944.00; interest $56.64, principal repaid $30.54, total $87.18—and so on until the twentieth year.

By this system of repayments on the amortization plan it gives a fixed period in which plans may be made for the developing of farm operations on a proper scale. The Act also enables a person to pay off as much of the loan as they devise upon any due date after the third year.

Application should be made to the Agricultural Development Board, Toronto.

INTERNAL BATHING NATURE TREATMENT FOR CONSTIPATION

You can help Nature in Nature's most effectual way by Internal Bathing, and without the use of drugs, keep the lower intestine in the clean condition which Nature demands for good health and vigour. Thousands of Canadians testify to the benefits derived from its use in cases of obstinate constipation, piles, indigestion, appendicitis, and hardening of the arteries.

Frank Stanton, of Port Stanton, Ont., writes:

"I must say that your 'J. B. L. Cascade' has been a great value to me, and I feel indebted to the inventor of this treatment, since I have made use of your wonderful discovery. I feel twenty years younger, and have not taken medicine of any sort."

The J. B. L. Cascade, used with sterilized warm water, is easy and pleasant in its effects. You bathe outside, why not bathe internally, too—it is far more important.

The J. B. L. Cascade is the perfected invention of Dr. Charles A. Tyrrell for Internal Bathing. It is now being shown and explained at The Warne Drug Company, Peterborough, Ont.

POLITICAL COMMENT

(The following extracts from newspaper editorials are published for the purpose of indicating the trend of political sentiment and do not necessarily reflect the views of The Examiner.)

MR. CRERAR'S ARGUMENT.

(Victoria Colonist.)

One of the strangest arguments ever put forward by the leader of a political party is that advanced by Mr. Crerar, when he claims that 750,000 persons have left Canada for the United States during the past ten years. He attributes this alleged exodus to the fact that Canada has a protective tariff, but he does not explain why people should go from here to another country where protection is even more highly developed. Mr. Crerar cannot prove his figures, but even if he could, they furnish no argument for the cause he espouses, and it could be said with equal strength that some millions of people have left the British Isles in the last ten years because of the free trade policy which used to prevail in that part of the Empire. It might also be argued that these people came to Canada or emigrated to Australia because these two countries enjoy policies of protection.

THE RAILWAYS.

(Montreal Gazette.)

Upon no question are Opposition leaders more at sea than upon the railway problem. The Liberal and Farmer groups, between them, brought up the tariff as an issue, and set out to stampede the electorate with pictures—mostly copies—of the supposed advantage to be derived from a low tariff policy. Finding the market for this commodity an extremely restricted one, they began to hedge and recant. Mr. King giving tongue to somewhat incoherent explanations having to do with charts and middle courses, while Mr. Crerar assured his audiences that the protective tariff, although morally wrong and economically unsound, would not be eliminated overnight. Other Liberal spokesmen, having a sympathetic regard for local conditions, declared themselves protectionists, and made no bones about it. This situation became one of increasing embarrassment for the Opposition, and more especially for the Liberal wing, whereupon Mr. Mackenzie King had an inspiration, not unlike that which later came to him upon the wharf at Lewis, and he began to talk about the railways. Others followed, notably Mr. Lemieux, Mr. Mitchell and Sir Lomer Gouin, and the public have since heard a good deal of sound upon this subject without receiving a corresponding degree of illumination.

THE RIORDON CHARGE.

(Manitoba Free Press.)

H. M. Ellard, the Progressive candidate for Wright, a Quebec constituency, has thrown an issue into the campaign which is of a character certain to attract universal attention.

Mr. Ellard has made the statement that since 1916—that is, from the beginning of the levying of this form of taxation—the Riordon company has paid its income taxes by promissory notes until the amount outstanding is now $800,000.

The explanation of Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, that this course was necessary unless the company was to be forced into liquidation, is far from satisfactory in any case; but it is utterly valueless in the face of the statement by Hon. Mackenzie King at Port Arthur, that during the years when these notes were given, the company declared and paid dividends of 10 per cent.

THE RIORDON TAXES.

(Toronto Star.)

During a period when the Riordon Company was paying 10 per cent. dividends, the Dominion Government "nursed it along" by permitting it to postpone payment of its excess profits tax. It was quite the thing to fine some humble individual who happened to be a day or two late in even telling the Government the size of his income, but an influential company was allowed to meet its obligations with promissory notes—and nothing was said.

Disclosure of these facts by a Liberal candidate has led to a widespread demand for further information. Were other powerful interests allowed similar favors? Who were they, and what consideration did they get? The Prime Minister refers enquirers to the Finance Minister. And the Finance Minister sits in an entrenchment of silence.

LIBERAL POLICY.

(La Minerve.)

The Liberals have a different policy for each different audience. They have a program for every contingency. If they face a crowd of protectionists, they talk protection. If they find themselves amongst free-traders, they advocate free trade. In addressing labor meetings, they declare that the farmers demand too high a price for their produce, and submit that the Federal Government ought to compel the agriculturists to lower their charges in order to reduce the cost of living. Then, when they meet the farmers, the Liberals pretend that the workmen demand too high wages for too few hours of labor, and insist that the Government ought to reduce the situation to order and bring about a return to the land which would assure the farmers all the aid they need.

FARMERS CO-OPERATIVE.

(Montreal Herald.)

The officers of the United Farmers of Ontario Co-operative Association admit large losses in connection with the concern, placing it around $300,000. Mr. Burnaby contends that the complaint of a shareholder is a political dodge to injure the farmers, but his admission of losses, undetermined as yet, coupled with the financial record of the farmers' Government of Ontario will not tend to inspire confidence in the ability of the farmers to manage the affairs of the Dominion.

MORE AMERICANIZATION.

(Toronto Globe.)

The Meighen Government, having secured control of the Grand Trunk Railway, had the opportunity of reversing that company's traditional policy of developing Portland, Maine, as an ocean terminal and of substituting the truly national policy of developing Canadian ocean ports and sending the traffic there. The choice which the Government made is indicated by the following passage from The Portland Herald:

"The Grand Trunk docks were never in better shape for the handling of the winter steamer business than at the present time. For several months the company's gangs in making repairs at all the wharves, which are now greatly strengthened, hundreds of new piles having been driven in place of others that had decayed, together with a lot of new planking, while the plank roadway running in front of all the sheds has been practically rebuilt."

If one may believe Government campaign speakers and writers, this country is suffering from unemployment and stagnation of business. Yet the Government is spending money and giving employment in the United States for the purpose of building up the harbor at Portland. The Laurier Government recognized the national character of the ports of St. John and Halifax and spent large sums of money to improve their transportation and elevating facilities. Now the Meighen Government is turning its back on our own ports and improving one in the United States. "The Grand Trunk "were never in better shape."

PROBE DEATH OF MAN.

SYDNEY, N.S., November 19. — Canadian Press. — An inquiry was ordered last night by Coroner Axworth, aged 45, who was yesterday morning found dead in a ditch on Vulcan Avenue. His forehead was bruised and a large stone covered with blood, was lying near by. Pending the inquiry the police are investigating reports that Axworth had recently quarrelled violently with an acquaintance. He is survived by a widow and nine children.

FORMER GOVERNOR DIES IN POORHOUSE

Idaho Legislature Defeated Attempt to Pension Him.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 18.— Norman B. Willey, former governor of Idaho, died at the Shawnee County poor farm here recently. For the last number of years he had been in destitute circumstances, and although the State of Idaho appropriated $1,200 for him in 1913, to be paid at the rate of $50 a month, that appropriation ran out and another bill in a later legislature extending aid failed of passage.

ECZEMA ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczema or salt rheum, as it is so often called, manifests itself in little round pimples which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to a strong heat, is almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

There is only one way to get relief and no remedy like

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Take it internally and it gets at the seat of the disease in the blood and drives it out of the system.

Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning and promotes healthly healing.

Mrs. J. Sage, 215 Princess Ave., Vancouver, B. C., writes: "Having suffered with eczema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, and tried various kinds of salves and lotions, but I derived no benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. B. too highly. I hope you will make full use of this recommendation for the benefit of those who are suffering from this terrible complaint, eczema."

ELECTION NEWS

CRERAR HOPES FOR 50 SEATS IN ONTARIO.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press).—"I believe that the Progressives will come to power in Canada after December 6," said Hon. T. A. Crerar here last night. "The people," he said, "will see the present Government through on that date."

The leader of the National Progressives suggested that his audience should not be shocked to hear on the evening of election day that 50 Progressives had been elected in Ontario where, he said, the new party was the Government's real opposition. They had about 15 candidates in the Maritime, and might have 20 by nomination day, declared Mr. Crerar.

Will Stay in West.

The Progressive Leader has concluded his tour of Eastern Canada and in the West, where originated the political movement which he now leads, he will spend the balance of the campaign. Last night he addressed two meetings of electors of Springfield constituency in school rooms of St. Boniface and Norwood, respectively.

In his brief address, Mr. Crerar outlined the fiscal policy of the Progressive party and attacked the Meighen Government on its record and on its platform.

Two Things Needed.

"Canada," he told his Norwood audience, "needs two things—a big constructive policy to develop her natural industries, and a Government which will find a market for the goods which we produce." Reciprocity, he considered the only bit of real constructive legislation which the Laurier Government had attempted. There was no hostility to Canada in the United States, and he believed that if we went to the United States for a trade arrangement mutually beneficial, we would get it.

"Let us have a Government with enough courage to change our fiscal policy," he said.

Personal Attack.

The campaign of the Government in Manitoba was declared by Mr. Crerar to be directed solely against the United Grain Growers with the object, he suspected, of putting that company out of business and of damaging him personally. "That is the story," he went on, "of every speaker trailing the Prime Minister, and the Prime Minister has some queer birds in his train."

Mr. Crerar wanted to know again where the "campaign funds" were coming from, and he announced that if the Progressives were returned to power legislation would be passed making imperative the publication by all parties of the source of contributions to their expenses. He asked Mr. Meighen to publish now the names of contributors to his funds.

CRERAR IS NOW IN OWN CONSTITUENCY

WINNIPEG, Nov. 19.—(By Canadian Press.)—Hon. T. A. Crerar will spend to-day and Monday in his own constituency of Marquette, Man He will address an afternoon meeting to-day at Clanwilliam, and a meeting at Basswood in the evening. On Monday evening he will speak at Rossburn, and on Tuesday at Roblin. The remainder of the week he will be in Saskatchewan.

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Nov. 14. — (By Canadian Staff Correspondent.) —Discussing the problem which faced a large number of westerners due to frequent drought, Premier Meighen, speaking here yesterday afternoon, said that the time had come when the proper authorities must address themselves to solving this problem. The federal government should meet the provincial authorities and thresh in the whole matter out in an effort to arrive at a solution, the premier said. He suggested that the problem might be solved by furnishing the settlers in the dried areas with secondary homesteads, but the fact that municipalities had been established and that money had been expended in the dried out areas, made the problem more difficult.

It must be solved, however, and for his part he was prepared to address his best enemies to its solution.

SEES NO ACCLAMATION FOR LIBERALS IN QUEBEC

MONTREAL, Nov. 19. —(Canadian Press.)—The Montreal Gazette declares that no Liberal candidate in Quebec Province will be elected by acclamation on nomination day, next Tuesday. While in some cases there are no official Government candidates, opposition has arisen by farmer nominations who are running as Independents rather than as followers of Hon. T. A. Crerar.

In a considerable number of divisions there are more than two candidates.

THE GIRLS OF GRANDMA'S DAY KNEW HOW TO CAPTURE HEARTS

"The mental vamp is more deadly to the male than the one who depends on physical attraction," observed Betty Compson, the Paramount star who is enacting the coquettish Lady Babbie in Barrie's "The Little Minister.'

"The modern girl who wants to be fascinating has much to learn from her grandmother's methods when grandma was a flapper.

"Unsophistication is more charming to most men than sophistication," explained Miss Compson. "It is the subtle vamp who plays havoc with men's hearts. She's so sweet and charming that the man feels that it is all right to fall in love with her. While the modern vamp, with her obvious manner, painted lips and darkened eyebrows, only puts the man whom she is trying to charm on his guard.

One should never be obvious about anything—in love affairs or in acting. It is then the subtle charm, the alluring inuendoes that can win even ministers. That is precisely what Lady Babbie does in Barrie's "The Little Minister." She is constantly playing with his heart by her tantalizing coquetry and in the end she wins a man who thought himself immune from all feminine charm. The 1830 vampire was really more deadly than the 1921 model, because she was more subtle.

"The sly peek over a fan or drooping lashes over a cup of tea are far more dangerous to the heart of a man than the glaring attempts of the so-called modern vampires.

"In the days when Lady Babbie worked her charms women used their mentality to catch the men—and the mental vamp is the most deadly. Women nowadays use their physical attraction and fine clothes for the appeal which is so apparent that it is laughable to most of them.

"In the period, a little before the time of which Barrie wrote, when Mme. Recamier and Mme. Pompadour held sway, the men created the women vampires, but today the woman becomes a vamp by her own free will and accord and thereby loses her charm.

"My warning to men who do not want to lose their hearts is to beware of the shy, unshopicated girls who use their brains to ensnare their victims.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY HELD A TEA —CONCERT IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 19. — After nearly nine years of faithful service as janitor of the Methodist Church, Mr. A. J. Beavis tendered his resignation to the Board. The Board accepted with much regret Mr. Beavis' resignation, and at a special meeting on Thursday, Mr. William Iordan was appointed to succeed Mr. Beavis as janitor and caretaker of the church.

Tea and Sale.

The Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church are holding a sale of home cooking and a tea in the Parish Hall this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. These teas given by the ladies of Christ Church are always popular, and this will be no exception to the rule.

Mrs. Roberts and children, of Big River, Sask., left on Tuesday for their home in the West, after a three months' visit with her mother, Mrs. James Jeffs, and other friends in Nova Scotia.

Mr. Thomas McManus is in town this week.

Opera House Concert.

The Opera House was filled to the doors last evening, many being unable to secure admittance, when the Llewoc Pierrott Troune, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Cowell, rendered a most delightful programme, consisting of catchy songs, readings, choruses, and there were exceedingly pretty costumes. The troune consisted of the following local young ladies and men: Misses Helen Kerr, Irene Davidson, Eleanor Ferris, Grace Moore, Jennie Graham, Jean Wallace, Jennie Taylor, Ruth Taylor, Arthena Armstrong, Beatrice Mitchell, Minnie Winters, Myrtle Wheeler, Gertrude Maynard, Edith Smith, Evelyn Weston, Helen Wood, Helen Irwin, Marion Burleigh, Margaret Dickson and Messrs. Claude Duncalfe, Carl Maguire, Charles English, Dick Hutton, Sam. Hutton, Everett Thomas, James Benor, Addison Dickson, Fred. Dorrie.

The opening chorus, "In New York Town," in which Mr. James Benor soloed in fine voice, was heartily applauded, as was also the second chorus "Dixie Moon," in which Miss Helen Wood very sweetly took the solo part. The reading, "A Woodland Romance," by Miss Grace Moore, showed marked ability as a reader. "The Pride of the Pier," a very catchy little number, was taken by Miss Edith Smith (solo) and male chorus. Miss Ruth Taylor, charmingly took the solo part in the chorus, "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining." In the comic little chorus number, "I'm a monkey on a stick," Miss Beatrice Mitchell won much applause. Mr. Sam. Hutton, in "Dear Old Pal of Mine," with chorus merited hearty applause. A pretty little dance, perfectly executed, followed by a chorus, "Tally Ho" (a hunting song), were most pleasing. The banjo chorus, "Me and My Little Banjo," in which Miss Helen Kerr proved herself a budding soloist, was enjoyed. The reading, "Atabitha," by Miss Eleanor Ferris, was nicely rendered. "Blowing Bubbles," in which Miss Jennie Taylor took the solo parts, as well as the next, "If you were the Only Girl in the World," in which Miss Burleigh and Mr. James Benor took leading parts, were exceptionally well rendered. Mr. Dick Hutton gave a pleasing character solo, "Burlington Bertie of Home." The chorus, "Home, Sweet Home, to You," with Miss Margaret Dickson a pleasing soloist. The old favorite, "Mickey," in which Miss B. Mitchell starred as soloist, and chorus, with little wands, and the closing number, "Good Night Song" (original) were thoroughly appreciated. Altogether, the whole programme was of a high order, reflecting much credit upon those taking part, as well as to Mr. and Mrs. Cowell, who so efficiently trained the young people.

Dance After Concert.

After the concert last evening the floor was cleared for dancing, and the young people enjoyed the light fantastic.

St. Andrew's Entertainment.

The entertainment given in St. Andrew's Church on Thursday night was an unqualified success. An excellent programme of solos, quartettes, choruses and readings was rendered, and last, but not least, the very dainty lunch provided reflected much credit to the ladies. Rev. J. J. Black, pastor, made a very genial chairman.

The opening number was a chorus well rendered by the choir, following which Mr. George Morley, B.A., of Toronto (a pupil of Owen Smiley) gave a very pleasing reading, "Down in Texas," and encored by "When Company Comes." Miss Marion Burleigh, in a very pleasing voice, sang "In the Garden of My Heart," and, being heartily encored, rendered "Flow Gently Sweet Afton." Mr. Morley's second number, "Jane Brown's Change and Rest" (from Nellie McClung), created much applause, and for an encore he rendered "Home and Love" (Robert Service). Miss Emma Meiklejohn, in her usual pleasing manner, rendered the solo, "Christina's Lament," encoring by "Keep on Hoping." "How the War was Won," a reading by Mr. Morley (in German dialect), was much appreciated, as well as the encore, "A Secret." Miss Burleigh's next number, "I'm Wearin' Awa, Jean," well sustained her reputation as a soloist. Miss Meiklejohn's next number, "One Fleeting Hour," was heartily applaused. "Zion City," a number by the male quartette, composed of Messrs. Murray, Meiklejohn, Harvey Donald, Allan Hutcheon, and Victor Taylor, was well received. Mr. Morley's next number was most interesting, being entitled, "Interviewing the Governor," and encore, "Advice to Parents," as well as his closing number, "The Cow" (description), were humorous and pleasing.

The ladies then served an excellent lunch, for which they have already established a reputation for their skill in that art, and a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close.

Miss Hawley, in her usual efficient manner, acted as pianist for the evening.

Mr. Morley is a reader of marked ability, and should he return again will be royally welcomed.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Is quite common, gradually becoming more severe, and if prompt action is not taken, serious results will follow. The symptoms are headache and pain in the back, sleeplessness, ashen complexion, white coated tongue and frequent urination. If a puffy swelling is noted in the feet or ankles the disease is well established and you must give the kidneys all the help possible by stirring the liver and bowels into action. Take Henderson's Herb Tablets every night according to directions, watch the digestion carefully, drink plenty of cold water between meals.

Mrs. T. Bevington, 303 Wilton ave. Toronto, Ont., says:

"I wish to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have received through Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment. I suffered for a number of years with kidney and liver trouble and at times could scarcely do my work with the pain in my back, and cramps in my muscles. I am now 67 years of age and after using one box of Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment I feel like a new person.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Treatment can be purchased at Warne's Drug Store. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist, and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness, or who has head noises, should give this prescription a trial.

SPEED CRAZE ON.

The Associated Boards of Trade convention at Brantford adopted a resolution by which the Provincial Government will be asked to enforce the automobile laws more rigidly in the hope of cutting down the number of fatalities. Mr. J. G. Elliott, who fathered the resolution, said there seems to be a speed craze on, and something should be done to bring automobilists under sterner control. The convention also endorsed a resolution from the Toronto Board of Trade asking that all vehicles, whether standing or in operation, should be compelled to carry lights visible at a distance of 200 yards.

WHY You Should Have SCALES to Weigh Your FOOD

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

NOT long ago, on my medical rounds, it occurred to me to ask my patients whether they had any scales in the kitchen, or in the house, for that matter. My reason on that day was to weigh a package of powder that I had with me, but I am now using the information for another purpose. Well, would you believe it, of thirty-three homes, not one had a pair of scales of any kind?

There are few housewives, indeed, who ever weigh samples of their foods, then weigh the scrapings, peelings and refuse, and the food to be cooked. Finally, who in the congregation is there that ever weighed the waste, the bones and the table remnants? Yet every step thus mentioned means the health, happiness and low cost of living to the home circle.

As animal food is cooked it necessarily decreases in weight because of the loss of water, but the vast majority of vegetables, particularly cabbage, sauerkraut, turnips, hominy corn and barley, increase their bulk by the absorption of water. Four pounds of beefsteak, when broiled or boiled, loses one-fourth of its weight; when roasted it loses one-third of its weight; and, when baked, almost as much. Mutton suffers much more in the same way. But meat is less nutritious as well as less sanitary in the uncooked, raw state, so you must pocket your losses accordingly.

Cereals are apt to gain or lose in weight with respect to the pantries in which they are stored. Flour gains 3 per cent. in weight in a damp store and loses 3 per cent. in weight stored in a dry room. One hundred pounds of uncooked cabbage contains less than eight pounds of solid matter and nearly three pounds of these disappear in cooking. Unpeeled potatoes suffer no loss of solids when boiled, but if their jackets are off, good night! The very best as well as the most aromatic portions go by the board.

A hundred pounds of spinach contains ninety pounds of water, and only seven pounds of food are left after it is cooked. In other words, for every dollar's worth of spinach you buy, your stomach only receives 7 cents' worth—always with the assumption that 1 cent equals 1 per cent. of the cost price. Celery is about the same as spinach.

On the other hand, merely weighing vegetables after cooking without extracting the water will show these increases in weight.

When cooked one pound of oatmeal becomes 11½ pounds; one pound of rolled oats becomes the same; one pound of arrowroot becomes 15 pounds, one pound of lentils becomes 2½ pounds. Thus you discover the wisdom of your grandmother as she piles you to take another serving of these "filling foods."

The average person in this workaday world needs must eat a pound of sugar and starch, a half-gallon of water, a third of a pound of meat or other protein, a third of a pound of fat and a thimble full of minerals to perform a moderate amount of skilful labor in 24 hours. Fats may be increased or decreased at the expense of starches and sugars, for these may occasionally with impunity replace one another. Children and women require amounts more or less according to their age, weight and physical exertions.

Even the arbitrary average of four or five ounces of daily proteid food may be entirely done away with for short periods without resulting damage. But fats and starches in five times a larger quantity must be substituted for the absent proteids. Then, if digestive disturbances appear upon the scene, back to the human hearth must come your meat or other protein. Dr. Harvey Wiley, Prof. Atwater, and the psychologists under the direction of Prof. John Watson of Johns Hopkins University, have shown that muscular as well as sensory efficiency is conspicuously and quickly lowered if proteins remain away long from the dietary.

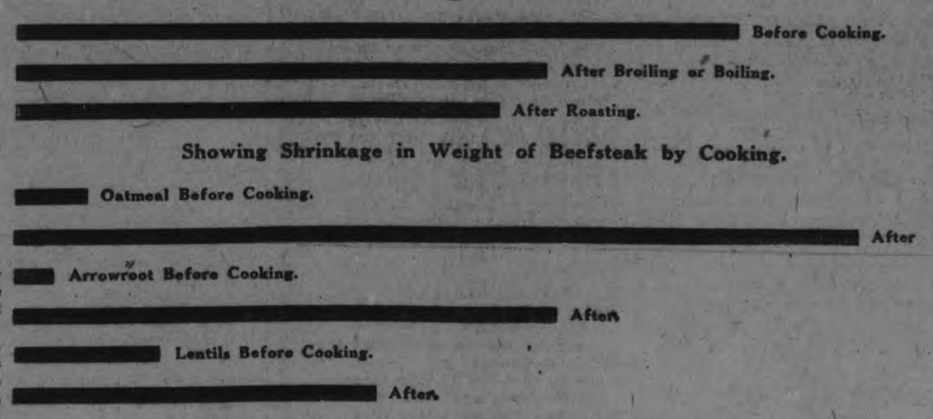
Hence, too much stress cannot be laid upon the need of proteins in the human economy. Vegetarians obtain proteins in small and insufficient amounts, and thus are able to deceive themselves sometimes for years before serious troubles follow. Sooner or later, however, if hard mental or muscular work is necessary, some serious tissue disturbance follows and efficiency decreases. Meat, fish and eggs are then necessary. On the other hand, retired bankers and manufacturers as well as the great host of nondescript individuals who grow sleek and fat and well groomed with less and less physical exertion, become buoyant, jubilant and active when they espouse the cause of the vegetarians.

For the reduction in their intake of proteins, which is a necessary concomitant of vegetarianism, is a virtue and an aid to their overtaxed liver that comes irrespective of cannibalism or vegetarianism. In a word, it is a sane reduction of the amount of fuel shovelled into their banked fires.

A fat and underworked middle-aged man is like a furnace with the fires banked. All of the heat and energy is yet in him, but combustion is faulty, because his bellows are not sending in enough draft. When such a one overeats, he is adding too much fuel to his ashed-in flame.

Since overeating means too much protein—for these foods are the true energizers—and too much protein means too much fish, eggs and meat—hence, if he is no skilled laborer and does not work hard 12 hours or more a day; if he works like a banker, a plutocrat, a bartender, a politician, a gambler, or a preacher, an excess of protein food means kidney and liver disease, if not worse. For these privileged classes vegetarianism, with all its fallacies, is indeed a boon.

Scientific Value of Finding Actual Use and Waste in the Modern Kitchen



Making LIGHT With the Feet

THE classics have made us familiar with silver-footed Thetis, and a woman with feet of light is surely imaginative enough to be included in the same class with the sea nymph; but the one we have to deal with, while she may be strongly inclined to poetry and romance, is, nevertheless, a very practical person. If she has feet of light, she does not spangle the skies in swift flight across the heavens, but illuminates her house with them. She is a Parisienne and an enthusiastic cyclist. When she cannot exercise outdoors, she is perfectly happy to do so in the house, especially as this gives her healthful pastime besides supplying electricity for illuminating purposes.

How a French Inventor Has Combined a Bicycle with a Dynamo and Storage Battery to Provide Light.

A French inventor has combined a bicycle with a small dynamo and storage battery so that the energy which the human motor produces when working the exerciser, instead of going to waste, is stored up in the accumulator. The idea is a simple one, as will be observed, and in case the premises are not wired up for current the device may prove a most useful one for many purposes.

In this way it is possible to use one or several small lamps for domestic lighting, so that the work done with the exerciser during the daytime can be taken advantage of in the evening.

The present machine is designed to work several lamps with an hour's pedalling, and, when there are several members of the family to use it, the number of lamps and the amount of light to be had from the device, of course, increases accordingly.

An ingenious man in China adapted this very idea to ice making and refrigeration, only he employed a tandem bike, which was industriously pedalled by two coolies, who were actually delighted with the work—they considered it play simply to sit comfortably and push a wheel around with the feet—and were pleased to keep at it the day long.

It was, indeed, a more agreeable job than carrying or hauling heavy loads. With its enormous population, man-power in China at present is cheaper than electric power. And woman-power, when it has behind it the enthusiasm of the Paris lady, is capable of making ice, if need be, or electric fire.

All of which brings to mind the enormous waste of power going on from day to day in the world, in spite of specialized economies and the advanced efficiencies experts are applying to every angle of our physical life. A recent writer has said that if the motions of the human beings making up the population of the world could be converted into power all of the machinery of the globe could be run with it and all the world lighted to noonday radiance, even its most obscure corners. And with the remaining power the world, too, could be thoroughly heated, or cooled, as the occasion required.

Curious New Discoveries About BLOOD Corpuscles

VON LIEBERMANN and von Fillinger, of Budapest, have made some curious and interesting observations on red blood corpuscles to the effect that many diseases which are not themselves, properly speaking, blood diseases, nevertheless produce injuries in these corpuscles, such injuries being observable in a salt solution, though not discernible under the microscope.

They first made a suitable salt mixture in which the red corpuscles of a healthy man remained unaltered, one drop of the blood being placed in five cubic centimeters of the solution. This was verified with a number of healthy persons, and then tests were made with the blood of persons suffering from various diseases, among those mentioned being cancer, inflammation of the lungs, and inflammation of the breast.

In all these cases the red blood corpuscles immediately dissolved, i. e., they gave up their red coloring matter to the solution. In other words, hemolysis, or dissolving of the blood, took place.

The conclusion drawn is that probably in all diseases, and certainly in those named, the red blood corpuscles, though seeming quite sound when examined under the microscope, have in reality sustained alterations or injuries robbing them of their resisting power.

It is concluded that these corpuscles have been poisoned by the virulent metabolic products which circulate in the blood of all diseased persons, and the fact that they were injured by such various diseases well illustrates the fact that the illness of any organ sympathetically affects the whole organism.

Another valuable observation was made in this connection. It was found that the injection of alcohol produced temporarily a similar effect on the red blood corpuscles. They were, in fact, poisoned by the alcohol for a time.

New Process for Making Copper Wire

COPPER wire can now be made by an electric bath process, which is said to be very successful. A fine copper wire is connected to one pole of a battery, and is made to traverse a bath of sulphate of copper such as is ordinarily used for electro-plating, with a small amount of sulphuric acid added.

In the bath is placed a heavy copper plate as the second electrode. The fine wire acts as a core and is covered with the deposited copper. Then after passing through a washing tank it is dried and runs upon a reel on which it is hardened by means of friction.

The wire then returns to the plating bath and takes another layer, and so on until it has attained the required thickness. It is advisable to have the plating done by degrees and not all at once, as the metal has a better quality.

How Science Found a Way to TALK Through the THROAT

Man Wearing the Oxygen Helmet With Telephone Transmitter Against His Neck and Receiver at His Ear.

HOW may a man whose mouth is so covered that he cannot talk nevertheless send messages over the telephone? This sounds like a hard one, but it is not. It has been known for several years that a telephone transmitter pressed against the chest of the speaker will clearly carry his uttered words, which shows that it is not necessary to place the transmitter to the mouth for intelligent communication. Now they lock a mine rescue worker in an oxygen helmet and have him talk "through his neck" into a transmitter.

The great value of the oxygen helmet, which permits its wearer to enter a mine and remain in the presence of smoke and poisonous gases for hours at a time without danger of being overcome, has been evidenced by the hundreds of lives which have been saved through its agency. The iron box mine telephone has also proven to be of inestimable service in protecting lives and property.

There has been lacking, however, until very recently, a means for keeping the advance or rescue party in the mine in constant communication with the rear party at the entrance of the mine.

But one of the first difficulties encountered in the development of the telephone equipment for the helmet man was to devise a transmitter which would not interfere with breathing.

With the oxygen helmets and other types of breathing apparatus in use for rescue work, the mouth is covered in such a way as to prevent its use for talking. This led to the design of a transmitter which is fastened to the throat by means of a pigskin harness and transmits speech on the principle that the vibrations of the vocal cords are transmitted through the throat walls and will in turn act upon the diaphragm of the transmitter.

It is essential that the transmitter be held firmly against the skin, and for this purpose a soft rubber cup, which will conform to the curves of the throat, is provided where the mouthpiece would ordinarily be placed. It has been found that the throat transmitter will transmit speech practically as well as the ordinary telephone.

WONDERS of the SUN'S LIGHT

MEASUREMENTS have been made on the luminosity of the sky in the immediate neighborhood of the sun. The intensity of this luminosity decreases very rapidly as we leave the edge of the sun; and, to determine the law governing this decrease, it is necessary to mark out spaces in the neighborhood of the sun, to measure their distance from the sun, and to determine the surface luminosity in comparison to that of the solar disk.

For a certain distance the decrease in luminosity from the edge of the sun, with a uniformly pure atmosphere, is perfectly continuous and symmetrical on both sides. With equal brightness of the sky, the surface luminosity in the neighborhood of the sun depends on the height of the sun; it diminishes as the height of the sun increases.

For equal heights of the sun, it diminishes as the blue of the sky is more intense and, in consequence, as the local luminosity, measured by eliminating the rays of the sun, is feebler. From the existence of certain perturbations in the curve of luminosity, it is proved that halos exist in the immediate vicinity of the sun.

Measures of the relative luminosities of the sky in the neighborhood of the sun is a very delicate test of the purity of the atmosphere.

Amazing Case of a FISH Restored to LIFE

NOT long ago a chunk of mud about 18 inches in diameter, dried and hardened like so much rock, was sent all the way from Africa to the American Museum of Natural History in New York city. On arrival it was carefully chopped open with a chisel and hammer, and out dropped a fish, which, when placed in water, became exceedingly lively.

The chunk of mud was from the bottom of the Nile, and the fish was a "lung-fish," so called because it possesses both lungs and gills, and is able to breathe either in water or air.

Under ordinary circumstances the lung-fish swims about in the shallows, and breathes with its gills like any ordinary fish. But in the dry season, as the waters of the Nile recede, it burrows down a couple of feet into the mud and coils up.

It then secretes from its skin-glands a jelly-like substance which, entirely covering its body, presently hardens to form a cocoon-like envelope. A small opening, however, is left at the mouth of the fish, which is thus enabled to breathe the air that comes down through the mouth of the hole it occupies.

By this means the curious creature is enabled to pass the dry season fast asleep, and the mud in which it lies may be cut out in a block and carried away without injuring the animal, as was done with the specimen forwarded to the Museum of Natural History.

A New Theory About GRAVITY

IN an extremely interesting paper on gravity Prof. McLaren considers the universe as possessing four dimensions, and also retains the notion of time. The universe so considered is regarded as changeless, but not timeless, and differs in this respect from Minkowski's four dimensional universe.

Prof. McLaren considers that throughout the universe there is but one ultimate substance. This substance has, however, two forms, "matter" and "ether," which are exclusive one of the other.

Matter is a region where the fluid grows or decays. This theory strongly resembles that proposed long ago by Bernard Riemann.

Prof. McLaren pleads for an unprejudiced examination of these views, revolutionary as they are, in view of the widespread feeling that there is something amiss with the classical mechanical theories of matter.

There is only one picture theatre within the city of London. The "city," however, is only a very small part of the great metropolis, a mile square.

Why You Really Can Be "SCARED BALD"

SCARED bald" may be the statement of a scientific fact. Baldness, indeed, is sometimes merely a case of nerves. At least, such is the announcement which Dr. Krumbhaar recently made before the Philadelphia Neurological Society. He cited the case of a boy who had come to him for treatment. The lad's head was totally denuded of hair, as much so as the conventional billiard ball. His eyelashes were lacking and there was no growth in his armpits.

An examination showed that there were not any parasites upon the scalp, and, curiously enough, the roots of the hair appeared to be quite intact. Inquiry elicited the fact that the patient's hair had fallen out immediately after he had experienced a horrible nightmare, the effect of which was almost to paralyze him with fear.

It was learned also that a similar dream had had the same effect upon him previously. At a still earlier age he had become bald after another lad had threatened him with bodily attack.

The doctor concludes from a study of the case that a severe psychic shock is likely to result in baldness, and cites several instances which apparently justify his position.

Some time ago, Max Joseph, in his experiments, removed the second cervical sympathetic ganglion from a cat. Almost immediately thereafter every hair fell from the animal. The intimate relation between the nervous system and the health of the hair in animals would thus seem clearly established, and Dr. Krumbhaar asserts that the experiment on the cat quite coincides with his conclusions in the case of the boy.

Working Out Sound Magic

M. DOSNE has invented a method for recording radio-telegrams. He first substitutes for the telephone receiver of wireless telegraphy a sound amplifier, and then connects this with the "receiver" of a Poulsen telegraphone. In this manner the microphonic current, serving to convey the reinforced sounds, arrives, with all its variations, to a bobbin of fine wire in the centre of which is a pen of soft iron in contact with a rotating plate or travelling band of steel.

The variations in the magnetization of the soft iron pen leave a sort of magnetic writing on the steel plate, which has the property, when it is afterward passed under the iron pen which wrote it, of provoking a reposition of the original signals in the connected telephones.

TALE OF KING'S SHIRT CLUB TALK IN MADRID

MADRID Nov. 18.—The adventure of Lieut.-Col. Millan-Astray the heroic commander of the Spanish foreign legion, and King Alfonso's shirt is being relater in the military clubs.

When the lieutenant-colonel conceived the idea of the formation of a foreign legion for service in Morocco, he decided to bring the matter personally to the attention of the King, then at Biarritz.

Alionso, who knew Millan-Astray well, after listening to his suggestion and promising him his support, requested him to stay for the evening when a reception was to be held. There was a difficulty in the way, as Millan-Astray had with him only is worn khaki uniform. The king, however, overcame this at once saying to Millan-Astray:

"You are just about my size. Go into my rooms and choose some of my clothes to wear". Millan-Astray chose an evening suit with a shirt in which he attended the function. Afterward he returned the clothes with the exception of the shirt, which he took with him to Ceuta.

Later when the King saw him again His Majesty told him he had missed the shirt.

"Oh!" said Millan-Astray, "Your Majesty. I wear your shirt every time I go into action and intend to return it only when it bears the mark of a wound received in your service"

THIEVES WANTED HERE ARE HELD IN BRAMPTON

WILL FACE TRIAL IN PETERBOROUGH LATER—NAMES WITHHELD

Two men, whose names Chief Newhall does not feel at liberty to reveal yet, wanted here in connection with the series of petty thefts and burglaroes early this month, are held in Brampton on similar charges, and will face trial here after the ends of justice in Brampton have been satisfied.

The two men are co-workers and made two visitations to Peterborough. The police have evidence alleging that they are the men who burglarized Knox's store in North Monaghan, Rev. J. R. Webb's and W. C. Frost's homes at 544 and 542 Aylmer street, respectively, and committed petty thefts in other houses in this city and county.

On Nov. 5th the police unearthed their hiding place in the city, had their names and information against them, but the partners beat the officers by a few hours and were in Toronto when in the afternoon officers went to arrest them. Immediately over 100 descriptions of the couple were sent out with information as to their methods, and word has now come to the Chief that the men are held in Brampton awaiting trial for burglaries and thefts.

During the night they worked in town, it is claimed, and by day sought country homes when the owners were in town. The system was successful to the extent that over $500 in money and goods was stolen. Their methods were always the same and should serve as a warning to all householders. Generally they watched a house that seemed worth entering till the people left in the evening, and if they did not leave it was a simple matter to select another one. They covered their entrance by going to the front or rear door, prepared to ask some question as to where somebody lived if anyone came to the door. Sometimes people answered, and they went on to another house. If no one responded there was just a slight grating and the door swung behind them for they had keys of every size and variety for the ordinary door. Sometimes, the police say, they entered through unlocked windows. While they worked they made the house aglow with light. They were the boldest burglars that have operated in Peterborough for some time. Had neighbors who wondered at lights burning in the house next door when they knew the occupants were away, phoned the police, the thieves would have been caught in the act, but in several cases it was assumed the people had returned early and neighbours thought nothing of it till they heard of the burglary.

ASSOCIATED BOARDS OF TRADE ELECTION OF OFFICERS TODAY

BRANTFORD, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press.)— Election of officers was the principal business before the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce at the second day of the convention here. A resolution calling for publicity before marriage and for medical examination was withdrawn, partly because of hostile criticism and partly because it was felt that this was not the business for which the convention was held.

The new officers are: President, Lt.-Col. H. Brock, Toronto; Vice-President, Mayor G. C. Coppley, Hamilton; Vice-President, M. P. Byrnes, Collingwood; Vice-President J. C. Elliott, Kingston; Secretary-Treasurer, F. G. Morley, Toronto.

RUNNING GUN-FIGHT BETWEEN THUGS AND RAILWAY DETECTIVE

WINDSOR, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press).—The discovery of six men attempting to rob a refrigerator car of large quantities of butter early this morning resulted in a running gun fight between the men and Detective Harris, of the Michigan Central Railroad, at the Sandwich freight sheds.

Seeing them carrying away butter, the detective ordered them to stop and hold up their hands, but two of them replied by firing at him point blank. They dropped the butter and ran, the detective emptying all chambers in his six-shooter at them, but without effect.

"More Men Than Women Have Nervous Troubles"

This is the statement of a specialist on Nervous Diseases who comes in contact with many thousands of cases. The increase in diseases of the nerves during the last five years has been enormous.

Is it any wonder that men's nerves are giving out?

Look back over the history of the last few years.

Think of the enormous burden of responsibility which has been put upon the shoulders of business executives.

The excessive mental strain.

The worry and anxiety.

The physical effort.

This has surely been great enough to break the nervous systems of the strongest men.

The war strain.

The unsettled conditions of business and employment.

These are responsible for the rapid aging of men which you notice everywhere.

You feel out of sorts.

You do not sleep well.

You find yourself losing your grip on business.

Your daily task is more than you can stand.

There is, perhaps, no organic disease.

But you find your energy and ambition petering out.

Your doctor tells you to take a rest for a few months.

But you do not want to be put upon the shelf.

Your business cannot spare you at this critical time.

Perhaps you cannot afford complete rest when living expenses are so high.

But you can take things easier. And you can profit by the experience of others and build up your exhausted nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This is the most rational treatment available, and is endorsed by more common-sense, reliable people than any medicine recommended for the restoration of the nervous system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is universally used by women as a means of restoring the nervous system. Your wife, or sister, or mother, will be able to tell you something about its remarkable upbuilding influence.

But more men than women now have nervous troubles.

And Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is no respecter of persons.

It builds up new energy and strength in the most natural way imaginable by enriching the blood.

It supplies to the blood in condensed, easily assimilated form the elements which nature requires in order to replenish the depleted nerve cells and restore the vitality of the human system.

These certified letters may be from people you know. They are worth reading, anyway. For they are the honest opinion of people who have been benefited by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Overwork

Mr. D. F. Armstrong, R. R. No. 3, Mallorytown, Ont., writes:—

"Through overwork and an extra amount of mental strain, I became very nervous and rundown. I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it certainly touched the right spot. It almost seemed for a time as though I fairly lived on it, and I can recommend this treatment to anyone requiring a medicine of this kind."

("Sworn before me at Mallorytown, this 7th day of March, 1921—D. S. Clow, J.P.")

Sleeplessness

Mr. W. J. Van Dusen, Centre St., Napanee, Ont., writes:—

"For some time I suffered from sleeplessness and all the weakness and tired feelings that follow continual loss of sleep. Gas would accumulate in my stomach, and this also caused a great deal of trouble. Upon the advice of a friend I began a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and soon found it to be just what I required. By the time I had completed the treatment my system was in splendid condition and I felt much stronger."

(Endorsed by S. Casey Denison, Mayor.)

Rheumatism

Mr. Charles R. Tait, Newtown, Kings Co., N.B., writes:—

"I suffered with rheumatism and my stomach was in a very weak state. I could eat no fruit of any kind and suffered nearly all the time. I tried several doctors, but got no relief from any of them. I was in a drug store one day and overheard two men talking—one was telling the other about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food completely relieving him of rheumatism. I bought a box, thinking it would be like all the rest of them, but, after taking this one box, I felt so much better that I continued the treatment, and now I can eat anything and do not suffer any more with the rheumatism."

("This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Charles R. Tait, and believe his statement is true and, to my knowledge, correct."—(Signed) A. S. Mace, J.P.)

"A PAIR OF SIXES."

A long time ago we used to pride ourselves on genuine worth and value. Our grandparents would tell of putting nothing but "the very best" into their cookery, their produce or their home-made cloth. Then some enterprising individual came along, discovered that the best article in the world was useless unless it became known and started the campaign which is now a universal slogan, "It Pays to Advertise." In a trade journal recently I read of a man who prided himself on making the best mouse-trap in the world. He contended that once made its superiority would sell itself. His friend told him he was wrong. That a mediocre mouse-trap, given world-wide publicity, would beat his superior article to a standstill.

In "A Pair of Sixes" we shall see one of the problems of modern business worked out very cleverly. Two up-to-date men are partners in the Eureka Pill Company. One man claims to have made the pill, the ingredients of which have marvellous curative properties. In spite of every effort the pills would not sell; they rarely ever got beyond a person's lips, violent coughing resulting in final expulsion of the noxious pill. Came along a smart young man with an idea. He was a beauty-loving person with an eye to pleasing both palate and sight. He provided a lovely, violet coating for his partner's excellent but nasty prescription, and lo! the sales jumped to unheard of proportions overnight. So far, so good. If our story ended there, I fear "A Pair of Sixes" would never have been written. Human nature and that demon jealousy which plays such important parts in our lives injected a disturbing factor into the situation and a rare old fuss is started. Nettleton, who makes the pill, claims the greater privileges as to first choice in stenographers, etc. T. Boggs, responsible for the violet-hued coating, claims that their business success is wholly due to his ingenuity. The plot is absolutely too good to give away.

Mr. Snelgrove, supported by Miss Vaughn and the Rex Company, will play "A Pair of Sixes" for 3 days, "A Pair of Sixes" for three days, beginning Monday night, Nov. 21st.

"All the world loves a lover," and how much more interest than an ordinary human is a royal Lothario! From the days of legendary heroes, princes and heirs to throne have made feminine hearts beat faster. Our fairy tales were always filled with deeds of princes, and no mediaeval romance was ever complete without the royal young man and the beggar maid. Kingdoms have been lost and fortunes made by the chance meeting which conspirators often arranged for the sole purpose of eliminating the real heir or producing a fictitious one. So beloved by all his people was Bonnie Prince Charlie that the unfortunate love affairs of the handsome Stuarts are too known to everyone. Thackeray weaves that charming romance, "Henry Esmond," about Jacobites and Orange followers, and who knows what might not have been English history in the 18th century had the pleasure-loving Stuart been at his aunt's bedside (Queen Anne's) instead of at the rendezvous with Beatrix Esmond?

During the last of the Georgian period, we read of dozens of "affairs" between the Prussian occupants of Britain's throne and English women, one of the most appealing being that of George III. and Hannah Lightfoot. A very pretty stage play was made about this story, which came back vividly to me as I read advance notices of "Just Suppose." It is almost too obvious to say that history repeats itself, but it is very true. Mary Mannering played a version of the romance between Betsy Patterson of Baltimore and Jerome Bonaparte; and now we have a modern, up-to-the-minute royal love affair concerning our dear, young Prince of Wales.

I don't think anyone (unless it may have been his royal grandsire) ever received more genuine, whole-souled adulation and inspired more affection than did H.R.H. upon his world tour. Everyone, old and young, male and female, fell for his utter simplicity and charm of manner. Young girls in scores lost their hearts; but—"Just Suppose!"—one really can't suppose such a thing. Being a British Prince, duty and loyalty triumphed over momentary weakness;and then, of course, Linda Lee was a thorough-going American girl, and it was a case of "Just Suppose."

"MUTT AND JEFF."

"Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown," the latest Bud Fisher effusion, based on his famous comics of the same name and fame, will be the next attraction for two nights at the Grand Theatre, commencing Friday, Nov. 25th, with the usual matinees. The new play, which tells the story of a young heiress who is in love, but cannot marry unless she secures the consent of her guardians, "Mutt and Jeff" is in two acts and a half dozen diverting scenes. Real comedy, mirth, tuneful melodies, pretty women in gorgeous gowns and exceptional scenic adornment, surprises and novelties are a few of the good things promised. If one wonders why "Mutt and Jeff" are an international hit as well as an American institution, this play should act as infallible and convincing proof.

"THE FOUR HORSEMEN."

One of the big moments of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," coming to the Grand Opera House, 3 days, commencing Thursday, December 1st, is the climax of the first act, when a Frenchwoman, inspired by patriotic emotion that sweeps over the big Parisian cafe on the announcement of war, springs to her feet, seizes a French flag and, waving it above her head fervently, sings the ringing "Marseillaise."

This is not an imaginary scene, nor one conceived in the mind of Rex Ingram, the director of the picture, but actually occurred at Ciro's cafe in Paris. The singer, Rose Dione, though a professional vocalist, was not attached to the cafe cabinet, but happened to be dining there with friends, and the singing of the famous song was inspired by the thrill and excitement of the moment. As may be readily imagined, the singing of the "Marseillaise" under such conditions created a furore.

While the cast for the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" was being selected, Mlle. Dione was discovered in New York, where she had come to fill a concert engagement, and Mr. Ingram, who knew of the incident in Paris, induced her to go to California and appear in the scene which is so notably reproduced in the picture. As the scene is thrown upon the screen, the audience see the French singer, who is pantomimically singing, but the real song is rendered by a living soloist who stands close to the screen, out of view of the audience, and synchronizes with the silent figure. It is a notable and thrilling climax to the scene, and never fails to win a big round of applause.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Besides the interesting feature picture, and the screamingly funny comedy in which Harold Lloyd does some of his best work, the Capitol Theatre put on an evening of local vaudeville entertainment last night, which drew a crowded house. The acts were all of the best order, and received plenty of applause. Mr. M. Harvey, in the initial number, sang "When Francis Dances With Me," and "Sweetheart" in a fine baritone; and Harry and Eddie Dugan, the clever blackface duo, had a line of fresh jokes, some fancy stepping and several songs, including "When the Moon Shines on the Moonshine," "Mammy," and the "Home Again Blues."

Miss Regetta Lewis was third on the programme, in a dainty classical dance, beautifully gowned in pale pink, and the litle Cassidy sisters scored another decided hit, with a couple of Scotch dances in kilts, and a vigorous Irish jig in dainty red and green costume. Flora's solo number was a Scotch dance in heel and toe effect, and Nancy repeated the jerky, effective little Dutch dance which always takes so well.

LOIS WILSON WITH WALLY REID IN FINE FILM

Dainty Paramount Player Has Excellent Role in "The Hell Diggers."

Lois Wilson, leading woman in the three notable William DeMille productions, "Midsummer Madness," "What Every Woman Knows," and "The Lost Romance," plays the leading woman's role opposite Wallace Reid in his latest Paramount picture, "The Hell Diggers," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

This is not Miss Wilson's first appearance with the popular "Wally." She will be recalled as Virginia MacMurran, daughter of the motor truck manufacturer in "What's Your Hurry?"

The remainder of the cast is composed of several players noted for their screen achievements. The role of John Wade is interpreted by Alexander Braun, famous both on stage and screen. Other important character roles are portraved by Frank Leigh, Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Geldart and Buddy Post. The last named is one of the biggest men on the screen, measuring six feet six, and he provides the comedy relief in the new production.

Both the original story and the scenario were written by Byron Morgan, the author of the series of automobile stories in which Mr. Reid has starred and the last of which was "Too Much Speed."

The story centres around the big dredges which are employed to dig gold ore in Northern California and which, because of their colossal size are known as "Hell Diggers." Frank Urson, who has handled the megaphone for Mr. Reid in his last two productions, directed.

The balance of the programme will include Larry Semon, in a very funny two-reel comedy, 'The Fall Guy,' a Rolin comedy, Pathe News, Topics o the Day and 14th episode o the Yellow Arm serial. This, combined with the excellent music of the Capitol Concert Orchestra, leaves nothin gto be desired in the way of first-class entertainment.

FAN-FAN.

AT THE ALLEN.

HINES HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM PLUNGE TO BROADWAY.

While the motion picture patron will not realize it, Johnny Hines came near to ceasing to be a familiar figure in the Torchy Comedies, made from the stories of Sewell Ford, while he was making "Torchy's Big Lead," which comes to the Allen Theatre Monday.

There is a scene in which he leaps out a hotel window and dangles over Broadway. There was no fake used in making this scene, but the Hotel Continental, Broadway and Forty-First Street, was used and as the camera clicked away, Hines made the leap. But he overestimated the distance, and the result was that he was only able to save himself from a plunge to the street by catching an iron bar. But in doing this he cut his arm for its full length. His director and fellow players insisted that he go to a hospital, but after having the wounds dressed he continued with the picture.

"That part wasn't so bad," explained Hines afterwards, "but the worst came when my friends who had heard about my narrow escape all insisted on congratulating me and emphasized their words by shaking my bum arm."

"THE SIN THAT WAS HIS."

William Faversham, in his second big Selznick picture, "The Sin That Was His," will be the feature attraction at the Allen Theatre Monday.

This story, by Frank L. Packard, has as its central figure a gambler called "Two Ace" Raymond, once educated for the priesthood, but at the time the story opens he has drifted so far he is a cold and cynical atheist. A dying pal entrusts him with a bag of gold to be delivered to his mother in St. Marleau, Quebec, and Raymond starts off on his mission.

Arriving at the designated place, he is met by the brother of the dead man, who attempts to secure the gold. In the ensuing struggle the man is shot and killed by his mother, who had intended the shot for Raymond, thinking he was a burglar. Fearing that he will be suspected, Raymond flees the place and stumbles upon the unconscious form of Father Aubert, a priest who had arrived in St. Marleau on the same train as Raymond. Fr. Aubert had been injured by a falling tree branch.

In desperation, Raymond changes clothes with Fr. Aubert, who is then accused of the shooting. The gambler continues his masquerade, which is accepted by the simple villagers. In the days that follow the constant association with the better things of life effect a transformation in Raymond's very soul, and the story comes to a close in a climax that has seldom been equalled for dramatic power.

A rare treat is promised for ardent followers of the silent drama. Pearl White, a star whose admirers are numbered by many millions in all parts of the world, is coming to the Regent Theatre next Monday in a special William Fox production, "The White Moll," from the pen of Frank L. Packard famous author of "The Miracle Man." E. Lloyd Sheldon made the scenario, and the well-known Harry Milarde directed the film.

The scenes are laid in the underworld of the big city, where gunmen and crooks in general ply their trades of robbery and murder. The story involves around Rhoda, a former crook, who, having reformed in a miraculous way enters upon settlement work in slums. Then follows that part of the story in which one of the most powerful themes ever shown on the screens is brought out—sensation following sensation with lightning speed.

Richard C. Travers supports Pearl White in this special production and the remaining cast includes Eva Gordon, Walter Lewis, George Pauncefort, J. Thornton Baston, William Harvey, Charles J. Slaatery, John P. Wade and John Woodford.

"WINNIPEG KIDDIES" AT THE GRAND

"The Winnipeg Kiddies," that wonderfully clever aggregation of Canadian youngsters, who took Peterborough by storm last season, are back at the Grand, opening a two-day engagement last evening. Last year's production was voted the finest attraction of its kind the Grand had ever staged, but in their new revue the Kiddies have left even that splendid effort far behind. Jackie Finesilver, the Holmes Twins, Edna Patrick and all the old favorites appear in the cast, while, in addition, Dorothy Mackay, Canada's most popular child entertainer, who starred here in Stuart Whyte's "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Babes in the Wood" and the Howley Duo, have been added to this year's company, with the result that "The Winnipeg Kiddies" have the greatest collection of juvenile artists to be found anywhere, and are an attraction of which Canadians must justly feel proud.

The show moves swiftly, one splendid number succeeding another in rapid succession, and each being executed so smoothly that it is difficult to realize that the artists are but youngsters. Plenty of comedy, lots of music, rich costumes, clever dancing, every ingredient of an enjoyable evening are found in the revue, and the programme never lags for a moment.

There are so many meritorious features that it is difficult for a reviewer to do justice to them all. Winsome little Dorothy Mackay, never more pleasing than she is in this production, of course carries off a large share of the honors. Her sweet voice, her dainty dancing, and her all-round cleverness make her work one of the high lights of the performance, and she scores in half a dozen numbers. Her impersonation of Al. Plunkett, of the Dumbells, singing "Where Flies Go," is correct even to Mr. Plunkett's well-known chuckle. The Holmes Twins are as clever as ever, and their singing and musical specialty, to say nothing of their infectious smiles, make them prime favorites. That wonderful little comedian, Jackie Finesilver, sings "Kill 'em with Kindness" and "Vamping Rose" in his own inimitable style, and in his comedy work causes laugh after laugh. Edna Patrick and Florence Simpson both won laurels by their splendid singing, and Irene Jones, who once upon a time lived in Peterborough, and Vera Montgomery contributed some remarkably clever dancing. The Howley boys justify their addition to the cast by some clever comedy and acrobatic work. The special numbers, which include a Scotch dancing act by the whole company, a fancy dance by the girls, and a cabaret scene are of the same standard as the individual hits.

"The Winnipeg Kiddies" are giving two performances to-day, winding up their local engagement to-night, and there should not be a vacant seat in the house.—F.D.C.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

STADIUM RESEMBLES PLOWED FIELD FOR SEMI-FINAL THIS AFTERNOON.

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—"Mud horses" among the local rugby champions will have the advantage this afternoon at the game here, the first Canadian rugby semi-final between Argonauts, winners of the Interprovincial championship, and Toronto Varsity, Intercollege champion. The recent mild weather has converted the stadium into something resembling a plowed field. Local interest in the game is tremendous and "standing room only" signs have been out for days. N. H. Macauley and Ben Simpson, of Montreal, will be the officials.

HARVARD CLASHES WITH YALE TODAY IN 40TH CLASSIC

Yale Has Made Impressive Showing so far This Year.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—(Associated Press)—Harvard and Yale universities will complete this afternoon when the two 'varsity elevens meet in their 40th gridiron battle since the inception of the series in 1875. On the eve of the contest the outcome is a subject of much discussion and a wide difference of opinion among both the followers of the two institutions and football in general. While the Ellis have a trifle of the edge in the matter of favoritism it is the concensus of opinion among the close observers of the game that there is really little choice in the chances of the Blue and Crimson.

Yale has made an impressive showing this season in the role of a football comeback while Harvard, with an unusually trying schedule, has gone down to defeat twice. Early fall results, however, must be discarded, to some extent, in view of the fact that both teams have been specially pointed for this the final and most important struggle of the schedule. Special plays, players and series of substitutes will be flung into today's game with an abandon not possible in the earlier battles of the autumn.

As a result of the contest is likely to hinge upon the breaks of the play, the physical condition of the first string men, the correctness of tactics adopted by the two team generals and other angles and opportunities which cannot be guaged in advance. The only possible line in comparison is that which concerns the ability and characteristics of the personal composing the elevens.

In this respect Yale is undoubtely in a stronger position than in several years. The Ellis football squad is composed of strong, fast, alert and brainy players possessing keen football instinct. This has been demonstrated repeatedly this fall. Combined with these desirable football traits the team, as a whole, has been well coached in both the fundamentals and the frills of the game. The attack and defence is based upon the requirements of modern football and it is doubtful if a stronger or better balanced Yale eleven has faced the Crimson in some seasons.

Harvard's team is the same type of Cambridge football machine that has scored so effectively in recent years but it is a moot question as to whether the players, as individuals quite reach the high standard in physical power and playing skill obtained by those in the past few seasons. The lessons learned in the defeats administered by both Center College and Princeton have been well absorbed and it is certain that when the team enters the game against Yale it will be a formidable combination. The Blue will face a machine well versed in all forms of direct offense, the concealed ball play and the long and short overhead attack. In fact it is not unlikely that the offense will be stronger than the defense.

A victory for Harvard, which would be the seventh since 1912, would still leave the Blue an overwhelming preponderance of triumphs when the series is considered as a whole. While Yale has won but one game since 1911, that of 1916 by a score of 6 to 3, the total count of the series, dating back to 1875, shows the Blue has won 23 games to Harvards eleven with five others resulting in ties. In total points Yale also leads 280 to Harvard's 207.

FOG OR RAIN FOR YALE-HARVARD GAME

YALE FAVORITE FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—Weather prospects early to-day indicated that the Yale-Harvard classic this afternoon would be decided in soupy fog or rain, on a spongy gridiron. The condition of the field and the atmosphere have set at naught much of the work of the form experts and made the probable result of the game more uncertain than ever. Yale remains the favorite for the first time in years, but Harvard followers reply on the deceptive rush and forward attack of the lighter gladiators.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press).—Prices were irregular at the opening of to-day's Stock Market. Profit-taking in Mercantile Marine Preferred caused a loss of 1¼ points, and Sumatra Tobacco also was under pressure. Foreign Oils, American Sugar and American Telephone featured the firm shares.

Unimportant issues, particularly the cheaper oils, represented the constructive side, the usual leaders displaying irregularity or heaviness. California Petroleum, Pierce, Transcontinental and Standard Oil of New Jersey Preferred were in further demand at moderate gains. The Preferred issues of American Smelting, American Linseed and Allied Chemical also were firm to strong, with several of the utilities, including Pacific Telephone and Telegraph. Irregularity was shown by Shippings and Rails. Mercantile Marine Preferred forfeiting part of yesterday's spirited rise, while United Fruit displayed marked strength. The firmness of New York Central was off-set by pressure against Reading. Prices re-acted very generally within the first half-hour, when heavy selling of Bethlehem Steel caused a decline of 1½ points.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—Nothing startling occurred on the local stock exchange during the early trading this morning and only a few of the leaders put in an appearance. Brazilian was up 5/8 at 26 3/8 and National Breweries advanced 7/8 to 57. Riordon was strongest by a quarter point at 7 1/4.

COBOURG AND SINGLE TAX.

COBOURG, Nov. 19.—At the municipal elections here in January, ratepayers will vote on whether or not Cobourg shall adopt the single tax privilege. Municipalities in the west after experience with single tax have returned to the old method of taxation.

THE WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB ELECT OFFICERS

MRS. C. R. WIDDIFIELD, PRESIDENT, MRS. GERALD WOOD SECRETARY.

The annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club was held yesterday afternoon in the Public Library, with a good attendance. Elections for the ensuing year occupied the attention of the gathering, and these resulted in an almost entirely new executive being formed. Mrs. Jas. Kendry and Miss Archer declined all nominations, on the ground that a new formation was desirable, and the elections resulted as follows:

President (unanimous) Mrs. C. R. Widdifield; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Adrian Macdonald; 2nd Vice-President, Miss A. Lancaster; Secretary, Mrs. Gerald Wood; Treasurer Mrs. E. F. Mason (unanimous); Executive, Mrs. D. Walker, Mrs. W. R. Morris, Mrs. J. W. Fraser and the Misses P. Faint, M. Ross and M. F. Erskine.

Reports were read by the retiring secretary, Miss Archer, and by the treasurer, Mrs. E. F. Mason. Last year's membership totalled 102. A report was read of the September gathering of the Club in Winnipeg, repeating the opinions of many prominent men and women of that city, endorsing the work of the Club along the lines of education and citizenship. Mrs. Kendry recommended the consideration of the Club as a sort of forum for the discussion of the problems of the day directly affecting women, and Mrs. Morris advocated the establishment of a debating society in connection with the meetings.

The incoming president, Mrs. Widdifield, made a brief speech, requesting the co-operation of the members with the work of the executive, in making the Club live up to its ideals of Canadian citizenship, and the betterment and better education of Canadian women. A strong vote of thanks was tendered the outgoing officers, and it was decided to make the annual fee for membership one dollar.

LOYALIST FORCES TO BE FORMED INTO MILITARY UNITS?

DUBLIN, Nov. 19. — (Canadian Press).—The Irish Bulletin publishes the text of an alleged secret circular issued from the divisional commissioner of the Royal Irish Constabulary at Belfast. It is dated November 9, and addressed to "the Commissioners, all County Inspectors and all County Commandants." It says that owing to the growth of unauthorized Loyalist defence forces, the Government is considering the desirability of forming these unauthorized forces into regular military units on the territorial basis.

The Cost Of Doing Without

How many of us ever consider the cost of doing without? Everywhere we hear people say "I can't afford to do this, or I can't afford to do that." Do you often hear them say "I can't afford NOT to do this, or to have that?" Occasionally we do, and we judge the speaker largely by the reasonableness of his statement. If he says "I can't afford not to drive a high-priced car," we usually feel little confidence in his judgment. If, on the other hand, he says "I CAN'T afford to do without good health," we admire him for his wisdom.

The necessity for good health is one of the things we all admit. How many of us give the matter sufficient thought to do something about it? Frankly, are we as concerned about keeping our bodies in perfect running order as we are about looking to the welfare of our automobiles? If we care for the little troubles as they occur, we prolong the life of our car 50 per cent. If we neglect them, they soon become big troubles, and then we begin to pay. Most of us have our automobile looked over occasionally to prevent that very thing. How many of us show the same consideration for our bodies? Do we care for the little troubles as they arise, or do we wait until they become serious? Strange, isn't it, that we fool ourselves into believing that we are immune from Nature's laws?

We absolutely must get away from the idea that we cannot afford to care for our health. Let us rather be convinced that the cost of doing without proper care is entirely too expensive. The Chiropractor is interested in just two things—the health of his patients and his reputation as a professional man. He is anxious to help you retain the health that is already yours, or to regain that which you may have lost. Chiropractic is especially effective on acute diseases, but chronic cases respond wonderfully under this new health science.

The one incomparable gift you possess is your health. Can you afford to do without it?

Women Fear Skin Diseases

Weekly Health Talk No. 5
By A. P. Rogers, D.C.

Uncle Ben Says: A woman's faith in her health and natural beauty is shown by her toilettable

In spite of the general use of cosmetics, women fear skin diseases. Nothing will cover up the eruption of a nest of pimples, and pimples will come where the stomach and kidneys are out of order.

The cause may be plain gluttony, but where there is care in not overeating, and yet the tiny, disfiguring splotches come, the cause is in the spine. There is pressure on the spinal nerves to the stomach and kidneys, causing faulty discharge of waste through the skin. Chiropractic spinal adjustments will remove he cause and the trouble disappears.

FEEL A NEW WOMAN

"Friends persuaded me to take chiropractic spinal adjustments about seven months ago. I was skeptical, but gave it a trial. The results have been little short of amazing. It has practically made a new woman of me and gave me just the relief I was looking for."—Mrs. J. G. Thompson, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1288H.

BURNHAM SAYS "YES" TO EVERY LABOUR QUERY

QUALIFIES ANSWER TO PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION SYSTEM BY SAYING HE WILL SUPPORT ANY "PROPER SYSTEM."

FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY

T. Ballard, secretary of the Trades and Labour Council, has received from J. H. Burnham, ex-M. P., Conservative candidate in West Peterborough, answers to the questionnaire submitted by the Council to each candidate. Mr. Burnham replies "yes" to every question except the question whether he would initiate or support legislation for proportional representation with group constituencies in Federal elections, to which his qualified reply is "Yes, any proper system."

Mr. Burnham gives his approval to the eight hour day and forty-four hour week. He is in favour of giving the Dominion Labour Department full control over fair wages clauses in Government contracts and supports government ownership of railways, mines, oil fields, etc. He states that he is favorable to taking the tariff out of the poliical arena by establishment of an Independent Tariff Board on which labour is fully represented.

He further states that he favors direct taxation "in all ways," and he approves of the abolition of the Senate and its substitution by an elective body. Mr. Burnham answers that he is in favor of the exclusion of all Asiatics, of National Unemployment Insurance, of Old Age Pensions, of State insurance for sickness and disability, and his last answer to the question if he is in favor of the restriction of military and naval expenditure with the ultimate goal of total disarmament, is "yes."

Marshall Foch and Babe Ruth Discuss Baseball Matters

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—At a meeting at the Knights of Columbus ceremony at St. Patrick's Cathedral yesterday, Marshal Foch had a conversation on baseball with Babe Ruth, the "King of Swat," Archbishop Patrick Hayes acting as interpreter.

"I am glad we are both members of the Knights of Columbus," said Marshal Foch. "I wish we could have you introduce baseball in France."

Babe grinned broadly and replied, "Wee, wee!"

GORDON RAPS RIORDON CASE AT ENNISMORE

CLAIMS RIORDON PAID TAXES TO U.S. AND ITS DIVIDENDS WHILE EVADING TAXES HERE.

The hall was crowded and standing room taken up by the meeting at Ennismore Saturday night to hear G. N. Gordon, the Liberal candidate, and the speakers assisting him.

Ed. Corkery was chairman, and with Mr. Gordon was Ald. Whitehouse and Ed. M. Elliott, the county treasurer, who spoke in Ennismore at the request of the farmers of the township.

Mr. Elliott opened the meeting by saying he had not been on a public platform for seventeen years, but he felt this was a case in which all those who were opposed to the Government should unite in an effort to defeat it, and for that reason he was assisting Mr. Gordon. He dealt with the various failures of the Government to protect the interests of the ordinary plain people, particularly the farmers and workingmen. Mr. Elliott cited cases of extravagance and wastefulness, which he said could only be corrected by supporting men who believe in economical government.

The Riordon Taxes.

Mr. Gordon dealt vigorously with the Riordon scandal, and said the Riordon Paper Company had paid its income tax for four years, amounting to $800,000.00, with promissory notes, and now the company is unable to pay its debts in full, although it earned over $6,000,000 during that time, and out of that should have paid these taxes. This $6,000,000 was used to pay dividends. The Riordon Company was controlled by Charles Riordon, the president, who was also president of the Mail Printing Company, publishers of the Toronto Mail and Empire; Carl Riordon, who is vice-president of the Riordon Company, and vice-president of the Mail Company; James S. Douglas, director of the Riordon Company, who was general manager of the Mail Company. All these men were friends of Sir Thomas White and Sir Henry Drayton, the Ministers of Finance, during the time this company failed to pay its taxes.

Mr. Gordon said that the Riordons received $225,000 in dividends per year instead of this money of the company being used to pay Canadian taxes. But they paid to the United States during the same time $338,-081.00 in taxes.

Local Men Fined.

Mr. Gordon gave the names of men who were fined for failing to make income tax returns on time. One man, he said, lived in Harvey Township, and he gave the name to the audience. This man was fined $50 and $18.87 costs for failure to make a return, although he had no taxable income, and he was the father of eleven children living on an encumbered farm.

Another man eighty-two years of age was charged with not making his income tax return, and this elderly man lived near Lakefield. He succeeded in escaping punishment because the prosecution failed to prove that he actually received the

8 CENTS IN TORONTO

Bread has taken another drop in Toronto. The 24-ounce loaf is now selling for eight cents, and is advertised as "not a cheap bread at a cheap price, but the best bread baked." It won't make much difference to Peterborough, however. The drop in price in the large cities has no affect here. Peterborough will still go on paying ten cents, according to the bakers, who say that they can't make a reasonable profit at less than ten cents and that the Toronto bakers are selling at a loss at eight cents.

The bakers here have completed arrangements for organizing. They held a well-attended meeting at the Empress Hotel last week, to which the millers were invited also. The object of the organization is said to be to inquire into methods of making better bread, also to protect the employing bakers against possible future demands of increase in wages from their employees, whose rates of payment, they claim, are the chief bar to lowering the price of bread in Peterborough.

Athletic Theatre Night

Every Lover of Clean Sport and More Sport for Peterboro' Should be in the Crowd at the Capitol on Thursday Night.

P.A.A.A. theatre night at the Capitol on Thursday should pack the house. Although the programme has not been finally revised, the bill will include the regular Capitol music and films, together with a number of special sport films that are being secured, the presentation of the city championship trophies and the Examiner road race prizes.

Beyond that, however, will be the presence of Mr. A. E. Copeland, of Midand, president of the O.H.A., and Mr. W. A. Hewitt, secretary of the hockey association and well known up and down the country as the sportind editor of the Toronto Star. Both these prominent sportsmen will give addresses on athletics, their management and the spirit that should be infused into all branches of athletics, and they will probably refer to the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, its progress and the place it should occupy in the community.

The committee in charge of the Athletic Theatre Night are also arranging for several other attractions, all of which should comprise one of the best night's entertainment in a long time.

This is a get-together effort. Every branch of sport should be well represented.

And the ladies of Peterborough are specially asked to co-operate.

Remember, it's Thursday night. Don't make any other engagements for that night.

The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association is the public's own organization. It aims to promote every branch of sport, and is just now getting into its stride.

An athletic theatre night is unique in Peterborough. Let us all help to make it a success.

Briand Says French Army Must Be Big

FEARS GERMAN AGGRESSION AND SAYS GERMANY CAN RAISE ARMY OF 6,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Aristide Briand, seven times Prime Minister of France, held the conference in a rapt hour to-day with the world for his audience, while he told of France's needs for a large army, when the third plenary session of the armament conference was called to order at 11.01.

Secretary Hughes called the conference to order at 11.10 and in introducing the subject of land armament, said there was no problem for the United States, as its policy was a small army. He was pleased to state that "gratifying progress had been made during the first week of the conference."

Premier Briand stated the case of France on land armaments. He declared that while apparently disarmed, Germany could, with her present machinery, raise an army of six million or seven million men. At least a quarter of a million Germans were receiving daily military instruction, he said.

When Premier Briand had finished addressing the conference Arthur James Balfour, head of the British delegation, presented the view point

TARIFF POLICY OF GOVERNMENT WAS ADVOCATED

LOCAL SPEAKERS ADDRESS MEETING AT KEENE IN INTERESTS OF EAST PETERBOROUGH CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE.

GOVT. RECORD REVIEWED

J. A. Sexsmith, H. Jones, C. H. Ackerman and J. F. Strickland addressed a representative meeting at Keene on Saturday night in the interest of J. A. Sexsmith, Conservative candidate in East Peterborough. Mr. Jones, on opening the meeting, outlined certain necessary war-time legislation and also what had been done by the Government for the returned men by way of pension, gratuity, vocational training and land settlement.

Mr. Ackerman dealt very comprehensively with the tariff situation from the viewpoint of the working man and of the employer.

Mr. Stricklandoutlined the policies of the three parties before the electors in this campaign and then elaborated on the policy of Mr. Meighen. Referring to the Protection of Industry Act passed recently by the British Parliament, Mr. Strickland was heckled to some extent but cleared up the point at issue.

Mr. Strickland outlined the policies lucidly with the policy of the Conservative Government, pointing out the dangers of a policy such as that endorsed by either Mr. King or Mr. Crerar and received an attentive hearing, explaining very comprehensively several questions directed at him.

He was taken suddenly ill Sunday evening, and never rallied. He was born 68 years ago on a farm in Renfrew County, near Pembroke.

CLOUDBURSTS IN SICILY SERIOUS

MESSINA, Sicily, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press.)—Cloudbursts have devastated the whole countryside in the region of this city, entire villages being swept by the flood and the lines of communication broken. Hundreds of persons are homeless and several are reported dead.

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. — (Canadian Press).—The Stock Market continued its recent uncertain course at the opening of to-day's session. Speculative activity indicated further restraint as a result of the latest developments at the armament conference. Favorites of the Oil, Equipment and Utility types, especially Mexican Petroleum, General Electric, Baldwin Locomotive and American Telephone, were firm to strong, but changes among the leading Rails and Steels were mostly at recessions from last week's final quotations. Preliminary foreign exchange rates, including German marks, were comparatively steady.

Aside from Mexican Petroleum, which cancelled its gain under selling pressure, the light dealings of the noon hour were given over mainly to inconsnicuous stocks. Gulf States Steel, Pressed Steel Car, Assorted Dry Goods, Manhattan Shirt, Montana Power and North American showed gains of one to three points.

The higher prices quoted for refined copper invited further buying of metal shares during the morning at gains of one to two points. Mexican Petroleum and General Electric strengthened their early positions, and Pierce Preferred was the strongest of the minor Oils, advancing six points. National Biscuit, California Packing and Wilson developed firmness, but others of that group, such as American Sugar Common and Preferred, South Porto Rico Sugar and Corn Products, eased 1 to 1½ points. The five per cent. opening rate for call money indicated a recurrence of last week's higher trend for demand loans.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—Practically no trading occurred on the local Stock Exchange during the first half-hour this morning. The feature was Detroit United Railway, which displayed some strength by advancing from 70 3-8 to 72. Riordon was stronger by a half point at 71½.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. — (Canadian Press). — Opening quotations on wheat, which varied from ⅛c to 1½c higher, with December 1.08 3-4 to 1.09, and May 1.10 3-4 to 1.11¼, were followed by a slight re-action and then by decided fresh gains.

Government financing of the corn crop continued to stimulate the corn market. After opening 1-8c to ¼c higher, with May at 54 to 54 3-8, prices showed further upturns.

Oats were firm in symnathy with other cereals, starting unchanged to 1 1-8 up, May 38 to 38¼, and later advancing all around.

Higher hog values tended to strengthen provisions.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—The activity and strength in Victory Loans, particularly the long distant dates, was the feature of the local Stock Exchange this morning. Stocks were in little demand. The 1933 Victories were the most active of the group, with sales of over $300,000, and at the high point during the morning registered a gain of $1 over Saturday's close. The 1934's, on comparatively light offerings, advanced fifty cents. The most strength, however, was shown by the 1937 group. Opening at 102.15, or fifty cents above Saturday, the quotations were rapidly marked up until 103.40 was reached, a net gain of 1.75 for the morning's trading.

"AIM STRAIGHT TO MILEAGE" IS SLOGAN CHOSEN

$500 FOR BEST SLOGAN FOR RED ARRROW TIRES GOES TO ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL COMPETING AGAINST HUNDREDS

TO BE USED AT ONCE

After considering for almost a week the slogans that were sent in by the hundreds in the Red Arrow $500 slogan contest, the judges today announced that the winner is Miss Genevieve A. Fowler of 277 Rubidge street. Miss Fowler is the eleven year old daughter of Mr. E. B. Fowler.

The slogan selected is "Aim Straight to Mileage," and the judges who were Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, Leon Fraser and J. J. Turner, feel that the idea carried in this slogan is the most expressive of the intentions of the company.

The company will produce tires of a superior quality and it will always be the aim of the company for Red Arrow Tires to give great mileage. Mileage is the important thing to the purchaser.

Miss Fowler will immediately receive official notification by mail and she will be asked to visit the office of the company at 309 George street where five one hundred dollar bills will be paid her.

The company will start at once using this slogan in their advertising matter and on their letter heads. The original coupon on which Miss Fowler wrote her slogan and the receipt which she will be asked to give the company will be placed in the window of the company's store for the inspection of the public.

The company desires to thank all those who sent in slogans and regrets that only one can be selected, as many of the ideas suggested had great merit.

BREADNER DENIES LOUGHNAN CHARGE

OTTAWA, November 21. — Canadian Pres. — 'Absolutely untrue," was the comment of Commisioner of Taxation Breadner this morning, replying to statements respecting arrears of business profits taxes alleged to have been made by David Loughnan, Progressive candidate in Ottawa.

Mr. Loughnan is alleged to have claimed to have information that the Government had accepted promissory notes for $760,000 taxes from the Cockshutt Plow Company and for $1,000,000 from the Canada Steel Company.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous Salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

ANNIVERSARY OF TRINITY CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL

REV. H. W. CREWS, OF WINDSOR, PREACHED AT BOTH SERVICES —SPECIAL MUSIC.

Trinity Church gave itself up to the Sunday school yesterday on the occasion of the annual anniversary services of the Sunday school.

The Sunday school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon, cooperated with the choir.

Rev. Heber W. Crews, M.A., D.D., of Windsor, preached particularly to the children. In the afternoon an open session of the Sunday school was held and Rev. Mr. Crews gave an address to a crowded hall.

Rev. Mr. Crews talked to the morning congregation, which was largely composed of Sunday school scholars, of every age from the Primary to the Senior classes. His subject was taken from St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians 6:13 to 18.

"Wherefore take the whole armour of God that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all to stand.

"Stand, therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness, and your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;

"Above all taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one, and take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the spirit which is the word of God."

Illustrated Passage.

Dr. Crews illustrated the passage and made all the points interesting, by adorning one of he scholars with a complete set of Christian armour, such as outlined by Paul. When he was outfitted the effect was greeted with many gasps of astonishment by the younger scholars. A very warlike appearance was created by this Roman legionary in shimmering mail —armed with sword and protected with shield. Dr. Crews compared him however not to a soldier of Caesar's, but to a soldier of Christ, armed as Paul described.

Dr. Crews told the boys and girls if they were armed against sin as the boy was no temptation could get in at their hearts. We all have the power of saying "Yes' or "No" to everything that wants to get in at our hearts, and I want the boys and girls o say "No" to every temptation, and "Yes" to every good thing.

"This is a boys' and girls' age" said the speaker. "There was never a time in the history of the world when we were giving more attention to the young life, and I am sure we are all glad of it."

The music at both morning and evening service ,sat both of which Dr. Crews presided, was of a special nature.

In the morning the orchestra had the honour place in the musical part of the service.

Open Session.

An open session of the Sunday school was held yesterday, and was featured by an address by Dr. Crews on "Ideals in Life," in which he presented the altruistic as the most worthy aim for boys and girls.

Miss Florence Scott sang with marked and sweet expression "The Ninety and Nine."

GORDON RAPS RIORDON CASE

notice that he should make a return of his income. He had no taxable income, but only a few hundred dollars in the bank to keep him in his old age. Mr. Gordon said this Government had one law for the rich and another for the poor, and the law for the poor it imposed with a ruthless hand, while the law for the rich it did not invoke.

Mr. Gordon claimed that Sir Henry Drayton and Sir Thomas White should make good any loss the Treasury of Canada sustained through their failure to collect the taxes from a company that had $6,000,000 of money to pay taxation.

Supports Protection.

Mr. Gordon quoted sugar prices, showing that sugar prices were fixed in Canada by the four great refineries at $8.34 per hundred, and the large refineries agreed with this price to a cent, indicating, Mr. Gordon claimed, a combination. Mr. Gordon claimed that over-capitalization and mergers of companies had caused high prices, and that unfair profits were taken from the workingman and the men on the farm. He said this could be cured by a fair, reasonable and sufficient adjustment of tariff duties, and he claimed he was a Protectionist and he believed in a Customs tariff that would be sufficient to raise necessary taxes, and at the same time furnish protection to not only industry but to the workingman.

The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and after the meeting it was decided to organize the township by having committees work to get out the vote on election day.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE IN GOOD SHAPE AGAIN

The fire engine was tested by the fire department this morning at George street wharf, and found to be again working efficiently. When tested by L. D. Walker, inspector for the Fire Underwriters' Association several weeks ago it was found the valve action was faulty due it was believed to the actions of chlorine on the rubber. New valves and springs were installed and this morning the engine performed without a hitch and shot tons of water back into the Otonabee with a force that is beyond the fondest ambitions of the water main. The engine was given a thorough work out from 9 to 11.30 and a pressure of 138 pounds was secured.

TO-DAY'S FASHIONS

PARTY DRESS

This frock is all for quaintness and in achieving its ends, chooses to use puffing for neck and hem. More puffing encircles the appliqued trimming on the skirt. Silver lace, a green stripped ribbon, lavender pipings, all on a background of peach colored taffeta give the proper atmosphere.

Voice of the People

The Examiner, City.

Dear Sirs,—Mr. Burnham's recent communication to you has been shown to me, and I find that, several days ago, before this communication appeared, our printing was completed for our meetings, and meetings have been arranged all over the county, with a quota of speakers.

I understand that Mr. Burnham wishes to clear up the report that is being circulated, that I am a "Meighen Protectionist."

Mr. Burnham must expect candidates to be described in various ways. One representative Conservative told me this morning that I was as good a Conservative as he was, meaning himself. When I asked him if he thought I was as good a Conservative as Mr. Burnham, he said that he thought I was a better one.

So you see that there will be all kinds of views, from all kinds of men, and if we attempt to correct all these views, in the short space of one evening, it would be an impossibility.

As my meetings have started in the townships, I cannot change them, but towards the end of the campaign, if there is one evening I find I can afford to give for a joint meeting, I will try to arrange that.

Yours truly,
G. N. GORDON.

BORDER RUM-RUNNING REDUCED TO MINIMUM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (Canadian Press). — Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, returning from a personal survey of liquor conditions in Michigan and along the Canadian border, declared in a formal statement yesterday that he was "more optimistic as to enforcement of the 18th. Amendment than at any time since assuming office."

Co-operation between State and municipal officials in Michigan, he asserted, was equal, if not superior, to that obtaining in any other State. Confirmation of the "gentlemen's agreement," between United States and Canadian officials along the border, he added, would reduce rum-running to a minimum.

He further said: "With unequivocal cooperation between United States and Canadian officials to suppress smuggling, an iron-clad ban on importations in the East, the triangle is complete."

OCEAN LINES CUT THIRD CLASS RATES

MONTREAL, Nov. 21. Canadian Press)(.—Local steamship companies announce a substantial decrease in third class east and westbound continental passenger rates, to come into effect immediately. The eastbound Hamburg rate, formerly $125, is now reduced to $103.50, while the Denzig rate is reduced from $135 to $106.50 with other continental rates lowered accordingly. Westbound rates from Hamburg are reduced from $125 to $102.50, and those from Danzig from $135 to $105.50. The extra charge for disinfection and transit expenses is abolished. The American head tax and American and European vise charges are additional and must be paid by passengers.

FIRE IN HER HOLD THREATENS STEAMER

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—A bad fire in No. 3 hold while the ship was in the Gulf Stream, threatened for a time to destroy the Norwegian steamer Nevis, which arrived here yesterday from Santiago, Cuba, under charter. The fire was only extinguished after a hard fight and anxiety was caused by the fact that twenty four puncheons of rum were stored in the hold. The second engineer who went into the hold with the fire fighters had his trousers burnt off and his legs badly scorched Several men were overcome by th fumes of burning sugar, but were hauled on deck by their companions and soon revived. The flames were got under control before they reached the consignment of rum.

SHIPBUILDING MARKET IN SCOTLAND VERY POOR.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Nov. 21. —(Canadian Press).—The market for shipbuilding is so poor that no new order to build a ship has been received at Wallsend on the Tyne since the beginning of the year, says Sir George Burton Hunter, chairman of the board of directors of one of the big shipbuilding companies there.

A vessel now nearly completed at Sunderland has been sold at a price less than one-half her cost of construction. Sir George gives figures showing that it now costs £11.73 for a ton of steel used in a ship, as compared to £3.58 in 1911.

The iron workers, he says, now handle about two hundredweight of steel per week less than they did 10 years ago.

Sir George asserts also that wages are from three to three and one-half times those paid 10 years ago, when the amount of work done is taken into consideration. He says that the workers accomplish 26 per cent. less work now than in 1911, and he adds:

"This applies to other industries as well as shipbuilding, and explains why more orders are not obtainable and why so many men are unemployed."

WOULD WITHHOLD MAIL UNTIL AFTER CHRISTMAS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—Postmaster Morgan has again appealed to the business men of New York to discontinue, as far as possible, the mailing of large quantities of circulars and catalogues during the week immediately preceding Christmas Day. This is to enable the post office to handle the great quantity of Christmas mail which begins to run heavy about two weeks before the holiday.

The Postmaster stated that business men aided him last year in preventing congestion of mail at that time by withholding mail which could be deferred until after Christmas.

In urging them to do the same this year, he stated that it had been ascertained that many persons transporting large numbers of circulars and catalogues should arrange their advertising campaigns so that these can be mailed either before December 19 or after the holiday rush is over, without detriment to their interests.

CANADA IN FAVOR OF BANISHING SUBMARINE?

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.— (Canadian Press.) — Sir Robert Borden was quoted in the Herald yesterday as declaring Canada in favor of the banishment of the submarine as a war weapon.

JAPS SUPPORT OTHER POWERS' CHINA POLICY

JOIN IN EXPRESSIONS OF SYMPATHY FOR NATIONAL ASPIRATIONS OF CHINA BY OTHER POWERS.

OPPOSE OPENING UP MANY "MINOR MATTERS"

WASHINGTON, November 21.—Canadian Press. — Japan joined with the other powers on Saturday in an expression of sympathy for the national aspirations of China, but added a postscript regretting any tendency toward a detailed examination by the Armaments Conference into into "innumerable minor matters," in the Far East.

In a statement omitting mention of specific points of controversy between the two countries, the Japanese delegation informed the conference delegates that their government claimed no "special rights and privileges." In the procurement of raw materials from China, harbored no "policy of territorial aggrandizement," at China's expense and was ready to join in any readjustment of extra-territorial rights which appeared "fair and satisfactory."

To enter upon an examination of details, however, the statement declared, would be an attempt likely to result in "undue protraction of the discussions"—a reiteration of the objection Japan has expressed repeatedly against reopening the many controversies in the Far East.

In turn, Great Britain, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Portugal expressed in broad terms their desire for the emancipation of China through commercial liberty and territorial integrity, a general position already having the adherence of the Untied States. Then the committee adjourned until to-day when the discussion of principles is to give way to a more detailed consideration of China's declaration of rights.

The session of the committee was the only formal action of the conference Saturday, although all the national groups conferred informally among themselves, and there was a conference late in the afternoon between Secretary Hughes, Arthur J. Balfour and Admiral Baron Kato, respective heads of the United States British and Japanese delegations. All three declined to talk about the meeting but the inference was drawn that they had met to consider further plans of procedure for the naval armaments negotiations in which the three governments are the chief participants.

Meantime the naval problem referred several days ago to a committee of experts showed evidence of having developed to the point where the naval establishments of France and Italy soon would be assigned to a tentative status besides the three greater powers in the reduction plan. It was emphasized, however, that any suggested ratio the committee might consider would be carefully reviewed by the delegates themselves before any national policies were laid down.

CHARGES TAX SCANDAL IN CASE OF TWO MORE

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.— (Canadian Press.)—David Loughnan, Progressive candidate, Saturday night declared at a meeting that according to "information which I have received from a semi-o cial source, the Cockshutt Plow Company gave the Government a promissory note for $760,000 for taxes, the Canada Steel Corporation owes nearly a million dollars and many other big businesses have likewise settled their taxes by the same happy method."

CRERAR REFUTES CHARGES AGAINST GRAIN GROWERS.

BASSWOOD, Man., Nov. 21. — (Canadian Press). — Charging the managers and speakers of the Government election campaign with deliberate attempts to undermine confidence in the National Progressive movement by besmirching his own reputation and making unfounding charges against the United Grain Growers, Limited, Hon. T. A. Crerar devoted a long address here Saturday night to refuting statements made by R. J. Henderson at the Fort William hearing of the Grain Enquiry Commission, and other statements which have appeared in the public press.

Mr. Crerar said that the injunction of the Grain Enquiry Commission had only been brought about when it seemed to become evident that its purposes were merely political. The United Grain Growers, he said, with their 36,000 shareholders, did not intend to become the "political football of a discredited party."

He was assured, he said, that the Fort William hearing of the Commission, which he characterized as

BRIAND TO LAY FRANCE'S CASE BEFORE PARLEY

DISCUSSION UPON QUESTION OF LAND ARMAMENTS OPENS AT CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON TO-DAY.

ANGLOPHOBE U. S. PRESS MISREPRESENTS BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.— (By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—To-day will be France's great day at Continental Hall. It will mark the opening of discussion upon the question of land armaments—the phase of the conference on limitation of armaments which is of paramount importance to France.

In his brief speech at the second plenary session, the French Premier expressed the hope that he may have the opportunity of laying before the conference, and therefore before the world, the truth about France's position. In several interviews which he has given since his arrival in the United States he has declared his desire that nothing should be withheld from the public concerning the military situation of France.

To-day M. Briand will have his opportunity.

Although this will be the first declaration on military power within the conference, much already has been said and written on the subject outside the official circle of the delegates. Unfortunately much of what has been said and written has been wrong and this inaccuracy of the gossips has principally applied to the military position of Great Britain. A story was broadcasted in United States papers to the effect that Britain's army numbered 700,000 men. Some papers which have been notoriously anti-British even magnified this figure. A statement was issued by an official connected with the British contingent giving the truth regarding Britain's army, presumably in order that the public mind might not be laboring under a misapprehension when the question of land armament was placed before the conference and public attention thus focused upon it. This statement showed that Britain's standing army numbered about 200,000. Incidentally the spokesman recalled the fact that, except for a short period under the exigencies of war, Britain's army had always been and now is recruited on a strictly volunteer basis.

And yet one United States paper came out with an eight-column heading printed in heavy type, announcing to an astonished public: "British army abandons conscription."

CHOOSING A CANDIDATE.

One feature about Canada's system of politics that is in great need of improvement is the manner in which candidates are selected. The open convention method, in which all friends of the party are expected to come together and choose a standard bearer is hailed as the true democratic way and yet it leaves an open door for a manoeuvre such as was executed by supporters of the United Farmers in Northumberland, who packed a Liberal convention and blocked the selection of a candidate. Legally, of course, the blockaders were impregnable, but the moral iniquity of their action is obvious. The other method, by which only duly accredited delegates from each polling sub-division are allowed to vote is condemned by many people as savouring of machine tactics, yet after all it seems a much more sensible way than to select a candidate at an open meeting at which friends and foes alike can take part and vote. The experience of the Northumberland Liberals shows what can happen at such a meeting if the Opposition is unscrupulous enough to take advantage of the opportunity offered them.

LIVELY WEST YORK.

There are many peculiar mix-ups in this most extraordinary general election, but the developments in West York have given that riding more excitement than the electors of any other constituency in the Dominion. The chief interest has been furnished by the supporters of the Government, for the Liberals and Progressives each nominated a candidate without any confusion. At the Government convention, A. J. Anderson secured the nomination. Some of the old line Conservatives objected to the result and Len Wallace appeared in the field as an independent. The war was on, and while it lasted it was a merry one. It however has been ended in a dramatic way by both rivals dropping out to open a seat for the Finance Minister, Sir Henry Drayton who, at a convention held on Saturday, received the nomination. Now there is more talk of another independent candidate entering the field. Some ridings may find the campaign slow, but West York can have no complaint on that score.

A PLATFORM NEEDED.

The crop of candidates for the various municipal offices for which an election will have to be held in January will soon be making an appearance. It is perhaps too much to expect, but the Examiner is hoping that this year there may be something new in the campaign, that some of the candidates at least will have a progressive, constructive platform to lay before the electors. Usually the aspirant for office contents himself with the promise in his election card that if he is elected he will endeavour to look after the city's business in the best interests of the whole community, or some other meaningless generality of that nature. There are many problems to be dealt with by next year's Council. In the interval between now and nomination day it would be good business for prospective candidates to study some of these questions, endeavour to determine the best policy to be carried out and be prepared to tell the electors what they would undertake to do if honoured by being elected. It is time for a change and the candidate who has no policy to suggest, no plans to offer, nothing to promise but a vague pledge to do the best he can—without indicating in what way—should be left at home. Of course, election platforms are like the platforms of railway cars—meant only to get in on—but nevertheless the aspirant for office who has nothing to offer before election has generally very little to offer afterwards.

RELIEF WORK.

The various organizations whose activities include the providing of relief in cases of distress are effecting a working arrangement by which the unusual conditions caused by the unemployment crisis can be grappled with. Team work, it is recognized, will be necessary to prevent overlapping and to promote efficiency in relief work and preliminary steps have been taken to ensure co-operation among the different organizations. That there is need for a united effort is only too evident. There are many families in which the bread-winner has been idle for the greater part of the summer, and as a result there is suffering and distress. It is these cases that the organizations desire to deal with, but unfortunately it is not always easy to locate them for the very natural reason that the families in question would rather suffer in silence than reveal their circumstances. Instances have been reported where people have sold practically all their furniture bit by bit to buy food, and by this means have managed to keep a brave front to the world. For such families there is the deepest of sympathy and there will be a general desire to extend them a helping hand in the hour of need. It is hoped that they will not look upon such assistance as "charity," but merely as the help that one neighbor would extend to another. In order that deserving cases may be brought to the attention of the proper authorities, the Examiner will undertake to receive and forward to those in charge of relief work letters giving particulars of any case in which assistance is needed. Any citizen who knows of such cases is asked to address a communication to the "Relief Editor," c/o The Examiner.

MENTAL INVESTMENTS.

Jurors in the Arbuckle case were asked whether they had either a mental or financial interest in movies. The coupling of these expressions suggests—as indeed the fact—that there are mental as well as financial investments.

A citizen has just so much money to invest. He puts it into whatever he thinks will yield him the largest income compatible with safety. He may invest it in a home, with the idea that his return will take the form of comfortable surroundings for himself and his family. He may invest it in life insurance, with the knowledge that he will himself get a peace of mind dividend, and that his beneficiary will some day get back the principal sum. Or he may put his money into a business—his own or somebody's else's in the hope of a cash return at so much per cent. per annum.

If he is wise he will reject certain investments as too risky; others as likely to be non-productive. In any case, he will consider well before he finally commits his money to other hands than his own.

A man also invests his mind. Every man does it; every woman and child does it, consciously or unconsciously. Each one has just so much mind to invest; just so much thought to give. If the mind is filled with unprofitable things, if the thoughts wander continually to that which is evil rather than to that which is good, the investment is a bad one. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." Even when they are riding upon the street cars people are investing their minds.

It does not follow that all thought should be serious. The well-balanced citizen does not spend his whole income upon serious things. There is no reason why he should devote his whole mind to them. But the pleasures in which the mind is invested should be as innocent as those in which he would openly invest money.

One of the worst mental investments is worry. It is like buying a property which is in litigation. Hate-thoughts, envyings, unkind meditations pay no dividend except distress. The constant mental bemoaning of one's lot will bring no return in either cash or happiness. And there are some other mental investments which are simply of the doubtful class. It is well not to make them.

The financier who finds himself involved in a non-profitable deal, will yield often to the temptation to "throw good money after bad,' only to lose in the end his whole fortune, in the enterprise. Minds are just like that. And unprofitable mental investment may, in the end, absorb the whole intellect. And the unfortunate investor finds that he can think only in the worst way; that his power to indulge in high and noble thought has gone forever; that he has drained all his finest mental resources to feed that which is base and unprofitable in his thoughts.

This is the man most to be pitied. He is indeed a mental bankrupt, his mind wrecked by an ill-advised investment, an investment extending over years and years until it has become what is called a "habit of thought." — Toronto Star Weekly.

NEGATIVE BLESSINGS.

In the general outpouring of gratitude last week for a bountiful harvest, which gave us not only enough for ourselves but a huge surplus for other nations, it may be that there was forgetfulness in relation to the many negative blessings for which we should also have been thankful. On the positive side there was ample cause for grateful recognition of the Divine source of material gifts; and yet to fail in giving thanks for exemption from adversities which might have fallen upon us was to shirk part of our real duty. The matter will bear meditation.

We were spared from revolution. If this be regarded as a mercy resting on great improbability, let the skeptic look over the world of today and compare it with the world of 1914. That form of madness which is comprehended within the vague term "Bolshevism" has not taken root in our land. We have stability of Government. There are rival parties, and much debating goes on as to policy, but we have nothing in the nature of a menace to our sound national fundamentals. Viewed in proper perspective, our immunity from disintegrating and revolutionary movements calls for genuine appreciation.

Our abundance of food has not been accompanied by wasting pestilence, by earthquake, or by tornado. These things are not mere chimeras. That they might have happened to us is proven by the fact that they happened to other nations during the past year. Nor did fire or flood sweep over the land, or any considerable part of it. It was not a year marked by a single disaster of magnitude within our borders. The public health was exceptionally good. We escaped riots or strikes of a serious character. Men throughout the Dominion were permitted to pursue their way in peace and security. There was not even an approach to a wave of crime, although much of lawlessness prevailed in the adjoining republic.

We did not have a commercial panic. Despite great shrinkage in values and in the volume of trade, the foundations of our far-flung business fabric were not shattered. They were strained, but they held. Our financial and banking institutions, on which rests the vital structure of credit, were not even in serious danger. Let no one look on this lightly; for only those who realize how immeasurably important is the part played by our great banks in the whole scheme of trade are able to visualize the possibilities of disaster associated with the weakening of our money system. For what did not occur in that regard we ought to be devoutly thankful.

In the social realm, those who take more than a superficial view of the life of the common people would be unable to detect any real weakening of the moral fibre or the strength of the home as the basic unit of the state. There are unquestionably signs of laxity in respect of parental control, as well as absence of genuine relish for simplicity and thrift; but the social structure of Canada is absolutely sound. Restlessness did not lead during the year to widespread immorality or sacrilege. The church still holds its high place among the forces of civilization. Here, too, the searcher of conscience might find ample cause for the recognition of blessings in negative as well as positive form.

In the final reckoning, when the things which come to us in the concrete call us to our knees, we should find the appeal to our sense of gratitude quickened by the contemplation of the many things which did not happen and yet might have happened. If industry and commerce have not been conspicuously active, we should at least give thanks for our remoteness from the cataclysm which Mr. H. G. Wells sees hovering over the nations of earth. Mr. Wells may not be wholly wrong in his apprehension of impending evils; yet no trace of their blighting presence can be found in staunch and steady-going Canada. They might be here; but they are not. And for our exemption we should feel the nudge to bow in thankfulness, acknowledging our negative as well as our positive benefits. There is, unhappily, considerable unemployment; but let us very clearly realize that it might have been much worse. It is worse in other lands.

The fruits of fertile fields are not our sole assets. In a world smitten by reaction from the fever of war we should be profoundly grateful for the courage which has not been killed in Canadian hearts, for the will to work, and for the promise of reward which beckons our people on to fresh enterprise. We have been saved from despair. The spirit of the country has not been broken, and that is something which should not be forgotten while appraising our material blessings; for it bridges the gulf between the present and the future and leads us smiling and strong to new victories.—Ottawa Journal.

WARDS NEEDED

During the last few months Lenin has made several speeches, in which he has frankly declared that the methods by which he and his associates have sought to impose Communism on Russia have failed. The latest Note is a public and official confession of disastrous and humiliating failure. To the capitalist world, to which the Bolshevists have bid, and continue to bid defiance, they now appeal for help to save them from the consequences of their own criminal enterprise. This is instructive; but the Western world, with the spectacle of the Russian famine before its eyes, hardly needs to be reminded now of the terrible futility of Bolshevism. Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes. In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reasons when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This viscous coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The old ways of brushing did not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Now you can fight it

Dental science, after long research, has found ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved them effective. Now leading dentists everywhere advise their daily use.

The methods are embodied in Pepsodent, the new-day, scientific tooth paste. Millions of people now use it, and the use is fast spreading the world over.

That is the dentifrice we urge you to try. Your druggist has a free tube for you. Enjoy its effects for ten days, then judge them for yourself.

Also starch and acids

Modern diet makes other things essential. And those essentials are embodied in this scientific tooth paste.

Each use of Pepsodent multiplies the salivary flow. That is Nature's great tooth-protecting agent. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's agent for neutralizing acids which attack the teeth.

An ideal diet would do these same things, but few people get it. So dental science now needs the tooth paste to bring these desired effects.

Pepsodent will daily bring you five great benefits which the old ways did not bring. Together they mean a new era in teeth cleaning.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain these film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The glistening teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to any dealer named this week. Cut it out now.

BRIAND TO LAY FRANCE'S CASE

This is the sort of misrepresentations that occurs almost daily in a certain section of the United States press, which apparently is out to throw a monkey-wrench into the cogs of the conference. Fortunately it is a comparatively small section, and one which wields no influence whatever with the decent element of the United States public, which means, of course, with an overwhelming majority of the people of the country.

For purposes of comparison in connection with this subject the strength of the French and United States armies may be of interest to Canadians.

According to information given by numbers of the French Advisory committee, the French army numbered 900,000 men last year and has now been reduced to 750,000, of which about 175,000 are on service directly necessary under the peace treaties. The army is now in process of further reduction to 660,000 and coming into operation of the 18-months' service law instead of three years will reduce France's force in 15 months to between 450,000 and 500,000 men.

According to latest statistics available, the United States army consists of 298,882 officers and men. This was the number authorized under the Re-organiaztion Act of June, 1920.

There appears to be much interest in what information M. Briand will disclose in explaining France's apprehension of her neighbors across the Rhine. It is known that General Buat, Chief of the French General Staff, brought with him to the conference, many documents concerning Germany's military strength and potential power. These, it has been staed, include secret instructions of the German Ministry of War regarding groupings of former officers into skeleton regimental units.

Mr. Crerar introduced arguments intended to show that if false bottoms or slides had been used in an elevator of his company, then it could only have been a conspiracy to defraud the company itself and not the shippers.

His salary, said Mr. Crerar, had been the object of much speculation, and he informed his audience that it amounted to $15,000.

The question of averages and the large profits which it had been alleged had been made from this source, were dealt with exhaustively. Mr. Crerar said he was sure that the elevator companies would jump at the chance to charge half a cent a bushel for cleaning the grain, and allow the shippers to recover any amount received for screenings.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Peasey Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains, so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of medicines and had been treated by physicians but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 387 King St., Toronto, Ontario.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Peasey did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health.

SPORT BRIEFS

BRITISH AND U. S. SWORDSMEN ARE TIED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—British swordsmen defeated the United States fencing team, eight to six, Saturday night, in their Epee bout, the second of three matches in their tournament for the Thompson Trophy. The first match was won by the United States team Friday night, and the third and final bout, with the same sabre, will be held in New York on Monday night.

The British team won eight bouts to the United States six, while there were two bouts which ended in double touches.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR BALKLINE BILLIARDS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—A world's record for 18.2 balkline billiards tournament play was established Saturday night by Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, when he averaged 200 in defeating Welker Cochran, of San Francisco, in a match in the International Tournament being held here. Cochren failed to count, the score being: Schaefer, 82,318-400; Cochran 0-0. The best previous averages were 83 1-3, made by Willie Hoppe, world's champion, in 1915, and 100 by George Sutton nearly two decades ago.

Saturday's play ended with Cochran and Roger Conti, the French champion, tied for third and fourth places, and Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, and George Sutton, of Chicago, tied for sixth and seventh places. Willie Hoppe, world's champion, yesterday defeated Horemans, 400 to 379, in 19 innings, and Sutton, who had lost four straight games, won from Ora Morningstar, of San Diego, 400 to 291, in twelve innings.

LAST PERIOD VICTORY FOR HARVARD OVER YALE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.' Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press). — Harvard spirit and Harvard system won the annual Yale-Harvard game Saturday 10 to 3. It was a last-period victory in which a touchdown by Owen a goal kicked from it by Buell, and a goal from the field rolled up points for the Crimson against the three gained by Yale through Captain Aldrich's field goal in the first period.

The Harvard win was generally unexpected, coming as it did at the close of a season of uncertainty for the Crimson eleven and of previously unbroken success by Yale. It threw a triple tie for the first time in history the standing among the Big Three. Princeton defeated Harvard; Yale defeated Princeton; now Harvard has defeated Yale.

This fortieth Yale-Harvard game was played in the stadium before a crowd of 55,000. Yale, a heavier and harder hitting eleven, gave its all in the first three periods. Then Harvard changed tactics, assumed the offensive and won 1 Owen, Bpell Fitts, Chapin and Captain Kane were the Crimson heroes.

IOWA WESTERN CHAMPS.

CHICAGO, November 21. Canadian Press. — The Western Conference Football season closed Saturday with the University of Iowa the undisputed champion for the first time in 20 years.

The upset through which Illinois beat Ohio State, 7 to 0, combined with Iowa's 14 to 0 victory over Northwestern, left the Hawkeyes at the top of the percentage table and avoided what had appeared to be a certain tie between Ohio Sate and Iowa for the title. Ohio State and Chicago tied for second place and Wisconsin was fourth.

LIVERPOOL NOW TOPS FIRST ENGLISH DIVISION

LONDON, Nov. 21. — (By Canadian Press Cable)—As a result of the fine win over Middlesborough Saturday by a score of 4 to 0, Liverpool goes to the top of the First Division in the English Soccer League, and Burnley, which was dispossessed of leadership is now a tie for second place with Sunderland.

The new division leaders have been most consistent having lost only one match.

There have been few changes at the other end of the table, where Arsenal with back again with West Bromwich among the "fatal two" from which Cardiff as last emerged.

The most dramatic bit of football Saturday was witnessed at the Chelsea-Bradford City game where the home team in the last minute of play converted an apparently drawn match into a victory by a great goal from a penalty kick by Howard Baker, the goal-keeper.

Curiously, Baker's erratic keeping recently has been the subject of much comment.

The attendance at the various matches continues as enormous the highest Saturday being at Tottenham were 45,000 were present, closely followed at Liverpool with 44,000.

Barnsley continues to head the second division despite the fact that they have not scored a goal in the last five matches. Their predominant postion is likely, however, to be wrested from them by Notts Forest.

The University Rugby match on December 8, promised to be of exceptional interest.

Cambridge took the field at Blackheath Saturday and though their men were tired, for this was their fourth match in eight days, they defeated Blackheath by a score of 17 to 6.

Cambridge's steady progress and Oxford's comparative falling off make the Light Blues the firm favorite for the final contest..

Garnishings For Cakes and Deserts

As a garnishing for cakes or fancy desserts nothing is prettier or more attractive than candied rose leaves or violets, and one may have these dainty confections with very little expenditure of time or trouble. Put a half pound of granulated sugar, three drops of lemon juice a cupful of water on the fire and boil to the crackling or brittle point. Then remove the syrup from the fire and put the fresh rose leaves in, one by one, stirring the syrup against the sides of the pan until it is white and grainy. Then remove the rose leaves smooth them out as much as possible, and leave dry on a wire sieve turning two or three times.

Violets require a different treatment, as the hot syrup is inclined to make them lose their color. Two cupfuls of sugar and half a cupful of water are stirred over the fire until the mixture reaches the soft-ball stage, care being taken to wipe down he crystals on the side of the pan with a damp cloth; a tablespoon of cream of tratar is then added and a little violet-coloring paste dissolved in a little water. The pan is removed from the fire, and about a cupful of violets picked from the stems are stirred in gently until the sugar grains. They are then removed and the petals are straightened out to their original form and placed on a seive to dry.

Glace oranges make a delightful dessert arranged in little glass cups on a nest of sponge cake and covered with whipped cream, slightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla. To glace oranges divide them into sections and carefully remove all the outer skin. Boi a pound of sugar with a cupful of water until it hairs; then add a cupful of vinegar and boil rapidly until the syrup grows brittle when tried in cold water. The pan is then removed from the fire and is set in a larger pan of boiling water and the oranges are dipped piece by piece into the syrup, turning them over and over to insure them being well coated. Oranges prepared in this way should be used on the same day or on the day after being prepared.

Like glace fruit, candied orange, lemon and grapefruit peel are often used as garnishings for desserts and a large supply is always a boon to the manager of the kitchen. The amount of peel desired is placed on the fire and boiled till tender in just enough water to cover. The boiled water is then drained off and the peel in allowed to soak in cold water for twenty-four hours, the water being changed from time to time. It is then drained and placed in a stone jar and is covered with a syrup made of sugar and water boiled to the soft-ball stage; this is left to stand for twelve hours; the syrup is then drained and boiled up to the hard-ball stage; this is left to stand for twelve hours; the syrup is then drained and boiled up to the hard-ball stage and is agan poured over the peel; this process repeated every twenty-four hours until syrup reaches the candy stage. The last time the fresh syrup is made, and the peel is added to it and is allowed to boil up once. It is then removed and placed in stone jar, and the thick syrup is poured over it. The jars are sealed as soon as the peel cools

Gifts For The Small Stay-at-Homes

Gifts for the small stay-at-homes who are yet too young to go to school and whose vision is bounded by the home, should be considered just as carefully as those for the older members of the family.

When one sits on the floor to play jackstraw, it is nice to have a black oilcloth trutrle, stuffed with cotton, for a cushion. The body is thirteen inches long by ten wide, and to it are firmly sewed a green felt tailand head, with tiny eyes of red felt, and four fat yellow felt legs. The fastidious baby will like the linen bib in which a kitten is outlined in a tiny square with a buttonhole stitch, the material around it cut away and the little animal held in place with a buttonholed web.

The toilet of the youngest member of the doll family is not a bit of trouble when one has a baby basket painted in white enamel, and padded with pink muslin, covered with dotten Swiss. A lace-edged ruffle of the Swiss rises at the basket's sides. Through the chinks in the top run pink baby ribbon, with spaces left at intervals to hold the soap dish, comb, towels and other miniature accessories.

A quilted bath mat is made by binding a small crib pad with three-quarter inch blue tape and appliqueing upon it a blue linen duck, embroidering feet, bill, eye and wings in yellow.

Any child who owns a peg-top printing set can make a dainty bag for small laundry pieces, out of a half yard of unbleached muslin, printed three inches from bottom with two rows of triangles, the inner pointed of which are joined with yellow embroidery cotton; drawing strings are run through loose stitches of hem. A candy-box cover may be effectively made out of orange Japanese paper with a printed arrowhead design.

One child can easily make for another a very pretty writing paper pad, equipped with inspiring stationery. A piece of pebbled oilcloth, 11 1-2 by 7 1-2 inches, is lined with yellow Japanese crepe and fastened with a 2 1-2-inch strip of oilcloth across the bottom, with a neat blanket stitch of yellow wool.

By cherishing the tin boxes in which crackers, small cakes, baking powder and so on, have come, painting them with two coats of yellow enamel, pasting a lining of unbleached muslin inside and Mother Goose figures cut from chintz on the outside, an adorable bureau set can be made.

THE 4 HORSEMEN OF THE APOCALYPSE

LOTS OF DEER, BUT WE COULDN'T HIT 'EM

THIS IS CANDID ADMISSION OF MAJORITY OF LOCAL HUNTERS

"There were lots of deer, but we couldn't hit them." This was the candid admission to-day of most of the local hunters who have returned from the deer shoot. "The wods were full of hunters" declared one old hunter as an alibi for his party falling far short of their quota "We didn't work very hard, however", he said; "if we had hunted all day like some, we'd have got our number."

The Eagle Lake party of 13 hunters returned to-day with seven deer, of which three were good-sized bucks. The Stoney Creek Hunt Club, composed of Fred and Harry Jopling, Charles Forsythe, A. Mann and Fred Dobson were one of the exceptional parties that secured their complement of venison. Three of the five were bucks.

BRIAND SAYS FRENCH ARMY MUST BE BIG

of Great Britain, but did not reply in detail.

France was anxious to take all possible measures for lasting peace, but she could not at present lay down arms because of conditions closely touching her national integrity. The United States must see France through unclouded glasses before it could appraise the situation in a true light, said Briand.

Critics had said France sought military ascendancy, but he said the imputation was only a cruel reproach coming after her record in the war. Any one who knew France knew the untruth of the accusation. If ever there was a country committed to peace it was France.

Asserting with all his vigor and power of voice that France was the foe of no nation, he declared that he wanted real and continued peace with Germany. In Germany there were those who wanted peace on democratic institutions. It was that sort of Germany to which the world must look.

Japan wants only such an army as is absolutely necessary for defensive purposes, Baron Kato told the conference. A. J. Balfour practically pledged the support of Britain to France in the face of "the lust for domination." Senator Schanzer, of Italy, said his country was making a reduction in its army.

FORMER PETERBORO' MINISTER HONORED

Rev. Isaac Couch, former pastor of George Street Methodist Church here, and his wife, were the recipients of a number of gifts at a shower from their congregation in Strathroy. The following is from the Strathroy Age-Dispatch:

"Rev. and Mrs. Isaac Couch, who are about to settle in the new Methodist parsonage on Metcalfe Street East, were surprised in a very pleasant and unique manner Tuesday evening, when a reception was held in the basement of the church, where the pastor and his wife were presented with a shower of miscellaneous articles intended to be of service and comfort in the beautiful new home which has been provided. SERVANT OF GOD HIGHEST DIGNITY MAN CAN ATTAIN

BISHOP O'BRIEN AT 12TH ANNIVERSARY OF CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART SAID ULTIMATE PLEASURES NOT OF THIS WORLD.

The twelfth anniversary of the opening of the church of the Sacred Heart was celebrated on Sunday. After the earlier masses at which large numbers of the congregation received holy communion, Bishop O'Brien celebrated pontifical high mass at 10.30 o'clock and spent the rest of the day in the parish. He sang pontifical vespers in the evening, and Rev. Father McCarthy of Norwood preached the sermon. Other devotional exercises completed the programme of the day which was marked as an occasion of praise and thanksgiving upon the termination of another year in the accumulating history of the church.

Bishop O'Brien was assisted in the celebration of high mass by Rev. J. J. O'Brien, pastor of the church of the Sacred Heart, Rev. Father McHenry, curate and Rev. Father Cantillon of St. Peter's Cathedral. At the Conclusion of the mass His Lordship addressed the congregation reviewing briefly the chief events in the affairs of the church since its opening and dedication, and dwelling upon the spiritual advantages and consolations the people had shared by reason of having their church in their very midst.

Bishop O'Brien said that although we know not what God has in store for us temporarily we could make sure of things He has in store for us eternally. "May you be blessed in your homes and in your families; may you be blessed in your work and you employment; may you be blessed spiritually; may the new year be a new guarantee and a new earnest of God's love for you and also of your dwelling in a state of grace. I can wish you nothing more."

Bishop O'Brien said that real greatness in this world consisted in being a religious person. While the world imagined that it had discovered something new in the realization of the futility of the appeal to arms, Gods church was preaching the fact that we are living in this world for only a few short years, and that we shal not find our ultimate pleasure here in worldly honours, wealth and preference. To-day the doctrines of the church were recognized as the only solution of the world's troubles.

"We should realize that true greatness consists in loving God, in faithfully discharging our duties to God, to our neighbour and to your country. We must be convinced that the highest dignity a man can arrive at is the dignity of being a servant of God" said Bishop O'Brien.. He emphasized the infuence of good example in spreading the Faith. "If we cannot preach God's truth from the housetops, let us by the example of our lives and by our prayers and bring more and more to God's church. And finally when your body is brought here for your requiem the sweetest memory you can leave is the memory that you have been a devoted child of God".

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH FOR EIGHT YEARS

The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom, there is a constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is fickle, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is geneally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

The blame lies with a sluggish liver, as it holds back the bile which is so necessary to promote the movement of the bowels, and when the bile gets into the blood a badly disordered condition of the stomach, liver and bowels will surely follow.

Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N.S., writes:—"I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several, so-called, catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which I did, and four vials completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble."

FIRST WOMAN CABINET MINISTER HAS RESIGNED

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 21. — (Canadian Press.) — Mrs. Ralph Smith, member of the Oliver Cabinet, and the first woman Cabinet Minister in the British Empire, has resigned office, giving as her reason that she has been in the unfortunate position of having to assume the responsibility of Government without being in a position to advise or criticize."

Jenny Lind's voice first atracted attention when she sat at the window singing to her pet cat.

Headaches Gone

Perhaps you can imagine what this means to one who had suffered terribly with headaches for ten years.

Read about it in this latter.

Mrs. Tena A. Smith, Country Harbor Cross Roads, N. S., writes:

"I feel that if anyone can recommend Dr. Chase's medicines I certainly can. I suffered for ten years from severe headaches, and although I took all kinds of headache powders they just relieved me at the time. I became very nervous and run-down, and everything seemed to trouble me. I have taken eighteen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and it has made an entirely new person of me. I felt that I could not have lived without it. I do not have one headache now for every hundred I used to have, and my nerves are good and strong. I just weighed 109 pounds when I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and now I weigh 121. Knowing what this treatment has done for me, I cannot too highly recommend it to others."

"BULL-DOG DRUMMOND"

BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

At length the meal was over, and the maid, placing the decanter in front of Mr. Benton, withdrew from the room.

"You'll have a glass of port, Captain Drummond," remarked his host, removing the stopper, and pushing the bottle towards him. "An old pre-war wine which I can vouch for."

Hugh smiled, and even as he lifted the heavy old cutglass, he stiffened suddenly in his chair. A cry—half shout, half scream, and stifled at once—had come echoing through the open windows. With a crash the stopper fell from Mr. Benton's nerveless fingers, breaking the finger-bowl in front of him, while every vestige of colour left his face.

"It's something these days to be able to say that," remarked Hugh, pouring himself out a glass. "Wine, Miss Benton?" He looked at the girl, who was staring fearfully out of the window, and forced her to meet his eye. "It will do you good."

His tone was compelling, and after a moment's hesitation, she pushed the glass over to him. "Will you pour it out?" she said, and he saw that she was trembling all over.

"Did you—did you hear—anything?" With a vain endeavour to speak calmly, his host looked at Hugh.

"That night-bird?" he answered easily. "Eerie noises they make, don't they? Sometimes in France, when everything was still, and only the ghostly green flares went hissing up, one used to hear 'em. Startled nervous sentries out of their lives." He talked on, and gradually the colour came back to the other man's face. But Hugh noticed that he drained his port at a gulp, and immediately refilled his glass. . . .

Outside everything was still; no repetition of that short, strangled cry aga n disturbed the silence. With the training bred of many hours in No Man's Land, Drummond was listening, even while he was speaking, for the faintest suspicious sound—but he heard nothing. The soft whispering night-noises came gently through the window; but the man who had screamed once did not even whimper again. He remembered hearing a similar cry near the brickstacks at Guinchy, and two nights later he had found the giver of it, at the edge of a mine-crater, with glazed eyes that still held in them the horror of the final second. And more persistently than ever, his thoughts centred on the fifth occupant of the Rolls-Royce. . . .

It was with almost a look of relief that Mr. Benton listened to his tale of woe about his car.

"Of course you must stop here for the night," he cried. "Phyllis, my dear, will you tell them to get a room ready?"

With an inscrutable look at Hugh, in which thankfulness and apprehension seemed mingled, the girl left the room. There was an unnatural glitter in her father's eyes—a flush on his cheeks hardly to be accounted for by the warmth of the evening; and it struck Drummond that, during the time he had been pretending to look at his car, Mr. Benton had been fortifying himself. It was obvious, even to the soldier's unprofessional eye, that the man's nerves had gone to pieces; and that unless something was done soon, his daughter's worst forebodings were likely to be fulfilled. He talked disjointedly and fast; his hands were not steady, and he seemed to be always waiting for something to happen.

Hugh had not been in the room ten minutes before his host produced the whisky, and during the time that he took to drink a mild nightcap, Mr. Benton succeeded in lowering three extremely—strong glasses of spirit. And what made it the more sad was that the man was obviously not a heavy drinker by preference.

At eleven o'clock Hugh rose and said good-night.

"You'll ring if you want anything, won't you?" said his host. "We don't you'll find everything you require. Breakfast at nine."

Drummond closed the door behind him, and stood for a moment in silence, looking round the hall. It was deserted, but he wanted to get the geography of the house firmly imprinted on his mind Then a noise from the room he had just left made him frown sharply—his host was continuing the process of fortification—and he stepped across towards the drawing-room. Inside, as he hoped, he found the girl.

She rose the instant he came in, and stood by the mantelpiece with her hands locked.

"What was it?" she half whispered—"that awful noise at dinner?"

He looked at her gravely for a while and then he shook his head. "Shall we leave it as a night-bird for the present?" he said quietly. Then he leaned towards her, and took her hands in his own.

THOUSANDS NOW GIVE TESTIMONY

MRS. MORROW AMONG LATEST TO TESTIFY TO POWERS OF TANLAC IN BUILDING UP ANYONE.

According to the testimony of multiplied thousands there is nothing so invigorating to a rundown system as Tanlac. There are hundreds of enthusiastic witnesses to this fact right here in Toronto. Among the latest to testify is Mrs. Isabella Morrow, of 58 W. Charles St., Toronto, Ont.

"For some time before I got Tanlac I was in a badly run-down condition, which I suppose was due to indigestion and the strenuousness of my household duties. I had no appetite, and the little I managed to eat gave me scarcely any nourishment. I had very little strength or energy, and just wanted to mope around all the time. My housework was the greatest effort for me, and I was very much discouraged and melancholy over my weak condition and failing health.

"Tanlac took hold of my troubles from the very start. I am now eating just anything I want, and everything agrees with me perfectly. That tired, worn-out feeling has entirely disappeared and it no longer worries me to look after my household duties. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine, and I'm glad to recommend it to anyone in need of something to build them up."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

FIRST AND SECOND WIVES SUE FOR HIS INSURANCE.

KALAMAZOO, November ... — Is a woman whose husband dies three weeks after their marriage entitled to his insurance, despite the fact that his policy was left in the name of his former wife?

That is the question the Kalamazoo County Circuit Court will have to decide between Mrs. Glenn Martin No. 1 and Mrs. Glenn Martin No. 2.

Martin remarried three weeks after he divorced his first wife. No. 1 kept up the payments on the policy and the policy names her as the beneficiary. No. 2 contends she is the beneficiary because she was Martin's wife at the time of his death.

IS OPTIMISTIC OVER LAKES-TO-SEA WATERWAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. ... — (By Canadian Press.)—Governor Henry Allen of Kansas, who has just been attending a conference in New York on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project, declared yesterday that when the report of the engineers had been finally passd on by the International Joint Commission and the question came before Congress, it would be provided for.

He stated that the Mississippi Valley country and the States bordering on the Great Lakes will insist on the waterway and that the opposition of New York State and eastern interests cannot stop it.

"It would be a great thing for both this country and Canada," said Governor Allen.

BEARS PLENTIFUL IN BOBCAYGEON DISTRICT

Last Friday evening while Mr. and Mrs. Noble Beck were motoring to town, they were greatly surprised to pass a big black bear just at the bottom of Martin's hill. The bear was going to cross the road when the lights of the car blinded it. When Noble got the car stopped, the bear was beating it across Martin's field.

The bears seem to be quite thick this year, as we understand Peter Graham while motoring home one evening was stopped on the road by a bear and two cubs, the bear standing on her hind legs in the middle of the road, holding Mr. Graham up till the cubs got out of sight.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

LINDSAY, Nov. 21.—At a meeting of Victoria County Council's Committee on Roads and Bridges, Reeve Carew reported a joint meeting of Peterborough and Victoria committees on the disposition of the Pigeon Creek Bridge. The Indians wanted to secure part of it. The work has been done and the pieces put on the east side, near Ennismore. An offer of $25 has been made for 75 feet of the bridge. As it was originally about a mile long the Council became interested. Victoria has a right to 3-10th of the bridge. The County will take steps to safeguard its share. Peterborough's report on the matter was incomplete. Reeve Carew will continue to act for the County. The Councillors believe that the timber should be sold by tender and the proceeds distributed.

ADVOCATE RECIPROCITY TO SIR ROBERT BORDEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. ...—(Canadian Press.)— Sir Robert Borden represented the British delegation at a meeting last night with newspapermen attending the conference.

The value of good relations between Canada and the United States was under discussion and a reporter from Chicago asked, "Don't you think, Sir Robert, that trade reciprocity between Canada and the United States would help more than anything else?"

The question was asked in good faith, but there was a laugh from those who understood its political significance. The ex-Premier skilfully turned the conversation.

DON'T NEGLECT BRONCHITIS

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a cough which is dry, harsh and hacking, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of tightness through the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning after rising from bed. This phlegm is at first light color, but as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

In

you will find a remedy that will stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and help nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Mr. John H. Root, 40 Maple Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with bronchitis and I had a very bad cough. I had it so long I was beginning to get afraid of other developments. I tried all kinds of cough remedies without relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Wood's Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and it convinced me to believe that I had at last gotten the right medicine. I used several bottles and am practically well. I have recommended it to others since, and good results followed."

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it; price, 35c, and 60c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LAKEFIELD HUNTING LICENSES

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 21.—The following is the list of deer hunting licenses issued by Mr. F. J. Moore, fish and game inspector. Mr. Moore says that this is the largest number of licenses for hunting which he has ever issued, and he was able to supply every request for them. The number of trapping licenses is smaller than in past years, however.

TILDEN SHOULD BE RATED AS GREATEST OF ALL TIME

Who should be ranked as the greatest tennis player of all time? One frequently hears among tennis enthusiasts much discussion as to whether or not Bill Tilden should be rated as the greatest exponent of the game. Comparisons are made with Brookes, Wilding, the Dohertys and McLaughlin.

The tennis experts of the country are practically agreed that Tilden can do more things, and do them well on the courts than any other player before him. Some of the stars mentioned had Bill shaded in certain ways.

Since the game has improved so much in the last ten years, there seems to be no doubt but that the present champion has never had an equal in wielding a tennis racket.

This tennis rating, for the last three years, is of interest:

1.—1921, William Tilden; 1920, Tilden; 1919, Johnston.
2.—1921, William Johnston; 1920, Johnston; 1919, Tilden.
3.—1921, Vincent Richards; 1920, Williams; 1919, Kumagae.
4.—1921, R. N. Williams; 1920, Kumagae; 1919, Murray.
5.—1921, Wallace Johnson; 1920, Davis; 1919, Johnson.
6.—1921, Watson Washburn; 1920, Griffin; 1919, Williams.
7.—1921, Ichia Kumagae; 1920, Washburn; 1919, Roberts.
8.—1921, Willis Davis; 1920, Garland; 1919, Garland.
9.—1921, Robert Kinsey; 1920, Niles; 1919, Hayes.
10.—1921, Lawrence Rice; 1920, Johnson; 1919, Washburn.

BAES BALL STILL HONEST; TAKE CASE OF OSCAR VITT

FORMER TIGER DRIVES OUT A TWO-BAGGER AND, WITH THAT HIT, DRIVES HIS PAL, BERNIE BOLAND, OUT OF THE GAME

No one can better appreciate the honesty of baseball than the umpire True, some of the Chicago White Sox once strayed from the pathway of righteousness, but that case was one of the very few exceptions.

Time and again during the summer incidents come under the observation of the umpire that prove conclusively that to the player the honesty of the game is paramount. Let me relate such an incident.

Not so many years ago Oscar Vitt and Bernie Boland were members of the Detroit American League club. They were close friends, pals and for years had been room mates. Both were rated extremely valuable players, Boland as a great pitcher, Vitt as a crack third baseman.

Strange things happen in base ball and happens quickly. Last year found Vitt with the Boston Americans, and Boland with the St. Louis Browns. Boland had been released by Detroit because of a bad arm. St. Louis needing pitchers badly, took a chance on him, as Boland expressed the belief that he was in shape to deliver.

In his first start with the Browns Boland got along fairly well, good enough to justify the belief that he would be of some help to the St. Louis club. Then the Boston team invaded St. Louis for a series of four games.

Perhaps no fellow in base ball was more interested in Boland's attempt to come back than Oscar Vitt. Boland was selected to start one of the games against Boston. I was umpiring the bases and in the very first inning, Vitt came over to me and said:

"What about Boland? How does he look, Bill? Do you think he has a chance to come back?"

Pleased With Optimism

I told Vitt that while Boland lacked his old-time speed, he had fairly good stuff left, and had a chance to string along with the Browns. It was evident that Vitt was much pleased with my optimistic opinion as to Boland's chances.

Few pitchers know more about the art of deceiving the batters than Ernie Boland. His knowledge of the weakness of every batter, his use of slow curve and a nice change of pace, enabled him to go along for about five innings on even terms with the Bostonians. Then came the break of the game.

A base on balls, an error, and a hit filled the bases and brought Oscar Vitt to the bat. Here was the big crisis in the game. Oscar Vitt up, the bases filled, and Ernie Boland, his old pal, pitching his heart out in an effort to stick in the big leagues.

Oscar Vitt Hits

Did Oscar Vitt strike out? No; Oscar Vitt hit for two bases scoring three runs and causing Manager Fohl to remove Boland from the box. That hit won the game for Boston, sent Boland to the showers and really ended his major league career.

When Vitt pulled up at second base, and the game had been stopped while a change of pitchers was being made, he walked over to where I was standing in the infield and said:

"I like my base hits as well as the next fellow, but I certainly was pulling for some one to catch that ball. That is one base hit you will never hear me talking about. Poor Ernie, I guess he is through when I can hit him that hard."—Billy Evans in Detroit News.

As the result of Oshawa's defeat of Belleville on Saturday the Oshawa and Peterboro Collegiate teams are tied for the championship of the group of the interscholastic O.R.F.A. series and will have to decide the title with a sudden death game in Port Hope on Wednesday, the winners to meet the Oakwood High School, Toronto champions on Saturday.

Oshawa beat Belleville on the latter's grounds Saturday by 16 to 0 so th· it is evident the motor town crew have been steadily improving and that the Peterboro students will have to be at the top of their form on Wednesday. They showed up nicely in their practice game with the old Boys at Riverside Park on Saturday beating the rads 9 to 4. Several new plays were used by the students to good advantage Walter Smaill refereed and also coached the Collegiate crew and the workout was a splendid one.

AT THE CAPITOL.

SPECIAL VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

The Capitol offers the popular star Wallace Reid, in his newest production, "The Hell Diggers," to-day, also Larry Semon in "The Fall Guy," a very funny comedy.

To-night, also Tuesday and Wednesday, matinee and evening, the Capitol offers a big programme. Wallace Reid, in his newest drama, "The Hell Diggers." Larry Semon, one of the funniest screen comedians in the movies, will be seen in his screamingly funny two-reel comedy, "The Fall Guy," 14th episode of "The Yellow Arm." A funny Pollard Comedy, Topics of the Day and Pathe News, completing a very excellent show.

When "The Hell Diggers" comes to the Capitol to-night picture fans will be fascinated, no doubt, by the wonderful machines whose nickname has given the title to the picture. These are enormous gold dredges used in certain sections of California for scooping up the earth with its precious contents.

When Wallace Reid, the star in this Paramount picture, went on location to work in close proximity to the dredges, he was mightily impressed by the stronge, almost lifelike quality of the monster engines.

"They made me think," he said, afterward, "of those strange creatures from Mars, of which H. G. Wells told in 'The War of the Worlds' and yet they are nothing like them. But they seem human — or superhuman—and their power and capacity are unbelievable. No one could help being impressed, yet they appealed to me as the creations of some imaginative writer's dreams—things the like of which was never seen on land or sea."

There is a charming love story in which Lois Wilson is the girl. Frank Urson directed and the story is by Byron Morgan, who made a close study of the "hell diggers" and believes they offer an unique quality for motion picture drama.

Wallace Reid has a virile role, as superintendent of the work at the mines. Others in the cast include Alexander Broun, Frank Leigh, Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Geldart and Bud Post, "the tallest man in the movies."

Vaudeville to-night — Morris and Marcella, singing, dancing and talking. This act comes direct from Keith's circuit, where they have been a big headliner, and only through special arrangements, Paramount Theatres were able to secure this act.

AT THE GRAND.

"A PAIR OF SIXES."

To-night, Mr. Rex. Snelgrove and Miss Zana Vaughn return to Peterborough for their usual three-days' engagement. A petty discussion as to prior rights in a business office precipitates a regular whirlwind of trouble. The office of George Nettleton and T. Boggs Johns, co-partners in the Eureka Pill Company, is upset by the arrival of Mrs. Nettleton. A pretty female stenographer resents Mrs. Nettleton's hauteur. In a discussion which follows, one partner presumes to discharge the girl, while the other upholds his right to retain her. Then we hear of the respective rights of the man who makes the pill and the man who makes the coating. A shrewd lawyer steps in at the psychological moment, prevents the impending dissolution of partnerships—how. Mr. Vanderbolt is a clever student of human nature, and I think you'll agree with me when you see his little scheme. He suggests cards and leave the decision to fate. He aroused the partners' sporting instinct, and I hope I have aroused yours. Take a chance and see Rex as T. Boggs Johns, Billy Seymour as Geo. Nettleton, Miss Vaughn as Florence Cole, Mr. Johns' much tried fiancee, Miss Van Esse as Mrs. Nettleton, and all the other members of the popular Stock Company to-night at the Grand Theatre.

"JUST SUPPOSE."

When Edward H. Robins attended the premier of "Just Suppose," A. E. Thomas comedy romance, when it was presented at the Henry Miller Theatre, a little over two years ago, he could only see one flaw in the production, and that was not in the manner in which it was staged or written, but in the presenting company. The leading roles are nearly all supposed to be English; the actors of the company were all Americans. This was the one fly in the amber. Of course the presentation being made in New York for New Yorkers, this did not detract from the performance which is proven by its record run of one solid year at this same theatre. "Just Suppose" will be seen at the Grand Opera House for one night, Thursday, Nov. 24th.

"MUTT AND JEFF IN CHINATOWN."

Like other humans with a mission, "Mutt and Jeff" invariably manage to keep apace with the trend of the times. In their latest effusion, a rollicking musical comedy in two acts and a half dozen scenes, Bud Fisher's famous cartoons will have an opportunity of demonstrating their ability to meet any situation that comes their way, even at the expense of hearty, infectious and ebullient mirth, so to speak. The new piece is entitled, "Mutt and Jeff" in Chinatown." From the title the fact should not be misconstrued that what we are going to see is a succession of opium seances, vice, and degrading scenes of the old ten, twenty and thirty melodramatic days. Just a slice of life from a humorous viewpoint, incorporated with the laughter that brings joy, and plausible and coherent from start to finish. If you have liked this inimitable pair in their previous escapades and adventures, you are bound to more than endorse them in the new contribution. The offering, with its combination of pretty girls, novelties and exceptional scenic adornment, will be the next attraction at the Grand Theatre for two days, commencing Friday, Nov. 25, with the customary matinees.

PEARL WHITE AT THE REGENT

Pearl White, "the marvel of the screen," is coming to the Regent Theatre to-night, being presented by William Fox in a special production, "The White Moll," a stirring story of life in New York's underworld. This is her first big production—she having heretofore devoted her screen work to serials.

The story was written by Frank L. Packard, author of "The Mircle Man," and the scenario is by E. Lloyd Sheldon. It deals with Rhoda, a girl crook of the slums, who, having seen the light in a startling miracle performed in St. Agnes' church—where her father is killed trying to rob the poor box—determines to reform and labor to aid those in the underworld. As a settlement worker she becomes known by the crooks and gangsters as "The White Moll."

Her work has started to bear fruit. "The Sparrow," a notorious safe burglar who has served a long term in prison, is released. When "The Dangler," leader of the gang, tempts the released convict to return to his unlawful trade, "The White Moll," who has been caring for his aged mother, steps in and wins the Sparrow's promise to go straight. But she incurs the enmity of the Dangler, who determines to "frame" the Sparrow. Then begins a series of thrilling experiences which, it is said, make the picture one of the most fascinating and heart-appealing ever screened.

HOLDS RECORD IN CHARACTER PARTS

Motion picture fans who have been in doubt as to the screen actress who holds the record for number and variety of roles played, will be interested in the announcement this week from the Selznick offices that Lulu Warrenton has the best all-around training in character parts of any actress on stage or screen.

Miss Warrenton, who has the leading character part supporting William Faversham in "The Sin That Was His," which opens at the Allen theatre to-day, is credited with playing practically every character role that has ever been created in the drama on both stage and screen. Her favorite part is that of an Irish scrub woman, despite the fact that she has also had experience as a petted child of fortune and the wife surrounded by luxury.

Miss Warrenton has not only appeared on the legitimate stage and in pictures but she has directed productions and operated the camera, and is the author of many scenarios which have been produced. She is a native of California and came East to appear in the William Faversham-Selznick picture.

Other prominent members of the cast of "The Sin That Was His" include Lucy Cotton, who has the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Faversham, Pedro de Cordoba, George Stevens, Franks Evans, Lou O'Connor and Bobby Agnew. The story is by Frank L. Packard and was directed by Hobart Henley.

"The Sin That Was His," with William Faversham in the star role, is announced as the special feature at the Allen theatre for three days, starting to-day. This special photoplay represents the zenith of production at the Selznick studios, and an impressive list of well-known people are in the production.

The story of "The Sin That Was His" is an original one, by Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man" and other successes. Mr. Packard also put in considerable time at the studios assisting in the actual work of production. Hobart Henley, counted among the first twelve leading motion picture directors, had personal charge of the producing forces, and his direct, forceful style of work has never been used to better advantage. Edmund Goulding, one of the foremost screen authors, prepared the scenario, and in addition to the star, William Faversham, the list of players includes Lucy Cotton, Pedro De Cordoba, Lule Warrenton, Robert Conville, and others.

REALISM IN COMEDY BESET WITH TROUBLE.

There is always a great cry for realism in pictures but it can sometimes be overdone. That was discovered by Johnny Hines when he started out to make the latest of the two-reel comedies from the stories by Sewell Ford, "Torchy's Big Lead," which comes to the Allen today.

The story is built around a plot to smuggle aigrettes into port of New York by men travelling with immigrants. Now, just as there are tricks to all trades there is a peculiar manner in guiding these immigrants to their destination. They are grouped together as they are landed from Ellis Island and put in charge of a "runner," the emblem of whose identity is a cane that he carries.

In the picture Torchy and the runner swap canes while in a cheap lunch house, with the result that the immigrants follow Torchy and there are all sorts of complications as he discovers what is the matter, and transfers the cane to one person and then another and finaly gets it back again in time to discover the smuggled aigrettes. So it was conceived to be a splendid scheme to have real immigrants for the parts.

It was tried. But if there was ever a piece of genuine over-acting—or rather twenty pieces of it—Hines had it on his hands. The foreigners were so temperamental that they simply would not stay in bounds. They threatened to smash the camera and on occasions they did not "get" Hines' brand of humour at all. The result was that after one day's wasted time regular actors were engaged for these parts. After that the only trouble was in keeping the New York crowds back so that the picture could be made.

Practically every scene in the picture is an exterior and the genuine New York places the story calls for are shown. Most of these were in the streets, showing the immigrants running around after the various people to whom the cane was transferred. Crowds gathered and soon became too great for camera work and so a trick had to be adopted. A "bus" was hired and the crowd was transferred to a selected spot and a bit photographed and then when the crowds became too dense the company was loaded into a bus and taken to another spot.

Yesterday was what might be called "a high day." Mr. Arthur Smith is a tower of strength, simple in manner, powerful in expression, effective in illustration, and delightful in music. His address last night was on the Paradoxes of the Bible, such as rejoicing in tribulation, searching the unsearchable, profit out of unprofitable, knowing the unknowable, closing with an earnest appeal to the hearts and conscience of all present to give God a chance to make all these things that are impossible with man possible through the Gospel. The meetings continue every night this week.

She is survived by seven sons, Adam, of Novar; Henry, of Michigan; William of Millbrook; Robert of Pontypool; Orman of Pakesley; Stanley, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Claude of Peterborough; also two daughters, Mrs. Arthur McMahon of Millbrook, and Mrs. J. Killingbeck of Peterborough.

The funeral will leave the home of Mrs. Billingbeck, at 86 Gladstone avenue, at ten o'clock on Tuesday, Nov. 22nd, and proceed to Manvers cemetery. Services at the house at 9.30, conducted by the Rev. W. E. Morrow.

LOUIS POTVIN

The death took place on Sunday afternoon, November 20th of Louis Potvin, aged 90 years, at the family residence 215 Lake street.

The deceased was born in the province of Quebec and came to Peterborough to reside fifty-three years ago and has been a resident here ever since. He was a man well liked by all his friends and neighbours and will be greatly missed by those with whom he was acquainted. His wife predeceased him twenty-five years ago. He leaves a family of three sons and two daughters, Messrs. L. Potvin, confectioner, Peterborough, Joseph of Brockville, Archie of Ottawa and Mrs. Joseph Caisse Toronto, Mrs. Blackburn, Peterborough.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 215 Lake street at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning for interment in the Roman Catholic Cemetery. Funeral service at the Sacred Heart Church.

JOHN LANG.

After a short illness of thirty hours, John Lang, ex-Member of Parliament for East Peterborough, died at his late residence in the village of Keene at 3 p.m. to-day. Saturday night Mr. Lang attended a political meeting in Keene, and when he returned home was stricken with internal suffering that culminated in his death.

Deceased was born in Keene on April 10, 1839. For fifty years he farmed in the township of Otonabee, retiring to the village 16 years ago. Mr. Lang represented East Peterborough for sixteen years in the Laurier government. He first contested East Peterborough in 1887 against John Burnham and was elected by a majority of 119. In 1891 he did not offer himself as a candidate, but in 1896 was again in the field against John Burnham, and again victorious, by a majority of 515. In 1900 he defeated John Sexsmith by a majority of 174 and was in the house for two more terms.

Mr. Lang's interest in politics took precedence only to his interest in municipal affairs. From 1875 to 1888 he served on the township council and was twelve years by acclamation on the county council. He was a Justice of the Peace from 1870 until the Conservative regime began. He was a school trustee for many years, a member of and director of the Otonabee Agricultural Society and recently chairman of the Memorial committee ,as well as chairman of the Keene Patrioitc Fund campaign. He was active in promoting the Trent Canal and an earnest advocate of good roads. Mr. Lang was in every way one of the township's foremost citizens if not its most foremost.

Mr. Lang was a leading member of the Presbyterian church, Keene. He was a deacon of the church for forty years and for three years has been secretary-treasurer.

His wife predeceased him one year and two months ago. Two sons who survive are John of Otonabee and James of South Monaghan, and four daughters, Mrs. G. A. Gillespie, Peterborough; Mrs. William Thompson, Mount Julian; Mrs. Edgar Wood, Otonabee; Mrs. George Gall, Keene.

The funeral takes place on Wednesday from his late residence, Keene, to Keene cemetery. A private service for members of the family will be held at the house at 1 p.m., and a public service in the church at 2 p.m.

SPORT GOSSIP

Remarkable changes have come over football in th last ten or fifteen years, writes Knibs. It has apparently given some thought to the matted. To express the meaning of his remark with added force, he asks us to read a paragraph rrom an account o f the Cornell-Dartmouth game in the Boston Transcript:

"Robertson entered the game with a badly injured nose. Cornell men knew it. And yet the big Green captain emerged with that nose in exactly as good condition as when he entered. Several times (and this is vouched for by a Dartmouth man) Cornell tacklers and interferers, when diving into the Someville athlete, took care not to hit the tender spot. It was characteristic of the good feeling permeating both elevens."

To which Knibs adds his own line:

"O tempora, O mores!"

This incident is an exception. Football coaches take care to keep secret injuries to their players. Steketee went into the Ohio State game with a wrenched shoulder and his thigh badly swollen. The information had not been given out. Usher was said to be in good shape when he entered the Wisconsin game, but he had a weak leg and a limp, slightly perceptible.

These are but two instances; there are many others. Coaches are particular to let no one know how or where a player is injured to prevent the opposing eleven from centering its attack upon the injured parts.

Boxers always take the same precaution. A boxer who has to enter the ring although suffering from an injury, uses every means to conceal it.

There is the incident of the football player who has a badly injured arm. It became known that his arm was hurt. His eleven absolutely needed his services in the game. He took the arm out of splints just before the game, and had the "good" arm put into the splints. The opposition kept mauling the sound arm during the game.

But, maybe a remarkable change has come over football in one section of the country.

CORRECT SIZE FOR NAPKINS.

There is no hard-and-fast rule for the size of the table napkins, except that those for breakfast and luncheon are generally smaller than the dinner napkins.

From 15 to 20 inches square is a good size for breakfast or an informal luncheon; dinner napkins and those for formal luncheons are often 25 and even 30 inches square.

The ordinary French hem on a napkin should have a width of not more than one-fourth of an inch, and the selvage should not be hemmed, says a writer in American Cookery.

The hemstitched table linen is hemmed all around four sides and the width is a matter of taste, an inch or more ,as youp lease.

The French hem for the tablecloths is the same width as for the napkins; the hemstitched hem may or may not be wider for tablecloths.

The origin of the word "tariff" comes from a little town of Tarifa, in the southenmost point of Europe. Inhabitants there used to force a passing merchant vessels to pay tribute. The name of the town, becoming the French "tarif" and the English "tariff", is now applied as it was by the Spaniards and Arabs, to the tributes, rates or customs duties to be collected on merchandise.

IN MEMORIAM

SHANNON—In loving memory of my dear mother, died November 20, 1907.

No on heard the footsteps of angels drawing near,
Who took from us to Heaven, the one we loved so dear,
—Years have passed, our hearts still sore
As time rolls on, we miss her more,
Her memory is as dear to-day
As in the hour she passed away.
